APPENDIX

PREFACE

The purpose of the Faculty Handbook is to provide each faculty member with a Handbook that serves as a reference to information for faculty as it relates to faculty evaluation, tenure and promotion, post tenure review, shared governance, appeals structure and any other personnel or employment procedures which are applicable to the status of the faculty at the University. In addition, its purpose is to provide notice and awareness of various academic and personnel policies and procedures; and to promote transparency in the operation of the University.

The Faculty Handbook is a tool and convenient reference guide which provides faculty with practical and useful information that may impact their critically important status and the academic foundation of the University structure. The Faculty Handbook does not supplant, take precedence over, or supersede Tennessee State University policies and procedures, including policies and procedures governing the terms and conditions of faculty employment.

The Faculty Handbook does not establish any contractual terms or conditions between the faculty and the University. The Faculty Senate Ad Hoc Faculty Handbook Committee has been careful to indicate the source of all rules and policies by citation, or website link.

Tennessee State University is governed by the Tennessee State University Board of Trustees, which is comprised of ten members. There are several citations from the Tennessee Board of Regents (TBR) policies that are included in the Revised 2020 TSU Faculty Handbook. Pursuant to the Focus on College and University Success (FOCUS) Act, TBR policies in effect on July 1, 2016, automatically became TSU policies. This Revised 2025 Faculty Handbook has attempted to present the best and most accurate citations and website links available during the month June 2025.

The Faculty Handbook is a dynamic document that will be continually revised and updated every two years by the Faculty Senate Constitution and Bylaws Committee. The Faculty Senate Constitution and Bylaws Committee will submit their report concerning changes and amendments to the Faculty Senate.

The Faculty Senate would like to thank those who served on the Faculty Senate Ad Hoc Faculty Handbook Committee during the development of this Handbook.

GOVERNING AUTHORITY

TENNESSEE STATE UNIVERSITY BOARD OF TRUSTEES

PURPOSE OF THE BOARD

In accordance with the FOCUS Act, the Tennessee State University Board of Trustees ("TSUBT" or "TSU Board") serves as the primary governing body for Tennessee State University. The powers, duties and responsibilities of the TSUBT are reflected in the TSUBT Bylaws and Board policies, all of which are located on the Board website.

COORDINATING AUTHORITY

TENNESSEE HIGHER EDUCATION COMMISSION

The Tennessee Higher Education Commission (THEC) is the state's coordinating agency for higher education. Guided by the Public Agenda for Tennessee Higher Education, THEC oversees an array of finance, academic, research and consumer protection initiatives that promote student success and support the State's completion agenda for postsecondary education. THEC actively seeks to develop policy recommendations, programmatic initiatives, and partnerships that increase educational attainment in the state while improving higher education access and success for all Tennesseans.

The Tennessee Higher Education Commission was created in 1967 by the Tennessee General Assembly to achieve coordination and foster unity with regard to higher education. The Commission coordinates two systems of higher education, the University of Tennessee institutions governed by the University of Tennessee Board of Trustees, and the state universities, community colleges, and technology centers governed by The Tennessee Board of Regents. There are currently nine public universities, two special purpose institutes, 13 community colleges, and 27 colleges of applied technology in Tennessee that serve over 250,000 students.

The Commission is composed of nine lay members, with six-year terms, representing congressional districts of the State; three Constitutional Officers who are ex-officio voting members (Comptroller of the Treasury, State Treasurer, and Secretary of State); two ex-officio student members; and the Executive Director of the State Board of Education, as an ex-officio non-voting member.

ORGANIZATION OF FACULTY GOVERNANCE

The term Faculty will be viewed in two aspects for the Handbook. This section will discuss the Faculty as a whole in its academic, research and service capacity. And it will discuss the role of the Faculty as a governing and policy-making body organized as the Faculty Senate.

The Board of Trustees of the University was mandated by statute to adopt the policies of TBR. In Policy: 5-02-01-00, a definition of faculty is provided. In general the policy states that the term "faculty" shall be limited to regular, full-time personnel at institutions whose regular assignments include instruction, research, and/or public service as a principal activity, and who hold academic rank as professor, associate professor, assistant professor or instructor, senior instructor, or master instructor, and as senior vocational teacher, intermediate vocational teacher, vocational teacher. Institutions may limit, but may not expand the scope of the definition of faculty for the purposes of this policy.

If not otherwise included within the above definition of "faculty," the term "faculty" may include, provided they hold academic rank, academic department or division chairpersons or directors, academic deans, academic vice presidents, presidents, and directors, who have direct line authority over faculty as hereinabove described, and associates or assistants for the above positions. In addition, the term "faculty" may include persons previously designated as members of the faculty who are assigned to other positions at the institution.

There are three categories of faculty- (1) tenured, (2) tenure-track, and (3) temporary. Temporary faculty members include non-tenured instructors, graduate assistants and those serving as visiting lecturers or scholars-in-residence. This group of instructors are not used on a "regular" basis, and carry no expectation of tenure; however, the applicant's qualifications are assessed in a similar manner to faculty who receive a tenured/tenure-track appointment.
[Example of FCF for Part-time Instructor]

It is important to note that within this policy, the term “faculty” does not include adjunct faculty. Adjunct faculty is defined as professional staff members of businesses, industries and other agencies and organizations who are appointed by institutions and schools on a part-time basis to carry out instructional, research or public service functions.

FACULTY SENATE

The Faculty Senate is a representative governing body elected by the Faculty. The Senate is organized in accordance with its constitution. The Senate is a critical entity in enabling the Faculty to participate in the shared governance of the University. It serves as a path of communication between the University’s various constituencies. The Senate initiates, formulates, discusses, and recommends academic and other related policies that affect more than one unit of the University.

The Faculty Senate Constitution provides that each academic unit be apportioned Senators in accordance with the number of faculty members counted at the beginning of the fall semester. The Senate has regular meetings once a month. The Constitution provides that Senators shall hold two-year terms of office and can serve two consecutive terms for a maximum of four years. There are fourteen standing committees that are mandated to report on several important functions of the University such as Academics, Budget, Curriculum, Benefits and Faculty Grievance. The Executive Committee of the Senate consists of the Chair, Vice-Chair, Secretary and Parliamentarian.

HIRING AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF DEPARTMENT CHAIRS

The principal responsibilities of a department chair are outlined in the Chair Hiring policy, included in the Appendix.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE FACULTY

Faculty are the primary resource through which the University engages in its mission to seek and disseminate knowledge to the community. This status carries with it both rights and responsibilities. Persons become members of the faculty by appointment of the President, upon recommendation of the Department Head, the Dean of the School/College and the Vice President for Academic Affairs, and are responsible to the President through the head of the unit to which they are assigned.

All faculty members who hold academic rank and who are directly engaged in instruction, departmental research or public service will be classified as academic personnel. Academic personnel may be employed either on a nine-month service basis (academic year) compensated over a twelve-month period (referred to as nine-month academic personnel); or employed on a twelve-month period (referred to as twelve-month academic personnel).

ACADEMIC REGULATIONS FOR FACULTY

ACADEMIC CALENDAR

CLASS ROSTERS

Class rosters are visible in the MyTSU system under the Faculty tab, after choosing the appropriate term and CRN number. If a student is attending class and the name is not on the class roll, it is extremely important that the faculty member send the student to the Registrar's Office for enrollment status. Students may not attend class unless their names appear on the roll.

GRADE REPORTING

Faculty members are responsible for assigning and reporting a grade for each student enrolled in their courses by deadline set in the current academic calendar. As of 2020, grades are reported through Faculty Services in Banner at MyTSU. The Academic Calendar can be found on the Academic Affairs web page.

Once a grade is reported, it may only be changed with a change of grade form from the Registrar's Office. The faculty member, department head and college dean each sign the form. Students may appeal a final grade. The procedure is described on page 74 of the Tennessee State University Student Handbook 2016-2017, also in the Appendix (this was the version of the student handbook available as of June 29, 2020 via the official policies site of the University.)

GRADE BOOK

Faculty are expected to keep either an electronic or hard copy gradebook of students' attendance, grades, and other data the faculty considers relevant to students' progress in their courses. If terminated, the faculty member must turn in their gradebook, either in hard copy or electronic form, to their department chair.

GRADING SYSTEM

The grading system in use at the University is described in the front matter of the Undergraduate Catalog. The Graduate and Undergraduate Catalogs are located on the Academic Affairs - Academic Resources. In the 2016-2019 catalog, available at that location as of June 29, 2020, it is located on page 36: Undergraduate Catalog 2017-2019.

WITHDRAWING FROM A COURSE

Information on withdrawing from a course is included in the Student Handbook (p. 47 of the 2016-2017 Student Handbook, also included in the Appendix). In order to earn a grade of “W,” students must withdraw according to the schedule posted in the Academic Calendar for each academic year. Students who do not withdraw by the deadline are awarded an “F.” Students who wish to withdraw from the University must fill out a Withdrawal Form and follow the procedure for Withdrawal from the University described in the Student Handbook (p. 47 of the 2016-2017 Student Handbook, also included in the Appendix).

ACADEMIC AND CLASSROOM CONDUCT

The instructor has primary responsibility for control over classroom behavior and maintenance of academic integrity. An instructor is authorized to direct the removal of any student engaged in disruptive conduct or conduct in violation of the general rules and regulation of the institution only for the class period in which the student is engaging in such conduct. Extended or permanent exclusion from the institution or further disciplinary action can only occur through the institution’s appropriate procedures. For a more detailed description of these procedures, see pp. 14-19 of the 2016-2017 Tennessee State University Student Handbook.

ATTENDANCE REPORTING AND EXCESSIVE ABSENCES

Students are expected to attend classes regularly. Instructors will keep an accurate record of class attendance throughout the semester and be able to report an official request for the number of absences of any student in class. The Records Office notifies all faculty at specific points during the semester to record attendance in Banner; timely response is important because this may affect student financial aid. The policy on excessive absences is included in the Tennessee State University Student Handbook (p. 47 of the 2016-2017 Student Handbook, also included in the Appendix).

COURSE SYLLABI

Each faculty member is to present a course syllabus to students enrolled in each class, preferably on the first day of class but not later than the end of the second week of class. In addition to the content agreed upon by the department and college or school. The University has established the following minimum content for course syllabi:

1. The course number, title, semester, and year offered,
2. Any prerequisites the student must have,
3. Information about the instructor's office hours,
4. The instructor's office telephone number,
5. The rationale for the course,
6. General course objectives,
7. The organization and format of the course,
8. The topics to be covered in the course,
9. Competencies (skills, concepts, theories) students are expected to learn in the course,
10. Course requirements (textbook, supplies, equipment, etc.), and
11. The instructor's grading policy, how final grades will be determined, and the minimum requirements for successfully completing the course.

There is also specific language pertaining to University-wide policies regarding topics such as discrimination and harassment, sexual assault, dating and domestic violence, and disability services which must be included in all syllabi. The most recent version of this language was distributed by Academic Affairs in August, 2016 to faculty and is included in the Appendix. Policies governing discrimination, harassment, sexual assault, and dating and domestic violence can be found on the Office of Equity and Inclusion website and University Policies Weblink.

TEXTBOOK POLICIES

Number of Texts. It is anticipated that normally only a single text will be ordered for each course. Exceptions: (1) In a multiple-section course, a different text may be adopted for given sections in extraordinary circumstances with the approval of the department head and dean, such as when experimenting with a new course format or writing a new text; (2) the department head may authorize the adoption of more than one text for a single-section course when it is clearly viewed as a necessary supplement based on the nature of the course and the text(s) on the market.

In almost all cases, any need for additional resources should be met by placing on reserve in the library copies of collateral text(s) and/or selected readings made available by the instructor.

Selection of Texts. The responsibility for selecting a textbook rests with the instructor in charge of a course, acting in cooperation with the department head. In the case of multiple-section courses taught by more than one instructor, the department head should rely on the recommendation of either a discipline coordinator or a faculty committee within the discipline to make selection of texts.

As of 2018, the State of Tennessee requires that post-secondary and higher education institutions consider the cost of textbooks in order to minimize costs for students. See:

Furthermore, as part of its policy to lower the costs of textbooks and course materials, the university has instituted a book bundle program that includes access to electronic textbooks and materials. See TSU's Office of Technology Service's Book Bundle FAQ's.

Requisition of Texts. Each department head, working in cooperation with the University Bookstore, is responsible for seeing that an ample supply of textbooks is available for the first meeting of classes in his or her department. To assist in this effort, the University Bookstore should provide an updated inventory to each department head approximately two weeks prior to the beginning of each semester. The department heads, deans and Vice President for Academic Affairs are to furnish the best possible information concerning course offerings, class schedules and anticipated enrollments. The department head will need to receive full cooperation from each faculty member and to maintain close contact with the University Bookstore as the final requisitions are developed.

Requisition Procedures for Texts. Textbooks are requisitioned on forms supplied by the University Bookstore. Requisitions may originate with either the course instructor or the department head, although they shall always require the approval of the department head. All requisitions are forwarded to the University Bookstore within the time frame requested, which in all cases should be at least six weeks prior to the beginning date of the semester in order to assure delivery and availability of texts.

FACULTY OFFICE HOURS

Faculty office hours are governed by the policy which was approved July 1, 2015; see this policy in the Appendix for details.

REMOTE WORK

As of the writing of this handbook in June 2020, this is an active, fluid area given the COVID-19 pandemic. The University continues to provide updated policies on remote work, with the last policy issued in August 2020. (The policy is also included in the Appendix)

ACADEMIC PROGRAMS AT THE UNIVERSITY

The complete list of current approved academic programs at the University can be found in the Academic Programs Inventory maintained by the Tennessee Higher Education Commission. Proposed academic programs and their status can be looked up at the Proposed Academic Program Inventory maintained by the Tennessee Higher Education Commission.

ACCREDITATION

Tennessee State University is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges to award associate, baccalaureate, master's, and doctoral degrees. Tennessee State University may offer credentials such as certificates and diplomas at approved degree levels. Questions about the accreditation of Tennessee State University may be directed in writing to the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges at 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097, by calling 404-679-4500, or by using information available on the SACSCOC's website at <https://sacscoc.org>.

Certain individual academic programs or units may bear specific accreditations which have their own requirements and cycles; the full list of accreditations is maintained by Academic Affairs.

Maintenance of achievement of specific accreditations relevant to individual academic programs affects state funding for the University for the University, as it is considered in the awarding of "Quality Assurance Funding." More information on this dependence can be found in the THEC Quality Assurance Funding Guidebook, 2015-2020, available at the THEC webpage "Quality Assurance Funding." It is also discussed in Academic Affairs Procedure III-08.1 "THEC Quality Assurance Funding" (p. 305 in the 2018-2019 Academic Affairs Operating Manual).

FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT (FERPA)

Information about FERPA and related TSU policies pertaining to access to student records is available at the Registrar's website and University Policies Weblink.

FACULTY RIGHTS, ACADEMIC FREEDOM AND RESPONSIBILITY

STATEMENT OF AFFIRMATIVE ACTION

Official policies of the university related to affirmative action and discrimination are available from the Office of Equity and Inclusion.

ACADEMIC FREEDOM AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The policy governing Academic Freedom is located on the University Policies Weblink. Subject to and in accordance with said policy, Tennessee State University recognizes the principle of academic freedom and responsibility, pursuant to which:

- A. The faculty member is entitled to freedom in the classroom in discussing matters related to the faculty member's area of pedagogy and ideas from other cognate areas that present rich opportunities to learners to situate their learning in a broader context.
- B. The faculty member is entitled to full freedom in research and in the publication of the results. The university shall make no attempt to regulate research of a faculty member as long as the research does not impair the university, members of the faculty, staff and students.
- C. The faculty member is a citizen, a member of a learned profession, and an officer of the University. When the faculty member speaks or writes as a citizen, the faculty member shall be free from University censorship or disciplinary action. However, the faculty member's special position in the community imposes special obligations. As a faculty member and an educational officer, the faculty member must remember that the public may judge the profession and the University by the faculty member's utterances. Hence, a faculty member should at all times be accurate, should exercise appropriate restraint, should show respect for the opinions of others, and should make every effort to indicate that as an individual, the faculty member does not speak on behalf of the University, its administration or its Board of Trustees.
- D. Academic freedom, responsibility, and tenure are decisively important factors in the viability of Tennessee State University. Academic freedom -- the free search for and exposition of knowledge -- is essential to fulfill the ultimate objectives of this University and applies to both teaching and research. Freedom of research is fundamental to the advancement of knowledge, and academic freedom in teaching is fundamental for the protection of the rights of the faculty member in teaching and of the student to the freedom of learning. Implicit in the principle of academic freedom are the corollary responsibilities of the faculty who enjoy that freedom.
- E. Incompetence, indolence, intellectual dishonesty, serious moral dereliction, arbitrary and capricious disregard of standards of professional conduct - these are grounds that may constitute adequate cause for dismissal or other disciplinary sanctions against the faculty member subject to the provisions of the Policy on Academic Tenure.
- F. The right to academic freedom imposes upon the faculty an equal obligation to recommend appropriate professional actions against fellow faculty members who are derelict in discharging their professional responsibilities. Thus, academic freedom and academic responsibility are interdependent, and academic tenure is adopted as a means to protect the former while promoting the latter.
- G. While academic tenure is essential for the protection of academic freedom, all faculty members (tenured or non-tenured) have an equal right to academic freedom and bear the same academic responsibilities implicit in that freedom.

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES FOR FACULTY HIRING, TENURE, AND PROMOTION

DEFINITIONS

Academic Tenure: a personnel status in an academic organizational unit pursuant to which the academic year appointments of full-time faculty who have been awarded tenure are continued at the University until the expiration or relinquishment of that status, subject to termination for adequate cause, for financial exigency, or for curricular reasons.

Academic Appointment: a personnel designation (not an assignment of administrative responsibilities) that this University grants to its faculty members in exchange for professional services in the areas of instruction, research, scholarship, and public service.

Academic Rank: a position of faculty status in an academic organizational unit, limited to persons who meet this University's criteria for faculty promotion and consisting of the levels of instructor, assistant professor, associate professor, and professor.

Tennessee Board of Regents: the unit which established, governed, managed, and controlled the State University and Community College System of Tennessee prior to the full implementation of the FOCUS Act. Since the implementation of the FOCUS Act, the University is governed by its own Board of Trustees. As a successor of the Tennessee Board of Regents, the Tennessee State University Board of Trustees has adopted numerous policies previously promulgated by the Tennessee Board of Regents. Without any loss of generality, all policies citing Tennessee Board of Regents shall mean the Tennessee State University Board of Trustees pursuant to the full implementation of the FOCUS Act.

Source for the definitions: Academic Tenure in the Tennessee State University contained in the policy titled Academic Tenure for Universities: 5:02:03:60. Complete copy of the policy is contained in the Appendix. The transitions from TBR to TSU's own Board of Trustees is articulated in the FOCUS Act. Pursuant to the provisions of the FOCUS Act, TBR policies became TSU policies as of July 01, 2016.

ACADEMIC TENURE POLICY

Tenure is a status pursuant to which faculty appointments for the academic year in an academic organizational unit are continued until retirement or physical or mental disability, subject to dismissal for adequate cause or unavoidable termination on account of financial exigency or curricular reasons. Tenure is awarded only by positive action by the Board, pursuant to the requirements and procedures of this policy at Tennessee State University. The awarding of tenure is a recognition of the merit of a faculty member and of the assumption that he or she would meet the long-term staffing needs of the academic organizational unit and the University. It is awarded only to those members of the faculty who have exhibited professional excellence and outstanding abilities sufficient to demonstrate that their future services and performances justify the degree of permanence afforded by academic tenure.

Academic tenure is awarded only to full-time faculty members who:

- A. Hold academic rank as instructor, assistant professor, associate professor, or professor and meet the minimum rank criteria for the appropriate rank.

- B. Have been employed pursuant to tenure-track appointments and have completed not less than the minimum probationary period of service.
- C. Have been determined by the University to meet the criteria for recommendation for tenure and have been so recommended pursuant to this policy.

Faculty holding temporary appointments are not eligible for tenure.

Faculty members supported in whole or in part by funds available to the University on a short-term basis, such as grants, contracts, or foundation-sponsored projects, shall not be eligible for tenure unless continuing support for such members can be clearly identified in the regular budget of the University prior to initiating the tenure process.

No faculty member is eligible for tenure in an administrative position; provided that where a faculty member with tenure is appointed to an administrative position, the faculty member will retain tenure in a former faculty position only and provided further that a faculty member otherwise is eligible for tenure who also holds an administrative position and may be awarded tenure in the faculty position only, subject to the requirements of this policy.

Faculty members hired with an academic tenure shall substantially meet all criteria (at the point of hiring) normally applicable for similarly situated applicants in the relevant organizational unit. No faculty member shall be hired as a tenured faculty member if the faculty member does not meet or exceed the academic tenure norms established in the unit.

- The policy for Academic Tenure in the Tennessee State University is contained in the policy titled Academic Tenure for Universities: 5:02:03:60. Complete copy of the policy is contained in the Appendix.
- The policy on Academic Tenure for Universities shall be considered in the context of the policy governing the faculty appointments in universities. Complete copy of that policy, titled Faculty Appointment at Universities: 5:02:07:10 is contained in the Appendix. Furthermore, all tenured and tenure track faculty appointments shall be in compliance with the policies established by the Human Resources such as the one contained Recruitment and Employment Policy 6.33 contained in the Appendix.
- Tenure and promotion application process are provided in detail in the Academic Affairs Operating Manual in the Procedure I-27.0. Complete copy of that policy, titled Division of Academic Affairs Operating Manual 2018-19 is contained in the Appendix.

TERMINATION AND TRANSFER OF ACADEMIC TENURE

The employment of a tenured faculty member may be terminated because (1) an academic program is deleted from the curriculum, or (2) because of substantial and continued reduction of student enrollment in a field or discipline. Before declaring that curricular reasons exist, the resident will ensure meaningful participation by the University's representative faculty body.

In identifying the specific curricular reasons, evaluating the long-term effect on the University's curriculum and its strategic planning goals, and the advisability of initiating further action. Prior to initiating the process described below, the President will present-either verbally or in writing - a description of curricular reasons that may warrant the termination of tenured faculty member(s) to the Faculty Senate.

The policy governing the "Termination of Tenure for Curricular Reasons" is contained in Appendix. The policy governing the "Tenure Transfer or Termination Due to Deletion of a Program" is contained in Appendix.

ACADEMIC PROMOTION POLICY

An academic promotion is awarded to a faculty member in recognition of that faculty member's past achievements in the fields of teaching, research, and service. An academic promotion is also a recognition of the faculty's member's future potential and a sign of confidence that the individual is even more capable of higher achievements. The policy for Academic Promotion in the Tennessee State University is contained in the policy title Faculty Promotion at Universities: 5:02:02:20. Complete copy of the policy is contained in the Appendix.

FACULTY PERSONNEL POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

FACULTY PROFICIENCY IN ORAL ENGLISH

The policy related to Faculty Proficiency in Oral English is contained in pp. 82-83 of the 1989 faculty handbook. The corresponding TBR policy is located at <https://policies.tbr.edu/policies/faculty-proficiency-oral-written-english> (Accessed July 02, 2020).

COMMUNICATION THROUGH CHANNELS

Each faculty member has the right to communication to the Deans, the Vice Presidents, and the President. Usually, faculty are to use the channels in the sequence illustrated below to communicate information or to raise questions about their professional responsibilities, obligations, and concerns. It is expected that department chairs or coordinators will promptly transmit to the dean such communication received. This procedure does not limit or prohibit officials of the University from communicating directly with the faculty.

Faculty members reserve the right to contact the Faculty Trustee on the Board of Trustees.

Source: 1989 Handbook p. 84 (with updates to reflect governance change from Tennessee Board of Regents to TSU Board of Trustees).

PERSONNEL FILES

Guidelines outlining the proper retention and disposal of personnel files:

A. Office General Personnel Files: Documents that relate to the day-to-day administration of personnel in individual offices. Included are notices of holidays and hours worked; notices about participation in athletic events and employee unions; notifications and lists of employees to receive State medical services, including X-rays and immunizations; notices and lists of individuals to receive training; and comparable or related papers. ## FACULTY OFFICE HOURS POLICY:

Although Tennessee State University recognizes that almost all faculty utilize technology to interact and support their students even when they leave the classroom and campus environment it also recognizes that student must have access to their professors on campus at specifically indicated times. Therefore, the following policies will be effective immediately:

1. University policy allocates ten hours for faculty to be available to their students outside the classroom environment. This availability may reflect a combination of:
  - a. "in office" hours and/or
  - b. "technology" hours

A. In Office Hours

1. Faculty will maintain one (1) mandatory "in office" hour per week for each three credit hour course assigned.
  - a. Faculty will make a reasonable attempt to create "in office" hour convenient to class teaching schedules
  - b. Department Heads/Deans may request change in faculty "in office" hour only in consultation with the faculty member.
2. "In office" mandatory office hours are capped at five (5) hours per week regardless of course load.
  - a. Faculty may choose to maintain additional "in office" hours up to a maximum of ten hours/week
3. Faculty will make a reasonable attempt to meet with students by appointment.
4. "In office" hours are not required for:
  - a. Research Faculty not assigned classes. These faculty may use conference hours to address student needs.
  - b. Faculty assigned courses with less than three credit hours include but not restricted to the following:
    - t. Independent study hours
    11. Lab hour
    - m. Orientation hours

5. Faculty are expected to post their class schedules and "in office" hours
  - a. in a physical environment (for example: office door)
  - b. in an electronic environment (for example: e-Learn)
  - c. on all course syllabi
6. At the beginning of each semester, faculty will submit their class schedules and "in office" hours to their department heads. Throughout the semester faculty will submit any changes to their "in office" hours to their department heads.
7. An inability to meet classes or to maintain "in office" hours must be reported to the department head.
  - a. The department head will ensure a notification is posted on the professor's door to notify students of the faculty member's absence.
  - b. When possible, the professor will provide notification to the students via technology.
8. When mandatory university meetings and other events occur during scheduled "in office" hours, faculty are not required to reschedule their "in office" hours.
9. "In office" hours do not replace scheduled class hours.

B. Technological Availability

1. Faculty may utilize current and future technologies to offer additional office hours not provided "in office" as a means of student communication and availability.

TSU Policy#____ _ Name of Policy: Assignment and Term of Department Chairs

Responsibility: TSU Office of Academic Affairs

TBR Authority: TBR Policy No. 5-01-00-00 General Personnel Policy

Adoption date: July 2011

Purpose: The purpose of this policy is to set requirements te-concerning term limits for department heads

Policy Statement

The objective of this policy is to state clearly how academic department chairs will be appointed, compensated, and developed and detail the functions and expectations of all department heads at Tennessee State University. The goal is to help make chairs more effective leaders of their departments.

Compensation and Position Structure

Tennessee State University has moved to a governance model in which chairs serve on an annual basis with a renewable term. The chair will be reviewed annually, and reappointment is possible for an additional academic year upon a satisfactory review. Chair positions will be twelve-month assignments that include three months of summer compensation in recognition of the time required to discharge the duties of the chair during the summer months. Faculty members appointed to the position of chair will be required to assume administrative responsibilities. For nine-month faculty, this entails moving from an academic year (nine-month) to a fiscal year (twelve-month) assignment with additional teaching and administrative duties. The chair assignment may be made on a long-term or short-term basis, but it is considered a temporary appointment under TBR policy #5:01:00:00, General Personnel Policy. TSU may hire department chairs from among its faculty or through an external search.

A: Duties

Department Chairs must negotiate the needs, desires, and concerns of Faculty, Staff, and Students, as well as the resources, opportunities, constraints and demands of their dean, the Administration, and corporate and community partners. They must endeavor to do this while working daily with the individuals affected by their decisions.

The Principal Responsibilities of a Department Chair Are to:

1. Provide leadership for the Faculty, Staff, and Students in the department;
2. Recruit, retain and graduate departmental majors;
3. Ensure that the department meets its obligations to Faculty, Students, Staff, community and corporate partners, and the public;
4. Serve as a department liaison and advisor to the dean on academic policies, program needs, issues, and accomplishments while facilitating communication between the department Faculty and the leadership of the college, including the dean, associate deans, and other chairs;
5. Teach between three and six credit hours each term as negotiated and agreed by the dean;
6. Manage the fiscal matters of the Unit;
7. Develop strategic plans for the Unit in conjunction with department Faculty and assess progress regularly;
8. Perform Faculty and Staff evaluations and actively engage in mentoring and professional development that adhere to Department, College, and TSU policies;
9. Assist with alumni relations, communication, and development, and cultivate relationships with community partners;
10. Oversee Unit accountability measures, including assessments of student learning outcomes and productivity measures used by internal and external agencies;
11. Provide guidance to tenure track Faculty in their preparation for meeting tenure and promotion requirements;
12. Oversee and implement procedures for Faculty evaluations, tenure, and promotion that adhere to Department, College, and TSU policies;
13. Listen to Faculty, Staff, and Student issues and broker resolutions to conflicts, when possible;
14. Evaluate Staff and make recommendations for hiring and promotion, as well as replacement or termination;

15. Manage and oversee Faculty responsibilities to the department, including curriculum development, course assignments, regularly updating course syllabi, space assignments, Faculty hiring, and scheduling that adhere to Department, College, and TSU policies;
16. Conduct research activities within his or her discipline;
17. Review all academic year research results and summer research results of all Faculty who receive research-based release time, whether for funded or unfunded research;
18. Provide a yearly report to the Dean of the College as well as the department Faculty concerning each of the previously described responsibilities
19. Adhere to Department, College, and TSU policies;
20. Perform other duties as assigned.

B. Compensation

The job of Department Chair carries responsibilities that are the same, regardless of department, years in rank, or base salary. The compensation rate for the position will be a combination of two factors: base salary and a stipend. The stipend rate for a Department Chair position is $1,000 per month.

Upon return to their nine month faculty position, a salary adjustment will be made. Then the base fiscal faculty salary is reduced to an academic year contract at a rate no less than 80% of the fiscal year contract. At the time a faculty member serving as chair returns to a faculty position, the administrative stipend will end.

Salary raises, if assigned as a percentage of existing salary, will be computed on the base, 12-month salary of the chair, excluding the stipend. If at any time the chair temporarily ceases to perform the duties of the chair, he or she will cease to receive a stipend and will revert to a nine-month base.

Any absence from work must be compensated using sick or annual leave, unless the university is closed and those days had not been previously scheduled for absences.

C. Workload

Department Chairs will be required to have a full workload of fifteen (15) credit hours or the equivalent per term- fall, spring and summer semesters. Chairs will be provided a maximum of six hours of course release time per semester for the discharge of the responsibilities of the chair. Chair release time will be based upon factors such as number of Faculty, programs, departmental majors, and graduation numbers.

Department Chairs will have a variable workload consisting of at least three hours for teaching, at least three and no more than six hours for department head responsibilities, and up to three hours for departmental research (i.e., unfunded by grants) and other activities. Additional release time for funded research may be negotiated.

D. Term

The Department Chair position is a fiscal year (twelve-month) assignment that is renewable upon a satisfactory annual review which is conducted by the dean and which reflects the department tenure and tenure-track faculty's annual evaluation of the department chair and is subject to approval by the Chief Academic Officer and the candidate.

The effective date to begin in the Department Chair position is August 1 or January 1, unless circumstances necessitate otherwise.

- All appointment contracts will state "This is a non-tenured, administrative appointment and may be terminated at any time with thirty (30) days' notice."
- In the event a Department Chair is not recommended for continued appointment as Department Chair after his or her annual review, he or she will be notified at least thirty (30) days in advance of the contract ending date as stipulated in the department chair's appointment contract.

E. Annual Evaluation

- 1) The dean will initiate a review of the current chair in the fall of each academic year that must be concluded by the last business day in October.
  - Chairs will be evaluated at least twice during their initial year as Chair: once within the first 6-month period and at the conclusion of their first year. Thereafter, evaluations will be conducted annually in the fall of each academic year.
  - Tennessee State University maintains a policy of evaluating the job performance of its employees as a means of:
    - o measuring operational efficiency and effectiveness
    - o providing employees with meaningful information about their work
    - o aiding the University in making personnel decisions related to such areas as training, compensation, promotion, job assignments, retention and long-range planning of its operations (TSU Performance Evaluation (6.29))
  - Faculty assessments of the candidate will be submitted anonymously.

- Reviews may be initiated earlier at the request of the dean or a majority of the faculty employed within the department.
- 2) Similar to the online "Hands Free Course Evaluation" that students complete, Tenured and Tenure-track Faculty will be sent an online questionnaire at least seven (7) business days before fall break that will allow them to assess anonymously the Chair's strengths and weaknesses as "Strongly Agree," "Agree," "Neither Agree nor Disagree," "Disagree," "Strongly Disagree," or "Not Applicable."
- The final assessment marker will ask Faculty to respond to the following question:
    - o Do you recommend that the chair be allowed to continue in his or her position?
      - The response options will be "yes" or "no."
  - The end of the questionnaire will provide a comment feature to allow Faculty to offer additional insights for the ratings they selected.
- 3) In the spirit of transparency, deans will submit their recommendations to the Chief Academic Officer with a justification report that includes:
- a) the mean average scores of the evaluation questions completed by faculty
  - b) a compilation of all comments made by faculty on the chair evaluation form
- 4) At the recommendation of the dean and the Chief Academic Officer, the Department Chair may be reassigned back to faculty status at the end of that academic year.
- 5) At the recommendation of the dean, the Chief Academic Officer, and with the consent of the candidate, the incumbent will continue as Department Chair for an additional fiscal year (twelve-month) assignment.

F. Appointment

1) Initial Assignment:

The Department Chair position is a fiscal year (twelve-month) assignment that is renewable upon a satisfactory annual review which is conducted by the dean and which reflects the department faculty's annual evaluation of the department chair and is subject to approval by the Chief Academic Officer and the candidate.

- The effective date to begin in the Department Chair position is August 1 or January 1, unless circumstances necessitate otherwise.

- All appointment contracts will state "This is a non-tenured, administrative appointment and may be terminated at any time with thirty (30) days' notice."
- In the event a department chair is not recommended for continued appointment as Department Chair after his or her annual review, he or she will be notified at least thirty (30) days in advance of the contract ending date as stipulated in the department chair's appointment contract.

2) Renewal:

In the normal course, the dean will initiate a review of the current Chair in the fall of each academic year. If the review is positive and the candidate wishes to continue in the post, and a majority of the department's tenured and tenure-track Faculty recommends reappointment, the incumbent may be recommended for reappointment by the college dean. Upon approval of this recommendation by the Vice President and President, a new appointment contract will be developed for an additional fiscal year (twelve-month) assignment. Even with positive recommendations, the Dean must carefully consider whether reassignment is appropriate.

3) Replacement:

If identification of a new Chair is deemed appropriate, the college will begin the process outlined below.

A. Internal Search:

The search to fill the Department Chair's position will be overseen by a search committee comprised of:

- one member of the college's Promotion and Tenure Committee for that year (who will serve as chair)
  - This individual must not be a faculty member of the department seeking to fill the Department Chair's position.
- three faculty members (at least one tenure-track and one tenured) to be elected by a majority of the department's tenured and tenure-track faculty who are not applying for the position and
- an associate dean in the college (or the Chair of the College Tenure and Promotion Committee if there is no associate dean) who will serve as an ex officio member.

The Process Will Generally Be as Follows:

- a) The dean's office will initiate an announcement of the position.
- b) The office will circulate a notice to all members of the department notifying them of the opening and soliciting nominations or expressions of interest from all members of the department.
- c) The dean will consult with each of the nominees on his or her willingness to consider the position.
- d) The names of the nominees willing to serve will be provided to the search committee.
- e) If the slate of candidates is deemed inadequate by a majority of the search committee, the search committee or a subset of the committee will be charged with encouraging additional candidacies from the eligible members of the faculty.
- f) The search committee will identify from those candidates nominated those who are appropriate for the position.
- g) In most cases, it is expected that all nominees willing to serve would be considered.
  - o This evaluation will consider the candidate's abilities and the opinions of various constituencies in the department in considering the appropriateness of the nominations.
- h) The committee will confirm with the candidates their willingness to consider the position.
- i) Those candidates will meet with the dean to confirm their willingness to consider the position, and their names will be circulated to the department.
- j) The candidates will be invited to an open forum/meeting with the members of the department to discuss their view of the position and the issues facing the department.
- k) The open forums must be scheduled as closely together as is practicable.
- l) The department's tenured and tenure-track faculty will be provided an opportunity to submit anonymous evaluations of the candidates to the committee. (This form is different from the form to vote for a specific candidate.)

- m) At a minimum, the candidates would meet with
  - o tenured and tenure track faculty;
  - o other Staff (professional faculty, classified staff, and part-time instructors); and
  - o Students (undergraduate and graduate together or separately).
    - Each of those groups will be asked to provide its opinion of each candidate with a discussion of strengths and weaknesses to the chair or associate dean of the search committee.
    - This form is different from the form to vote for a specific candidate.
- n) Within three (3) business days of the conclusion of this process, the committee chair will provide the dean with a summary of the strengths and weaknesses of the candidates.
- o) Within three (3) business days of the last open forwn, tenured and tenure-track Faculty must receive a voting ballot in the form of paper, electronic, or some other technological form that protects the identity of the voters that will allow them to vote anonymously for the candidate of their choice.
  - o The ballot must clearly indicate the names of the candidates and instructions to vote for only one of the candidates.
- Within seven (7) business days after the voting process has ended, the results must be submitted to the Dean, Faculty, and Staff.
- Within seven (7) business days of receiving the results, the dean must make a recommendation to the Chief Academic Officer.
- There is a general expectation that the Dean's recommendation will reflect the candidate who received the majority of votes.
  - o In the event of a tie vote, the Dean will cast the deciding vote.

B. External Search

If no suitable candidate can be identified in that department in the internal search process and a vacant position is available, the dean will identify interim leadership for the department from the pool of candidates from outside of the department. This will generally proceed as follows:

- a. The dean will meet with the department to consider the duration of that interim leadership and if an external search is warranted.
- b. Initiation of an external search will depend not only upon the needs of the unit, but also on the resources available to the college and the strategic need for the position.
- c. An external search for a Chair will proceed as would a search for any open tenure track position.

If the incumbent Chair resigns from the position before the end of his or her contract, the college dean will initiate an internal or external search process as noted above. If necessary, interim leadership will be appointed for the department while that process proceeds.

Leave grants from the Bank, approved by the Trustees, shall not be more than twenty (20) consecutive days for which the individual applicant would have otherwise lost pay.

Applicants may submit requests for extension of such leave grants before or after their prior grants expire. The Trustees will consider such applications on a case by case basis and provide written notification once they reach a decision.

The maximum number of days any participant may receive in any fiscal year is sixty (60). The maximum number of days any participant may receive as a result of any one illness, or recurring diagnosed illness or accident is ninety (90) total.

In the event a member is physically or mentally unable to apply for bank sick leave, the immediate next-of-kin may make a request to the Sick Leave Bank on his or her behalf.

If there is no next-of-kin available, this request may be made by the legally appointed guardian or conservator or an individual acting under valid power of attorney. The Trustees of the Sick Bank should craft a form in consultation with the Human Resources Department to facilitate this application process.

If the Trustees may require a certificate of condition from a licensed physician approved by the Board of Trustees from any member requesting grant of sick leave. Refusal to comply will result in denial of the pending request for use of sick leave days from the Bank.

Grants of bank originated sick leave shall not be contingent upon repayment of hours used or waiver of other employment benefits or rights.

Grants of sick leave from the Bank shall not be made to any member on account of any elective surgery, or illness or death of any member of the participant's family, or during any period the member is receiving disability benefits from Social Security, a state-sponsored retirement plan, or Board of Claims benefits (worker's compensation).

A member shall lose the right to obtain the benefits of the Bank by:

- Termination of employment (including retirement).
- Cancellation of participation.
- Refusal or inability to honor assessments made by the Trustees.
- Being on approved leave of absence in a non-pay status for reasons other than illness, injury or disability.

Employees who are granted bank sick leave shall continue to accrue sick leave and annual leave, if applicable, and service credit for retirement and longevity purposes, during the time they are on the Bank originated sick leave.

Also, they will receive credit for any holidays that may occur during the bank sick leave period.

Faculty leaving the university may elect to donate all or part of their accrued sick leave to the Faculty Sick Leave Bank. The Board of Trustees of the Faculty Sick Leave Bank will also develop an appropriate form and policy to govern the voluntary donation of sick leaves from a retiring or departing faculty member.

The trustees will approve or reject all requests for bank sick leave within ten (10) calendar days of receipt of the written formal request.

The operation of the Faculty Sick Leave Bank shall exist separately from the regular sick leave accrued to individual's personal accounts with respect to approvals and appeals; the decisions of the Trustees shall not be appealed beyond that body.

Records and official forms of the Bank and minutes of the Trustees meetings shall be maintained by the Faculty Sick Bank Board of Trustees. Some records as appropriate may be maintained by the Human Resources Department with copies provided upon request to the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs.

All records shall be subject to audit by appropriate state officials.

Subsequent assessments will be made in order to maintain a minimum balance in the bank's reserves. This minimum balance is set at sixty (60) days and is subject to modifications by the Trustees.

The amount of subsequent assessments will depend upon the balance in the bank's reserves, the number of members and the projected need. However, no more than three (3) days will be assessed for any one assessment. Notification will be provided at least 30 calendar days prior to the assessment.

Amendments to these guidelines may be made by an affirmative vote of at least three trustees, a majority of the faculty senate, and approval by the President.

The chair of the Board of Trustees shall forward the amendment proposal to the Faculty Senate for consideration. The Faculty Senate shall hold a vote within 180 (one hundred and eighty days) to confirm or deny the request made by the Board of Trustees. Upon an affirmative vote by the Faculty Senate, the proposal shall be forwarded to the University President for final approval.

PROCEDURES

Application to participate in the Faculty Sick Leave Bank shall be made on forms prepared and approved by the Faculty Sick Bank Board of Trustees.

All requests to draw upon the Bank must be made through a Faculty Sick Leave Bank Request Form and submitted to the Trustees within thirty (30) calendar days of the first date bank usage is requested.

A licensed physician's statement, verifying the nature of the illness or injury, and the inability of the employee to work, must accompany the application form.

In extreme and unusual cases exceptions may be approved.

Materials submitted will be maintained by the Faculty Sick Bank Board of Trustees. Some records as appropriate may be maintained by Human Resources.

Proposal to Establish a NON-INSTRUCTIONAL ASSIGNMENT (NIA) GRANTS for Full-Time Tenure Track Faculty

The purpose of the NIA grant is to relieve faculty members from all faculty duties for one semester at full pay (15 hours reassigned time) or for one academic year at half pay (7.5 hours reassigned time per semester) in order to pursue research, publication, or creative activity opportunities. The committee encourages applicants to submit proposals that involve on-campus or off-campus research, creative activity, internships, and fellowships in order to broaden the body of knowledge available to TSU faculty, and through them, to TSU students and the wider community.

This is intended to be a competition among very thoughtful and well written scholarly and creative research projects with a specific date of completion. There is not a guarantee that all applications will result in an award. Tennessee State University is committed to be thorough, consistent, fair and as objective as possible in reviewing the submissions. In addition to the research proposal applicants will also be evaluated on their overall record of teaching, research, and service to the University and the wider community. The number and levels of activity will be evaluated be based on the tier levels in the faculty handbook.

Overseeing the awarding of the grants will be a Non-Instructional Assignment Committee composed of representatives of each College and the Library. The Non-Instructional Assignment (NIA) committee will be an Ad Hoc committee composed of one representative elected by the faculty of each College and the Library, with the exception of the Graduate School. The committee shall be chaired by a Faculty Senator under the auspices of the Faculty Senate's Benefits and Welfare Committee. The committee shall be responsible to the Faculty Senate as well as the Vice-President for Academic Affairs. Faculty who serve on the committee will be ineligible for applying for a NIA grant for that academic year.

The NIA committee will evaluate and recommend for approval applications for non-instructional assignments that develop the following criteria:

- (1) contribute to the professional growth of the faculty;
- (2) improve the teaching and curriculum across the university;
- (3) enhance scholarship and academic excellence of the university in ways that cannot be accomplished under the constraints of regular workload assignments
- (4) better improve the international/national visibility of the university.

To be eligible for a Non-Instructional Assignment Grant, an applicant must:

- A. Be a tenured member of the full-time faculty, including department chairpersons.
- 8. Have completed seven (7) consecutive years of full-time employment at Tennessee State University.

Applications should include the following:

- A. A description of the specific project, its objectives, and end product that contain sufficient detail to clearly connect and/or show the proposal's compatibility with the statement of purposes listed above;
- 8. An anticipated schedule of progress during the Non-Instructional Assignment;
- C. A copy of the applicant's current vita;
- D. Proof of acceptance by cooperating university (ies) and/or other entities, or approval by granting agency (ies), if applicable;
- E. A letter from the Tennessee State University Institutional Review Board (IRB) approving the project, if the project involves research with human subjects;*
- F. Sources of internal and external funding to supplement the grant (if applicable).
- G. If the applicant was awarded a Non-Instructional Assignment Grant in a prior period, a written report of the completed activity related to the prior award should be included in the proposal.
- H. An application cover/approval page with the signatures of the department chairperson and dean is required.
- I. While each applicant is free to design and describe the project to best suit the field of study, it is strongly suggested that the proposal clearly address the stated purposes of a NIA.

**The committee will accept and consider proposals for which final IRB approval has not yet been received but funding will not be recommended until all necessary approvals have been submitted.*

The Non-Instructional Assignment Committee will evaluate all applications that have been received on or before the announced NIA deadline.

- A rubric shall be devised by the Faculty Senate Benefits and Welfare committee in cooperation with the first NIA committee.
- The rubric shall take into account the applicant's teaching, publishing, and service record to the University and the community at large.
- The committee will then make recommendations for approval of the current year NIA proposals to the Vice-President for Academic Affairs.
- The approved applications will be ranked by the Non-Instructional Assignment Committee.
- The Vice-President for Academic Affairs' decision on approving applications for funding is final and shall follow the rubric established by the committee.
- The number of applications awarded an NIA grant will be based on available funding in a given academic year.

- The Vice President for Academic Affairs will provide a written report to the committee of the proposals accepted for funding.

If a participant receives a full academic year NIA, a mid-year performance review will be administered to ensure that stated goals are being met. This performance review will be completed by the department chairperson and shared with the NIA committee as well as the Vice-President for Academic Affairs. At the end of the NIA time period, each participant will submit a written review of the NIA activity to the Vice-President for Academic Affairs and forward copies to their appropriate dean and chairperson. This review must include a written report indicating the degree to which the objectives of the proposal were accomplished. The report must include concrete evidence of work completed such as a copy of or online access to the final product, whichever is most reasonable.

If a faculty member is accepted for an NIA, in addition to the normal salary for the period, he/she will receive his or her normal accumulation of retirement, sick and or annual leave, and medical insurance benefits. Acceptance of a NIA requires that the faculty member agree to return to TSU for a minimum of two semesters immediately following the NIA. Summer sessions are not included. In the event the faculty member is unwilling to agree to these conditions, the NIA will not be granted and may become available to other faculty. If materials are published as a result of the assignment, recipients should acknowledge Tennessee State University in the article, book, or creative product. All grant recipients are subject to University policies concerning patents, copyrights, and royalties. Copies should be furnished by the university to grant recipients if applicable.

There must be a period of seven (7) years between Non-Instructional Assignments for the same faculty member. A recipient may apply seven (7) years after approval of the first NIA. For example if a faculty member applied for an NIA in academic year 2015-2016 and received it for 2016-2017, he/she would next be eligible to apply for another in academic year 2022-2023 for the following academic year. Eligible faculty members who are interested in applying for a NIA should follow the guidelines stated above for preparing the proposal.

The committee requests that this proposal be initiated as soon as possible but it is strongly recommended that it be put in place no later than academic year 2016-2017. The committee recommends that consideration be given to establishing a goal that the number of awards per year should be 10% of the entire eligible faculty.

Subject: Policy to Govern Faculty Participation in Continuing Education and Training Programs

During its meeting on April 12, 2018, Faculty Senate unanimously approved a policy governing the Faculty Participation in Continuing Education and Training Programs. That policy is now forwarded for Presidential Consideration.

A Presidential signature at the end of this memorandum will signify the acceptance of the policy for full and immediate implementation.

It is the unanimous sense of the Faculty Senate that the full immediate implementation of this policy will greatly help the members of the faculty to engage in creative entrepreneurial activities helping the institution both academically and financially.

This policy does not in any way interfere with the existing policies governing outside employment and extra/overload compensation.

Policy to Govern Faculty Participation in Continuing Education and Training Programs

PREAMBLE

Continuing Education and training programs are important vehicles through which faculty members can engage in productive entrepreneurial activities to train and impart knowledge to a larger community, interface with the business world, and significantly boost the revenue stream for the university.

Continuing Education and training programs are important components that can help the university diversify its revenue streams, alleviate some of the budgetary constraints, and make additional earning opportunities available for the faculty members completely in line with the core mission of the institution.

Continuing Education and training programs are also significant vehicles that help the university showcase its pedagogic excellence and superior facilities to a wider world and thereby facilitates an improvement in the brand image of the institution and potentially helps in the recruitment of talented individuals to the university.

This policy fills an important gap by developing a framework to foster an entrepreneurial environment to incentivize the faculty members to develop and deliver creative Continuing Education and training programs. The policy provides for measurable ways to implement a comprehensive and cohesive Continuing Education and training program policy that does not overlap with any of the core functions that a faculty member is expected to perform during the course of regular employment.

DETAILED POLICY

Article 1. Faculty members are encouraged to create Continuing Education and training programs that (a) leverage the expertise of the faculty members, (b) contribute positively to the community, (c) help the university fulfill its outreach missions, and (d) result in augmented revenue flow for the university. These Continuing Education programs can also be viewed as bridges connecting the academic expertise of the university with the greater business community.

Article 2. Faculty members shall not be entitled to any release time during the development and delivery of the Continuing Education or training programs unless they are already funded by external grants for that purpose. Furthermore, faculty time spent in developing and delivering the program shall not be reimbursed using any university funds. Faculty participation in the Continuing Education and training programs is entirely voluntary. Participating faculty member shall not be eligible for any release time while developing and offering the Continuing Education and training program. The schedule of the Continuing Education and training program shall not overlap with any other responsibility that the faculty member is normally expected to discharge during the course of regular employment with the university.

Article 3. A faculty member who takes the primary responsibility in the creation of a Continuing Education program will be designated as the lead faculty member. To be eligible to be a lead faculty member, one must hold a tenured or tenure track faculty rank at the university. A tenured or tenure track lead faculty member's team may include a temporary teaching or research faculty member or members from other outside community in a group responsible for the development and delivery of the program.

The lead faculty member must assume responsibility for the entire content and ensuring valid program content from all contributors. The lead faculty member shall contribute no less than a third to the overall program's CEU contact hours or equivalent.

Article 4. A detailed proposal regarding the program shall be prepared by the lead faculty member (in collaboration with the other group members, if any) and presented to the Coordinator/Director of Continuing Education Program in a format prescribed by the Coordinator/Director. Since the participation in the Continuing Education and training programs is entirely voluntary, the proposal shall require no special permission from the supervisor(s) of the faculty member. Normal university policies regarding extra compensation rules will be followed once the proposal is approved the Coordinator/Director.

Article 5. The Coordinator/Director of Continuing Education Program shall review the proposal and consult experts if necessary before deciding on the suitability of the proposal. Before the Continuing Education or training program is approved, the Coordinator/Director of Continuing Education Program must ensure that it is of high quality and makes targeted contributions to the generation of actionable knowledge and skills in the business community.

Article 6. If more than one faculty member are collaborating on a program then one faculty member shall be designated as the lead faculty member. In such case the proposal shall include the contributions of each participating faculty member.

Article 7. If an external member is included in the team then that external member must be sponsored by the lead faculty member who must certify that the external member is substantially prepared to participate and able to deliver a portion of the program without compromising the overall quality of the program.

Article 8. The proposal must include detailed cost estimates and revenue projections. The cost shall include cost of materials, royalties, food, beverages, transportation, rent, etc. but shall not include any charges for the university facilities and technology but can include costs of appropriate documentation like issuing non-academic credits and certification. The lead faculty and the Coordinator/Director of Continuing Education shall collaborate to make appropriate plans to make an approved program successful. It is assumed that the university shall bear all reasonable and customary marketing and administrative costs. However, no more than 5% of the program revenue may be allocated to marketing costs in the special circumstances where the marketing costs are very high.

Article 9. Twenty five percent of the net revenues from the Continuing Education program shall be transferred to the Office of Continuing Education. This transfer shall take place even if university facilities and technology are not used and the program is conducted entirely outside the university or uses online methods that does not require the use of technology at the university level.

Article 10. Ten percent of the net revenues from the Continuing Education program shall be transferred to an approved student scholarship fund. Accumulated amounts in that student scholarships funds shall be spent to award scholarships to deserving students. At least 30% of the scholarship money from that fund shall be earmarked for deserving graduate students and shall be distributed through a transparent and fair selection process recommended by the Dean of the School of Graduate and Professional Studies.

Article 11. Sixty five percent of the net revenues shall be distributed among the contributing faculty member(s) and non-faculty member(s), if any, in accordance to the proportion of effort expended by the individual members. The proposal prepared and presented by the lead faculty shall list the names and designations of all contributing member(s) of the Continuing Education program as well the percentage contribution of each contributing member. The allocation rule shall not be modified once the proposal gets accepted and contracts are agreed upon.

Article 12. If a faculty member selects to place the distribution in flexible special accounts with no expiration, there will be an 10% annual administrative service fee paid to the University. Balances to that flexible special account shall be maintained by the Vice President of Budget and Finance. The administrative fee will be levied to ensure that the Vice President of Budget and Finance can secure appropriate resources to administer those accounts. The Faculty member(s) shall have the right to access the account statement through the employee account. The information availability regarding the balance in that account will be in the same fashion as the faculty member is made aware of the balances in the sick leave account. Members of the team who are not employees of the institution shall not have the option of keeping their undistributed funds in the university accounts.

Faculty members shall have the right to use the accumulated sum in their flexible accounts for approved purposes including but not limited to (a) augmenting their salaries and cover the associated benefits at the university approved benefit rates, (b) avail for themselves a reduced teaching load (teaching buy outs), (c) hire teaching and research assistants and associates, (d) fund academic travel to attend conferences, (e) buy technology and laboratory equipment, (f) award student scholarships, (g) finance summer salaries, (h) buy academic materials like datasets, books, manuals, etc., (i) finance academic conferences, (i) hire consultants to support teaching and research activities, (k) cover travel expenses for academic collaborations, (I) finance additional studies, coursework, programs, and degrees, and certifications that will significantly improve the competence of the faculty members and make them more valuable to the university, (m) donate to the university, etc. Any other reasonable usage must be approved by the President of the university in writing.

Article 13. Gross revenues earned by the Continuing Education and Training programs shall be treated in the same manner as external funding for promotion, tenure, and merit pay considerations. The faculty members shall have the right to list their revenue generating activities (along with the funds generated) in the same manner as one would list them for grants and contracts.

Article 14. Ancillary general materials like lecture notes, lecture videos, handouts, assignments, and other intellectual property developed and used by the faculty members or the purpose of the Continuing Education & Training programs shall remain the as the properties of the faculty members.

Article 15. If a faculty member becomes deceased or incapacitated then the remaining balance in the flexible faculty account shall be transferred to the rightful nominee(s) recorded in the personnel files of the faculty member. In such cases, remaining balance shall be treated as unpaid salary and benefits.

Article 16. A retiring faculty member or a faculty member who is leaving the university permanently shall be entitled to entirely withdraw the sum from the faculty account.

APPROVED

TSU Board of Trustees Nomination and Election Procedural Processes

Accepted by the Faculty Senate on April 11, 2019.

TSU Board of Trustees Nomination and Election Procedural Process

1. The Chair of the Faculty Senate will send a call for nominations for the election of a faculty member to the TSU Board of Trustees (BOT). The call for nomination shall be circulated to the faculty to ensure adequate time for the receipt of nominations.
2. To be eligible to serve as the TSU BOT faculty member, a faculty member
  - (1) Must be a tenured member of the faculty.
  - (2) Must have worked at TSU a minimum of 5 years with faculty appointment as defined by Part Two, Article I and the glossary of the 2014 Constitution of the Faculty of Tennessee State University. Furthermore, the nominee/candidate should preferably have substantive faculty leadership experience; should preferably be knowledgeable about public and not-for-profit finance, university budgeting, and the fiduciary responsibility of a governing board; and should preferably have, or be willing to attain, a working knowledge of faculty issues across the university. TSU BOT faculty member nominees will also be subject to TSU's policy governing background investigations.
3. Nominations (including self-nominations) must be submitted in writing to the Secretary of the Faculty Senate by the deadline mentioned in the call for nominations. As defined by the 2014 Constitution of the Faculty Tennessee State University, any faculty member (meeting the eligibility criteria 2(1) and 2(2)) will be eligible to self-nominate. Non-faculty members do not qualify to run for election or to nominate a faculty member. Under no circumstance shall a member of the university administration nominate a faculty member for the BOT. The nominating letter (or, cover letter in case of self-nomination) must clearly explain how the nominee meets the eligibility criteria. The nomination must include a resume/vita of the nominee.
4. The Secretary of the Faculty Senate shall secure confirmation from all nominees that they are willing to run for the election. The Secretary of the Faculty Senate shall prepare a roster of the nominees along with a list of the faculty members who nominated them. That roster shall be submitted in writing to the Chair of the Faculty Senate within two business days from the deadline mentioned in the call for nomination, or immediately following an appeal vote if applicable.
5. The Chair of the Faculty Senate shall forward the complete roster to the relevant authorities in the offices of Human Resources, University/General Counsel, and Academic Affairs within one business day starting from the time the Chair received the materials from the Secretary. Those offices shall be required to provide in writing to the Chair of the Faculty Senate the name of any nominee who may be ineligible and the reason(s) for his or her ineligibility. Such communication shall be due within three business days from the submission of the roster by the Chair of the Faculty Senate, except upon a showing of good cause.
6. Upon receipt of the information from Human Resources, University/General Counsel, and Academic Affairs, the Chair of the Faculty Senate shall forward the information to the Secretary of the Faculty Senate within one business day.
7. The Secretary of the Faculty Senate shall inform in writing all nominees who are found ineligible, based upon the criteria in 2, within two business days from the deadline mentioned in the call for nomination. Upon receipt of the correspondence regarding ineligibility from the Secretary of the Faculty Senate, an ineligible nominee must immediately notify the Chair of the Faculty Senate of the intent to appeal within 24 hours of notification and submit a written appeal to the Secretary of the Faculty Senate within two business days from the notification. The Secretary of the Faculty Senate shall disseminate the appeal letter and correspondence regarding ineligibility to the Faculty Senate. The appeal of the nominee will be determined by majority vote of the Faculty Senate at a special meeting of the Faculty Senate to take place within five business days of the notification of intent to appeal. During the time before the Faculty Senate appeal vote, the nominee(s) on appeal may continue with such election activities as those nominees that were certified as eligible. Using the Faculty Senate executive committee's notification of ineligibility letter and nominee's appeal letter as the basis for their vote, the Faculty Senate will vote on the appeal and determine, by a majority vote, to uphold or overturn the determination of ineligibility. No oral arguments by the nominee will be heard. The decision of the Faculty Senate by vote is final.

8. In the unlikely situation, no candidate is found eligible, the Executive Committee of the Faculty Senate shall nominate one or more eligible candidates for consideration by the Faculty Senate.
9. The Chair of the Faculty Senate shall call for the special Meeting of the Faculty Senate for the purpose of the election. The meeting shall be held within ten business days from the time all nominations are checked and confirmed. The call for that special meeting should be accompanied by the list of all candidates, the list of the recommenders, letters (including cover letter) of nomination, and the candidates' resumes/CVs.
10. The Secretary of the Faculty Senate shall prepare ballots for the election. The Parliamentarian of the Faculty Senate shall assume the role of the Chief Election Officer to ensure that proper parliamentary procedures are followed during the election.
11. At the special Meeting of the Faculty Senate to conduct the election, all eligible candidates must be ready to answer all reasonable questions that the Faculty Senators might have.
12. The Faculty Senate shall conduct a vote to select the TSU BOT faculty member in the following manner: (1) The Secretary of the Faculty Senate shall submit the ballots of the nominees to the Faculty Senators present at the special meeting for a vote; (2) The Faculty Senators present shall vote for one person to serve as the TSU BOT Faculty Representative member; (3) If one candidate secures the majority of the Senators present in the first round of voting, that faculty member shall be elected to the TSU BOT; (4) If no single candidate wins a majority in the first round, the Secretary of the Faculty Senate shall identify the top two vote winners in the first round. If two or more candidates are tied in receiving the most votes, all such candidates shall be presented for a second round vote. If two or more candidates are tied for receiving the second most votes, all such candidates shall be presented for a second round vote. This procedure shall be repeated until one candidate wins an majority.
13. The Parliamentarian of the Faculty Senate/Chief Election Officer shall certify the election and forward the name of the chosen candidate to the Chair of the Faculty Senate who shall then convey the name to the University President and the University/General Counsel. The Secretary of the Faculty Senate must confirm that certification.
14. The faculty member on the TSU BOT will serve a two-year term. If the TSU BOT Faculty Representative is unable or unwilling to continue to serve on the TSU BOT, the Faculty Senate shall select a new TSU BOT faculty member under the process outlined in the preceding paragraphs. The Faculty Senate shall use its best efforts to conduct the selection process within ninety days following notification of the TSU BOT faculty member's discontinuance of board service. The Faculty Senate must conduct the voting process and select a new BOT Faculty Representative within one hundred and twenty days following notification of the TSU BOT faculty member's discontinuance of board service. The faculty representative selected under this provision shall serve for the departing TSU BOT faculty member's remaining term.
15. The faculty member on the TSU BOT shall make a commitment to attend every meeting of the Faculty Senate Executive Committee and the Faculty Senate.

16. The faculty member on the TSU BOT can serve two (2) consecutive terms if the member is reelected after the first term and may be reelected after at least four (4) years have elapsed since the member's last date of service on the Board of Trustees.

A written request seeking the extension of the interim appointment must include a rational as to why a search for a regular appointment cannot be made during the six-month period. This request must be approved by the appropriate Vice President and the Affirmative Action Officer. During the interim period, a stipend will be added to the appointee's salary.

2. Regular appointments - The department or person directing a hire may make a recommendation to fill a vacant position. Regular appointments are filled with internal or external candidates. Regular appointments must follow the process outlined in Section II.
3. Temporary appointments - The department or person directing a hire may appoint a person who meets the minimum qualifications of a position to fill a vacant position on a temporary basis. Temporary appointments may be filled with internal or external candidates. Temporary appointments may be made for a maximum of six months. There must be a one day break in service between each six month appointment period. The person or department recommending approval for the temporary appointment must initiate a University Position Requisition which contains the Recruitment Plan within one month from the beginning of the temporary appointment. A written request seeking the extension of the temporary appointment must include a rational as to why a search for a regular appointment cannot be made during the six-month period. Requests for reappointment must be reviewed by the Human Resources Director, who will make a recommendation to the area vice president regarding whether the circumstances warrant reappointment.

D. Minimum Requirements for All Appointments

The following actions or procedures are mandatory and are reflected in the procedures that follow:

1. Establish an Affirmative Action Plan, which sets goals for all categories of employment;
2. Develop appropriate recruitment and selection procedures to ensure fairness in employment;
3. Determine in a discussion with the Affirmative Action Officer whether the University has met the affirmative action goal for the area or department (job group in which the vacant position occurs). Even if the University has met the overall institutional goal in an employment category, (i.e., executive/administrative/managerial; faculty; professional non-faculty; secretarial/clerical; technical and paraprofessional; skilled crafts; service/maintenance), there may be a goal for the area or department (job group) in which the vacant position is located which has not been met.
4. All appointees must meet the minimum qualifications for a position.

E. Additional Efforts Required by Institutions Covered by the 2001 Geier Consent

The Geier Consent Decree requires compliance with employment goals set in the institutional Affirmative Action Plan. Certain additional efforts to recruit and hire other-race individuals must be demonstrated. Other-race is defined as White at Tennessee State University.

In order to recruit and hire other-race individuals, TSU will follow the minimum requirements outlined above in Section D plus make these additional efforts:

1. Solicit nominations from institutions, discipline-related groups, organizations devoted to leadership training in the field and/or individuals likely to generate other-race applicants;
2. Provide documented evidence that direct contacts (telephone conversations, electronic messages, facsimile messages, meetings, correspondence, etc. with potential applicants) have been made with qualified other-race individuals to encourage their application for the vacancy;
3. Provide assurance by the Affirmative Action Officer that an approved process has been followed and that qualified other-race applicants have been contacted and fully considered is mandatory.

F. Searches

External Searches

External searches may be conducted on a national, regional, or local scope and the appropriate level of recruitment depends upon the level of the position being advertised. Procedures for external searches provide the standard method for the advertisement and recruitment of applicants. Position vacancies for external searches in EEO categories 1, 2, and 3 need only be advertised for 14 calendar days. Position vacancies for external searches in EEO categories 4, 5, 6, and 7 need only be advertised for 10 calendar days. The external search process is outlined in Section II.

Any exceptions to the search procedures will be granted by the Affirmative Action Officer only in limited circumstances on a case-by-case basis. A written request for exception must be submitted by the hiring department or person to the Affirmative Action Officer.

Searches for Coaches

Requirements to fill coaching vacancies will generally follow the requirements as set forth in section II. Due to the unique nature of coaching positions and because vacancies may occur suddenly and require immediate action, an expedited search process may be necessary. The Athletics Director will consult with the Affirmative Action Officer to determine the process to be followed in lieu of the standard search process. The Athletics Director must submit a written request justifying the deviation from the standard search process.

II. Procedures for Recruitment and Appointment

A. University Position Requisition Form

The purpose of this form is to ensure that funds for a regular (i.e. non-temporary) position to be filled has been allocated and funded. It serves as an approval to proceed with recruitment to fill the position. The form is approved and signed, in order, by the following: budgetary head, dean or director, area vice president, grants officer (if applicable), budget director, Human Resources, EO/AA.

B. Recruitment Plan

1. The University Position Requisition contains the Recruitment Plan for the position. The Recruitment Plan has to be approved prior to taking any recruitment action, the person directing the hire or the search committee must submit a written Recruitment Plan to the Affirmative Action Officer for approval. There is a standardized plan for EEO categories 4, 5, 6, and 7. There may be a need for occasional modification of this standard plan, depending on the nature of the position and the availability data. The Recruitment Plan includes, but is not limited to, the following:
  - a. The proposed job description, which has been reviewed by the Affirmative Action Officer. The job description establishes the criteria for advertising and screening of the candidates. Experience requirements should indicate whether student or graduate level work is applicable.
  - b. Method of directing the hire (i.e., individual supervisor, search committee, etc.)
  - c. Composition of the search committee and responsibilities of the members (i.e., direct contacts, references, interviews, etc.)
  - d. An advertising plan which provides the following:
    - i. Advertisement of the position on bulletin boards and/or in appropriate publications, and/or newspapers, and/or professional discipline-specific journals, and/or professional discipline-specific Internet sites, and the Tennessee Employment Security Office. For all advertising sources requiring payment, a purchase requisition and advertising copy appropriate for the publication must be attached. The minimum posting period for EEO 1, 2, and 3 positions is 14 calendar days; for EEO 4-7, 10 calendar days;
    - ii. Requests for nominations from professional organizations, discipline-related groups, and organizations devoted to leadership training (e.g., the ACE Office for Leadership Development) if applicable for the position;

- iii. Participation by other-race and/or minority members on all search, selection, or advisory committees, when practicable;
  - iv. Direct contacts to assure that qualified minorities are aware of the vacancy and are encouraged to apply.
  - v. All advertisements should duplicate the minimum qualifications stated in the job announcement, which accompanies the Recruitment Plan which is contained in the Position Requisition.
  - vi. The appointing authority or search committee shall maintain a contact log to indicate all direct contacts made (telephone, e-mails, letters, etc.)
2. Approval of the Recruitment Plan must be granted by the Affirmative Action Officer prior to the commencement of the recruitment process.
    - a. The Affirmative Action Officer will approve the Recruitment Plan for EEO categories 1, 2, and 3 using the electronic recruitment system.
    - b. The Position Requisition will be forwarded to the Human Resources Office for advertising. The Affirmative Action Officer will review revised job requirements when a position is re-advertised.
  3. In the case of appointments of adjunct faculty, equal employment opportunity efforts must include advertisement to establish and build diverse pools from which adjunct employees are chosen. Thus, at least once each year, the Office of Academic Affairs will advertise the areas in which adjunct faculty are generally employed and/or in which specific needs for adjunct faculty have been identified.
  4. Approval of the recruitment plan must be granted by the Affirmative Action Officer for EEO categories 1, 2, and 3. Recruitment plans for EEO categories 4, 5, 6, and 7 do not require the specific approval of the Affirmative Action Officer, if the recruitment will proceed as specified in the Standardized Recruitment Plan for EEO categories 4, 5, 6, and 7.
    - a. In such cases, the Human Resources Director shall work directly with the requesting department once the University Position Requisition Form has been approved.
    - b. Any variation or exception to the standardized plan as outlined must be approved in writing by the Affirmative Action Officer.
  5. Recruitment plans for temporary appointment do not require the approval of the Affirmative Action Officer. The Human Resources Director shall work with the requesting department.
  6. The Human Resources Office will publish open positions on the University's website.

Important: If TSU has met its affirmative action goals, equal employment opportunity is required. Race or sex cannot be used as a plus factor in hiring. However, affirmative action efforts are appropriate in the recruitment process to assure a representative pool. Discrimination on the basis of sex, race, religion, color, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, or other illegal basis is a violation of law and University policy.

III. Application Process

- A. An application consists of a resume, and cover letter, and/or application. A Tennessee State University Application for Employment form should be submitted to the Human Resources Office by each applicant for employment using the electronic recruitment system. Applicants for EEO categories 1, 2, and 3 may also be required to submit resumes/vitae, transcripts, or other documentation either at the time of application or at some other stage in the process.
- B. The Human Resources Office will maintain a log of applications received for each position. Upon expiration of the application deadline, the Human Resources Office will forward all applications to the person directing the hire. A log of applicants will be maintained in the electronic recruitment system for review by the Affirmative Action Officer. (In the case of an open application period, applicants will be forwarded as they are received, and the log will be forwarded as requested.)
- C. The applicant pool must generally reflect the availability data for the defined vacancy in the discipline or field as determined by the appropriate job group in the institutional affirmative action plan. Direct contacts will be required to assure the inclusion of persons from protected groups in the applicant pool.
- D. Screening and Interviewing
  - 1. All applications must be screened in compliance with the approved recruitment plan. The hiring authority/department or search committee will screen applicant pools for EEO categories 1-7 to ensure applicants interviewed for the position meet the requirements as posted in the University job announcement. The Office of Academic Affairs or the unit head of an academic subunit will screen applicant pools for EEO category 2. Stated minimum qualifications cannot be waived without re-advertising the position and inviting all former applicants to reapply.
  - 2. The Affirmative Action Officer must review all applicant pools and approve their composition and the number and names of candidates to be interviewed prior to the scheduling of interviews (with the exception of temporary appointments).
    - a. For EEO categories 1, 2, and 3, approval of the Affirmative Action Officer is solicited by the completing of Form A-1, Certification of Search Pool.
      - i. For upper-level hires as defined in Section I.A.2, the Affirmative Action Officer forwards the form to TBR offices for further approval.
      - ii. For other EEO 1, 2, and 3 hires, the Affirmative Action Officer's approval is final.

- b. For EEO categories 4, 5, 6, and 7, the Affirmative Action Officer's approval to interview is implicit if the Standardized Recruitment Plan for EEO categories 4, 5, 6 and 7 is utilized.
3. Once approval to interview is granted, interviews must be conducted without discrimination and in compliance with applicable laws and statutes (e.g., EEO guidelines).

- a. Approval to Hire

No decision may be communicated to an applicant nor may an offer of employment be made until the President has signed the Notice of Employment and Agreement of Employment. The requisitioning department will be notified by the Human Resources Office when all approvals have been finalized.

- i. For positions defined in Section I.A., Form A-2, and Approval of Appointment, must first be submitted to and approved by the Affirmative Action Officer, who will also complete Section 5.C of the form. The form must then be approved by the President and is forwarded by the EDC Office to the designated TBR staff person for approval.
    - ii. Once approval has been granted, the process proceeds as outlined below. The area vice president will generate the following:
      - An Appointment Recommendation Form accompanied by an executed Job Applicant Flow Record Form which lists each applicant in rank order and which, based on the announced criteria, provides a well-documented and objective reason for selection or non-selection;
      - A legible and complete Application for Employment, a resume/vitae (for EEO categories 1, 2, and 3), and other pertinent credentials for each candidate, including copies of pertinent licenses and certifications where applicable;
      - Unofficial transcripts; official transcripts of the selected candidate should be presented the first day of employment (for faculty appointments and for administrative and/or professional appointments with faculty rank; and for any position which requires a specific degree);
      - relevant test scores and/or evaluation instruments;
      - relevant screening instruments and scores;
      - a copy of the Position Announcement and any published advertisement, the University Position Requisition Form, and the Recruitment Plan (for categories 1, 2, and 3);

- for retired State of Tennessee employees, a pre-approved TCRS Temporary Employment Form;
  - for current employees of other State of Tennessee agencies or institutions, dual services contract.
4. The Human Resources Office will check employment and personal references for the selected candidate for non-faculty positions. Academic deans and directors will check employment and personal references for a selected faculty candidate prior to recommending the candidate to the Vice President for Academic Affairs.
  5. The hiring authority must prepare an appointment recommendation form for approval. After the appointment has been approved by the area vice president, the Budget Office, the Human Resources Office, and the Affirmative Action Officer, a contract will be prepared by the Human Resources Office and forwarded to the Affirmative Action Office with the materials from Section II.E.2. for presentation to the President.
  6. For EEO Codes 4-7, and all adjunct faculty positions, telephone notification of candidates will be coordinated by the Human Resources Office. The new employee will report to the Human Resources Office on or before the first day of work to sign the Notice of Appointment. No employee may be allowed to begin work until he or she has signed the contract.

IV. Absence from duty

Absence from Duty An employee who is absent from duty for more than three (3) consecutive business days without giving notice to the appointing authority or appropriate manager concerning the reason for such absence and without securing permission to be on leave or who fails to report for duty or to the immediate supervisor or the appointing authority within two (2) business days after the expiration of any authorized leave of absence, absent unusual circumstances causing the employee's absence or preventing the employee's return, is considered as having resigned not in good standing.

V. Academic Credentials to comply with T.C.A §49-7-133

It is a Class A misdemeanor to misrepresent academic credentials. A person commits the offense of misrepresentation of academic credentials who, knowing that the statement is false and with the intent to secure employment at or admission to an institution of higher education in Tennessee, represents, orally or in writing that such person:

It is the policy of Tennessee State University to provide and maintain a program of equal opportunity and fairness in all educational programs and activities, including admissions, recruitment, course offerings, extracurricular activities, facilities, counseling, health services, athletics, and financial assistance. The University shall engage in no practice which will discriminate against any group or individual for reasons of race, color, religion, national origin, sexual orientation/gender identity, disability, sex, age, or veteran status. This policy incorporates by reference the sexual, racial, and other harassment policy in the Student Handbook.

Additionally, the University provides and maintains an equal opportunity program regarding personnel and employment matters, including recruitment, advertising, hiring, employment upgrade or promotion, development, demotion or transfer, layoff or termination, rates of pay, leaves of absence, and other forms of compensation and training. It is the intent of this policy to safeguard against unsound and illegal personnel practices. The University, therefore, shall engage in no practices which will discriminate against any group or individual for reasons of race, color, religion, national origin, disability, sex, sexual orientation/gender identity, age (except where sex or age is a bonafide occupational qualification as determined by statutory or Tennessee Board of Regents requirements), or veteran status. The University has adopted the policy that criteria for employment and promotion be job validated, such that only the skills, performance level, and preparation actually necessary for a job are considered in making employment or promotion decisions. Employees will use courtesy titles (Mr., Mrs., Miss, Ms. and Dr.) to address clients/beneficiaries without regard to race, color, or national origin in communications.

It is the policy of Tennessee State University to provide equal access to education and employment to all, regardless of disability. Reasonable accommodations have been and will continue to be made to the extent possible for qualified disabled personnel. The Office of Disabled Student Services coordinates university-wide services available to students with disabilities. Students should contact the Director of Disabled Student Services (Section 504 Co-Coordinator) for information about its services at 963-7400.

The University's policy statement requires departments to undertake affirmative action in working toward the achievement of goals. Through implementation of this policy, the University will aggressively recruit and employ persons from classes that are under-represented in its work force. The degree of success achieved in meeting affirmative action goals will be a performance indicator used in the evaluation of all management personnel of the University.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY PROGRAM AND AFFIRMATIVE ACTION PLAN

The Equal Opportunity Program/Affirmative Action Plan for Tennessee State University is housed, and may be reviewed, in the following offices: Equity, Diversity, and Compliance, President, President's Cabinet, Human Resources, and the library. The President's Cabinet shall be responsible for making the Plan available to each area manager/supervisor within their respective division.

The Plan describes the University's program of equal employment opportunity and outlines its affirmative action efforts. Specifically, the Plan serves to document Tennessee State University's long-held commitment to the principles of equal employment opportunity and affirmative action. Responsibility for implementation, dissemination, and legal obligations relating to affirmative action are contained in the Plan.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY COMPLAINT PROCEDURES

Discrimination may occur by:

1. Treating members of a protected class less favorably because of their membership in that class. The protected groups are based upon race, color, religion, ethnic, or national origin, sex, sexual orientation/gender identity, disability, age or status as a covered veteran: or,

2. Having a policy or practice that has a disproportionately adverse impact on protected class members.
  - A. A complaint may be filed by a program beneficiary, student, former student, present or former University employee, or applicant for employment who believes he or she has been subjected to discrimination. A complaint must be filed within three hundred sixty five (365) days after the last occurrence of an incident or he/she has observed discrimination taking place.
  - B. The complaint and the basis for it, i.e., race, sex, national origin, religion, sexual orientation/gender identity, color, age, disability, or veteran status must be submitted in writing to the EDC Office. All complaints must be signed by the aggrieved party (“complainant”). A complaint is considered filed only after it has been submitted in writing.
  - C. Within five (5) work days, the written complaint is forwarded by the EDC Office to the area vice president for possible resolution through the supervisory lines. Written findings must be submitted by the vice president to the EDC Office within fifteen (15) work days from date of receipt by the vice president.
  - D. In the event a complaint cannot be resolved through the supervisory lines within the area, the EDC Office will conduct an investigation and present written findings and recommendations to the President within twenty (20) work days following written notification from the area vice president that the complaint cannot be informally resolved. A copy of the EDC Office’s findings and recommendations shall also be submitted to the complainant and the charged party (respondent) and the appropriate area vice president. In situations where more than twenty (20) work days is needed by the EDC Office to complete the investigation, such as difficulty in locating a necessary witness, or complexity of the complaint, additional time may be taken, but only following approval from the Office of Chief of Staff and University Counsel and notice to the complainant and the respondent.

- E. All parties are advised that any form of retaliation is strictly prohibited. The complainant may be given assurances that measures will be taken against the respondent should there be retaliation against her or him. The respondent should be notified that any retaliation against the complainant or persons participating in the investigation is strictly prohibited regardless of the outcome of the investigation and may, in itself, be grounds for disciplinary action.
- F. If any person feels they have been retaliated against based upon her/his filing and/or her/his participation in the investigation of an EDC complaint, s/he should notify the area vice president or EDC Office investigator immediately. Should the area vice president or EDC Office receive notification of any form of retaliation by any of the parties to the investigation, or against any person who participated in the investigation of the complaint, and should there be a finding of retaliation, disciplinary action may be taken including, but not limited to, probation or termination.
- G. If the complainant or respondent is not satisfied with the findings of the EDC Office and desires further consideration, the complainant or respondent must submit a written request for review by the President within ten (10) work days following receipt of the report. Based on the findings and recommendations to this stage, the President will determine if further investigation is warranted. In his or her discretion, the President may refer the matter to a designee for investigation and resolution. The President will issue a written decision regarding his or her determination.
- H. In the event additional information implicating Tennessee State University and Tennessee Board of Regents ("TBR") policies become known after the conclusion of an EDC investigation, the EDC Office reserves the right to re-examine the complaint and conduct further investigation and recommend disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

- I. If a complainant or respondent is not satisfied with the decision of the President, a written appeal may be filed by the complainant or respondent with the Tennessee Board of Regents pursuant to TBR Guidelines and Policies.
- J. Copies of all complaints, investigation reports, recommendations, and actions taken will be submitted to the Chief of Staff and University Counsel.

I. Grievance Procedure

- A. A grievance must be initiated within ten (10) workdays after the employee receives notice or becomes aware of the action which is the basis for the grievance.
  - 1. The administrator considering the grievance at each step shall issue a written decision with specific reasons stated for the decision.
  - 2. If the employee is not satisfied with the decision at any step, he/she must carry the grievance forward to the next step within ten (10) workdays after receiving the written decision.
  - 3. If the employee does not carry the grievance forward within ten (10) workdays, the grievance procedure shall be terminated and the grievance disposed of in accordance with the last written decision.
    - a. For purposes of this procedure, the term “workdays” refers to Monday through Friday.
  - 4. The President may grant reasonable extension of the applicable time limit at each stage of the procedure upon the timely showing of good cause. The request for an extension must be in writing. The approval or denial of the request shall also be in writing.
  - 5. Once a grievance is initiated, the grievant may not later present the same grievance again in an attempt to gain a more favorable outcome.
  - 6. Employees shall be given the opportunity to pursue grievances during their assigned work time. Access to procedures under this policy shall not interfere with the normal work flow of Tennessee State University
- B. Testimony, Witnesses and Representation
  - 1. At every step, the employee may testify and present witnesses and materials in support of his/her position.
    - a. The testimony of an employee, given either on his/her own behalf or as a witness for another employee, will not subject an employee to retaliatory action.
  - 2. At every step, the employee may be accompanied by a representative as defined by the institution which may also specify the parameters of participation by the representative during the hearing process.

- a. At the discretion of the panel chair, additional employees from the unit may be allowed to attend the employee panel hearing conducted as the final step.

C. Steps of Review

1. Step 1-- Supervisor or Administrator Instituting Employment Action:

- a. Within ten (10) workdays after the employee receives notice or becomes aware of the action which is the basis for the grievance, the employee completes a Grievance Form (which may be obtained from Human Resources), submits it to Human Resources and provides a copy to his/her supervisor or the administrator instituting employment action. While a particular form is not required to file a grievance, the employee must make it clear that she/he intends to utilize the grievance procedures for resolution of the employment action.
- b. Within ten (10) workdays after receipt of the grievance, the supervisor or administrator initiating employment action and the employee meet and discuss the grievance in a face-to-face meeting.
- c. If the supervisor or administrator was not the one who recommended the original employment action, or is recommending a change from the original employment action, the supervisor or administrator will make a recommendation to the administrator who made the original employment action.
- d. Any changes from the original employment action must be approved by the President or Director, as appropriate, before being communicated to the employee.
- e. Within ten (10) workdays after the face-to-face meeting, the supervisor or administrator must communicate the decision in writing to the grievant with specific reasons stated for the decision.
- f. If the supervisor or administrator fails to respond or if the decision is not satisfactory to the employee, the employee may carry the grievance forward to Step 2.

2. Step 2--Next Higher Level of Management:

- a. Within ten (10) workdays after receiving the written decision at Step 1, if the employee is not satisfied with the result of Step 1, the employee must notify Human Resources that he/she wants further review.
    1. Human Resources schedules a face-to-face meeting to occur within ten (10) workdays after receiving notice that the employee wants further review of the next level administrator.
  - b. Within ten (10) workdays after the face-to-face meeting, the next level administrator issues a written decision that includes specific reasons for the decision.
  - c. Any changes from the original employment action must be approved by the President or Director, as appropriate, before being communicated to the employee.
3. Step 3--Hearing:
- a. Within ten (10) workdays after receiving the written decision at Step 2, the employee can request a grievance hearing before a panel of employees.
  - b. The employee must notify Human Resources in writing whether he/she wants a hearing before an employee panel.
  - c. Alternatively, the employee may request a hearing under TBR Policy No. 1:06:00:05 (Cases Subject to TUAPA), if applicable.
  - d. If the employee requests a hearing before an employee panel, Human Resources or the appropriate institutional person as defined by the institution policy selects the panel members, convenes the hearing and arranges for the grievance to be heard.
  - e. The employee grievance panel may include non-exempt staff employees, exempt staff employees, or a combination of both exempt and non-exempt employees.
  - f. The panel members representing the unit where the employee works may not serve on the grievance panel.
  - g. Every effort should be made to include minorities, i.e. ethnic minorities and women, in the composition of the committee.

- h. The grievance panel shall hear the grievance within ten (10) workdays, if practicable, after the date on which the employee submits his/her written request to Human Resources.
    - i. The written recommendation of the institutional panel or commission is subject to review by the President.
  - 4. Step 4—Review by the President, as appropriate:
    - a. The written recommendation of the grievance panel will be forwarded to the President, as appropriate.
    - b. Within ten (10) work days, if practicable, the President, as appropriate, or a designee will notify the grievant of the final decision.
- D. Grievances which are processed through the grievance committee and upon which the President has made a decision are appealable to the Chancellor only where the grievance falls within the parameters set out in TBR Policy 1:02:11:00.

II. Non-Retaliation

- A. No employee shall retaliate or discriminate against another employee because of the latter employee's filing of a grievance.
- B. In addition, no employee shall coerce another employee or interfere with the action of another employee in the latter employee's attempt to file a grievance.
- C. Administrative, academic and supervisory personnel should also be informed that they are responsible for ensuring that the employee is free from retaliation, coercion and/or discrimination arising from the employee's filing of or intent to file a grievance.

III. Responsibility for Implementation

- A. The President, as appropriate or her designee of the institution has ultimate responsibility for implementation of the grievance procedures.
- B. Administrative, academic, and supervisory personnel are responsible for insuring that they inform and make available to all employees information concerning their right to file a grievance and their right to be protected from retaliation.

IV. Maintenance of Records

- A. Copies of written grievances, and accompanying responses and documentation should be maintained at a specified location(s) at TSU for at least two years after the date of the employment decision.

- B. If a finding adverse to the grievant is made, the finding shall be maintained in the grievant personnel file.

Policy Area

Applicable Divisions

Universities

Purpose

Promotion in rank is recognition of past achievement of the individual being considered for promotion. In addition, the advancement in rank is recognition of future potential and a sign of confidence that the individual is capable of even greater accomplishments and of assuming greater responsibilities. The policy of the Tennessee Board of Regents is to make promotions strictly on consideration of merit tempered by university and fiscal considerations. The purpose of this policy is to help ensure that promotions are made objectively, equitably, impartially, and as a recognition of merit in line with the following policy guidelines.

Definitions

For the purposes of this policy, research/scholarship/creative activities and service/outreach will be defined as follows.

- Teaching - Teaching applies to any strategy in which information is imparted so that others may learn, and may include, but is not limited to, a variety of techniques including instruction, student advising and/or mentoring, development of course materials and courseware, and development of innovative approaches to instruction.
- Research/Scholarship/Creative Activities - Research applies to the studious inquiry, examination, or discovery that contributes to disciplinary and interdisciplinary bodies of knowledge. Research/scholarship/creative activities may include, but are not limited to, disciplinary and interdisciplinary activities that focus on the boundaries of knowledge, field-based scholarship, creative activities (e.g., film-making, performances, or other artistic creations), and the development of cutting-edge teaching approaches.

- Service/Outreach - Service applies to involvement within the community as defined by the university's role and mission; service to the university; and service within the bounds of the applicant's academic discipline and budgeted assignment.

A more detailed description of these activities and the criteria to be applied in assessing performance in these three areas may be found in Sections IV and VII of Policy No.

5:02:03:60, "Policy on Academic Tenure for the Tennessee Board of Regents Universities."

Policy

I. Introduction

- A. The president of each university is responsible for the master staffing plan of the university.
  - 1. In developing such a plan, the president will consider the fiscal impact of each promotion recommended to the Board; i.e., resources allocated and distributed to the university.

II. The Evaluation Process

- A. The guidelines which follow provide a general plan for documenting the evaluation process for promotion at each university.
  - 1. However, each university must develop specific promotion criteria which all units of that university will follow.
  - 2. The university's policy must, at a minimum, satisfy the criteria established by these general System guidelines, but may also be more rigorous than the criteria stated herein.
  - 3. The policy should be written to distinguish between functional areas of instruction, research/scholarship/creative activities and service/outreach and should contain sections that clearly outline promotional procedures, as well as opportunities for appeal of negative decisions.

B. Once the university has developed its policy complete with process and appellate procedures, it must be forwarded to the Tennessee Board of Regents for review and approval.

1. The university's promotion policy will be submitted via the Chancellor to the Committee on Personnel of the Board for review and recommended action.
2. From the Committee, the university's policy will be referred to the Board for appropriate action.
3. Upon Board approval, the university policy becomes a part of Board of Regents Policy.

III. Academic Ranks

A. The following are criteria that distinguish between academic ranks.

1. Instructor
  - a. Demonstrated ability in instruction student development.
  - b. Master's degree from an accredited institution in the instructional discipline or related area.
  - c. Evidence of good character, mature attitude, and professional integrity.
2. Senior Instructor
  - a. Documented evidence of high quality teaching and contribution to student development.
  - b. Master's degree from an accredited institution in the instructional discipline or related area.
  - c. Evidence of good character, mature attitude, and professional integrity.
3. Master Instructor
  - a. Documented evidence of teaching excellence and superior contribution to student development.

- b. Master's degree from an accredited institution in the instructional discipline or related area.
  - c. Evidence of good character, mature attitude, and professional integrity.
- 4. Assistant Professor
  - a. Earned doctorate or terminal degree from an accredited institution in the instructional discipline or related area.
  - b. Evidence of potential ability in instruction, and/or service, and/or research.
  - c. Evidence of good character, mature attitude, and professional integrity.
- 5. Associate Professor
  - a. Earned doctorate or terminal degree from an accredited institution in the instructional discipline or related area.
  - b. Documented evidence of high quality professional productivity which may lead to national recognition in the academic discipline, and/or consonant with the goals of the university and of the academic unit to which the faculty member belongs.
  - c. Documented evidence of ability in instruction and/or service and/or research.
  - d. Evidence of good character, mature attitude, and professional integrity.
- 6. Professor
  - a. Earned doctorate or terminal degree from an accredited institution in the instructional discipline or related area.
  - b. Documented evidence of sustained high quality professional productivity and national recognition in the academic discipline or sustained high quality professional productivity in the academic discipline that is consonant with the goals of the university and of the academic unit to which the faculty member belongs.
  - c. Documented evidence of teaching excellence and superior contribution to student development or superior scholarly or creative activity will contribute to the positive record of the candidate for advancement to the rank of professor. Since there is no higher rank, promotion to professor is taken with great care and requires a level of achievement beyond that required for associate professor. This rank is not a reward for long service; rather it is recognition of superior achievement within the discipline with every expectation of continuing contribution to the university and the larger academic community.

- d. Evidence of good character, mature attitude, and professional integrity, and a high degree of academic maturity and responsibility.

IV. Exceptions to Minimum Rank Qualifications

- A. The minimum rank qualifications should be met in every recommendation regarding appointment to academic rank and for promotion in academic rank.
  - 1. Exceptions to the minimum rank qualifications can be recommended by the president of a university; however, such exceptions are not favored and should be granted only upon a showing of a candidate's exceptional merit and/or other extraordinary circumstances, such as an objective need to deviate from these minimum qualifications in filling positions and/or retaining otherwise qualified faculty within certain academic disciplines.
  - 2. Petitions for exceptions to promotional criteria may include consideration of the appropriateness of the degree or extraordinary qualities that the candidate may possess.
    - a. The equivalent work experience credit may include relevant teaching experience or other experiences such as experience gained as an administrator, counselor, librarian, journeyman, or the like.
    - b. When evaluating college level instruction, research/scholarship/creative activities, and service, the university may make its own determination whether or not the number of years of experience from another university is to be accepted in total or discounted in some manner.

V. Terminal Degree Designation

- A. The Board will use national discipline standards to determine which degrees are considered to be “terminal” within each discipline and will provide each university with a list that delineates these degrees.
- B. Each university may request blanket exceptions to these standards by classification based upon its mission and hiring practice.
- C. Each university may also petition the Board for “equivalent work experience credit” when a candidate has not obtained a terminal degree, but has a record of extraordinary achievement in a given field.
  - 1. The equivalent work experience credit may include relevant teaching experience or other experiences such as experience gained as an administrator, counselor, librarian, journeyman, or the like.

VI. Promotion Criteria

- A. The academic units of the universities must develop written guidelines with specific criteria for evaluating the faculty in teaching, research and service. The departmental guidelines cannot be less rigorous than TBR or university guidelines.
- B. These guidelines should be distributed to all new faculty members and should be easily available at all times, preferably via the Web. Whenever the guidelines are revised, the faculty should be notified of the availability of the revised guidelines.
- C. Guidelines should use the following general criteria as minimum requirements.
  - 1. Teaching
    - a. Evaluation of instruction shall be based on the following criteria with the each unit assigning varying degrees of weight to each criterion.
Deficiencies in some criteria may be counterbalanced by superiority in others.
      - 1. Evaluation by department/division chairperson, and appropriate dean.

2. Evaluation of curriculum and/or program development; development of instructional techniques (including development of on-line and computer assisted course development), etc.
3. Promote involvement in student research, scholarship, and creative activities.
4. Evaluation of the individual's performance in the advisement of students.
5. Evaluation of the quality of the individual's performance in graduate and undergraduate student mentoring.
6. Evaluation of published works in the teaching area; documentation of teaching methodology that may be shared with colleagues.
7. Honors and recognition for contributions to teaching.
8. A record that indicates that the individual has remained current in his/her field of specialization and effective in instructional methodology.
9. Evaluation by peers, especially those in the same academic area (as appropriate for the individual university.)
10. Student Evaluation of the teaching performance.

2. Research/Scholarship/Creative Activities

- a. Promotion to associate or full professor requires review of a candidate's record of scholarly activity by qualified peers.
- b. Evaluation of research shall be based on the following criteria, with the academic units of the university assigning varying degrees of weight to each criterion. Deficiencies in some criteria should be counterbalanced by superiority in others.
  1. The publication of research in refereed journals or refereed online publications is a reliable indication of scholarly ability. Consonant with the goals of the university, documented evidence of national recognition may be considered the most important criterion in evaluating scholarship for promotion to full professor. Consonant with the goals of the university, evidence of potential for national recognition may be considered the most important criterion evaluating scholarship for promotion to associate professor.

2. Books published by reputable firms and articles in refereed journals, reviewed by recognized scholars, are more significant than those that are not subjected to such rigorous examination. It should be emphasized that quality is more important than quantity.
  3. Written reviews and evaluations by qualified external peers, either in person or aided by other forms of reports, or both, are appropriate for performances, compositions, and other artistic creations.
  4. Professional scholarly papers presented at international, national, or regional meetings may be appropriate.
3. Service/Outreach and Professional Activities
- a. Evaluation of the service component should be based on performance in three areas:
    1. Public service to the community as defined by the university's role and mission;
    2. Service to the university; and service within the bounds of the applicant's academic discipline; and
    3. Budgeted assignment.
  - b. Evaluation should be based on all three areas although it is realized that differences in emphases may exist. The academic units of the university shall have the responsibility for determining the emphasis as well as the responsibility for determining specific criteria based on the individual's aspect of work. Evaluation shall be based on the following criteria, with the academic units of the university to which the faculty member belongs assigning varying degrees of weight to each criterion. These criteria should include: community service programs, public service consultation, university, committee and administrative responsibilities, and active contributions to professional associations. In each case, documentation of the evaluation process and criteria shall be as complete as possible. Specific evaluative criteria may be developed using the following as guidelines:

1. A description of the candidate's position that permits evaluation of performance in relation to assigned and budgeted duties. This should include a statement of the mission or purpose of the position and the objective(s) of the nominee's service unit, as well as the specific assigned tasks and responsibilities of the nominee.
2. An evaluation of the candidate's effectiveness, as judged by his or her impact on individuals, groups, or organizations served. This should include indices of the success of his/her service, in terms of improvement of communities, programs, operating agencies, production processes, or management practices. It should also include indications of client satisfaction with the service provided by the nominee, and of the magnitude and complexity of his/her work (as opposed to perfunctory activity that does not lead to useful results).
3. An appraisal of the candidate's local, regional and national stature. Although the achievement of national stature is sometimes difficult for public service faculty whose activities are primarily directed to groups within the State, the public service professional should take advantage of every opportunity to project his/her accomplishments among peers on a local, regional, and national basis. Service/outreach work is sometimes not publishable. The results may be in the form of direct consultations, planning reports, or instructional time directed largely to the recipients of university service programs. But certain aspects of service work are suitable for publication in professional journals. For example, unique techniques developed to motivate clients, or new approaches to the transfer and application of knowledge, would be of interest to peers in other public service programs across the nation.

4. General Process Guidelines at University Level

- a. So that the decision process can be as objective as possible, each recommendation (forwarded from the department to a higher administrative level in the university) should be accompanied by complete and careful documentation of the candidate's teaching performance, and/or public service contributions, and/or research. Although the areas of instruction, public service, and research are all considered important, certain exceptions may exist where evaluation may occur in one or the other area exclusively. In these cases, as well as in the general case, appropriate supervisory personnel shall clearly and adequately document the facts which justify the individual's promotion. The initiating unit may, if it deems it desirable, include information relative to the candidate's research activities, publication record, exceptional administrative performance, or other types of contributions. Additional procedures may be used by each university with approval of the Tennessee Board of Regents. For example, the university may wish to establish an interdisciplinary, university-level promotion review committee to review the individual unit recommendations.

5. General Process Guidelines at Board Level

- a. A list of promotional recommendations should be forwarded by the president of the university to the Chancellor for his/her review. The Chancellor's recommendation will be forwarded to the Committee on Personnel and their recommendation forwarded to the Board.

TBR Board Meeting: April 2, 2004; September 25, 2008; Board Meeting June 20, 2014

This policy is a result of a comprehensive revision of former TBR Policy 5:02:02:00, Faculty Promotion. The former policy contained provisions related to faculty promotion for both universities and community colleges. The revision, approved by the Tennessee Board of Regents on April 2, 2004, created separate policies relative to faculty promotion for universities and community colleges. Faculty members appointed prior to July 1, 2004, may elect to be considered for promotion under the provisions of Policy 5:02:02:00 or under the revised policy for a four-year phase-in period. The revised policy will be applicable to all promotion actions taken on or subsequent to July 1, 2008, for faculty whose employment began on or after July 1, 2004.

Note: Upon adoption of the former policy at the December 13, 1974 meeting, implementation of the Board-approved university criteria began on September 1, 1975, and no faculty experienced demotion in rank due to the new policies. Upon extending the policy to the technical institutes at the September 30, 1983 meeting, no technical institute faculty shall be demoted in rank as a result of the new provisions.

The purpose of this policy is to establish the criteria and process regarding academic tenure at universities governed by the TSU Board of Trustees.

Definitions

The following are general definitions of words and terms used in this policy which are not hereinafter specifically defined; however, the words and terms are subject to further qualification and definition in the subsequent sections of this policy.

- Academic Tenure - a personnel status in an academic department or academic program unit pursuant to which the academic or fiscal year appointments of full-time faculty who have been awarded tenure are continued at an university until the expiration or relinquishment of that status, subject to termination for adequate cause, for financial exigency, or for curricular reasons.
- Adequate Cause - a basis upon which a faculty member, either with academic tenure or a tenure-track or temporary appointment prior to the end of the specified term of the appointment may be dismissed or terminated. The specific grounds which constitute adequate cause are set forth in Section IV.H., herein.
- Financial Exigency - the formal declaration by the TSU Board of Trustees that one of its universities faces an imminent financial crisis, that there is a current or projected absence of sufficient funds (appropriated or non-appropriated) for the campus as a whole to maintain current programs and activities at a level sufficient to fulfill its educational goals and priorities, and that the budget can only be balanced by extraordinary means which include the termination of existing and continuing academic and non-academic appointments.

- Faculty Member - a full-time employee who holds academic rank as instructor, senior instructor, master instructor, assistant professor, assistant clinical or research professor, associate professor, associate clinical or research professor, professor, clinical or research professor, or instructor/coordinator.
- Probationary Employment - period of full-time professional service by a faculty member for whom an appointment letter denotes a tenure-track appointment in which he/she does not have tenure and in which he/she is evaluated by the university for the purpose of determining his/her satisfaction of the criteria for a recommendation for tenure. Probationary employment provides an opportunity for the individual to assess his/her own commitment to the university and for the university to determine whether the individual meets its perception of quality and/or projected need.
- Faculty Appointments - are defined in TSU Board of Trustees Policies 5:02:07:00 and 5:02:07:10.

Policy

I. Introduction

- A. The following policy of the TSU Board of Trustees on tenure is applicable to all universities within the system. These are minimal provisions for universities and should be implemented in a manner appropriate to the individual missions, traditions, and needs of the universities.
- B. University policies on tenure must cite and specifically acknowledge compliance with TSU Board of Trustees Policy on Academic Tenure (5:02:03:60). Likewise, university policies must as a minimum embody and communicate clearly all provisions, definitions, and stipulations of the Board policy.

- C. The quality of the faculty of any university is maintained primarily through support of a wide variety of professional development. It is monitored through the appraisal, by competent faculty and administrative officers, of each candidate for tenure. Tenure at a TSU Board of Trustees university provides certain full-time faculty with the assurance of continued employment during the academic year until retirement or dismissal for adequate cause, financial exigency, or curricular reasons, as further discussed herein.

II. Consideration for Tenure

A. Tenure Appointments

1. The awarding of tenure is recognition of the merit of a faculty member and of the assumption that he/she would meet the long-term staffing needs of the department or academic program unit and the university.
2. Tenure is awarded only to those members of the faculty who have exhibited professional excellence and outstanding abilities sufficient to demonstrate that their future services and performances justify the degree of permanence afforded by academic tenure.
3. The TSU Board of Trustees does not award tenure in non-faculty positions.
4. Tenure appointments reside in the departments and academic program units, and are assurances of continued employment during the academic year subject to expiration, relinquishment, or terminations of tenure as set out in Sections III and IV.
5. Recommendations for or against tenure should originate from the department or academic program unit in which the faculty member is assigned and should include appropriate participation in the recommendation by tenured faculty in the department or academic program unit as specified in Policy.
6. Tenure is awarded only by positive action of the Board, pursuant to the requirements and procedures of this policy, at a specific university.

7. No faculty member shall acquire or be entitled to any interest in a tenure appointment at a university without a recommendation for tenure by the president of the university and an affirmative award of tenure by the Board of Regents.
8. No other person shall have any authority to make any representation concerning tenure to any faculty member, and failure to give timely notice of non-renewal of a contract shall not result in the acquisition of a tenure appointment, but shall result in the right of the faculty member to another year of service at the university, provided that no tenure appeals remain outstanding due to lack of cooperation and/or appropriate action on the part of the candidate in completing the appeal process.

B. Tenure Process

1. Each university policy must contain the following:
  - a. Provisions for a tenure-track faculty member to be guided through the tenure process. Guidance may include provision of a mentor, pre-tenure review, portfolio development workshops, etc.
  - b. A process that defines the levels of review to include peer review.
  - c. Procedures associated with review by each level, a clear description of materials that each level will review.
  - d. A calendar or schedule of the review process.
  - e. The types and frequency of evaluation of probationary faculty members in the areas of teaching, service/outreach, and scholarship/creative activities/research.
2. University procedures shall ensure that peer committees have qualified privilege of academic confidentiality against disclosure of individual tenure votes unless there is evidence that casts doubt upon the integrity of the peer committee.

3. This policy shall be interpreted in a manner consistent with T.C.A. § 10-7-101 et seq. The recommendation for tenure must be made by the president to the Chancellor and by the Chancellor to the Board. In the event that tenure is awarded by the Board, the president shall furnish to the faculty member written confirmation of the award.
  4. Annual evaluations conducted by the candidate's department chair or other appropriate head of an academic program unit are an important aspect of the criteria for tenure at universities; therefore, university policies should include a clear statement as to the role of evaluation in measuring those criteria relevant to assessing the merit of the probationary candidate. Types of evidence relevant to evaluating effectiveness and contributions in teaching, research/scholarship, and service/outreach are identified in subsections III.A1, 2, and C of this section.
- C. Minimum Eligibility Requirements for Consideration for Academic Tenure
1. University policies must include specifically identifiable sections which define minimum eligibility requirements for consideration for academic tenure.
Those sections must clearly distinguish between:
    - a. Minimum eligibility requirements for consideration for academic tenure; and
    - b. Criteria to be considered in tenure recommendations (see Section III).
  2. Academic tenure may be awarded only to full-time faculty members who:
    - a. Hold academic rank as instructor, senior instructor, master instructor, assistant professor, associate professor, or professor and meet the minimum rank criteria for that rank as specified in TSU Board of Trustees Policy No 5:02:02:20 (however, a university may choose not to award tenure to faculty in the rank of instructor);
    - b. Have been employed pursuant to tenure-track appointments and have completed the probationary period of service as stated in the university's policy, and/or as agreed upon in writing and signed by the appropriate academic officer; and

- c. Have been determined by the university to meet the criteria for recommendation for tenure and have been so recommended pursuant to this policy.
3. Faculty holding clinical or research appointments are not eligible for tenure, provided, however, that under certain circumstances, such appointments may be converted to tenure track appointments as discussed in faculty appointments, TSU Board of Trustees Policy Nos. 5:02:07:00 and 5:02:07:10.
4. Faculty members supported in whole or in part by funds available to the university on a short-term basis, such as grants, contracts, or foundation sponsored projects, shall not be eligible for tenure unless continuing support for such members can be clearly identified in the regular budget of the university upon the recommendation of tenure to the Board.
5. No faculty member shall be eligible for tenure unless the employee's contract specifies his/her tenure-track status; provided that where a faculty member with tenure is appointed to an administrative position, he/she will retain tenure in a former faculty position only; and provided further that a faculty member otherwise eligible for tenure who also holds a non-faculty position may be awarded tenure in the faculty position only, subject to the requirements of this policy.
6. Each university may establish additional reasonable requirements for the eligibility of faculty for consideration for tenure. These should include but are not limited to the completion of the doctorate or other specified terminal degree in the faculty member's discipline, a minimum rank of instructor, assistant professor, and prescribed research and publication achievements. (The TSU Board of Trustees, using national standards, will determine what constitutes the terminal degree for each discipline. The university may request exceptions to this standard based upon its mission, or based upon an extraordinary candidate. In the latter instance, the exception shall be requested when the faculty member is employed and/or when the length of the probationary period is determined.)

D. Probationary Employment

1. Probationary faculty may be employed on annual tenure-track appointments for a probationary period of which may not exceed six (6) years, however, six (6) years is considered to be the normal length of time required to develop a substantial record in teaching, research and service.
2. The faculty member may apply for tenure following a probationary period of not less than five years, provided that exceptions to the minimum probationary period may be made under special circumstances upon recommendation by the president and approval by the Chancellor.
  - a. Upon approval of such an exception by the Chancellor, the faculty member's recommendation for tenure will go forward to the Board as meeting the requirements for the probationary period.

E. Calculating the Probationary Period

1. Only full-time continuous service at a university will be included in determining completion of the probationary period, except where a break in service was pursuant to an approved leave of absence.
  - a. Credit for Prior Service - The minimum probationary period of five years may include credit for prior service when agreed to by the president, and subject to the maximum permissible credit for prior service as noted below:
    1. Credit toward completion of the probationary period may at the discretion of the president be given for a maximum of three years of previous full-time service at other colleges, universities, or institutes provided that the prior service is relevant to the institution's own needs and criteria.

1. Any credit for prior service that is recognized and agreed to must be confirmed in writing at the time of the initial appointment.
2. Credit toward completion of the probation period may, at the discretion of the president, be given for a maximum of three years or previous full-time service in a temporary faculty appointment or term appointment at the same institution or in an earlier tenure-track appointment at the same institution that has been followed by a break in service.

1. Any credit for prior service in a temporary full-time faculty appointment at the same institution or in an earlier tenure-track appointment (at the same institution) that has been followed by a break in service must be recognized and confirmed in writing in the appointment letter to a tenure-track position.

b. Approved Leave of Absence

1. A period of approved leave of absence shall be excluded from the requisite period for completion of the probationary period unless the president of the university specified in writing prior to the leave of absence that it shall be included in the probationary period.
2. Leaves of absence may not be granted retroactively.
3. A faculty member may apply for a maximum of two (2) extensions in one-year increments so long as the total probationary period does not exceed six years.
4. Requests for a second extension follow the same procedure and are subject to the same considerations as the original extension.

c. Stopping the Tenure Clock

1. A faculty member in a tenure track appointment may request to “stop the clock” during his/her probationary period when circumstances exist that interrupt the faculty member’s normal progress toward building a case for tenure.
2. Discretion for stopping the tenure clock rests on the institution and also requires supervisory approval. In such cases, the faculty member may request to “stop the tenure clock” for one-year if he/she demonstrates that circumstances reasonably warrant such interruption.
3. Reasons for approving a request to “stop the clock” will typically be related to a personal or family situation requiring attention and commitment that consumes the time and energy normally addressed to faculty duties and professional development.
4. Examples may include, but are not limited to, childbirth or adoption, care of dependents, medical conditions or obligations, physical disasters or disruptions, or similar circumstances that require a fundamental alteration of one’s professional life.
5. The intent of this policy is to serve the best interests of the university while providing neither preference to nor adverse effect on a faculty member’s process of developing a case for tenure.
6. Once approved, the “stop the clock” year is not counted in the probationary period accrual.

d. Procedure

1. A faculty member seeking a modification of his/her probationary period must submit his/her request, in writing, addressing the considerations described above.
2. The request is to be submitted to the department chair for consideration and recommendation. The chair’s recommendation is forwarded to the dean of the faculty member's college for consideration and recommendation; thence to the provost for consideration and recommendation; and finally to the president for approval or denial.

3. The president will notify the faculty member, in writing, of the decision to approve or deny such exceptions within one month of submission.
4. Requests for modification of the probationary period that are based on a faculty member's health or care for an immediate family member should also be submitted to the university's legal counsel or to TSU Board of Trustees' for review.

F. A faculty member that is appointed to an administrative position prior to a tenure award remains eligible for tenure under two conditions:

1. The faculty member must qualify for tenure under departmental or academic program unit, college and university guidelines; and
2. The faculty member must maintain a significant involvement in academic pursuits including teaching, scholarship and service. The time (or prorated portion of time) spent in the administrative position may be credited toward completion of the probationary period.

G. Where a faculty member is serving a probationary period in a department or academic program unit and is subsequently transferred to another department or academic program unit, the faculty member may – with the approval of the president – elect to begin a new probationary period on the date that the transfer occurs.

1. If he/she does not so elect (and confirm in writing to the president), time spent in the first appointment shall count toward establishing the minimum and maximum probationary period (see E.1 above).

III. Criteria to be considered in Tenure Recommendations

A. Overview

1. The nature and relative importance of the criteria for the recommendation for tenure depend upon the nature, mission, and goals of the university in which tenure may be awarded and of the department or academic program unit in which a faculty member is employed.
2. The faculty member must demonstrate willingness and ability to work effectively with colleagues to support the mission of the institution and the common goals both of the institution and of the academic organizational unit.
3. Moreover, criteria for tenure relate to the university's three traditional, and often inter-related, missions: teaching, research/scholarship/creative activities, and service/outreach.

B. Teaching

1. Effective teaching is an essential qualification for tenure, and tenure should not be granted in the absence of clear evidence of a candidate's teaching ability and potential for continued development.
2. Excellence in teaching is a strong recommendation for both tenure and promotion though it cannot be considered in isolation from scholarship and service.
3. Although it is difficult to establish evidence of teaching excellence, each department must develop a procedure to ensure that factual information relative to a candidate's teaching is available at the time he/she is considered for tenure. It is expected that a component of teaching is effective student advisement.
4. The teaching portfolio should include, but is not limited to, evidence of teaching excellence as follows:
  - a. Ability to organize and present subject matter in a logical and meaningful way;

- b. Ability to motivate and stimulate creativity, intellectual curiosity, and interest in writing and inquiry in undergraduates and/or graduate students; and
  - c. Evidence of peer evaluation.
- 5. Documentation of teaching should routinely include:
  - a. Statement of teaching philosophy;
  - b. Course materials;
  - c. Student evaluations for every course evaluated during the probationary period; and
  - d. Evidence of supervision of student projects and other forms of student mentor ships.
- 6. A candidate for tenure may choose to include other types of evidence that support his/her application for tenure such as:
  - a. Additional student input;
  - b. Student products;
  - c. Teaching recognition;
  - d. Teaching scholarship;
  - e. Peer input;
  - f. Evidence of professional development in teaching;
  - g. Evidence of disciplinary or interdisciplinary program or curricular development;
  - h. Alumni surveys and student exit interviews; and
  - i. Other evidence of excellence in teaching or mentoring, or both.

C. Research/Scholarship/Creative Activities

- 1. A candidate for tenure must present evidence of his/her research, scholarship and/or creative activities when he/she applies for tenure.

- a. Such evidence should cite books, journal articles, monographs, creative activities, performances, or exhibitions that have undergone appropriate peer review.
  - b. Research publications in refereed journals or media of similar quality are considered reliable indicators of research/scholarly ability.
  - c. Written reviews and evaluations by qualified peers, either in person or aided by other forms of reports, or both, are appropriate for performances, compositions, and other artistic creations.
  - d. Books published by reputable firms and articles in refereed journals, reviewed by recognized scholars, are more significant than those that are not subjected to such rigorous examination.
  - e. It should be emphasized that quality is more important than quantity.
2. The tenure dossier/application must include evidence of peer review of the candidate's record of research/scholarly activity by qualified peers. The scholarship of teaching is a valid measure of research capability.
  - a. It goes beyond doing a good job in the classroom; creative teachers should organize, record, and document their efforts in such a way that their colleagues may share their contributions to the art of teaching.
  - b. Appropriate textbooks or educational articles in one's own discipline and innovative contributions to teaching, if published or presented in a peer-reviewed forum, constitute scholarship of teaching.
3. 3. Service/Outreach Service and/or outreach encompass a faculty member's activities in one of three areas:
  - a. Outreach or public service;
  - b. University service; and
  - c. Professional service.

4. The outreach or public service function is the university's outreach to the community and society at large, with major emphasis on the application of knowledge for the solution of problems with which society is confronted.
  - a. Outreach primarily involves sharing professional expertise and should directly support the goals and mission of the university.
  - b. A vital component of the university's mission, public service must be performed at the same high levels of quality that characterize the teaching and research programs.
5. University service refers to work other than teaching and scholarship done at the department, college, or university level. A certain amount of such service is expected of every faculty member; indeed, universities could hardly function without conscientious faculty who perform committee work and other administrative responsibilities.
  - a. University service includes, but is not limited to, serving on departmental committees and participating in college and university committees.
  - b. Some faculty members may accept more extensive citizenship functions, such as a leadership role in the Faculty Senate, membership on a specially appointed task force, service as advisor to a university-wide student organization, and membership on a university search committee.
6. Professional service refers to the work done for organizations related to one's discipline or to the teaching profession generally.
  - a. Service to the profession includes association leadership, journal editorships, article and grant proposal review, guest lecturing on other campuses, and other appropriate activities.
  - b. While it is difficult to define the exact nature of significant professional service, clearly more is required than organizational membership and attendance; examples of significant service would be that done by an officer of a professional organization or a member of the editorial staff of a journal.

IV. Changes in Tenure/Tenure-Track Status

A. Non-renewal of Probationary Tenure-Track

1. When tenure-track appointments of faculty are not to be renewed for further service, the faculty member shall receive notice of his/her non-retention for the ensuing academic year as follows:
  - a. Not later than April 1 of the first academic year of service, if the appointment expires at the end of that year; or, if the appointment terminates during an academic year, at least two months in advance of its termination;
  - b. Not later than January 1 of the second year of service, if the appointment expires at the end of that year; or, if the appointment terminates during an academic year, at least five months in advance of its termination;
  - c. Not later than the close of the academic year preceding the third or subsequent year of service, if the appointment expires at the end of that year; or, if the appointment terminates during an academic year, at least twelve months in advance of its termination.
2. The above stated dates are the latest dates for notice of non-renewal of faculty on tenure-track appointments, and each university may adopt annual dates which provide for longer notice of non-renewal. Notice of non-renewal shall be effective upon personal delivery of the notice to the faculty member, or upon the date the notice is mailed, postage prepaid, to the faculty member at his/her current home address of record at the university.
3. Applicable dates for notice of non-renewal are based upon actual years of service at a particular university and in no way affected by any credit for prior service. When a faculty member on a tenure-track appointment completes his/her probationary period, the faculty member will be recommended for tenure by the president or will be given notice of non-renewal of the appointment during the spring term following application for such status. Such notice of non-renewal should be given not later than the final day of the academic year. The faculty member's right in an instance where timely notice is not given is described in II.A.8.

4. Faculty members on tenure-track appointments shall not be terminated during the term of the annual appointment as stated in the employment contract except for reasons which would be sufficient for the termination of tenured faculty.
5. The non-renewal or non-reappointment of any faculty member on a tenure-track appointment does not necessarily carry an implication that his/her work or conduct has been unsatisfactory.
6. Unless there is a violation of state or federal law under the limitations described in the TSU BOARD OF TRUSTEES Policy on Appeals (1:02:11:00), decisions that are not subject to appeal to the Chancellor include (a) non-renewal of a tenure-track faculty appointment during the first five years of the probationary period and (b) denial of tenure unaccompanied by notice of termination in the fifth year of the probationary period.

B. Transfer of Tenure

1. Where a faculty member is tenured in an academic program unit (e.g., a department or division) he/she may be transferred to another academic program unit.
2. In such cases, the transfer will be made with tenure; moreover, the tenure appointment will be transferred to the new academic program unit.
3. In no instance may the faculty member be compelled to relinquish tenure as a condition for affecting the transfer.

C. Expiration of Tenure

1. Tenure status shall expire upon retirement of the faculty member.

2. Tenure shall also expire upon the event of permanent physical or mental inability of a faculty member, as established by an appropriate medical authority, to continue to perform his/her assigned duties.

D. Relinquishment of Tenure

1. A faculty member shall relinquish or waive his/her right to tenure upon resignation from the university or upon failure to report for service at the designated date of the beginning of any academic term, which shall be deemed to be a resignation unless, in the opinion of the president, the faculty member has shown good cause for such failure to report.
2. Where a tenured faculty member is transferred or reclassified to another department or academic program unit by the university, the transfer or reassignment shall be with tenure.
3. Tenure is not relinquished during administrative assignments at the university.

E. Termination of Tenure for Reasons of Financial Exigency

1. A tenured faculty member may be terminated as a result of financial exigency at a university subject to Board declaration that such financial conditions exist.
2. Personnel decisions (including those pertaining to tenured faculty) that result from a declaration of financial exigency at a Board of Regents university will comply with the Board Policy on Financial Exigency (5:02:06:00).

F. Termination of Tenure for Curricular Reasons

1. The employment of a tenured faculty member may be terminated because:
  - a. An academic program is deleted from the curriculum; or
  - b. Because of substantial and continued reduction of student enrollment in a field or discipline.
2. Before declaring that curricular reasons exist, the president will ensure meaningful participation by the university's representative faculty body in identifying the specific curricular reasons, evaluating the long-term effect on the university's curriculum and its strategic planning goals, and the advisability of initiating further action.

3. Prior to initiating the process described below, the president will present- either verbally or in writing - a description of curricular reasons that may warrant the termination of tenured faculty member(s).
4. Each university policy will describe procedures whereby this presentation will be made to a representative faculty body, and that body will have the opportunity to respond in writing to the president before action described below is initiated.
5. Each of these reasons for termination of tenure for curricular reasons must denote shifts in staffing needs that warrant greater reductions than those which are accommodated annually in light of shifting positions from one department to another or among colleges to handle changing enrollment patterns (see Definitions, G.6 below).

G. Procedures for Termination of Tenure

1. Upon determining that termination of one or more tenured faculty members is required for one or more of the two reasons cited above, the president shall furnish each faculty member to be terminated a written statement of the reasons for the termination.
  - a. Those reasons shall address fully the curricular circumstances that warranted the termination and shall indicate the manner and the information upon which the decision of which faculty members were to be terminated was reached.
  - b. The president's written statement shall also indicate that the faculty member has the opportunity to respond in writing stating any objections to the decision.

2. If the faculty member(s) to be terminated indicate(s) objections to the president's written statement(s) and request(s) a review, the president will appoint a faculty committee consisting of a minimum of five tenured faculty members from a slate of ten tenured faculty members proposed by the representative faculty body.
  - a. The committee shall conduct a hearing on the proposed termination(s).
  - b. The committee shall report its findings and recommendations to the president, who shall in a reasonable time inform the faculty member(s) proposed for termination in writing either that the decision for termination stands or that it has been altered.
3. The president's decision to terminate a tenured faculty member for curricular reasons is subject to appeal to the Chancellor and the Board as provided in the policy on appeals to the Board (TSU BOARD OF TRUSTEES Policy 1:02:11:00).
4. When a tenured faculty member is terminated for curricular reasons, the position will not be filled by a new appointee with the same areas of specialization as the terminated faculty member within a period of three years unless the terminated faculty member has been offered, in writing, reappointment to the position at his/her previous rank and salary (with the addition of an appropriate increase which, in the opinion of the president, would constitute the raise(s) that would have been awarded during the period that he/she was not employed).
5. Upon determining that termination of one or more tenured faculty members is warranted for curricular reasons, the president shall base his/her decision about which faculty member(s) should be terminated upon his/her assessment as to what action would least seriously compromise the educational programs in a department or division.

- a. Termination for curricular reasons presumes a staffing pattern in a department or academic program unit which cannot be warranted either by comparison with general load practices within the university or by comparison with faculty loads in comparable departments or academic program units at similar universities.
- b. In that light, the president shall also, at his/her discretion, base his/her decision on a careful assessment of the impact of the curricular reason on staffing requirements in the department or academic program unit as compared to overall patterns in the university and to comparable departments or academic program units which, in his/her judgment, are in universities similar enough to warrant assessment.

6. Definitions

- a. "Program is deleted from the curriculum" means that the Board takes formal action to terminate a degree major, concentration, or other curricular component and that such termination eliminates or reduces need for faculty qualified in that discipline or area of specialization.
- b. "Substantive and continued reduction of student enrollment in a field" means that over a period of at least three (3) years student enrollment in a field has decreased at a rate in considerable excess of that of the university as a whole and that such reduction has resulted in faculty-student ratios that, in the opinion of the president, cannot be warranted either by comparison with equivalent faculty load practices within the university or by comparisons with faculty loads in comparable departments or academic program units at similar universities which the president would deem to be appropriate for comparison.

7. When a tenured faculty member is to be terminated for curricular reasons, the president will make every possible effort to relocate the tenured faculty member in another existing vacant position for which he/she is qualified.

- a. In instances where (in the opinion of the president) relocation within the university is a viable alternative, the university has an obligation to make significant effort to relocate the faculty member, including the bearing of reasonable retraining costs.
- b. The final decision on relocation is within the discretion of the president.

H. Termination for Adequate Cause

- 1. A faculty member with tenure or a faculty member on a tenure-track appointment prior to the end of the term of appointment may be terminated for adequate cause, which includes the following:
  - a. Incompetence or dishonesty in teaching or research.
  - b. Willful failure to perform the duties and responsibilities for which the faculty member was employed or refusal or continued failure to comply with the policies of the Board, the university or the department, or to carry out specific assignments, when such policies or assignments are reasonable and non-discriminatory.
  - c. Conviction of a felony or a crime involving moral turpitude.
  - d. Improper use of narcotics or intoxicants, which substantially impairs the faculty member's fulfillment of his/her departmental and university duties and responsibilities.
  - e. Capricious disregard of accepted standards of professional conduct.
  - f. Falsification of information on an employment application or other information concerning qualifications for a position.
  - g. Failure to maintain the level of professional excellence and ability demonstrated by other members of the faculty in the department or academic program unit of the university.

I. Procedures for Termination for Adequate Cause

1. Termination of a faculty member with a tenure appointment, or with a tenure-track or temporary appointment prior to the annual specified term of the appointment, shall be subject to the following procedures:
  - a. No termination shall be effective until steps 4 through 9 below have been completed.
  - b. Suspensions pending termination shall be governed by the following procedure.
    1. A faculty member may not be suspended pending completion of steps 4 through 9 unless it is determined by the university that the faculty member's presence poses a danger to persons or property or a threat of destruction to the academic or operational processes of the university. Reassignment of responsibilities is not considered suspension; however, the faculty member must be reassigned responsibilities for which he/she is qualified.
    2. In any case of suspension, the faculty member shall be given an opportunity at the time of the decision or immediately thereafter to contest the suspension; and, if there are disputed issues of fact or cause and effect, the faculty member shall be provided the opportunity for a hearing on the suspension as soon as possible at which time the faculty member may cross-examine his/her accuser, present witnesses on his/her behalf, and be represented by an attorney. Thereafter, whether the suspension is upheld or revoked, the matter shall proceed pursuant to these procedures.
    3. Except for such simple announcements as may be required concerning the time of proceedings and similar matters, public statements and publicity about these proceedings by either the faculty member or administrative officers will be avoided so far as possible until the proceedings have been completed, including consideration by the Board.

4. Upon a recommendation by the chief academic officer of the university to the president or upon a decision by the president that these procedures should be undertaken in consideration of the termination of a tenured faculty member, one or more appropriate administrators shall meet privately with the faculty member for purposes of attempting to reach a mutually acceptable resolution of the problems giving rise to the proposed termination proceedings.
5. If no mutually acceptable resolution is reached through step 4 the following steps shall be taken.
  1. The faculty member shall be provided with a written statement of the specific charges alleged by the university which constitute grounds for termination and a notice of hearing specifying the time, date, and place of the hearing. The statement and notice must be provided at least twenty (20) days prior to the hearing. The faculty member shall respond to the charges in writing at least five (5) days prior to the hearing. The faculty member may waive the hearing by execution of a written waiver.
  2. A committee consisting of tenured faculty or tenured faculty and administrators shall be appointed to hear the case and to determine if adequate cause for termination exists according to the procedure herein described. The committee shall be appointed by the president and the officially recognized faculty senate, assembly or advisory committee, with each appointing the number of members designated by the policy of the university. The committee may not include any member of the faculty committee referred to in 4 above. Members deeming themselves disqualified for bias or interest shall remove themselves from the case, either at the request of a party or on their own initiative. Members of the committee shall not discuss the case outside committee deliberations and shall report any ex-parte communication pertaining to the hearing to the president who shall notify all parties of the communication.

6. The hearing committee shall elect a chairperson who shall direct the proceedings and rule on procedural matters, including the granting of reasonable extensions of time at the request of any party and upon the showing of good cause for the extension.
7. The chairperson of the hearing committee may in his/her discretion require a joint pre-hearing conference with the parties which may be held in person or by a conference telephone call. The purpose of the pre-hearing conference should include but is not limited to one or more of the following:
  1. As notification as to procedure for conduct of the hearing.
  2. To exchange of witness lists, documentary evidence, and affidavits.
  3. To define and clarify issues.
  4. To effect stipulations of fact. A written memorandum of the pre-hearing conference should be prepared and provided to each party.
8. A hearing shall be conducted by the hearing committee to determine whether adequate cause for termination of the faculty member exists. The hearing shall be conducted according to the procedures below.
  1. During the hearing, the faculty member will be permitted to have an academic advisor present and may be represented by legal counsel of his/her choice.

2. A verbatim record of the hearing will be taken and a typewritten copy will be made available to the faculty member, upon request, at the faculty member's expense.
3. The burden of proof that adequate cause exists rests with the university and shall be satisfied only by clear and convincing evidence in the record considered as a whole.
4. The faculty member will be afforded an opportunity to obtain necessary witnesses and documentary or other evidence. The administration will cooperate with the committee in using its best efforts to secure witnesses and make available documentary and other evidence that is under its control.
5. The faculty member and the administration will have the right to confront and cross-examine all witnesses. Where the witnesses cannot or will not appear, but the committee determines that the interests of justice require admission of their statements, the committee will identify the witnesses, disclose their statements, and, if possible, provide for interrogatories. An affidavit may be submitted in lieu of the personal appearance of a witness if the party offering the affidavit has provided a copy to the opposing party at least ten (10) days prior to the hearing and the opposing party has not objected to the admission of the affidavit in writing within seven (7) days after delivery of the affidavit or if the committee chairperson determines that the admission of the affidavit is necessary to ensure a just and fair decision.
6. In a hearing on charges of incompetence, the testimony shall include that of qualified faculty members from the university or other universities of higher education.

7. The hearing committee will not be bound by strict rules of legal evidence and may admit any evidence which is of probative value in determining the issues involved. Every possible effort will be made to obtain the most reliable evidence available.
8. The findings of fact and the report will be based solely on the hearing record.
9. The president and the faculty member will be provided a copy of the written committee report. The committee's written report shall specify findings of fact and shall state whether the committee has determined that adequate cause for termination exists and, if so, the specific grounds for termination found. In addition, the committee may recommend action less than dismissal. The report shall also specify any applicable policy the committee considered.
9. After consideration of the committee's report and the record, the president may in his/her discretion consult with the faculty member prior to reaching a final decision regarding termination. Following his/her review, the president shall notify the faculty member of his/her decision, which, if contrary to the committee's recommendation shall be accompanied by a statement of the reasons. If the faculty member is terminated or suspended as a result of the president's decision, the faculty member may appeal the president's action to the Chancellor pursuant to TSU BOARD OF TRUSTEES Policy 1:02:11:00. Review of the appeal shall be based upon the record of hearing. If upon review of the record, the Chancellor notes objections regarding the termination and/or its proceedings, the matter will be returned to the president for reconsideration, taking into account the stated objections, and, at the discretion of the president, the case may be returned to the hearing committee for further proceedings.

TBR Board Meeting April 2, 2004; Board Meeting June 20, 2014.

This policy is a result of a comprehensive revision of former TBR Policy 5:02:03:00, Academic Freedom, Responsibility and Tenure. The former policy included provisions related to academic freedom and responsibility and tenure in both universities and community colleges. The revision, approved by the TSU Board of Trustees on April 2, 2004, created a separate policy on academic freedom and responsibility pertinent to both universities and community colleges, established separate policies relative to tenure for universities and community colleges, and instituted separate policies on faculty appointments for universities and community colleges. Faculty members appointed prior to July 1, 2004, may elect to be considered for tenure under the provisions of Policy 5:02:03:00 or under the revised policy for a four-year phase-in period. The revised policy will be applicable to all tenure action taken on or subsequent to July 1, 2008, for faculty whose employment began on or after July 1, 2004.

Note: This policy became effective on July 1, 1976, as to all faculty then or thereafter employed in the TSU Board of Trustees' System. The minimum qualifications and requirements for eligibility for an award of tenure applied to all faculty who had not previously been expressly awarded tenure by the Board, and the previous probationary period for such faculty was extended to a maximum of seven years. Faculty who had previously been awarded tenure retained their tenured status under this policy, subject to its terms and conditions. The definition of tenure (see p. 2 of 20) shall become effective January 1, 1984. That definition shall only apply to faculty tenured subsequent to the effective date. For faculty members tenured previous to January 1, 1984, the applicable definition of tenure shall be: "a status pursuant to which the academic year appointments of full-time faculty who have been awarded tenure are continued at a university until the expiration or relinquishment of that status, subject to termination for adequate cause for financial exigency or curricular reasons (see policy adopted June 25, 1976)."

Faculty Appointments at Universities:

5:02:07:10

Policy Area

Personnel Policies

Applicable Divisions

Universities

Purpose

---

The purpose of this policy is to establish the criteria and process regarding faculty appointments at universities governed by the Tennessee Board of Regents.

Policy

I. Introduction

- A. The following constitutes the types of faculty appointments that can be made in Tennessee Board of Regents' universities including temporary, tenure-track, tenure, clinical-track, research, and coordinator appointments.

II. Types of Appointments

- A. Temporary Appointments are appointments for a specific purpose for a time appropriate to that purpose or for an unspecified period, which appointments may be terminated according to the terms of the contract of employment or appointment.
  - 1. Temporary appointments ordinarily should be used only for lecturers, adjunct or part-time faculty, faculty employed to replace regular faculty on leave of absence, and faculty employed pursuant to grants or for projects funded in whole or in part by non-appropriated funds.
  - 2. In addition, temporary appointments may be used for faculty employed on the basis of state appropriated funds in departments, divisions, or other academic units where the permanent and continued need for the position has not been established, provided that such appointments normally should not be in excess of three academic years.

3. After that, the position can be re-advertised, and the instructor can apply again and be hired if he/she is the best candidate.
  4. Appointments of faculty members supported by more than fifty percent (50%) grant fund, or other soft money sources, may be approved by the university presidents for periods in excess of three years.
  5. Temporary instructional faculty at instructor, senior instructor, or master instructor rank may be appointed to a three-year contract. Such a contract may be renewed after any satisfactory performance review.
  6. Other extensions of temporary appointments for periods in excess of three (3) years require the approval of the Chancellor.
- B. Tenure-track Appointments are appointments for regular full-time faculty with academic rank, and may be for the academic or fiscal year.
1. Tenure-track appointments are for faculty who are employed in a probationary period of employment prior to consideration for tenure.
  2. Tenure-track appointments shall not include any right to permanent or continuous employment, shall not create any manner of legal right, interest, or expectancy of renewal or any other type of appointment, and shall be subject to annual renewal by the institution.
- C. Tenure Appointments are appointments of full-time faculty who have been awarded tenure by the Board pursuant to the provisions of this policy.
1. To protect academic freedom, tenure appointments include the assurance of continued employment for the academic year for an indefinite period, subject to expiration, relinquishment, or termination of tenure as hereinafter provided.
  2. Such appointments do not include assurance of continued employment at any specified salary, position, or employment during summer sessions or inter-sessions.

- D. Clinical-track Appointments are full-time faculty appointments; are non-tenurable appointments for a fixed term; are renewable; permit promotion in rank; and permit conversion of the appointment to tenure-track at any time prior to but not later than the expiration of the first three-year term, depending on funding availability and faculty performance.
1. In instances where the appointment is converted to tenure-track, the three (3) years served in the Clinical-track appointment, at the discretion of the president, may be credited toward the individual's probationary status.
  2. Faculty in this classification participate in the academic programs by providing professional services, by exposing students to their professional expertise, and by directing students' educational experiences in clinical/professional settings where the faculty members practice.
  3. Clinical-track appointments may be supported, in whole or in part, by appropriated funds or funding from grants or contracts, from clinical practice or clinical/professional facilities, or from other sources.
- E. Research-track Appointments are full-time faculty appointments; are non-tenurable for fixed terms; are renewable; permit promotion in rank; and permit conversion of the appointment to tenure track at any time prior to but no later than the expiration of the first three-year term, depending on funding availability and faculty performance.
1. In instances where the appointment is converted to tenure-track, the three (3) years served in the Research-track appointment, at the discretion of the president, may be credited toward the individual's probationary status.
  2. Faculty in this classification participate in the academic programs by conducting independent research projects and by mentoring students involved in the research process.
  3. Research-track appointments may be supported, in whole or in part, by appropriated funds or funding form grants or contracts, or other sources.

- F. Coordinator Appointments are non-tenurable, renewable appointments for fixed terms.
1. Coordinators teach and provide administrative services within the academic departments.
  2. They devote a preponderance of their time to faculty responsibilities including, but not limited to, teaching, advising, and student mentoring.
  3. Coordinators may also have responsibility for administering special academic projects, systems support, and other administrative services.

Procedure for AEAO tenure transfer or termination due to deletion of a program from the university's curriculum

Responsibility: Office of Academic Affairs

Authority: Policy #5:02:03:60, Policy on Academic Tenure for the Tennessee Board of Regents Universities

Complete College Tennessee Act of 2010, Tennessee Code Annotated, Section 49-7-147.

As required by the Complete College Tennessee Act (CCTA) of 2010, remedial and developmental education must be provided by community colleges and not universities as of July 1, 2012. As part of the redesign of Developmental Studies required by the Complete College Act Of 2010, the Department of Academic Enrichment, Advisement and Orientation (AEAO) will be disbanded effective June 30, 2011. While some of its responsibilities will be relocated in a student support center, AEAO will no longer be an academic department. Faculty members who are tenured in AEAO may seek tenure in another department closely aligned with their academic credentials and expertise. It is anticipated that the AEAO faculty will seek tenure in one of the following departments: Physics and Mathematics, Teaching and Learning, or Language, Literature, and Philosophy.

Procedures for Transfer or Termination of Tenure because a program is deleted from the curriculum<sup>1</sup>

1. Before declaring that curricular reasons for termination of tenure exist, the president will ensure meaningful participation by the university's representative faculty body in identifying the specific curricular reasons, evaluating the long-term effect on the university's curriculum and its strategic planning goals, and the advisability of initiating further action.
  - a. Each university will have a policy that describes procedures whereby a description of curricular reasons that may warrant the termination of tenured faculty will be made to a representative faculty body.
  - b. Each reason for termination of tenure for curricular reasons must denote shifts in staffing needs that warrant greater reductions than those which are accommodated annually in light of shifting positions from one department to another or among colleges to handle changing enrollment patterns.
2. The president will present – verbally or in writing – a description of curricular reasons that may warrant the termination of tenured faculty member(s) to a representative faculty body.

<sup>1</sup> "Program is deleted from the curriculum" means that the Board takes formal action to terminate a degree major, concentration, or other curricular component and that such termination eliminates or reduces need for faculty qualified in that discipline or area of specialization. The CCTA qualifies as such a circumstance.

3. That body will have the opportunity to respond in writing to the president before action is initiated.

Tenure Transfer Application Procedure

4. Each tenured AEAO faculty member will notify the VPAA by March 15, 2011 of his/her interest in transferring tenure to another department, and identify the department.
  5. The VPAA will notify the department of intent to transfer by March 16, 2011.
  6. Faculty member will prepare a file for review by April 1, 2011, that includes the following:
    - a. Letter of Interest
    - b. Current CV including publications and classes taught from last 5 years
    - c. Annual reviews for the last 3 years
    - d. Student evaluation of instruction (SEI) data
    - e. Copy of recent course syllabus
  7. The materials will be collected by Dr. Johnanna Grimes and submitted to the VPAA by April 1, 2011.
  8. The VPAA will notify the department head and dean of the faculty member's request to transfer, and forward the packet by April 1, 2011.
  9. The department will form a committee to review credentials of AEAO faculty interested in transferring tenure to that department, as follows:
    - a. Committee will be formed by April 1, 2011
    - b. Review commences no later than: April 15, 2011
- Transfer applicants' credentials will be reviewed based on SACS requirements
Departmental tenure requirements
- Department faculty will review materials and make one of the following recommendations by April 15, 2011:
- a. Recommend appointment at current rank in new department
  - b. Do not recommend appointment in new department
10. Department heads will make recommendations to the Dean by April 20, 2011
  11. Dean will make recommendations to the VPAA by April 30, 2011
  12. The VPAA will make recommendations to President by May 5, 2011

If a faculty member is not approved for a tenured position in a new department, the president will notify the faculty member in writing by May 11, 2011 of TSU's intent to terminate the faculty member's tenure based on curricular reasons. The faculty member will have the option of remaining in CARS as staff, adjunct faculty, and/or a lab instructor, OR being provided a one-year, transitional position in teaching or support for newly-designed college-level math, English or reading courses. Any faculty member who is not approved for a new tenured position may also appeal the tenure termination decision consistent with the TBR Policy 5:02:03:60.

13. Following receipt of the recommendations of the VPAA, the president shall furnish each faculty member to be terminated a written statement of the reasons for the termination.
14. The president's written statement shall also indicate that the faculty member has the opportunity to respond in writing stating any objections to the decision.
15. If the faculty member(s) to be terminated indicate(s) objections to the president's written statement(s) and request(s) a review, the president will appoint a faculty committee consisting of a minimum of five tenured faculty members from a slate of ten tenured faculty members proposed by the representative faculty body.
16. The committee shall conduct a hearing on the proposed termination(s).
17. The committee shall report its findings and recommendations to the president, who shall in a reasonable time inform the faculty member(s) proposed for termination in writing either that the decision for termination stands or that it has been altered.
18. The president's decision to terminate a tenured faculty member for curricular reasons is subject to appeal to the Chancellor and the Board as provided in the policy on appeals to the Board (TBR Policy 1:02:11:00).

Adopted: March 9, 2011.

2. TBR Policy #1:02:11:00 , Appeals and Appearances Before the Board.

I. Statement of Policy: Termination of Tenure for Curricular Reasons

A. Bases for Termination

1. The employment of a tenured faculty member may be terminated because (1) an academic program is deleted from the curriculum, or (2) because of substantial and continued reduction of student enrollment in a field or discipline. Before declaring that curricular reasons exist, the resident will ensure meaningful participation by the University's representative faculty body<sup>1</sup> in identifying the specific curricular reasons, evaluating the long-term effect on the University's curriculum and its strategic planning goals, and the advisability of initiating further action. Prior to initiating the process described below, the President will present-either verbally or in writing - a description of curricular reasons that may warrant the termination of tenured faculty member(s).
2. The university policy describing procedures whereby this presentation is made to a representative faculty body is provided below in item B. That body will have the opportunity to respond in writing to the President before action described below is initiated. Each of these reasons for termination of tenure for curricular reasons must denote shifts in staffing needs that warrant greater reductions than those which are accommodated annually in light of shifting positions from one department to another or among colleges to handle changing enrollment patterns.
  - a. Part-time faculty within a department or division should not be hired or renewed before a tenured faculty member is terminated.
  - b. Temporary faculty should not be renewed before tenured faculty are terminated.
  - c. Tenure-track faculty in the probationary period should not be renewed before a tenured faculty member is terminated.

- d. Among tenured faculty those with higher rank should have priority over those with lower rank.
- e. Among tenured faculty with comparable rank, those with appropriate higher academic degree(s) should have priority over those with lower academic degree.
- f. Among tenured faculty with comparable rank and degrees, those with greater seniority in rank should normally have priority over those with less seniority.

II. Termination procedures

B. Procedures for Termination of Tenure

1. Upon determining that termination of one or more tenured faculty members is required for one or more of the two reasons cited above, the President shall furnish each faculty member to be terminated a written statement of the reasons for the termination. Those reasons shall address fully the curricular circumstances that warranted the termination and shall indicate the manner and the information upon which the decision of which faculty members were to be terminated was reached. The President's written statement shall also indicate that the faculty member has the opportunity to respond in writing stating any objections to the decision.
2. If the faculty member(s) to be terminated indicate(s) objections to the President's written statement(s) and request(s) a review, the President will appoint a faculty committee consisting of a minimum of five tenured faculty members from a slate of ten tenured faculty members proposed by the representative faculty body (TSU Faculty Senate). The committee shall conduct a hearing on the proposed termination(s). The committee shall report its findings and recommendations to the President, who shall in a reasonable time, inform the faculty member(s) proposed for termination in writing either that the decision for termination stands or that it has been altered.
3. The President's decision to terminate a tenured faculty member for curricular reasons is subject to appeal to the Chancellor and the Board as provided in the policy on appeals to the Board (TBR Policy 1:02:11:00 [Appeals and Appearances Before the Board]).
4. When a tenured faculty member is terminated for curricular reasons, the position will not be filled by a new appointee with the same areas of specialization as the terminated faculty member within a period of three years unless the terminated faculty member has been offered, in writing, reappointment to the position at his/her previous rank and salary (with the addition of an appropriate increase which, in the opinion of the President, would constitute the raise(s) that would have been awarded during the period that he/she was not employed).

5. Upon determining that termination of one or more tenured faculty members is warranted for curricular reasons, the President shall base his/her decision about which faculty member(s) should be terminated upon his/her assessment as to what action would least seriously compromise the educational programs in a department or division.

Termination for curricular reasons presumes a staffing pattern in a department or academic program unit which cannot be warranted either by comparison with general load practices within the University or by comparison with faculty loads in comparable departments or academic program units at similar universities. In that light, the President shall also, at his/her discretion, base his/her decision on a careful assessment of the impact of the curricular reason on staffing requirements in the department or academic program unit as compared to overall patterns in the University and to comparable departments or academic program units which, in his/her judgment, are in universities similar enough to warrant assessment.

III. Definitions

A. Deletion for curricular reasons

1. "Program is deleted from the curriculum" means that the Board takes formal action to terminate a degree major, concentration, or other curricular component and that such termination eliminates or reduces need for faculty qualified in that discipline or area of specialization.

2. "Substantive and continued reduction of student enrollment in a field" means that, over a period of at least three (3) years, student enrollment in a field has decreased at a rate in considerable excess of that of the University as a whole and that such reduction has resulted in faculty-student ratios that, in the opinion of the President, cannot be warranted either by comparison with equivalent faculty load practices within the University or by comparisons with faculty loads in comparable departments or academic program units at similar universities which the President would deem to be appropriate for comparison.

B. Relocation Efforts

When a tenured faculty member is to be terminated for curricular reasons, the President will make every possible effort to relocate the tenured faculty member in another existing vacant position for which he/she is qualified. In instances where (in the opinion of the President) relocation within the University is a viable alternative, the University has an obligation to make significant effort to relocate the faculty member, including the bearing of reasonable retraining costs. The final decision on relocation is within the discretion of the President.

PREFACE

The Division of Academic Affairs Operating manual is a document containing information on Academic Affairs' structure and procedural steps for implementing various operating functions. The manual is intended to serve as a guide and reference for those who have responsibilities in the Division of Academic Affairs. This is a living document (linked from the Division of Academic Affairs homepage) to facilitate updating as functions are added and procedures change. It is not all inclusive and where inconsistency exists, Tennessee State Laws, and Tennessee State University (TSU) policy and procedures take precedence. A deliberate effort has been made to duplicate information (where contained in other manuals from various support units of the University, or other entities), and live links to materials, forms, and relevant resources or online documents have been inserted throughout the document to make information centralized and readily available.

This document may contain several sets of information formerly issued as separate documents, such as the Handbook for Adjunct Faculty, The Advisement Guide, Summer School Conditions, the Graduate and Undergraduate Catalogs, the Student Handbook, and Guideline for Annual Reports. Extensively used documents are also available on the TSU homepage.

The manual contains one hundred sixty-one (161) procedures and processes categorized into the following eight sections:

|----------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Section I:    | Academic Affairs-Related Processes (59),                                                 |
| Section II:   | University-Related Processes (46),                                                       |
| Section III:  | Budget-Related Processes (11),                                                           |
| Section IV:   | University Computer Systems (2),                                                         |
| Section V:    | Research, Grants, and Contracts (14),                                                    |
| Section VI:   | Personnel-Related Processes (21),                                                        |
| Section VII:  | Travel-Related Processes (2), and                                                        |
| Section VIII: | Other (6), which includes a directory of the Academic Affairs administrative assistants. |

Each procedure includes a brief definition, description and/or instructions of what is involved, including any necessary contact information or link to relevant resource, followed by the STEPS one should follow for accomplishing the task at hand. If a form is required, a copy of the actual form, and a link to the online form is provided in the manual in the STEPS' section. There is a comprehensive, dynamic Index (beginning on page 510) and a dynamic Table of Contents on pages 3 through 10.

This document is not in its final form due to constantly changing situations and conditions. The procedures and practices contained within this manual are subject to change at any time. It is, therefore, important to keep your copy current and updated, and frequently check the Division of Academic Affairs homepage.

PROJECT OVERVIEW AND TIMELINE—MEASURING THE RESULTS OF TYPE TRAINING OF ACADEMIC AFFAIRS SUPPORT STAFF: REVISING THE ACADEMIC AFFAIRS OPERATING MANUAL RESEARCH STUDY

PROJECT OVERVIEW:

This overview provides the scientific method for development, compilation and organization of this Academic Affairs Operating manual. The Myers-Briggs Type Indicator® was administered to sixty-seven (67) key support staff in the Division of Academic Affairs. The overall goal of this project was to align the existing Academic Affairs Operations Manual with The Academic Master Plan 2008-2015, and TSUs 2010-2015 Strategic Plan and make the information easily accessible and available online to faculty and staff. In developing this project, it was desired to add value to the TSU community in the development and preparation of young adults, thereby increasing graduation rates indirectly by the training and development of the Academic Affairs support staff through a human resource perspective. The desire to apply a human resources leadership approach was chosen as a means to engage the support staff in the revision process, thus giving them a sense of ownership in this resulting manual.

By using the Academic Master Plan (AMP) as a guiding framework, it was decided to pilot test the concept of using a personality type approach (i.e., the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator®) with Academic Affairs support staff at TSU, as a means of encouraging engagement and cooperation in four consecutive staff development workshop/training sessions designed specifically to review and update the 2011-2012 Academic Affairs Operations Procedures Handbook. The Kirkpatrick Model for Evaluating Effectiveness of Training Programs (1998) was used as a framework for evaluating staff development programs on four increasingly complex levels using a variety of data collection instruments.

The purpose of this project was multi-faceted: (a) harness best practices, streamline and update the current 2011-2012 Academic Affairs Operating Procedures Handbook; (b) engage the support staff in training and professional development that would increase customer service and enhance learning and, (c) develop a Professional Development Training Unit based on the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator® (MBTI®) that could later be tailored for other divisions within the organization. It was decided to adopt a human resources approach (Bolman and Deal, 2011). This report contains the results of this pilot test.

Major findings of this project: (a) by engaging the staff in the operations manual revisions process, there was increased learning and increased understanding of others' preferences; (b) MBTI® is an excellent teambuilding tool for increasing problem-solving and communication skills; (c) The MBTI® helps team members to build community; (d) Action research builds basic leadership skills in a safe environment; (e) The MBTI® training reduces conflict and enables change in organizations; (f) staff members are more likely to set realistic goals and more likely to meet these goals; (g) type training is excellent for supporting diversity training and helps individuals gain insight into others; and; (h) better relationships lead to increased morale and job satisfaction.

It was concluded that MBTI® adds validity to teambuilding, diversity, communication, and problem-solving programs workshop/training by providing a valuable tool and logical structure for getting acquainted and working together in the workplace. The following benefits of the MBTI® to the university and its staff and students may include: (a) increased value in diversity, (b) reduced conflict; (c) better relationships with co-workers; (d) increased customer service; and (e) organized structure for individual and group reflective action planning.

SECTION I: ACADEMIC AFFAIRS PROCESSES

Procedure I-01.0: Academic Program Changes (Addition, Deletions, and Other Changes)

TBR Policy 2:01:01:00 requires notification to the TBR Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs for name/title changes for an academic program (degree, minor, concentration, or certificate) or unit (department, college, school, center, etc.). The Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs must approve name changes prior to implementation. TBR will notify THEC, so that appropriate documentation can be included in the Academic Program Inventory. Policy 2:01:01:00

Subject: Approval of Academic Programs, Units, and Modifications

STEPS:

- 1) A. The Tennessee Higher Education Commission (THEC) must review and approve new academic programs, off-campus extensions of existing academic programs, new academic units (divisions, colleges, and schools), and new instructional locations as specified in THEC Policy No. A1:0: New Academic Programs - Approval Process, Attachment B (A1.0), and A1:1: New Academic Programs. These THEC policies should serve as a resource for the development of all academic proposals.

Prior to developing a proposal, Letters of Intent are required from all TBR institutions for new degrees--free-standing or embedded within a degree program. An embedded certificate must fully articulate with a degree. There should be no new or no more than minimal costs required to implement an embedded certificate.

- 1) Establishment of concentrations within an existing academic program.
- 2) Establishment of new academic units such as colleges, schools, departments, institutes, centers within existing academic units, bureaus, etc. (See TBR Guideline A-040, and THEC Policy A1:3, New Units and A1:4, Off-Campus Instruction.)
- 3) Revision of any admission, retention, or graduation policy (both institutional and program specific).
- 4) Substantive revision of the curriculum of an existing academic program. (Substantive refers to changes impacting 18 or more semester credit hours at the undergraduate level, 9 or more credit hours at the graduate level, and 50% or more of the credit hours in a certificate program, from the last submission to the Board, and includes course rubrics, titles, descriptions, or content).
- 5) Consolidation of existing academic programs.
- 6) Extension of an existing academic degree program in totality to an off-campus site.
- 7) Inactivation or termination of academic programs listed in the academic inventory. Inactivation should be used only when there are plans to reactivate the program within three years. If not reactivated during that period, the program will automatically terminate.
- 8) Curriculum modifications that increase required hours for a degree to more than 60 for the associate degree and 120 for the baccalaureate degree, or more than the previously approved exceptions. Also, modifications that increase or decrease credit hours from what was previously approved for a certificate or increases or decreases an existing graduate program in excess of six credit hours must be submitted for Board approval.
- 9) Current approved on-ground programs that will be converted to a fully online delivery format.

B. Academic Proposals Requiring Only Notification to Vice Chancellor

Changes to existing academic programs not listed above, that require no new costs or minimal costs that the campus will fund through reallocation of existing resources or through sources such as grants and gifts, may be approved through an established process by the institution. The Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs must be informed of such changes prior to implementation and may refer the proposal for Board approval if deemed appropriate due to costs or other potential concerns. Such action includes, but is not limited to, establishment of new minors and changes such as the modification of the title of an academic program or unit. Minors are typically developed by packaging existing courses and do not usually require new resources or additional costs. Non-substantive curriculum revisions may be approved through the established institutional process and do not require notification or Board approval.

C. Additional Actions Requiring Review by THEC

The THEC review and approval of off-campus extensions of existing academic programs is handled through the request for a code, i.e., site or center, and requires that submission of the appropriate form(s) available on the TBR and THEC websites.

II. Procedures

Institutions wishing to effect academic changes that fall into any of the above categories will, therefore, comply with the following procedures as well as those contained in TBR Guideline A-010 and found on the TBR Academic Affairs website.

A. Approval Route of Proposals

Proposals for academic actions that require approval by the Board of Regents shall be submitted to the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs for review and approval by the Board.

Subsequent to Board action, the Chancellor shall transmit to the Tennessee Higher Education Commission those proposals that require its approval along with the Board's recommendation.

B. Schedule for the Submission and Approval of Academic Proposals

The Board will consider academic degree proposals at each of its quarterly meetings. Proposals must, however, be submitted sufficiently in advance to permit adequate review by the staff. The time required for this review will vary according to the nature of the proposal, the number of proposals already under review, or other workload issues of TBR staff.

C. Review by and Selection of Consultants

TBR staff may engage qualified consultants to assist in the review of all proposals for new degree programs as deemed appropriate by the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs for both graduate and undergraduate. Consultants will file a written report on the quality of the proposed program and respond to any other relevant questions or issues addressed to them by TBR. Academic proposals must also comply with THEC policy A1:0 and A1:1. A site visit is typically required for new graduate degree programs.

While it is the responsibility of the institution to provide and support such consultants, the selection will be made by the TBR staff and the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs, in consultation with the institution. All costs associated with an external review are borne by the institution submitting the proposal.

III. General Criteria for Reviewing Academic Letters of Intent and Proposals

A summary of the major criteria used by the TBR staff in evaluating academic proposals is presented below. Specific requirements for Letters of Intent are provided in TBR Guideline A-010: Academic Program Letters of Intent and Proposals.

- 1) The proposed action is central to the mission, role, and scope of the institution.
- 2) The need for the proposed program is supported by data documenting student interest, employer demand, societal needs, and administrative effectiveness.
- 3) The proposed action does not constitute unnecessary duplication of academic programs, research projects, or public services available at other public institutions. Partnerships or collaborations should be considered whenever needs might be met with greater efficiency.
- 4) The proposal should establish quality admission, retention, and graduation standards.
- 5) The curriculum of the proposed program meets the stated objectives of the program and reflects breadth, depth, theory, and practice at the appropriate level to the discipline and the degree. Undergraduate curriculum should ensure General Education core requirement commonality and transfer (where appropriate) of 19-hour pre-major paths. The curriculum should be compatible with accreditation, where applicable, and meet the criteria for articulation and transfer.

Procedure I-04.0: Decentralization of Summer School Budget

The summer school budget is decentralized at the college level. Deans working with department chairs in their respective college will allocate funds to departments based at minimum on descriptive factors indicated below or a process established for the respective college. The budget will be based on the July Budget Summary (adjusted for any applicable reductions or increases, via administrative decision of Vice President) reduced by a predefined contingency amount.

Department chairs should be assigned six (6) hours of teaching (lecture courses, exception to teach less than 6 hours must be approved by the Associate Vice President/Director of Summer School) during the summer which may be all or a combination of teaching during MayMester, Summer I, Summer II, and full-term. To maximize the allocation, department chairs should be assigned to teach MayMester and other summer term courses prior to assigning courses to other faculty or adjuncts. A department chair can buy release time with non-state appropriated funds to teach less than 6 hours (lecture courses). The savings from the aforementioned buy-out will be added to the respective college's decentralized summer school budget to hire a replacement of either permanent or adjunct faculty. A department chair may earn extra compensation during the year, including the summer. However, the extra compensation cannot exceed 25% of the annual year's salary. A non-department chair faculty cannot be paid more than 25% of the previous academic year's base salary for teaching assignments charged to the decentralized or other state budgets. However, a non-department chair faculty may earn up to 33 1/3% of the previous academic year's base salary during the summer if teaching and conducting externally funded research or externally funded research only. Nonteaching work assignments (excluding clinical assignment) cannot be charged to the summer school decentralized budget without the approval of the Vice President for Academic Affairs

A separate FOAP is established for each college with position numbers for faculty, adjuncts, retirements, and extra service pay for staff teaching during summer terms, via budget revision. Funds allocated for summer school will be used to support summer school expenditures crossing two fiscal years (Summer II and ½ of full summer and Summer I and ½ of full summer of next fiscal year). Each college will be allocated funds for hiring adjuncts and temporary faculty (one semester or two semesters) annually with the goal of achieving THEC funding metrics (students accumulating 30, 60 or 90 hours; bachelor's and associate degrees; master's / educational specialist degrees; doctoral degrees) and four-year graduation rate. Temporary fulltime faculty during the academic year will be compensated at their respective adjunct rate during the summer.

Processing Summer School Faculty Appointments and Contracts

STEPS:

1. Check decentralized budget to insure funds are available.
2. Complete Summer School Contract (Dual Service, Adjunct, Extra Service Pay Form as applicable).
3. Use the following FOAP based on the type of summer school employee being hired.
4. Record transaction on College decentralize log.
5. Enter transaction in People Admin with attached supplemental document from step 2.
6. Forward to the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs for review and action.

Procedure I-05.0: Dual Service Agreements

A dual service is an agreement (including services rendered and compensation) between a Tennessee State University and another state government agency contracting the service of another state agency's employee or another state agency contracting the services of a TSU employee. Dual Service Agreements where TSU is contracting the services of another state employee are to be processed via Tiger$hoppe.

STEPS:

1. A dual service agreement must be signed by the President (or designee) of both institutions. The contract must be created by the TSU department where the non-TSU faculty will be assigned to teach and forwarded to the appropriate offices for signatures with a Contract Routing and Approval Form.
2. Once the contract is returned to the department by the Legal Office, it is to be sent to the other institution.
3. A budget revision is to be made for the amount of the contract transferring funds from the college's decentralized adjunct position number and benefits down to operating (74000) to cover the amount of the salary and benefits. (See attached example of budget revision.)
4. The information must be entered into Tiger$hoppe with a copy of the contract attached as support documentation.
5. The college's decentralized adjunct/part-time faculty FOAP (110001-Org.-74440-200) is to be indicated in the Account No. section of the Contract Routing and Approval Form and entered into Tiger$hoppe to generate a Purchase Requisition.
6. Once the contract is signed by the President by TSU Legal Office, the signed contract will be switched in Tiger$hoppe which will generate a Purchase Order to the vendor following the standard Purchasing and Procurement procedure.
7. The other state agency will invoice TSU Accounts Payable Department for reimbursement.
8. A dual service agreement where a TSU employee provides services to another state agency will be processed as follows:
  - a) A routing form is to be attached to the dual service contract following standard procedures.
  - b) The restricted FOAP (231001-12501-74440-200) is to be entered in the Account No. section of the Contract Routing and Approval Form.
  - c) The original contract is to be mailed to the other party (college/institution) by the originating department.

- d) A copy of the document will be emailed to Grants Accounting by the Legal Office for billing the other institution. The contract language should instruct those agencies to mail payment directly to the TSU Business Office and not the department. The original document is to be filed and maintained in the dean's and department's office for permanent recordkeeping and audit purposes.
- e) An extra service pay form must be completed by the department and attached as a supplement document in PeopleAdmin before the faculty member will be paid. The period of releasing the funds should be indicated on the extra service pay form. Remember, if the extra service pay form is not completed by the department and received in Human Resources prior to the payroll deadline date, the extra service payment will be delayed. The amount during the academic year can not exceed 20% of the academic year's salary for the total of all extra service work agreements. If the TSU faculty is on a nine month contract, work performed during the summer terms must be included on the Notice of Summer Appointment Form. The amount to be paid can not exceed 33.33% of the previous year's academic salary (inclusive of all sources of payments).

Procedure I-06.0: Emergency Employment Approval

The purpose of the Emergency Employment Approval process is to provide a procedure by which units may gain immediate approval from the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs/Academic Affairs Office to employ individuals to meet unanticipated instructional needs. The regular appointment/contract process must be followed immediately, if not already underway. Primarily, this procedure is to be used to gain approval for faculty (including clinical and graduate teaching assistants) to begin work. Academic Affairs will sign and return a scanned or faxed copy of the form within 24 hours to the requesting unit and Human Resources. No person is to be allowed to begin work without an emergency employment form signed by the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs. A copy of the candidate's I-9 form should not be attached to the Emergency Hire Form. Human Resources will obtain the I-9 form and contact the candidate if additional information is required prior to the employee being allowed to begin work.

STEPS:

1. Open the Emergency Employment Approval Form, be able to certify that:

- The applicant's educational credentials/qualifications have been presented to the unit and authenticity has been verified;
- The applicant's eligibility to be employed by TSU has been verified. This may involve consulting Human Resources; and,
- The applicant has not begun any work as of date signed (requested beginning date cannot be earlier than date signed by the Vice President).

The named individual will not be allowed to begin work on date requested unless a signed copy of the form has been signed by the VPAA or designee and the signed copy filed in the individual's personnel file in the Departmental office.

2. This form is used when:

- Hiring document is being prepared by the requesting unit.
- Appointment form has been submitted, via PEOPLEADMIN, but approval has not been received by the unit. (Attach a copy of PEOPLEADMIN appointment form already submitted.)

- To gain approval for any individual to work whose qualifications and eligibility have not been verified;
- To "correct" a violation where an individual has been allowed to begin work without authorization, or to "extend" an expired employment agreement;
- In any instance where employment can be delayed until the normal processing, via PEOPLEADMIN, can be completed; or,
- To change any condition of the employment/workload of a faculty member presently employed (extra service, overload, account percentage, etc.). Standard forms should be prepared and presented for emergency approval.

Procedure I-07.0: Emergency Plan/ Procedures/Strategies

In the event of inclement weather, TSU will disseminate the closing plans. The purpose of this section procedure is to outline the plan, decision making, and procedure related to opening late, dismissing early, or closing the University completely due to inclement weather.

In the event of inclement weather or an emergency, TSU follows a set procedure for announcing operational changes by making one of three announcements:

1. Tennessee State University is open and operating on a regular schedule;
2. Tennessee State University will close early or will delay opening until a specific time; or
3. Tennessee State University is closed; only designated employees report.

If TSU classes are canceled, the announcement will apply to all classes, credit and non-credit. Offices at TSU will be considered open unless the announcement specifically says all offices will be closed. If such a decision is made overnight, it should be announced the following morning via the following area radio and television stations:

RADIO STATIONS

WQQK-FM 92.1
WKDF-FM 103.3
WGFX-FM 104.5
WNPL-FM 106.7
WLAC-AM 1510

TELEVISION

WKRN Ch. 2
WSMV Ch. 4
WTVF Ch. 5
WZTV Ch. 17

STEPS:

1. The emergency management team will provide professional and accurate information to the President to make the final decision. The final decision related to emergency closings will be made by the President or, a designee.
2. Information related to class and work schedules will be submitted to local television and radio stations and be distributed inside the University as follows:
TSU intranet (University Communications),
TSU homepage (www.tnstate.edu),
TSU telephone operators (963-5000),
Texting as well as social media applications will also be used to disseminate information.
3. Because of the limited number of incoming lines and the potential for congestion that could cause delays in service, TSU employees should obtain information regarding closings from the media, social media, the texting system, and/or online.

5. When inclement weather or emergency conditions are such that closings occur two or more days in succession, the procedure is followed each day, with an announcement being made each day. Even when the University is open, there could be unsafe travel conditions in your area. Please exercise caution and gather as much information as possible about weather and road conditions before you decide whether to travel during periods of inclement weather.
6. The Office of Emergency Management will begin gathering the latest available weather information from local media sources and will consult with other local institutions (such as Nashville State Community College, Fisk University, Meharry Medical College, Metro Nashville Public School System, etc.) to determine their plans. The Chief of Staff will contact the Inclement Weather Team members, and the Team will develop two recommendations based on all information available – one related to classes convening and the other related to staff reporting to work.
7. Early dismissal due to inclement weather will be decided on a case-by-case basis, and the Inclement Weather Team will evaluate conditions and make recommendations as far in advance as possible.

THE FOLLOWING ACTIONS WILL BE TAKEN AFTER THE PRESIDENT HAS MADE HIS/HER DECISIONS:

1. Dining Services University dining facilities will provide meal plan service even when the University closes for inclement weather. However, the department will delay opening on these days and may opt to close early if weather conditions are extreme. Meal plan participants will be notified by email of any changes in daily operations. Up to date information will also be provided through the Tiger Dining social media. All Food Services retail operations are closed on days when the University is officially closed.
2. Special Events. Departments and units hosting special events should make their own prior arrangements with employees and participants, notifying them how to proceed in case of inclement weather or an emergency. In unique circumstances, where the safety of the participants and employees are not jeopardized, special events, such as ticketed concerts or athletic events open to the public, may be held upon prior approval by the applicable Vice President. All departments and units must ensure adequate University and facility services by coordination with Events Management and other units expected to support such operations. In cases of extreme weather, the University may require and announce a shutdown of all activities, including special events, unless special approval is granted by the President.

3. Essential Employee Even when the University is open, there could be unsafe travel conditions in your area. Please exercise caution and gather as much information as possible about weather and road conditions before you decide whether to travel during periods of inclement weather.
- Alert Management Program: Facilities Management designates a list of Alert Managers that is distributed on a three-month schedule to the Director of TSUPD, President/Cabinet, and Dean of Students. This list consists of who should be contacted for after-hour/weekend emergencies. Per TSU Policy 7.7.1.6, examples of such emergencies include electrical failures, water-line breaks, heating/cooling problems, fires, life safety issues, elevator malfunctions, etc.

The Vice President of Academic Affairs is contacted in this process and action taken as necessary depending upon the emergency. Academic Affairs' personnel have been instructed to contact the TSU Police Department after-hours and weekends for emergencies as listed above. The alert management system will contact the Vice President of Academic Affairs.

- Text Messaging: Employees in all colleges/ schools /departments in Academic Affairs have been encouraged to sign up for this service that is provided by TSUPD.
- Panic Buttons: Silent alarms are in the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs in McWherter Building (as well as other divisions and buildings). Designated employees activate them at their work stations (and TSUPD responds) when there are security threats.
- Other emergency measures-In the event of emergencies, personnel in the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs could be dispatched to specific academic buildings for reporting and coordination.
- Campus Message Boards-CIT has digital message boards placed in high traffic areas to provide instant emergency alerts. Personnel in academic buildings receiving these units will be able to receive immediate information as listed by CIT.

The Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs follows the TSU Emergency Plan

Procedure I-08.0: Evaluation of Instruction

My Class Evaluation is an online platform launched in Spring 2012 by the Office of Institutional Planning and Assessment in the Division of Academic Affairs for evaluation of faculty instruction by students. The service provided through IOTA Solutions, involves faculty, student, and course information uploads and interfaces with TSU Banner Services; the use of nationally-normed online evaluation instrument customized to the needs of the University; the use of a detailed communication plan that includes social media each semester to engage all stakeholders; and, the generation, hosting and maintenance of standard and historical reports such as evaluations forms, course/student/instructor records and data, as well as technical support, and software maintenance and upgrades.

My Class Evaluation Single Sign-On (SSO) simplifies user access by providing a Federated Identity Management system whereby a single action of user authentication and authorization grants the user access to all applications where he or she has permissions, without the need to enter multiple username/password combinations.

Unique to My Class Evaluation is a measure known as the Net Promoter Score ("NPS"), which provides a standardized benchmark of student satisfaction from term to term that, over time, shows clear trends in either direction. Frequent monitoring allows the University to quickly make adjustments to improve student satisfaction and learning.

Because of the range of disciplines and approaches throughout the campus, My Class Evaluation provides for clarity in the evaluation of faculty instruction by students; provides online documentation of student evaluation data; enhances access by faculty and administration to evaluation data that can be utilized for improvements in student learning and for personnel purposes such as tenure, retention, and promotion; and, ensures flexibility with running different course evaluation reports as needed.

Procedure I-09.0: Extra Service Pay

The purpose of this policy is to describe the process and set forth the general provisions, circumstances, and limitations under which extra service pay may be appropriate for regular exempt employees of Tennessee State University.

Tennessee State University recognizes the need for faculty and staff to be involved in public service, research endeavors, professional services under sponsored programs, and continuing education activities. Such activities build upon the University's mission, contribute to the quality of instruction provided to students, advance goals of the State, and enhance the institution's standing in the nation. The University also recognizes that under certain conditions these activities may be performed outside of, and in addition to, normal working assignments and responsibilities for which extra compensation may be warranted. It is the policy of Tennessee State University to provide extra compensation in accordance with Tennessee Board of Regents (TBR) Policy 5:01:05:00 (Outside Employment and Extra Compensation).

DEFINITIONS

Extra Service Pay (ESP) - Compensation for work performed outside of, and in addition to, normal working assignments and responsibilities. Such work is performed in addition to the regular exempt employee's full workload and is typically non-recurring and specific in nature.

Regular Exempt Employees: All personnel executive, administrative, professional, and academic, who are exempt from earning overtime compensation and are employed on a continuing basis by the institution as specified in TSU Employment Classification Policy 6.15.

Regular Non-Exempt Employee: All personnel other than academic, executive and administrative or professional personnel classified as clerical or support staff who are eligible to earn overtime compensation and who are employed on a continuing basis by the institution as specified in TSU Employment Classification Policy 6.15. Individuals with this designation include all personnel who are covered by the provisions of the Federal Wage and Hour Law.

Executive Level Personnel: Positions reporting to the President or one requiring TBR approval to hire. Positions include, but are not limited to, Vice Presidents, Assistant Vice Presidents, Associate Vice Presidents, Deans, Department Chairs, and TBR Center of Excellence Directors.

ELIGIBILITY

All regular exempt employees as well as Executive Level Personnel are eligible to earn/receive Extra Service Pay (ESP). Requests for ESP for executive level personnel must be approved by the President or the President's designee. Regular non-exempt employees are ineligible for ESP, but may be compensated by overtime pay from research and sponsored program grants/contracts for work tendered beyond their normal job duties and regularly assigned work hours. Requests for regular non-exempt employee to earn overtime compensation from research and sponsored program grants/contracts will be reviewed for appropriateness on a case by case basis by the President or the President's designee.

COMPENSATION LIMITATIONS

Regular exempt executive level personnel, administrative staff, professional staff, and 12-month faculty may earn a maximum of 20% ESP of their fiscal year salary (research incentives are excluded from the 20% maximum). The maximum amount of ESP earned in any one month shall be commensurate with the employee's regular monthly salary. Longevity pay is excluded from the extra compensation limit.

Regular 9-month faculty may earn a maximum of 20% ESP of their equated fiscal year salary during the fiscal year period (research incentives are excluded from the 20% maximum). The maximum amount of ESP earned in any one month shall be commensurate with the employee's regular monthly salary. Longevity pay is excluded from the extra compensation limit.

PROCEDURE

1. The faculty or staff member shall notify appropriate supervisor(s) of the description of services for which ESP may be warranted and the expected commitment of time.
2. Employees must complete in its entirety and submit to the appropriate supervisor(s) an Extra Service Pay Form and Verification of Additional Work Form documenting the request for extra compensation.
3. The rate of pay for extra services will be arranged between the employee and the director or department chair receiving the service.
4. All requests for extra service pay must be approved prior to the start date by the Dean or Director of the department requesting the services, the appropriate Vice President and the President or the President Designee, when necessary. When the FOAP is assigned to a different Division, the Vice President of that Division signature is required on the Extra Service Pay form.
5. Authorization for ESP must be documented and approved before services are rendered or work is performed.
6. Extra service pay must comply with the rules and regulations related to salaries chargeable to federally sponsored programs.

STEPS:

Procedure I-10.0: Faculty Workloads Evaluation

While the University supports faculty initiative and industry and will continue to do so, all levels of management must exercise consistent controls on the development of faculty workloads each semester. Workload forms are an absolutely critical management tool and must be regarded as such. The following forms direct how faculty members are assigned, how many adjuncts are hired, and how budget dollars are spent:

(Attachments)

1. Instructions for Workloads
2. Departmental Workload Summary
3. Departmental Administrative Summary
4. Preliminary Request for Faculty Overloads
5. Research Release Justification Form
6. Sample Workload Form

The Division of Academic Affairs will be reviewing workloads, released time, adjunct assignments, and requests for overloads using the following guidelines:

Workload Policy

Standard faculty workloads are defined by the Board of Regents as 15 credit hours or the equivalent. Per TBR policy, faculty members are also expected to work the equivalent of the standard 37.5 hour workweek as well.

- a. If an accrediting agency requires faculty members to carry fewer than 15 teaching hours, those faculty members are still required to carry a workload of the equivalent of 15 credit hours. Advance approvals of reduced workload due to accreditation standards must be in writing and approved by the Vice President of Academic Affairs or his/her designee.
- b. Advisement is a normal part of the workload of faculty members and should generally be performed in-load. Workload credit for advisement must be specifically approved in advance in consultation with Academic Affairs. Deans or chairs should not grant exceptions to the category policy without the approval of Academic Affairs.
- c. Similarly, serving on a University committee and other such normal responsibilities of faculty members should not generally generate released time unless approved in consultation with Academic Affairs.
- d. For workload purposes, one graduate hour equals 1.25 hours of workload credit. Thus, faculty teaching three graduate classes of three (3) hours have the equivalent of an 11.25 teaching credit load plus other assignments and research as designated to meet the 15-hour workload.
- e. When a graduate course is cross-listed with an undergraduate course, the course will only be regarded as a graduate course for workload purposes if it meets the minimum number of enrollees for a graduate course.

STEPS:

1. It is the responsibility of department chairs and deans to analyze, monitor, and recommend faculty workloads using the TSU and TSU Board of Governance workload policies.
2. The Final Workload Forms and departmental workload summaries will be due each semester by specified date to be announced via email to deans.
3. Released Time-Research - Released time for research must generate a legitimate research product, and both heads and deans are responsible for verifying that released time granted did, in fact, produce research. Release time must not be granted to engage in unspecified research, to "take a course," to pursue a degree, or to prepare a syllabus. Release time to prepare a course is generally not allowed. Release time to develop an online course may be allowed with advance approval from Office of VPAA.
4. Faculty members may apply for three-hours release time to pursue research, and their applications must be approved by department chairs and deans (see attached application forms for funded and non-funded released time). Faculty must complete the Release Time Justification Form, and approval is required by the Department Chair and Dean. This form must be attached to the faculty workload form. Deans or chairs cannot grant research time over 3 (6 hours for College of Business faculty) hours without the written approval of the Office of Academic Affairs.
5. Funded research must list the actual account number from which funds are coming. Please verify that a PARF (Account Change Form) has been submitted to charge funds (that represents hours) to that account and processed in PeopleAdmin. Each semester hours charged to funded research should be figured using a formula of  $50\% \times \text{faculty salary} \times 6.666\%$ . The 50% represents the fall semester salary. Therefore, a 3-hour release for funded research would be shown as 20% of semester salary. ( $50\% \times \text{listed academic year salary} \times 20\%$ ). Funded research hours cannot be given for anticipated grant unless justified (and subsequently approved) in writing to Office of Vice President of Academic Affairs.
6. Department Chair Release Time: Department chairs are eligible for three to six hours of release time for departmental administration according to the table below. Department chairs are also eligible for research release time per # 4 above. Any exceptions to this list must have written prior approval of the Vice President of Academic Affairs or his/her designee. Any exceptions to this list should have been requested in writing with justification to the Office of Vice President of Academic Affairs.

| DEPARTMENT CHAIR - Six (6) Hours Authorized                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | DEPARTMENT CHAIR - Three (3) Hours Authorized                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |

7. Overload Requests-Overload requests should not be a normal occurrence in the departmental course offerings. Overloads should generally be for emergencies such as faculty illness, required splitting of high enrollment classes, etc. All requests for overload pay must be accompanied by a workload form reflecting an actual assignment totaling more than 15 teaching hours or the equivalent. The request for overload pay must be approved by the Vice President of Academic Affairs prior to the performance of any activity being considered as an overload.

8. The official submission for the Faculty Overload Request must be submitted in PeopleAdmin and will be due by announced date via email to deans. A Workload Request Form and a copy of the faculty member's final signed faculty workload form must be attached in PeopleAdmin. Do not attach these Overload Requests to the departmental faculty workload forms and departmental summary.
9. Actual Requests for Faculty Overload will not be processed until the Final Faculty Workload Forms and Workload Summary have been submitted by each college/school.
10. Actual overload requests will be reviewed based upon the number of classes listed for the faculty member actually making.
11. Submission of the Request for Faculty Overload does not constitute final approval.
12. Canceled classes, shifts in assignments, etc., may take away the need for a specific faculty overload. It is the responsibility of the department chair and dean to manage the department's course offerings and either cancel low-enrolled courses or, in some cases, switch courses among departmental faculty to better manage the required 15-hour workload.
13. **Overloads may not be processed if a faculty member has a class with low enrollments that should have been canceled.
14. ***Overloads may not be processed if a faculty member is serving as a coordinator without prior written approval from the Vice President for Academic Affairs or designee.
15. Payment for Overload is based upon faculty rank:

| RANK                | LEVEL | OVERLOAD PAYMENT   | ENGINEERING/COMPUTER SCIENCE OVERLOAD PAYMENT |
|---------------------|-------|--------------------|-----------------------------------------------|
| Instructor/Lecturer | 1     | $ 550.00 per hour | $1,000.00 per hour                           |
| Assistant Professor | 2     | $ 600.00 per hour | $1,250.00 per hour                           |
| Associate Professor | 3     | $ 650.00 per hour | $1,250.00 per hour                           |
| Professor           | 4     | $ 700.00 per hour | $1,500.00 per hour                           |

16. All workload forms must be signed by the faculty member, department chair, and dean. Please contact Dr. John T. Robinson at x5301 if you have any questions about this assignment.

Attachment 1
Instructions for Completing Faculty Workloads

1. The Fall 2019 Workload forms will be developed using faculty information taken from the Banner system. Due to the complexity of Banner and administrators' varying knowledge/skills at using the Banner system, we will simply copy one form from Banner and then write in the workload hours. The department chair is responsible for completion of all 5 sections and the Workload Summary. Note reminders and instructions below:

2. Preferred method- Only go to the information as shown by instructor's name on the site <https://www.tnstate.edu/forms/schedule/>
(Note: only authorized personnel will be able access system.)

Print this sheet that shows faculty teaching assignments. You will use this sheet(s) to write in the final workload assignment. In the case that course assignments have changed, you should immediately correct this in the Banner system.

Print this sheet that shows faculty teaching assignments. (Note that each page will only show maximum 3 courses so if teaching more than three, you will have two sheets.) You will use this sheet(s) to write in the final workload assignment. In case that course assignments have changed, you should immediately correct this in the Banner system.

3. At the right side near each course, write in the actual course hours and the converted hours provided for workload credit. For example a graduate course with 3 credit hours would be listed as 3.75 under the converted hours.

Please list only credit hours and converted workload hours on this sheet. Do not list contact hours.

If assigned courses have changed, please revise the courses to be taught. Remember to officially change these in Banner system as soon as possible.

If course is not listed for the faculty, just add the course information. If course included on the page that shouldn't be on the workload, just delete it.

Part 1- Total number and show the number of teaching hours the faculty member is assigned and that will be counted in workload. Complete all other sections of sheet. Add the following part 2-

Part 2: Departmental Research- Unfunded research may be allowed up to 3 hours but must include Justification Form (Justification Form will be submitted with final workload forms. Any hours shown over 3 for Research must have had the approval of dean and Office of Vice President of Academic Affairs before the start of fall 2007 semester. If not approved, additional courses must be assigned.

Part 3- Funded Research- must have an account number.

Has a PARF been submitted to assign salary to this account number for actual number of hours listed?

Part 4: Institutional service- List hours and description of service.

Part 5: Other

- Department chair/Academic Administration- Generally for department chairs or coordinators. Show hours and description of assignment.
- Coordinators-Show hours and description of assignment.
- Professional Service- Hours and Description of service.
- Other Assignments- Hours and Description of Service..

Part 6: Total the number of hours at bottom of printed sheet. This must total 15 hours for all faculty workloads.

8. Have sheet signed by faculty. This form must be signed/ dated by the faculty member, chair and dean. Save copy of these forms for later use. They will be required in Annual Report at end of Academic year.

9. Departments should also complete the Faculty Workload Summary (Attachment 2) that includes the credit hours assigned for all full-time and temporary faculty for the previous Fall semester.

10. You should also complete Attachment 3 detailing the administrative duties and assigned workload hours in your department

11. Any overloads must be listed in the Overload Request –see Attachment 4.

12. Submission of Departmental Workload Forms and Report—All workloads should be submitted to the Office of Academic Affairs by the college/ school dean (after their review and approval).

Please send this information to your department chairs with a submission date that allows you to submit all materials to Academic Affairs by October 10.

(Please call Dr. John T. Robinson if you want to use other formats developed by your college that would provide this same information.)

Procedure I-11.0: Grade Appeal

The University recognizes the right of a student to appeal a grade which she/he believes is incorrect and does not reflect the student's class performance. Issues related to harassment (sexual, racial, or other) should be referred to the Affirmative Action Officer.

STEPS:

1. Students who believe an incorrect grade was awarded should seek a resolution with the instructor as soon as possible. If the student is not satisfied after attempting to reconcile the matter with the instructor, the student may appeal to the head of the department. This appeal must be in writing, accompanied by all relevant supporting documents, and must be initiated within 30 calendar days of the beginning of the semester immediately following the semester in which the grade was awarded (excluding summer school).
2. The department chair should provide a copy of the student's letter to the instructor and request a written response from the instructor.
3. The instructor will provide the department chair with a written response within 10 working days. In instances where an instructor indicates to a student that a grade adjustment is warranted and fails to make the adjustment within ten working days, the student should inform the instructor's department chair. (Exceptions will apply when the instructor is not teaching, as in summer session, or when the instructor is on leave.)
4. If the student is not satisfied with the decision of the department chair, a further written appeal may be made to the dean of the college/school. This appeal must be made within ten calendar days of the decision of the department chair. After reviewing the appeal record, the dean must render a decision within ten days of the receipt of the appeal, after which the Vice President of Academic Affairs and Executive Vice President is the next level of appeal.

If the instructor happens to be the department chair or the dean, the appeal will be submitted to the next higher academic officer (that is, to the dean if the department chair is the instructor, or the Vice President of Academic Affairs and Executive Vice President if the dean is the instructor). In such cases the decision of the Vice President of Academic Affairs and Executive Vice President is final.

Grades, transcript information, drop/adds, withdrawals, and other data perceived by the student to be in error must be protested by the student within thirty days. Appeals made after this time will not be reviewed.

Procedure I-12.0: Grade Changes

This procedure is used to complete a Change of Grade Form* when a grade has been incorrectly awarded. To obtain official approval, the Change of Grade Form must be submitted according to the steps below.

STEPS:

- 1) If a student believes an incorrect grade was awarded, he/she should seek a resolution with the instructor as soon as possible.
- 2) If an instructor determines that he/she mistakenly awarded the student an incorrect grade, he/she should submit a Change of Grade Form \(See the next page for a photocopy of the Change of Grade Form\) to the department chair for approval. Secure the Change of Grade Form from the Records Office.
- 3) In instances where an instructor indicates to a student that a grade adjustment is warranted and fails to make the adjustment within ten (10) working days, the student should inform the instructor's department chair. (Exceptions will apply when the instructor is not teaching, as in summer session, or when the instructor is on leave.)
- 4) The department chair will submit the form to the dean for approval.
- 5) The change of grade form should be signed by the instructor, department chair, dean of the college, Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs, and Records.
- 6) If the student is not satisfied after attempting to reconcile the matter with the instructor, the student may request a meeting with the head of the department to initiate the grade appeal process.

The grade of "I", Incomplete, indicates that the student's work in a course is incomplete but otherwise satisfactory. The steps below outline the processes for graduate and undergraduate students.

Procedure I-13.1: "I" Grade Replacement - Graduate

GRADUATE

Graduate instruction assumes that the student has both the interest and the ability to do independent study and research of outstanding quality. Thus, a graduate student must maintain a minimum average of —B (3.0 quality points on a 4.0 point system) in all graduate work. Course grades are A, B, C, D, and F. In master's degree programs, grades less than —C are counted in compiling the general average, but they may not be included in the requirements for the degree. For information about —C's in doctoral programs, please see specific program. The grade of "I", Incomplete, indicates that the student's work in a course is incomplete but otherwise satisfactory.

The —I grade must be removed from the graduate student's permanent record within one semester from the end of the term in which the —I grade was awarded. If all requirements for removal of the —I are not met within the period, the —I grade will be changed to —F by the Office of Admissions and Records. All enrollments in dissertation, thesis, or project writing courses shall carry the grade of —I until the project is completed. The final letter grade is awarded to each previous enrollment where an —I was awarded. (Graduate Catalog 2011-2013).

Procedure I-13.2: "I" Grade Replacement - Undergraduate

UNDERGRADUATE

Removal of —I grades: Incomplete is a temporary grade which must be removed from the undergraduate student's permanent record within one semester from the end of the term in which the —I grade was awarded. If all requirements of a course in which the —I was awarded are not met within one semester, the grade of —I will automatically convert to a grade of —F. Inasmuch as the awarding of an Incomplete is the decision of the instructor, it is the instructor's responsibility to inform the student an Incomplete was awarded and make him/her aware of what assignments must be completed to remove the —I.

Students are NOT to be instructed to re-enroll in any course or laboratory to remove an Incomplete. If the extent of the work to be done is such that the student needs to attend class, the student should be awarded an appropriate grade, and it becomes the student's decision, or requirement, to re-enroll in the course.

The —"I" grade may be removed by following the steps below:

STEPS:

1. Contact the instructor who issued the Incomplete, and complete all assignments required to remove the —I grade.
2. Conditions for Issuance and Removal of Incomplete (I) Grade (contract).
3. Secure the —I Replacement Form from the Records Office or download the form from www.tnstate.edu/records.
4. The —I Replacement grade must be submitted to the Records Office with the grade authorized by the instructor of the class and Department Chair of the discipline.

Procedure I-14.0: Low-Producing Academic Programs

“In January 2010, the Tennessee Higher Education Commission, in consultation with the two systems, began reporting annually on the status of all facets of academic program productivity. THEC had for many years reported the performance of new programs and established programs on a cyclic basis. These separate reports met statutory requirements that the Commission evaluate proposed and existing academic programs to ensure their quality and viability, certify program demand, and avoid unnecessary duplication. The 2011 report, second in the series of annual reports, pulls together a comprehensive analysis of all program activity. The use of these data is fundamental to institutional, system, and state responses to the Complete College Tennessee Act of 2010 (CCTA). The comprehensive report and the data analysis behind it are intended to guide institutions in decisions about planning new programs, eliminating those for which student interest has diminished, and serving the state through mission distinction. The CCTA constitutes the framework for the 2010-2015 state Master Plan for higher education, the outcomes-based funding formula, and the sharpened emphasis on institutional mission differentiation. This public agenda requires careful planning for academic programs that are characterized by quality and strategic funding to meet the transformative legislation’s goals of increased state educational attainment and economic development.”

THEC reviews the degree productivity of each academic program at the end of the academic year. Programs that did not meet benchmarks during the monitoring period must complete a Program Productivity Plan that addresses deficiencies and provided specific plans for corrective actions. The Program Productivity Plan serves to help improve the program by helping institutions formulate a strategy to address enrollment, retention and completion goals.

Degree productivity for new academic programs is exempt from Program Productivity Plans for five years in the Post-Approval Monitoring (PAM) period. After that period, those new programs are monitored by THEC through the Quality Assurance Funding (QAF) program in the same manner as all other programs.

Programs underperforming at the end of the monitoring cycle are in true peril of failing to reach the institutionally developed projections that indicate success. Underperforming programs that complete PAM are monitored by THEC through the Low Producing Program evaluation. THEC can recommend termination of those programs that do not, over the monitoring period, show improvement. Universities must make decisions based on expenditures, degree productivity, and the demand for the program.

The FOCUS Act transfers the responsibility of TBR to the Board of Trustees for TSU. The TSUBOT is responsible for the oversight and review of academic program productivity in concert with the university leadership.

STEPS:

1. Dean/department chair reviews mature programs annually to determine if it falls or is approaching one of the following THEC standard definition of a low-producing program:

- a. BS – average fewer than 10 graduates over a 5-year period.
- b. MS – average fewer than 5 graduates over a 5-year period.
- c. PhD – average fewer than 3 graduates over a 5-year period.

These benchmarks are standard measures of productivity used by colleges and universities nationally.

The Tennessee Higher Education Commission (THEC) annual low-producing program review has the following two parts:

Part I: THEC annually issues a report of low-producing programs by July of the fiscal year.

Part II: TSU annually identifies low-producing programs to retain, consolidate, or terminate and reports actions to THEC by October 1, of the fiscal year.

Reporting Cycle: With the January 2010 report of the results of System actions, THEC will establish an annual cycle of program monitoring charted below:

Procedure I-16.0: Organizational Charts (updating and developing)

Procedure I-16.0: Organizational Charts (updating and developing)

Organizational charts of unrestricted positions assigned to each unit will be initially developed by the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs in collaboration with the appropriate dean's office. The positions on the chart will be unrestricted positions (except in units with major external-funded structures) assigned to each unit as supported by the applicable Unrestricted Personnel Budgets. The charts will be submitted to the dean's office for review and distribution to the units under the respective college's auspices.

STEPS:

1. An email will be sent in July or August of each new fiscal year to the dean's office designated representative. Upon receipt, the representative should review charts for college/department/units submitted by the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs annually or by date of newly established unit and major changes in the organizational structure within the fiscal year.
2. Compare unrestricted positions on chart(s) with personnel budgets emailed in July or August of each new fiscal year depending upon receipt by the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs from the Budget Office.
3. If restricted position(s) are to be included on chart, indicate the position number and note "restricted" in the applicable box.
4. Do not include temporary or unfunded or unrestricted positions on the chart.
5. Make corrections on the electronically shared charts using SmartDraw software (i.e., employee name, position number) on the chart(s), as needed. Units with 2 or less departments will make changes on hard copies and email changes as described in Step 9. Contact the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs (Ms. Tamica Davidson) for the software license key.
6. Restructures must be approved by the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs, (President and/or TSU Board of Trustees, as applicable), prior to implementation of the change.
7. Positions, titles, and numbers for employees listed on the chart must be consistent with those listed on the personnel budget. If separation papers are submitted for an individual, replace the name of the individual with "Vacant" on the organization chart and notify the Office of Vice President of Academic Affairs as described in Step 9.
8. Promotions and title changes are not official until approved by the Human Resources Offices following proper protocol and established policies and procedures of the University.

9. Notify the department head/director, dean, and Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs (Ms. Tamica Davidson) of any revised charts via email (be sure to include the SmartDraw filename of each revised chart or attached hard copy with revisions) with copy to Associate Vice President (Dr. Pat Crook) in the aforementioned sequential order. The Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs will then post revised charts on Academic Affairs webpage within two (2) business days.
10. If you are the dean's office designated representative, see the instructions on accessing the SmartDraw software and updating the organization charts below:

Procedure I-17.0: Overtime Authorization and Compensatory Time

Compensatory time and overtime payments shall be available to clerical and support employees only. Tennessee State University has a 37.5 hour work week. Both compensatory time and overtime pay shall be granted at the straight time rate for hours worked up to 40 in a work week and at time and one-half for any hours in excess of 40 in a work week. All overtime pay must be approved by the Vice President and the President before the hours are worked by the employee. Hours worked on official holidays will be paid as premium overtime. Personnel Policy (6.27)

STEPS:

1. The immediate Supervisor of the employee(s) requiring overtime must initiate an Overtime Authorization Form
2. The director or the department chair/dean must approve the overtime and forward to the appropriate vice president for approval.
3. The vice president must approve the overtime and forward to the Budget Office for approval.
4. The Budget Office will forward the approved Overtime Authorization Form to the President for approval.
5. After all approvals have been received; the copies of the Overtime Authorization Form will be distributed as follows:

Compensatory Time - Employees shall receive compensatory time for overtime hours worked without prior approval, unless otherwise provided as an emergency exception to these policies.

Working more than 37.5 (or 40.0 hours) per week is not authorized without approval, in advance, by the appropriate vice president and the President. When properly approved, compensatory time for hours worked in excess of 37.5 (or 40.0 hours) will be handled as described below.

- ❖ Compensatory time granted for hours worked between 37.5 and 40.0 will be at straight time (1.0 hour for 1.0 hour worked).
- ❖ Compensatory time granted for hours worked over 40.0 will be at time and one-half (1.5 hours for 1.0 hour worked).
- ❖ Compensatory time not taken during the pay period (month) in which it was earned will be banked, up to maximum accumulation of 240 hours.
- ❖ TSU Police Department personnel (except office/support/civil employees) may accrue up to a maximum of 480 hours.

Procedure I-18.0: Prior Learning Assessment (PLA)

Prior Learning Assessment (PLA) has many names: credit for prior learning, experiential credit, lifelong learning credit, and many others. Simply, PLA is the process by which a student gains knowledge outside of college and has that knowledge assessed for college level credit. PLA is not “giving away” credit based on experience, as the student must prove he or she has the required knowledge and that that knowledge is at the college level to the satisfaction of academic experts. This process is typically not easy.

STEPS:

- Students knowledge is demonstrated in many forms which falls into three broad categories:
  - Credit by examination (AP, CLEP, DSST, course challenge exams, etc);
  - Credit recommendations for training (ACE military and workplace training credit recommendations); and
  - Portfolio assessments (student-supplied written narrative and documentation).
- Students typically do not know PLA is an option. When presented with the option, most potential adult students think PLA is a good idea and it will affect their decision to return to school. Please consider making PLA a regular part of your advisement sessions with new students, especially incoming adult students.
- PLA has recently become more standardized. Tennessee public and private colleges and universities have collaborated to develop Standards in PLA Policy and Practice to promote quality assurance and greater consistency among institutions. In FALL 2013, these Standards were adopted by TBR into policy and guidelines and were endorsed by the TIUCUA board. UT has also agreed to several key components of those standards, including transferability. So, while some variation will still exist between and within institutions, you should see some changes in the near future if not already.
- PLA credits transfer. The TBR and UT systems have agreed to allow PLA credits that fall within the Tennessee Transfer Pathways (TTP) to transfer in the same manner as their course equivalencies do. They are to be treated the same as if they were traditional classroom based courses. Furthermore, in cases where the credit does not automatically meet TTP requirements, “Students who transfer to a TBR ...community college or university may have their PLA credits transferred to that institution as long as the credits are applicable to the degree or certificate the student has declared and the transfer institution's policy grants credit for that type of PLA credit.”
- Advise students—Particularly adults, to consider PLA as an option so that students can more quickly reach your upper level courses.
- Make sure you know that the CONTACT PERSON at TSU will have answers to common PLA questions and be able to refer students to the best person.

These individuals will be granted certain rights and privileges in recognition of their honored role in the University community and their ongoing potential for contributions to the intellectual and cultural life of the University. The President may confer the title of Emeritus upon any retiring tenured professor (after ten years), tenured associate professor (after 15 years), or tenured assistant professor and instructor (after 20 years) who has given honorable and distinguished full-time service to the University. The conferring of the emeritus title must be recommended by the appropriate Department Chair, Departmental rank and tenure committee, dean, school and/or college rank and tenure committee, University personnel committee, and the Vice President of Academic Affairs. ## Procedure I-22.0: Requested Use of Salary and Benefits Savings from non-faculty positions

All vacant faculty (61200) and administrative positions (61100) are budgeted at $40,000 plus 35% benefits. Non-faculty and administrative positions are budgeted at a lower amount comparable to the position classification. Funds are budgeted for hiring permanent and temporary employees until position can be filled. Salary and benefits savings from vacant positions belong to the University. However, the University may allow salary saving to be used for non-personnel (i.e., operating) purposes at the discretion of the Vice President of Academic Affairs. If funds budgeted in a position are used during the fiscal year, and the position is subsequently filled, the department/college will be required to restore the position back to the amount originally budgeted or needed to pay the contracted amount of the newly hired employee in the respective position number. The following steps should be used if the position is vacant and salary savings and benefit are needed:

STEPS:

1. Identify vacant non-faculty position number and FOAP.
2. Make sure Employee Termination Form (found at the Human Resources Forms webpage) has been completed and processed in the PeopleAdmin System and Human Resources. The employee termination form should be immediately submitted upon notification of employee separation from the University (at the end of each semester for one semester temporary faculty, and at the end of the academic year for one-year temporary employees). A Notice of Separation must be sent to all employees at least 30 days in advance of termination, including employees on restricted grant and contract accounts.
3. Contact Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs (AVP Dr. Pat Crook) to determine available funds in vacant position as reflected in Banner HR Production. The attached Salary Saving Request Forms can be used for making the request.
4. Request amount and purpose of requested funds using the salary saving request form.
5. Prepare Budget Revision Form (which may be retrieved from the Budget web site) to transfer amount requested from the appropriate position number or account. If funds to be used to support personnel cost in the same FOAP, an entry for benefits is not needed. No funds may be transferred from an unrestricted to a restricted funds account or the TSU Foundation.
6. If funds will be transferred to a different FOAP, the budget revision entry for salary and benefits (35%) must be reflected on the Budget Revision Form.

Procedure I-24.0: Study Abroad Programs

• STUDY ABROAD PROGRAMS

ODIA offers TSU students education abroad program options within 25 different countries. While it is quite beneficial for students to have a wide variety of choices, it can also be somewhat overwhelming. Therefore, we highly recommend that students read these brief descriptions below before researching programs to assist with their navigation and understanding.

TSU Faculty Led Programs

TSU faculty member(s) teach TSU courses which are specifically designed for the overseas location. Each program provides students with an academically enriching experience in the host country while also providing culturally relevant excursions that complement the academic experience. Programs are taught in English (with the exception of language credit programs) and are generally 3-6 credit hours. TSU Faculty Led Programs are available in the summer and are 2-4 weeks in duration, although a few options during spring and fall breaks also exist. While any student can participate in Faculty-Led programs, they work especially well for those who have not traveled abroad previously, are seeking more guidance and structure, and would prefer to travel with a group.

I. Consortia: TnCIS, Scholar Laureate, and Mid-Continent

TSU is affiliated with three Consortia program options. The Tennessee Consortium of International Studies (TnCIS) is the most popular program with our students. These programs are very similar to Faculty-Led programs in that the courses are taught by the U.S. Consortia member faculty (which sometimes means a TSU professor), are typically 2-4 weeks in duration throughout the summer, provide a good deal of structure and support as a group option, and provide the student with three (3) credit hours.

II. Exchange Programs: International Student Exchange Program (ISEP)

These programs are offered through bilateral exchange agreements between TSU and our partner universities abroad or within the ISEP network. Exchange options are generally offered as semester or full academic year in length and require the student to be enrolled in a full-time course load each term. Participants will be enrolled as regular students at the partner university but will pay TSU fees for tuition (and sometimes room and meals depending on the exchange agreement). At the same time, students from these partner universities come to study at TSU. Exchange programs are ideal for students who want to challenge themselves by fully integrating into the day-to-day academic and personal life of the host country. Because these programs do not offer the level of support as our other options, participants should be highly motivated, interested in planning their own semester activities and excursions, and feel comfortable seeking out details without a great deal of guidance.

III. Other Options:

Program Providers: CIEE, GlobaLinks, ISA, LAC, and USAC

TSU is affiliated with particular third-party provider organizations to supplement the overall portfolio of education abroad options. There are hundreds of third party provider programs in existence. These programs work well for students who want the immersion of attending a foreign university, but are seeking a high level of support both here in the U.S. prior to departure and while abroad. Application procedures and deadlines vary by provider and programs range in length from a few weeks during the summer or winter to a full academic semester or year.

- SCHOLARSHIP AND FINANCIAL AID

Numerous scholarships are available to students wishing to study abroad. Additionally, students may be able to use their financial aid while studying abroad. To find out if aid can be used while studying abroad, a student may contact any counselor in the TSU Financial Aid Office.

The following list includes but is not limited to information on existing aid and will assist the students in finding other sources.

A. TSU's Study Abroad Grant:

This grant is available to qualified full-time and degree seeking TSU students. The grant award is half of the program fee with a $3,000 limit for approved individual student study abroad programs. This grant award application opens in September and closes in December of the Fall semester prior to the next calendar year's summer execution. Example: For travel during the summer of 2015, grant applications will be accepted from September 2014– December 2014.

B. Program-specific scholarships

There are various programs offered through the Office of Diversity and International Education (ODIA), many of which have their own unique scholarships to help students with expenses abroad. The following websites provide information on possible opportunities and procedures for applying.

C. TSU Financial Aid

It is advisable to search out all scholarship opportunities before using federal loans, however many students take out loans as a safety net in case problems arise abroad. Students may be able to use their financial aid while studying abroad. The TSU Financial Aid Office can counsel students on availability of funding.

D. Gilman scholarship:

This scholarship is awarded to U.S. citizens that are recipients of Pell Grants. The length of study has a minimum of four weeks; students who have never been abroad before and are traveling to non-Western European nations are the most competitive. The application form and current deadlines can be found at www.iie.org/en/programs/gilman-scholarship-program.

E. Boren scholarship:

NSEP (National Security Education program) will award students up to $10,000 for undergraduate students studying in non-traditional (non-Western European) areas. This is a competitive scholarship; application can be found at <http://www.borenawards.org/>.

• STEPS TO STUDYING ABROAD

STEPS:

1. Attend a Study Abroad Information Session (highly recommended). Three information sessions will be held during each Fall semester. No reservations required. Dates and times will be announced and available on the ODIA website.
2. Select the Country, Program, and Course for the study abroad/student exchange experience. Click on these links:
<http://www.tncis.org>      <http://www.isep.org>      <http://www.scholarlaureate.org>
3. View Countries, Programs, and Course offerings provided by the Tennessee Consortium for International Studies (TnCIS) and other programs available to discover the world. It is recommended that students begin this process at least 6-12 months in advance of the term in which they plan to study abroad.
4. Meet with a Study Abroad Advisor in the Office of Diversity and International Affairs. No reservations required. Dates and times will be announced and available on the ODIA website. Appointments can also be made by emailing the Director of International Education, Mark A. Brinkley, mbrinkley1@tnstate.edu. During this session, the student will be guided through the study abroad process including program research, course options, scholarships, budgeting, and the application procedures. An advising session will be more productive if some research has been conducted online prior to the meeting.

5. Complete the application process for the program selected. The applications for individual programs and the ODIA-Study Abroad Grant are two distinct processes. Both applications must be completed. Deadlines for actual Study Abroad Programs (Step 4): Deadlines will be announced and made available on the ODIA website. Students are responsible for meeting their specific program deadline.
6. Complete and submit an application for an Office of Diversity and International Affairs (ODIA) -Study Abroad Grant. This grant could provide up to 50% of the program cost up to $3,000. Additional financial aid may be available.
7. Contact the Office of Financial Aid for details and to confirm potential eligibility. A PDF file of the student transcript and passport is needed. ODIA will hold a passport fair each semester to assist students with obtaining or updating passports. Notification of student awards will be made in February.
8. Students are required to attend the MANDATORY Pre-departure Orientation. Dates and location will be announced and available on the ODIA website.

Procedure I-25.0: Summer Session Conditions

Procedure I-25.1: Introduction to Summer Sessions

The summer sessions are designed to offer high-quality instructional programs within several calendar periods: Maymester (three weeks), five weeks (Session I or Session II), and ten weeks (Full Session). All sessions are intended for rigorous courses designed either to fulfill degree requirements or to otherwise promote life-long learning. Additionally, Summer school may offer a range of non-degree-credit courses and activities (e.g., conferences, seminars, mini-courses, and workshops) that do not require extensive extra-classroom assignments.

Procedure I-25.2: Contract Development

All summer contracts must be submitted in the PeopleAdmin system. All contracts must be entered by the academic departments where a faculty member is assigned. Contracts for full summer classes should be from June 3—August 12, 2019. This allows faculty to participate in summer registration

- Maymester contracts run from May 6 – May 28, 2019
- Summer 1 contracts run from June 3—July 5, 2019
- Summer 2 contracts run from July 8—August 12, 2019

Procedure I-25.3: Summer Contract Numbers: (See decentralized college budgets)

Use the NOTICE OF SUMMER APPOINTMENT, with appropriate Addendum, for all faculty members who were regular tenured/tenure track faculty during the previous semester. It is vitally important that the correct salary of the faculty member is entered. The correct decentralized account numbers must be used for summer 2019. All summer contracts must be entered into People Admin with appropriate attachments.

- Use the Tennessee State University ADJUNCT APPOINTMENT form in People Admin for all part-time faculty members and faculty who were on a temporary contract during the previous semester. Under special conditions, list the course numbers and hours scheduled to teach.
- PARFS TO REDUCE OR INCREASE SUMMER EMPLOYMENT FOR FULL SUMMER AND SUMMER I MUST BE SUBMITTED BY May 31, 2019. For SUMMER II, the deadline is July 5, 2019.

Final examinations for summer semesters will be scheduled during the last official meeting date/ time for each specific course .

Procedure I-25.6: Selection of Faculty

Summer sessions are separate assignments from regular academic-year appointments. Regular academic-year faculty members, as well as part-time faculty members, may have the opportunity to teach courses during these summer sessions; however, summer teaching is not a contract right of faculty.

All faculty appointments will be contingent upon enrollment, the availability of funds, and academic need. Furthermore, appointments will be governed by the laws of the state of Tennessee, the established policies of the Tennessee Board of Regents, and the policies of Tennessee State University.

Procedure I-25.7: Summer Teaching Load of 9-Month Faculty

The maximum instructional load of faculty members on 9 month academic contracts will be three classes per summer with no more than two classes in any one session. Requests for exceptions to this policy must be made to the Director of Summer School prior to the scheduling of classes.

Also, TBR Policy 5:02:04:10 stipulates that regular faculty members be compensated for summer session at the rate of 1/32nd of the individual faculty member's preceding academic year salary per credit hour taught. This rate is based on the presumption that summer teaching assignments are proportionally similar in nature and extend to those carried out during a regular term. The implication here is that, in summer sessions, faculty members will carry out the normal teaching and non-teaching responsibilities (e.g., 750 minutes of instruction per credit hour, as well as advising and committee work) related to their status as faculty. (See Addendum for Faculty School Contracts)

The 25% equates to eight (8) semester hours. Thus, faculty assigned nine (9) hours will only be paid the rate for eight (8) hours.

Procedure I-28.8: Summer Workload of Department Chairs

Beginning the 2011-2012 year, department chairs are on a 12 month fiscal contract. Department chairs are expected to schedule a full 15-hour workload for the summer semester (Maymester, full summer and summer I and II). That 15-hour workload is composed of a combination of teaching, research, and department chair administration as defined. No more than six hours may be assigned to department chair duties as based upon size of the department. Department chairs will be expected to teach at least six hours of lecture type courses during the summer semester. Up to three hours unfunded research may be allowable if approved by the Dean. Unfunded research for department chairs must be requested in writing to the Dean and must include projected outcomes for the research activity. Department chairs should submit this information on the Research Approval Form. Funded research may be used to "buy out" some hours for department chairs in consultation and approval by the dean and Associate VPAA. Summer workload forms for department chairs must be submitted by the dean to Director of Summer School by April 15.

Excerpted from TBR Policy 5:02:00:00- General Personnel Policy

1. All full-time personnel, including faculty, shall be required to devote a minimum of 37.5 hours per week to the institution or center, and shall maintain appropriate office hours as determined by the president (or his or her designee) or, at Tennessee Technology Centers, by the director. Presidents and/or Directors are authorized to use flexibility as appropriate in determining the structure of the work week for faculty to recognize variations from traditional instructional formats such as afforded by online instruction, distance education, or other unique methods of instructional delivery. Calculation of the 37.5-hour week shall follow such guidelines as Promulgated by the Chancellor.
2. Within the requirement of a minimum of 37.5 hours per week, faculty at universities and community colleges shall be required to carry a full teaching load, which shall be fifteen (15) credit hours or the equivalent per term for undergraduate courses, twelve (12) credit hours or the equivalent per term for graduate courses, two hundred and twenty-five (225) non-credit contact hour or the equivalent per term. All equivalent teaching load activities shall be subject to prior review and approval by the president (or his or her designee). Within the requirement of a minimum of 37.5 hours per week, faculty at Tennessee Technology Centers shall normally be required to carry thirty (30) contact hours per week of teaching.

Excerpted from TSU Workload Policy

Standard faculty workloads are defined by the Board of Regents as fifteen (15) credit hours or the equivalent.

- f. If an accrediting agency requires faculty members to carry fewer than fifteen (15) teaching hours, those faculty members are still required to carry a workload of the equivalent of fifteen (15) credit hours. Advance approvals of reduced workload due to accreditation standards must be in writing and approved by the VPAA or his designee.
- g. Advisement is a normal part of the workload of faculty members and should generally be performed in-load. Workload credit for advisement must be specifically approved in advance in consultation with Academic Affairs. Deans or chairs should not grant exceptions to the category policy without the approval of Academic Affairs.

- h. Similarly, serving on a university committee and other such normal responsibilities of faculty members should not generally generate released time unless approved in consultation with Academic Affairs.*
- i. For workload purposes, one graduate hour equals 1.25 hours of workload credit. Thus, faculty teaching three graduate classes of three (3) hours have the equivalent of an 11.25 teaching credit load plus other assignments and research as designated to meet the fifteen (15) hour workload.*
- j. When a graduate course is cross-listed with an undergraduate course, the course will only be regarded as a graduate course for workload purposes if it meets the minimum number of enrollees for a graduate course.*

Release Time

*Release time for research must generate a legitimate research product; and both the department chair and dean are responsible for verifying that release time granted did, in fact, produce research. Release time must not be granted to engage in unspecified research, to “take a course,” to pursue a degree, or to prepare a syllabus. Release time to prepare a course is generally not allowed. Release time to develop an online course may be allowed with advance approval from Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs. Release time of three (3) hours is not an automatic entitlement. Department chairs and deans must make determinations if outcomes from previous semester release time have produced desired outcomes. If not a teaching workload must be adjusted to achieve a full fifteen (15) hour workload.

*Twelve-month contract faculty members and department chairs may apply for three (3) hours departmental unfunded release time to pursue research, and their applications must be approved by department chairs and deans (Faculty must complete the Release Time Justification Form and approval is required by the Department chair and Dean. Deans or heads cannot grant research time over three (3) hours without the written approval of Academic Affairs.

To be approved for funded release, the actual research account number must be listed on the preliminary workload form. You may not award release time unless the grant has been funded and a number has been assigned.

Procedure I-25.9: Summer Workload of 12-month Faculty

Tenured/tenure-track faculty on a twelve (12) month contract will be expected to carry a full fifteen (15) hour faculty workload over the summer months. That workload may consist of a combination of teaching, research, and departmental duties as assigned by the department chair in cooperation with the dean. All faculty workloads must be approved in advance in consultation with the Dean and the AVP/Director of Summer School. The maximum number of actual teaching hours is expected of twelve (12) month faculty as assigned in fall and spring semesters.

Procedure I-25.10: Intersession Courses

All courses scheduled for May 2019 will be considered part of summer school. The maximum workload for all sessions (May intersession, Full Summer, Summer I, and Summer II) will be the maximum of three (3) classes per summer with no more than two classes in any one session. Of course, classes listed for four hours could only be assigned a total of two (2) classes for the summer. Any requests for exceptions to this policy must be made to the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs prior to the scheduling of classes. Payment for teaching may not exceed eight (8) hours.

Procedure I-25.11: Research Contracts

Researchers with funded projects can earn 1/9 per month (a maximum of 33%) of the preceding academic-year salary, provided the work is performed over the entire summer period between spring and all academic-year contracts. Academic-year and summer contracts must not overlap. All research contracts must be approved by the Principal Investigator or Title III Director, the department chair, and the appropriate dean. The following provisions also apply:

- a. Salary is only for the actual weeks worked, is pro-rated if leave is taken, and may not exceed one-third of the academic-year salary.
- b. Any faculty member whose salary split during the academic year must satisfy federal guidelines and work the entire academic-year contract period.

Faculty who are engaged in research where the 33.3% maximum is projected should have a contract period from May 6, 2019 through Friday, August 12, 2019. Research contracts should be submitted by April 23, 2019. Research contracts should be signed both by the dean and department chair and the principal investigator (Title III, etc.). Assignments spanning the two 5 week session should not exceed 25%. Assignments of one session should not exceed 12.5 %.( see previous timeframes). Project heads must sign the Summer Contract form before department will enter into system. All faculty contracts must be entered by department.

Procedure I-25.12: Non-Instructional Funded Load

All persons conducting research under grants or Title III and other non-institutional sources must complete the appropriate forms and have their assignments approved by the appropriate project director and approved through the PeopleAdmin process prior to beginning work. (Research summer contracts must also be approved / signed by Principal Investigator/Project Director and /or Title III director. Project directors and researchers are accountable to the dean for their summer projects.

Procedure I-25.13: Compensation

1. Tenured/tenure track faculty members will be compensated for summer session at the rate of 1/32nd of the individual faculty member's preceding academic year salary per credit hour taught. Payment for summer instruction may not exceed 25% of the regular academic salary. This rate is based on the presumption that summer teaching assignments are proportionally similar in nature and extent to those carried out during a regular term. The implication here is that, in summer sessions, faculty members will carry out the normal teaching and non-teaching responsibilities (e.g., 750 minutes of instruction per credit hour, as well as advising and committee work) related to their status as faculty.
For TBR / TN eCAMPUS, faculty teaching at least one TN eCAMPUS course in Summer 2019 may be compensated for one course above the eight-hour (25% limit). Faculty teaching courses approved for TN eCAMPUS above the eight-hour maximum will be paid at the adjunct rate for up to four hours above eight. The maximum compensation in this case is still 33.33%.

2. Adjunct faculty and faculty on temporary contracts prior to the summer term will receive compensation per semester hour as follows (*Engineering and Computer Science):

|           |       |           |
|-----------|-------|-----------|
| Level IV  | $700 | $1,500 * |
| Level III | $650 | $1,250 * |
| Level II  | $600 | $1,250 * |
| Level I   | $550 | $1,000 * |

3. Adjunct levels should be determined by using the following criteria:
  - a. Adjunct faculty holding a terminal degree and ten (10) or more years of successful teaching or related experience are awarded Level IV rank.
  - b. Adjunct faculty holding a terminal degree and less than ten (10) years of teaching or related experience are awarded Level III rank.
  - c. Adjunct faculty holding a master's degree and more than three (3) years of teaching or related experience are awarded Level II rank.
  - d. Adjunct faculty holding a master's degree and three or fewer years of teaching or related experience are awarded Level I rank.
  - e. If an adjunct faculty member meets criteria for more than one rank, the higher rank will prevail. Occasionally, potential adjunct faculty will have credentials that are not easily placed into one of the above categories. The credentials of such potential adjunct faculty must be submitted to Academic Affairs for evaluation before any contract is extended or commitment is made to the person.
  - f. Faculty on full-time temporary contracts for the academic year are regarded as adjunct faculty during the summer and can only be paid at the adjunct rates

4. Researchers with funded projects can earn 1/9 per month (a maximum of 33.33%) of the preceding academic-year salary provided the work is performed over the entire summer period between spring and all academic-year contracts. Academic-year and summer contracts must not overlap. All research contracts must be recommended on the Summer Contract and approved through all steps of process in People Admin (by the Principal Investigator or Title III Director, the department chair and the appropriate dean). The following provisions also apply:
  - a. Salary is only for the actual weeks worked, is pro- rated if leave is taken, and may not exceed one-third of the academic-year salary.
  - b. Any faculty member whose salary split during the academic year must satisfy federal guidelines and work the entire academic-year contract period.

5. Twelve-month faculty including department chairs may not earn additional pay from the university without prior approval of the dean/director and Vice President of Academic Affairs. Twelve-month faculty must submit a faculty workload form to Academic Affairs through their Department Chair and Dean prior to the start of summer school. Twelve-month faculty earn annual leave throughout the year, therefore any annual leave taken must be approved in advance by their respective dean and submitted as official leave requests.

6. Teachers of record conducting non-credit courses, workshops, and other such instruction different from the traditional class structure may be compensated at a rate different from the rate described above (e.g., at the adjunct rate or at a rate determined by a separate course contract); however maximum pay would still be at 25% of the previous year's salary.

Procedure I-25.14: Faculty Absences

Faculty members are expected to meet all classes as scheduled. Absences from class during the summer will be treated the same as during the regular academic year. Summer pay may be prorated for absences. Twelve-month faculty members are expected to take annual leave for any days not in work status. The form titled "Record of Absence from Classes or Office Hours" should be submitted to the Department Chair for any absences.

Procedure I-25.15: Office Hours

The number of office hours for teaching faculty each week will equal the number of assigned instructional hours. Heads and deans/directors will ensure the scheduling and posting of appropriate office hours. Office hours must be posted as follows:

Full Summer and Summer 1- No later than June 3, 2019

Summer II- No later than July 8, 2019

CONTRACTS

All persons approved to teach or conduct research will be issued a contract. No person should begin employment until contract is approved.

Procedure I-25.16: Class Cancellation

The following minimum enrollments are required by the University for Summer 2019

| Level                     | Enrollment               |
|----------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| 600, 700 and 800                 | 10 students                     |
| 500                              | 10 students                     |
| 300 and 400                      | 15 students                     |
| 100 and 200                      | 20 students                     |
| TN eCampus- Undergraduate | 25 students (set by TBR) |
| TN eCampus- Graduate      | 15 students (set by TBR) |

If an insufficient number of students register for a given class, the class must be canceled unless with the approval of the dean of the college/school concerned and the AVP/Director of Summer school. Exceptions for classes with insufficient enrollments must be recommended by the dean/director and approved by the AVP/Director of Summer Sessions prior to first day of classes for summer sessions.

Procedure I-25.17: Procedures for Splitting Large Classes

Classes with large enrollments can no longer be routinely split into two sections. Due to budget constraints, the new section must be self-supporting. The request must be approved by the Dean of the College and the AVP/Director of Summer School. The AVP/Director of Summer School should be presented with a roll of the originating class and a roll of those students who plan to register at the time the request is made.

- No maximum size should be set on lecture-type classes. If enrollment exceeds the capacity of the room assigned to the class, the class should be reassigned to a larger room.
- Any maximum size set on a class must be approved by the Dean of the College and AVP/Director of Summer School before it is scheduled.
- Off-campus classes are not considered a duplicate class because of time and distance. Minimum class sizes are still enforced.

- Audit students do not count for minimum course enrollment in any circumstance.
- Exceptions for classes with less than minimum course enrollment will only be considered for approval by the AVP/Director of Summer School when recommended by the Department Chair and the Dean of the College. There must be an overriding student reason for this recommendation. Graduation deficiencies may be a compelling reason.

Procedure I-25.18: Procedure for Canceling Classes

All course sections and enrollments must be reviewed early on the first day of classes on June 3 and canceled if minimum enrollments are not met. Someone from the department must meet with any class that is canceled to assist students affected by the cancellation. All cancellations must be completed by June 5th. All Summer II courses must be reviewed and canceled by July 10th.

Procedure I-25.19: Semester-Hour Load of Students and Overloads

The maximum normal credit load for summer sessions is 15 hours distributed as follows:

- The maximum normal number of hours an undergraduate student may enroll in for Maymester, Summer I, Summer II, and Full-Term sessions is 15 semester-hours--no more than 6 semester hours in Session I and 6 semester hours in Session II. Again, Full-Term hours are split between Session I and Session II for the purpose of determining overloads.
- The maximum normal number of hours a student may enroll in for the Full-Term session is 12 semester-hours--i.e., a load of all whole-summer (10 weeks) courses.
- The maximum number of hours a student (undergraduate or graduate) may enroll in for TN eCampus is 12 semester-hours-- i.e., a load of all whole-summer (10 weeks) courses. Students enrolling in a combination of TN eCampus and regular campus courses may take a total of 12 hours. Again, Full-term TN eCampus hours are split between Session I and Session II for the purpose of determining overloads.
- Sophomore, junior, and senior students with cumulative degree averages of 3.00 and above and students completing degree requirements for August graduation may request a three-hour overload by completing a Request for Overload form. Under no circumstances may a student take more than a 7.5-hour load in any one summer term. A three-hour overload may be approved for graduating seniors (those who are certified by their advisors as prospective graduates for the Summer 2019 session, not just senior classification.) All requests for overload require the approval of the academic advisor and the Dean of the college/school in which the student is pursuing a major.
- The maximum course load for graduate students for either Summer I or Summer II shall be six semester hours credit. The maximum course load for Full Summer is 12 hours. The maximum course load for all three sessions is 12 hours. Graduate students desiring to carry an over-load of three hours must have the endorsement of the Major Advisor and the Dean of the College / School and the Dean of the Graduate School.

Procedure I-25.20: FAQs: Preparing Contracts for the Summer Sessions

Which contract should I use?

Use the NOTICE OF SUMMER APPOINTMENT, with appropriate Addendum, for all faculty members who were regular faculty during the previous semester. It is vitally important that the correct salary of the faculty member is entered. The account number for regular instructional faculty is (see—Procedure III-05.0: Decentralized Budget).

Use the ADJUNCT APPOINTMENT form for all part-time faculty members and faculty who were on a temporary contract during the previous semester. The account number for adjunct faculty is (see Procedure III-05.0: Decentralized Budget).

All contracts must include the addendum that all faculty, department chairs or researcher must sign agreeing to summer conditions.

How many contracts may I submit for any one faculty member?

Whenever possible, submit only one contract per faculty member for all assignments-teaching and research) through all the summer sessions.

Exceptions may occur as the Summer II schedule is adjusted, and these contracts may be processed in the usual way through use of PeopleAdmin.

Submit only one contract per faculty member for all assignments, even if the faculty member has two or more assignments in different areas of the university. For example, if a faculty member has both a teaching and a research assignment, both of those assignments should be submitted on a single contract if at all possible.

Any summer contract for faculty on grants must be signed by faculty and project director and then sent to faculty member's department for approval and entry into PeopleAdmin.

Who should sign each contract?

Each contract must also bear all appropriate signatures for acceptance in PeopleAdmin prior to starting summer employment

For research/grants obtain the signature of the appointee and project director prior to submitting the contract in PeopleAdmin. Also, submit a signed ADDENDUM TO SUMMER CONTRACTS with each contract. All contracts must go through department and they are responsible for input into People Admin.

How do I change a contract which has already been submitted?

Simply use a PARF in PeopleAdmin to add, subtract, or alter assignments made on a previously submitted faculty contract.

What do I need to do if faculty member's course is cancelled due to low enrollments or otherwise changes scheduled load?

It is the Department Chair/ and Dean's responsibility to submit a PARF for all faculty whose workload assignment will change due to increased or reduced hours. PARFs must be submitted within three days of the beginning of the summer session.

Do all faculty members teaching in Summer School have to sign the Faculty Addendum Form?

Yes. The addendum was developed for faculty to acknowledge and agree to the Summer Conditions that have been in effect for many years regarding class meetings, office hours and potential assignments for committee work during the summer.

Do faculty members who are completely on funded research have to sign the Summer Faculty Addendum?

No. This form was specifically designed for faculty "teaching" during the summer. There is a separate Addendum for Research Contracts for the researchers. If faculty is teaching and on research, both addendums must be submitted. Faculty members on funded research must have a contract with the granting agency or the principal investigator that spells out their specific duties and deliverables during the summer months. Note: this contract should include detailed activities, duties and deliverables that may not have been spelled out in the grant for each individual faculty member.

What period of time does a faculty researcher schedule to work to receive maximum 33.33%?

Researchers with funded projects can earn 1/9 per month (a maximum of 33.33%) of the preceding academic-year salary, provided the work is performed over the entire summer period between spring and fall academic-year contracts. Academic-year and summer contracts must not overlap. The earliest date for research to begin is May 6th and the last possible date is August 12, 2019. The following provisions also apply:

- a. Salary is only for the actual weeks worked, is prorated if leave is taken, and may not exceed one-third of the academic-year salary.
- b. Researcher's salary should be figured on number of weeks planned to work on research project.

Recommendation- for persons earning the maximum 33.33% start contract on May 6th and end on August 12th.

What must be done if a faculty member on funded research does not work per weeks contracted?

Submit a revised PARF in PeopleAdmin. It is the responsibility of the faculty researcher, the project leader, the department chair and the Dean to submit a revised PARF to accurately reflect the reduced number of days and weeks worked during the summer.

We have faculty members who are on 12- month contracts. What is the faculty workload for summer semester?

The faculty workload will be 15 hours during the summer semester. This is the same full-time teaching load as in the fall and spring semesters. As in the fall and spring semesters, a Faculty Workload Form and Release Time Justification Form must be submitted for all faculty on 12-month contracts. Faculty members on 12-month contracts are expected to work a 37.5 hour work week (see <http://www.tnstate.edu/vpbf/POL/6222.htm>).

What is the work status of 12 month contract faculty during periods between semesters? Are faculty members on a 12 month contract required to work when Summer School is not in session?

Faculty on 12 month contracts earn annual leave. As such, if they are not on campus with assigned duties during summer, these faculty members must take annual leave for days such as the time between spring and summer semesters and between the end of summer and start of fall semesters or any days not working during the summer time frame.

Can a faculty member be assigned to teach three courses totaling 9 hours this summer?

Yes, a faculty member may agree to teach nine hours but the maximum pay for those courses is still 25% (same as for eight hours). Also, no more than six hours can be taught in either Summer I or II.

When should we cancel classes that do not meet the minimum class load?

Since registration for Summer school is on April 2-May 28, you should be able to cancel most low- enrolled courses on June 3rd. All cancellations must be made by June 3rd for Summer I and Full semester courses before the time the class is scheduled to meet that day. Someone from the department should meet with canceled classes to advise the students of the cancellation and how they may enroll in alternate sections or other courses.

I have a temporary faculty member who has been with us for the maximum three year period. Can we hire him for the summer?

Yes. The summer session is not considered part of the maximum three-year period so you may hire that person on a summer contract, however, they can only be paid at the Adjunct rate.

I plan to hire a new faculty member whose contract begins in Fall semester. Can I use this person to teach during the Summer Semester?

Yes, however, as for Temporary Faculty, they may only be paid at the Adjunct rate.

Attachments - all forms may be downloaded at HR website: <http://www.tnstate.edu/hr/forms.aspx>

1. Revised Notice of Summer Appointment
2. Addendum to Summer Appointment for Faculty
3. Addendum for Researchers

These completed forms must be attached in PeopleAdmin

Procedure I-25.21: Standard Class Times for Summer

All classes must meet for a minimum of 750 minutes (12.5 hours) for each semester hour of credit. Thus, for example, a standard three-credit-hour course meets for at least 2250 minutes per session; a two-credit-hour course meets for 1500 minutes, and so on.

All Maymester classes must be scheduled for 12.5 clock hours per semester hour. Three hour classes must be scheduled for a total of 37.5 teaching hours during the three week schedule.

Due to requirement to move all day and evening courses from the AWC to main campus, this schedule should be closely followed. Deviations from this schedule should be discussed with Academic Affairs.

Weekend courses, seminars and other special courses must still be scheduled for 750 minutes (12.5 hours) per semester hour of credit plus appropriate 15 minute breaks.

Day Classes are scheduled 15 minutes apart rather than previous 10 minutes. Schedule calls for classes to begin at 8am.

Procedure I-26.0: Teacher of the Year Nomination and Selection

Title of TSU Teacher of Year and accompanying stipend of $1,500 is awarded to one Tennessee State University faculty member each year.

STEPS:

1. Insure faculty member meets the following criteria: full-time employment at TSU; minimum of three years teaching experience at TSU; three-year average teaching workload of at least 55% (8.25 hours); and not previous recipient of award.
2. Each college, school, or other freestanding instructional unit establishes a committee with representatives from the Faculty Development Committee and at least one other faculty member appointed by the dean/director and make nominations to Academic Affairs.
3. Academic Affairs receives nominations and supporting materials from college/school committees and gives to the Faculty Development Committee for review and recommendation.
4. Faculty Development Committee receives nominations, contacts all nominees for additional supporting materials, determines top three contenders, and recommends to the Vice President of Academic Affairs the nominee for Teacher of the Year.
5. Vice President of Academic Affairs selects the TSU Teacher of Year from nominations and recommendations from the Faculty Development Committee.
6. Teacher of the Year is to be named during the summer and will be asked to present a 5-10 minutes presentation on his/her philosophy of teaching at the Fall Faculty/Staff Institute.

Procedure I-27.0: Tenure/Promotion Applications

Tenured or Tenure-track faculty who meet Tennessee Board of Trustees, TSU-Board of Trustees and TSU requirements for promotion and/or tenure must make application during the semester or summer prior to the beginning of the academic year in which they wish to be recommended for tenure and/or promotion. A tenured or tenure-track faculty member becomes eligible to apply for promotion when he/she meets the defined qualifications for the various faculty ranks (See Revised Promotion Policy 2012 for minimum qualifications in terms of time and criteria.)

STEPS:

1. The department chair of each tenure and/or promotion recommending unit is responsible for initiating the tenure application through verifying that the faculty member is eligible to submit a portfolio for review by first accurately completing and signing the Appendix B: Tenure and/or Promotion Eligibility Checklist form.
Note: For a department head applying for tenure and/or promotion, the college dean will initiate the application process. A copy of this form will be given to the applicant to include in his/her portfolio.
2. Beginning fall 2018, all tenure/promotion portfolios will be submitted and reviewed electronically using the university's eLearn system. After verifying a faculty member's eligibility for tenure and/or promotion, the department chair must complete Tenure and/or Promotion Faculty Portfolio Request Form at https://tnstateu.az1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV\_8iDVNMKWUMXY3UV to authorize and request the creation of an electronic tenure and/or promotion portfolio course shell. Note: The faculty applying for tenure/promotion cannot authorize and request the creation of his/her portfolio course shell. The faculty member applying for tenure/promotion will receive an e-mail once the portfolio course shell has been created. The e-mail will contain the Faculty Portfolio Help Guide with instructions for accessing and adding content to the faculty portfolio course shell. The promotion/tenure portfolio guidelines document is accessible via http://www.tnstate.edu/academic\_affairs/ under resources/faculty specific link.
3. For promotions, department heads, and deans/directors must review Tennessee Board of Trustees, TSU, and departmental/college conditions for eligibility.
4. Department chairs also are required to identify and communicate to the Vice President of Academic Affairs the names of faculty members serving on the departmental tenure/promotion faculty personnel committees to insure that they are granted access to review electronic portfolios in eLearn for review and submission of tenure/promotion recommendations. Similarly, deans are required identify and communicate to the Vice President of Academic Affairs the names of members of their college tenure/promotion faculty personnel committees and the college faculty representative designated to serve on the Academic Affairs University Personnel/Tenure Promotion Committee. All committees with designated chairpersons must be formed and communicated to Academic Affairs no later than the last Friday in August.

5. Promotion is to be awarded by the University through the positive action of the Tennessee State University Board of Trustees in recognition of merit, achievement and potential.
6. Tenure/promotion applications are normally acted on by the TSU Board of Trustees at its June meeting. Faculty members are notified by Academic Affairs in the summer after receipt of approval.
7. Salary increases for promotions are based on academic rank and are 10% for Professor; 7% for Associate Professor; and 5% for Assistant Professor.

Faculty Portfolio Help Guide REQUESTING A FACULTY PORTFOLIO COURSE SHELL

The chair, or their designee, should request a secure portfolio course shell be created on behalf of the faculty member by completing the Tenure and/or Promotion Portfolio Request Form. The faculty member will receive an email once the shell has been created.

Procedure I-28.0: Textbook Adoptions

Each TSU academic department will activate independent Departmental Textbook Committee(s) and meet independently to review all faculty textbook adoption requests and develop strategies for reducing costs of textbooks and other course materials. These departmental committees shall meet each semester to review adoption requests. TBR Policy 2:07:00:00 requires institutions governed by the Tennessee Board of Regents to develop policies for minimizing the cost of textbooks and ancillary course materials. In compliance with the TBR policy, TSU establishes the following procedures.

STEPS:

- I. All TSU academic departments will immediately activate their Departmental Textbook Committee(s) to review all faculty textbook adoption requests and develop strategies for reducing costs of textbooks and other course materials. This Committee shall meet each semester to review adoption requests.
- II. A TSU Bookstore Advisory Committee, under the leadership of the Vice President for Business and Finance, reviews and discusses issues related to the bookstore. Textbook cost saving strategies will be placed on the agenda in future meetings.
- III. The TSU bookstore vendor (herein after referred to as Bookstore) provides faculty with textbook requisition forms for review for the subsequent semester. Deadlines are set by the Office of Academic Affairs to allow Bookstore to have sufficient time for ordering and receiving textbooks prior to the beginning of the semester. Deadlines for submittal are as follows:

Spring Semester- October 15 preceding start of semester
Summer Semester-March 1 preceding start of semester
Fall Semester- March 15 preceding start of semester
- IV. Each semester faculty members will be required to go to www.tsushop.com to submit textbook adoptions or changes. It is each faculty member's responsibility to submit a list of course materials to the departmental textbook committee and department chair prior to these deadline dates. In order to save students money, instructors will clearly state on the course syllabus which books are required and which books are only recommended. The department chair will ensure that faculty members within the department have submitted book orders to the Bookstore by the posted date, so that the bookstore can ensure that textbooks and other course materials are available prior to the beginning of the semester.
- V. Once at www.tsushop.com, go to the bottom of the first page and select Online Adoptions under Faculty Services.
- VI. Watch the helpful online video tool.
- VII. If you are a new user, select the, "New? Register here," blue banner. Use your TSU email address and the password 0231 to register. Select Order on the menu in the top right-hand corner.
- VIII. If you have no changes to the course materials you used last term, email 0231txt@follett.com and alert the staff the bookstore that there is "no change" for your course number.
- IX. If you wish to make a change to your previous adoption, use the eAdoption instructions that follow and submit your new materials.
- X. If you experience any difficulties, email 0231txt@follett.com

- XI. The Bookstore will provide a list of missing adoptions to the college/school deans for assistance with collection.
- XII. Textbooks for multi-section division courses (1000-2000 level) will be adopted by the departmental textbook committee for a minimum two-year period. Exceptions to this policy must be approved by the department chair and dean based on a written justification from the departmental textbook committee. This policy will allow the Bookstore to buyback adopted books each semester during the three-year period and, thus, save students money through purchase of used versus new textbooks.
- XIII. Textbooks for upper division and graduate classes will be adopted for at least one academic year. Exceptions to this policy must be approved by the department chair and dean based on a written justification from the departmental textbook committee. This policy will allow the Bookstore to buy back adopted books each semester during the period and, thus, save students money on used versus new textbooks.
- XIV. If the faculty member and departmental textbook committee propose to change a previous course textbook selection, it will be noted on the textbook requisition form submitted to Bookstore. Bookstore will review and provide the faculty member and departmental textbook committee a preliminary cost statement about the book. The department chair, departmental textbook committee and the faculty member will analyze this data.
- XV. Faculty will be strongly encouraged to review and implement use of web-based supplementary course materials available for free use.
- XVI. Information concerning required and supplementary textbooks will continue to be made available to students prior to the beginning of each semester on the Bookstore website. Posted information includes the required title, author, cost publisher, edition and whether the item is required, recommended or optional. The International Standard Book Number (ISBN) information will be loaded to the website two weeks prior to the start of each semester. The site will post the cost of both new and used textbook/materials. This information would allow students to consider options of purchase including Bookstore or other sources.
- XVII. Departmental websites that provide information on textbooks will include timely information on textbooks with information as outlined in step two above. This information would allow students to consider options of purchase including Follett Bookstores or other sources.
- XVIII. Bookstore will disclose to faculty members on a per course basis the costs to students of purchasing required textbooks and course materials. Faculty members must acknowledge the price of the textbooks and materials before an order is completed. Faculty members will be advised to review bookstore website for course material pricing within one week of adoption submission to the bookstore. Updated information regarding the price of new or used course materials is available on an individual course and section basis.
- XIX. Faculty members will consider practices that reduce the cost of course materials such as adopting the least expensive option from the available products that meet the requirements of the course. Bundled materials should only be considered if they deliver cost savings to the students. (Note: "Bundled" means a group of objects joined together by packaging or required to be purchased as an indivisible unit.)
- XX. Bookstore will allow TSU students, where feasible, the option of purchasing textbooks and other study products separately for courses where the textbook/ materials traditionally come in a bundled package.

- XXI. Bookstore will actively promote and publicize book buy-back programs. Buy-back efforts will be supported with printed media and advertising, e-mail blasts to registered subscribers of the bookstore distribution list, and vendor promotions and signage.
- XXII. Copies of textbooks provided by publishers at no cost to the University will be made available for student use through the TSU library. Instructors will obtain permission from the publishers to place review or gift copies on library reserve. TSU library will develop and post reserve loan policies for all textbooks acquired in this way.
- XXIII. Instructors and library staff will closely monitor student use of reserve copies to ensure compliance with copyright regulations.
- XXIV. In order to reduce potential for COPYRIGHT ABUSE, TSU will establish, publish, and post copyright information to make students aware of penalties for copying copyright materials.
- XXV. Bookstore staff will be responsible for compliance with this policy including all textbook inventories and monitoring as set forth in these policies.

Procedure I-30.0: Visiting Scholar and Visiting Researcher (International)

TSU faculty, staff, departments, colleges, and units that entertain requests from individuals from other universities, institutions, and businesses who wish to visit the campus and use TSU facilities to conduct collaborative research or observe research in TSU facilities must submit an International Visiting Scholar Recommendation form to the Office of International Affairs to begin this process. It is important that the University maintain a record of such visitors and review documentation or agreements in order to protect the University's interests, including intellectual property. Federal agencies have placed great emphasis on regulating access to research facilities when that research access has implications under federal export control regulations.

Tennessee State University (TSU) recognizes that individuals from other universities, institutions, and businesses may wish to visit the University for extended periods of time for reasons including, but not limited to, conducting research in a TSU facility, collaborating with University researchers on specific projects, and observing University faculty research

These guidelines apply to TSU faculty, staff, departments, colleges, and units that entertain requests from individuals from other universities, institutions, and businesses who wish to visit the campus and use TSU facilities to conduct collaborative research or observe research in TSU facilities. These individuals do not carry any official status of employment with the University and must have formal University sponsors. TSU faculty, staff, departments, colleges, and units that entertain requests from individuals from other universities, institutions, and businesses who wish to visit the campus and use TSU facilities to conduct collaborative research or observe research in TSU facilities must submit an International Visiting Scholar Recommendation form to the Office of Diversity and International Affairs to begin this process.

Definitions

1. Department or Unit Sponsor: Department or unit within which the visiting scholar or visiting researcher will be working or collaborating. The department or unit sponsor is responsible for obtaining the signature of the visitor on any agreements required (e.g., visiting scholar/researcher agreement or visiting scholar/researcher and company agreement).
2. Visiting Scholar: Scholar temporarily residing at TSU with defined but unescorted access to University facilities. Visiting scholar's temporary engagement does not imply a continuation of their relationship with the University. The designation of "visiting scholar" is ordinarily made for a minimum of two weeks and a maximum of one year.
3. Visiting Researcher: Same as visiting scholar except that the visitor has the title "visiting researcher" and generally has access to University laboratory facilities.

Visa Processing

The J-1 exchange visitor classification is the status most commonly used by international visiting scholars/researchers. Under the exchange visitor status, scholars, professors, researchers, and others may come to the United States for defined periods of time for the purpose of educational exchange. Any international visitor who has sufficient academic training to benefit from an academic or professional program at a U.S. college or university may be eligible for this status. Contact Mark Gunter-Director of International Student Services (ISS) at 615-963-5639 for assistance with visas.

To obtain a J-1 visa for a visiting scholar/researcher, the individual sponsor and the sponsoring department/unit must agree to and complete the following steps:

STEPS:

1. Complete the International Visiting Scholar Recommendation Form and submit it to Mark Gunter-Director of International Student Services (ISS) at mgunter@tnstate.edu.
2. Make a reasonable effort to determine that the English proficiency of a proposed visitor is sufficient to allow meaningful interaction between the individual and University faculty/staff and the greater community.
3. Assist the Scholar/researcher in establishing temporary housing.
4. Assist a visitor in obtaining visiting scholar/researcher benefits (based on the researcher agreement, office space, TSU ID card, library and computer access)
5. Provide cross-cultural interaction between a visitor, the department's or unit's faculty, and/or staff (or engage the visitor in cross-cultural exchanges with faculty and/or staff in the department or unit).
6. Show active interest in the research or activity being undertaken by a visitor and have the visitor participate in research and other activities of the department or unit.

7. Designate a University faculty member, research staff member, or appropriate employee as the individual (formal) sponsor of the visitor.

J-1 visa holders (as well as the accompanying spouse and dependents of J-1 visa holders) should be adequately covered by health insurance. Any visitor whose DS-2019 Form for a J-1 visa has been processed by International Student Services (ISS) is eligible for the same type of insurance that is available to students. The insurance program is an important matter covered in the orientation program offered to international visiting scholars/researchers.

Procedure II-04.0: Administrative Units Reorganization

Administrative Units Reorganization is a restructuring of administrative divisions, departments, and organizational units for the purposes of providing enhanced services, operational efficiency and maximization of scarce, limited resources.

STEPS:

- Administrative units reporting directly to the President and the Vice President of Academic Affairs require approval by the Tennessee State University Board of Trustees as reflected on the organizational charts submitted during the July and the October budgets submission.
- Changes in the organizational structure in units below the hierarchy (i.e., Direct Reports to the President and the Vice President of Academic Affairs) in Step One are to be recommended by the Vice President of Academic Affairs/Vice-President to the President and approved by the President or his/her designee.
- Upon approval of recommended changes, the appropriate personnel action request forms (PARF) or job reclassification forms with job description are to be submitted to Human Resources as appropriate to ensure employees' duties, responsibilities, and title are consistent with the Human Resources' classification plan prior to implementation of the reorganization change.
- Upon appropriate approvals, organizational charts should be developed or updated to reflect the organizational structure change.
- Submit corrected charts to Vice President of Academic Affairs's Office via email for review, approval, and updating in Master Organizational Chart Workbook.

Procedure II-05.0: Admissible Items for Purchase and Processing in Tiger$hoppe

This procedure is not intended to inform the general University population of the technical and/or legal requirements of purchasing in such technical processes as contracts, bidding procedures, etc. However, in some instances, departments must furnish technical information data to ensure that the department receives satisfactory materials to accomplish its intended purposes and mission(s). Users should check with Purchasing at all times to ensure that any information contained in the procedure is the latest. Instead of listing items that can be purchased, this procedure will focus on items that CANNOT be purchased.

Prohibited Transactions

Funds appropriated by the legislature for general operating use, including the unrestricted funds budgeted to university departments, may not be used for extravagant or personal purchases, or for items or services that are not prudent or necessary to carry out university business.

The following examples of prohibited expenditures include, but are not limited to:

- Personal letterhead or stationery;
- Christmas cards;
- Personal photographs, pictures or frames;
- Elaborate business cards;
- Office area coffee pots or coffee makers;
- Plants, flowers, or vases for decorating individual offices or classrooms;
- Gifts other than approved awards;
- Coffee, pastries or foodstuffs for consumption by the staff except in approved conference settings;
- Personal or social memberships to clubs, organizations, and associations (institutional or approved individual professional memberships are acceptable).

Waivers of such restrictions must be approved in writing and in advance by the President, Vice President for Business and Finance, or Purchasing Director.

Alcohol, Drugs, and Hazardous Merchandise

Federal and state laws govern the purchase, control, and use of narcotic and dangerous drugs. In order to insure that such materials are ordered, shipped, and subsequently stored, safe guarded, and used in accordance with government regulations and codes, applicable regulations shall be followed.

Tiger$hoppe Overview

Prior to initiating a Tiger$hoppe transaction perform the following actions:

Registration: Go to https://solutions.Tiger\$hoppe.com/apps/Router/Login?OrgName=TSU&URL= to register.

NOTE: You must complete the Banner Access form posted on the Finance and Accounting website and submit it per the instructions listed on the form before you can submit your requisition.

The following tips will assist you when entering your requisitions:

Special Forms:

The screenshot shows a web interface titled "Special Forms" with a dropdown arrow. Below the title is a grid of 12 buttons, each representing a different form. The buttons are arranged in two rows of six. The first row contains: "* Non-Catalog Goods Form *", "Catering Request", "Travel Request", "IT Equipment & Software", "Business Cards Order Form", and "Travel - Conference Registration...". The second row contains: "Payment Request / Direct Pay", "Contract Services", "Travel Supplement", "Service & Maintenance", "Change Request", and "Temporary Staffing". Each button has a small icon in the top right corner.

1. Non-Catalog Goods – Use this form when the vendor or product is not available through Product Search.
2. IT Equipment and Software – Use this form to order computers, software and other computer related items from vendors other than Dell or Apple. This form goes through the Computer Resource Committee for approval prior to being received by Procurement.
3. Change Request – Use this form to make monetary or other changes to an original purchase order. It is not used to add additional information or items to an original requisition. DO NOT use this form to supplement food service request. Use the Food and Entertainment form and reference the Purchase Order Number in the description.
4. External or Contract Services – Use this form for the submission of contractual agreements such as consultants, speakers, etc. All contracts must have original/manual signatures. The only change in submitting contractual agreements is that the PR is now placed in the HigherMarkets system.
5. Catering Request – Use this form for food service requests. Attach a Banquet Event Order (BEO) form or other type of quote. Also attach an On-Campus Catering Request Form, regardless of which vendor will cater the event or the location of the event. (Only attach an Off-Campus Catering Request Form if an off-campus cater will be bring food onto campus.) Additional information about the event may be attached as appropriate, such as flyers, correspondence, etc. If the food purchase is in the form of gift certificates (usually for research participants), there must also be a statement that “the certificates will be safeguarded as if cash and a list of recipients will be maintained on file for audit purposes.” The University’s food/beverage policy is available at <http://www.tnstate.edu/vpbfi/POL/Food%20and%20Beverage%20Purchases.htm>.

NOTE: Fund/Organization approvers of food/beverage requisitions should NOT “APPROVE AND COMPLETE” the PR. Instead, use the “FORWARD” option to submit the PR to the appropriate Vice President. If the PR comes back to your folder (and this may happen if the Fund and/or Org was not approved in the initial step), then “APPROVE AND COMPLETE” – but only after making sure the Vice President’s approval is in the PR history. The PR will then go to the Vice President for Business and Finance for approval. If the PR has not been approved by your Vice President, it will be rejected by the Vice President for Business and Finance.

6. Payment Request / Direct Pay – Use this form for membership dues, subscriptions, reimbursements, student stipends, etc. An invoice must be attached when using this form.
Reimbursements must have the prior approval of the Procurement Office and the written approval must be attached before payment can be processed. A payment request form that has been processed by the Procurement Office will produce a “Pending PO number” only (Ex. PENDING12345). To check the status, click on the pending number. Under the STATUS bar, you will see Document Status and Workflow. If the Workflow reads “Completed”, it been paid by Accounts Payable. If it reads “Pending “, it is in the process stage for payment. (Therefore, do not contact Accounts Payable. Your payment will be processed or you will be notified of any concerns and/or problem with payment.)

7. Service & Maintenance – Use this form to cover maintenance and/or service of equipment. Information regarding the equipment’s type, model, and serial number is required. Service and Maintenance exceeding $5,000 MUST be accompanied by an agreement.
8. Temporary Staffing – Use this form to hire personnel from a temporary agency. Temporary Staffing must be approved by Human Resources.
9. Contract Services – Use this form for services and/or goods requiring contracts between the University and the vendor.

The following suppliers are considered Showcased Suppliers wherein their catalog is uploaded into Tiger$hoppe. However these items are still subject to bid parameters.

Memberships - All requisitions for membership dues and subscriptions must include a statement that the purchase is “directly related to the vision/mission/goals of the University”. If the requisition is for individual (versus institutional) membership dues or subscriptions, there must also be a statement that the vendor does not offer an institutional option or a statement that the individual option is less expensive; and a statement that the membership dues or subscription do not maintain or enhance the employee’s professional status, such as a bar association membership for an attorney. Additional information on this topic is available at <http://www.tnstate.edu/vpb/POL/Membership%20Dues%20and%20Subscriptions.htm>.

Office Supplies – All office supply purchases, must be placed with Staples Business Advantage unless supported by documentation of lower pricing by another vendor. Purchase requisitions from vendors other than Staples without supporting documentation will be returned to the departments unprocessed.

Please attach a sample copy of your letterhead or envelope when submitting. The source vendor for printing letterhead and envelopes is: Print Authority. Any exception to the design or type of envelopes and letterheads must be approved by the Office of University Publications.

2. To complete a thorough search for vendor name before choosing “New Vendor”. Enter only a few letters of the vendor name, i.e. (enter “Chro” for “Chronicle” – all vendor names beginning with “Chro” will pull up in your search). When using an individual’s name the search must be completed on the individual FIRST name.
  1. Favorites: Use this tab to organize frequently used items, such as office, lab and computer supplies.
  2. Quick Order: Use this tab if you have a valid vendor, catalog or product number.

1. Non-Catalog Goods – Use this form when the vendor or product is not available through Product Search.
2. Change Request – Use this form to make monetary changes only. It is not used to add additional information or items to an original requisition. DO NOT use this form to supplement food service request. Use the Food and Entertainment form and reference the Purchase Order Number in the description.
3. If you do not find your vendor name listed – select “New Vendor” and provide the following information in the “Internal Notes” section:
  - Vendor Name
  - Vendor Address
  - Vendor Phone Number
  - Vendor Fax Number (mandatory)

  - Vendor W-9
4. Once you have entered your order and selected Review you can then Place Order. However, if you receive Empty Cart instead of Place Order – Stop Here – the system is UNAVAILABLE FOR USE.
5. If your order has been rejected please click on the HISTORY tab of the purchase requisition to review why the PR was rejected.

Things You Need to Know to Avoid Rejection

If your purchase requisition rejects, please read the “History” tab on the purchase requisition prior to contacting the Procurement Office. If the PR rejects due to:

- Insufficient funds – identify where you will be moving funds from then complete and submit a Budget Revision to the Budget Office or if grant funds are involved submit to the Grants Office.
- Not authorized to post against a fund and/or an organization – complete the Banner Access form posted on the Finance and Accounting website and submit per instructions listed on the form.
- Memberships must include required statements. (see Tiger$hoppe Tips)
- Food Service must be FORWARD TO your Vice President for approval. Request for Food Service must include Banquet Event Order Form or quote from off-campus vendor, if applicable, On Campus Catering Request Form or Off-Campus Catering Request Form, if applicable), and include any additional information about the event.
- Unauthorized purchases or purchases made without first obtaining a duly authorized purchase order must include a letter of justification approved by your vice president. In accordance with University Purchasing Policy and Procedures, a duly authorized purchase order is required to be issued prior to a vendor providing any products and/or services. No University Department may order directly by letter, telephone or email or in any manner. The University will assume no obligation except in a previously issued and duly authorized purchase order.

Procedure II-06.0: Allocation of Space

All facilities, spaces, and grounds belong to the University and not the individual or unit currently assigned to use space to conduct authorized University business. The following steps should be followed when requesting or reassigning buildings and rooms.

STEPS:

1. Discuss currently assigned space and request for new space first with the appropriate department chair/director, dean, then Vice President of Academic Affairs.
2. Send request or reallocation for new space for review and approval to the Facilities Management Office.
ATTENTION: Mr. Albert Hill, Interim Associate Vice President for Facilities Management.
3. The Space Advisory Committee is a decision-making body regarding space issues. As such, it will provide a forum for the discussion and approval of individual space requests, campus-wide space plans, plans for new space, space utilization reports, policies and procedures regulating the use of facilities, and other critical planning issues that require policy-level deliberation.

Procedure II-07.0: Annual Employee Evaluation

Tennessee State University recognizes employees have a need and expectation to be continuously advised of how their performance is perceived by their supervisors. The performance review process is used for that purpose. The performance review process isn't a disciplinary process. It is a developmental process that is used to assist personnel in professional development. Although Tennessee State University's performance review process is designed to measure an employee's overall job performance during the performance year, the evaluation should be directed towards goal planning and goal attainment. It is a time to review progress on goals, identify accomplishments and achievements, as well as, identify areas of improvement, create goals and develop plans for the coming year. The information presented during the annual evaluation should never be a surprise to the employee or supervisor. Employee evaluation is an ongoing process for which both the employee and his/her supervisor should prepare.

STEPS:

1. To prepare for the annual evaluation, the employee uses the Self-Evaluation Questionnaire and the Annual Goal Setting Form and evaluates him/herself with the sections on behavior standards and job performance on the Performance Evaluation Form.
2. The supervisor completes the performance evaluation form for each employee, based on objective measures, rather than subjective measures. If an employee is also a supervisor of paid employees, complete Part III, Supervisory Factors of the Employee Performance Evaluation form.
3. Next, a meeting will be scheduled with the employee's direct supervisor.
4. After the meeting, the supervisor is to write the final evaluation document incorporating useful information from the employee's self-evaluation. Both the supervisor and employee must sign the final document. A copy of the final document is given to the employee, and the original copy goes in the personnel file.
5. At this point, if an employee disagrees with the final version of the evaluation, he or she may indicate so by attaching an explanation of differing opinion and any documents supporting that opinion.
6. Finally, once the evaluation has been completed, it should be signed by the employee, immediate supervisor, and next level supervisor, and sent to Human Resources to be placed in the employee's personnel file.
7. The performance evaluation is used:
  - By the supervisor, to evaluate the employee's job performance.
  - By the employee, to show adherence to specific behavioral standards.

The forms to be used for the performance evaluation process can be downloaded from the Human Resources website by clicking on Manager's Toolkit or clicking on the links BELOW:

Procedure II-08.0: Cellular Telephone/Stipend Request

Tennessee State University does not provide employees with individual cellular telephones or PDAs. Tennessee State University offers a taxable stipend for cellular telephone service to employees whose duties and responsibilities require them to carry cellular telephones. This policy allows the University to meet IRS regulations regarding business versus personal use of cellular telephones. Such requests must be initiated by the department chair and approved by the appropriate vice president or President.

STEPS:

Except as stated below, Tennessee State University will not provide cellular telephones, cellular telephone-enabled personal digital assistants (PDAs), or similar devices to employees. Tennessee State University will also not provide compensation or reimbursement for cellular telephone charges incurred by any employee, student, volunteer, or any other person. The use of personal cellular telephones for business use other than as provided for below is not reimbursable. The University may continue to provide radio service (through cellular telephone carriers) to employees for business use.

A. Pooled telephones for short-term checkout

Under certain unusual circumstances and where it is necessary to share a cellular telephone within a group of faculty, staff, and/or students, cellular telephones may be obtained by departments. Personal use of these telephones is expressly prohibited. These phones cannot be assigned to one individual. Circumstances under which a telephone may be checked out are:

1. For events where the safety of students, faculty, staff, or visitors may be in question, such as Homecoming activities.
2. When a faculty member or staff member is traveling on University business and must be contacted while traveling. Personal calls on pooled telephones are expressly prohibited. A pooled telephone must be checked out (or approved for check-out) by an employee with signature authority for the FOAP that will be charged for its use. All incurred charges will be billed to the department that checked out the telephone.

B. University stipend for use of personal cellular service

Tennessee State University recognizes that some employees may be able to perform their duties and responsibilities more efficiently if they have a cellular telephone. For this limited category of employees, the University will provide a monthly stipend for the use of personal cellular service as follows:

1. Stipend payment for use of personal cellular service. For a limited number of employees, the University may pay an allowance that contributes monetarily to an employee's personal cellular telephone plan by means of a cellular telephone stipend.
2. Qualifications:

To qualify for a cellular telephone stipend, an employee must complete a Cellular Telephone/Stipend Request Form (Attachment A) clearly stating why a cellular telephone is required to perform his/her job duties. The form must be approved by the appropriate department chair and division head.

II. PERSONNEL APPROVED FOR STIPENDS

In addition to those above, the following five (5) key employees are provided PDA stipends because the performance of their jobs requires them to be available for communication at all times, including routinely while off campus, after hours, on weekends, and while routinely traveling or working off-campus on University business and due to being required to respond to situations most appropriately addressed by email, required to have immediate communications capability to perform their job duties and to protect the safety of students, staff, or the general public.

Key personnel

1. President
2. Vice Presidents
3. Athletics Director
4. University Counsel
5. Executive Assistant to the President

The following services employees are eligible for radios, telephones, pooled telephones, or PDAs:

Service Personnel

1. Media Relations representative (telephone or PDA)
2. Facilities and Campus Police Services employees (radios or pooled telephones)
3. Moveable Property manager (telephone)
4. Telecommuting employees for whom the University does not provide a land line (telephone) or computer access (LAN or T1) and whose job requires them to be available for communication at all times
5. CIT staff as needed (telephones or radios)

The following emergency responders are eligible for radios, telephones, or PDAs as follows:

Emergency Responders

1. Chief of Campus Police Services (telephone or PDA)
2. Facilities employees at the level of Assistant Director or above (radios or telephones)

Examples of justification for a stipend are:

- a. Being an emergency responder for law enforcement with communications needs that cannot be met with other available alternatives, such as pagers or radios.
- b. Being required to respond to critical system failures or service disruptions.
- c. Being required to have immediate communications capability to protect the safety of students, employees or the general public.

- d. Routinely traveling off-campus on University business and needing to communicate with the University while enroute.
- e. Being unable to meet communications needs with other available alternatives, such as pagers or radios.

III. STIPEND

A. Amount:

If authorized, employees required to carry a cellular telephone for University business will receive compensation in the form of a cellular telephone stipend. The stipend amount for a cellular telephone will be $50 per month or $100 per month for a data device. This amount is intended to approximate average basic local plan costs and makes periodic equipment replacement and all payroll tax consequences the responsibility of the employee. This amount is subject to annual review and adjustment. TSU Telecommunications will publish any changes in stipend amounts each July. The University reserves the right to increase or decrease the amount or the availability of the stipend at any time.

B. Payment:

The stipend will be paid from departmental funds through the regular payroll process and charged against each department budget. The stipend will be paid monthly. Such stipends are taxable income subject to required tax withholdings. The stipend is not an entitlement and is not part of the employee base salary.

C. Appropriate Use:

All telephone services must be used in compliance with all appropriate laws and regulations of the State of Tennessee.

D. Termination of Telephone Service:

Any employee who receives a stipend must immediately notify his/her supervisor if the employee terminates or reduces business usage of his/her cellular telephone service or if he/she cancels cellular telephone service. The employee is also responsible for verifying with the Payroll Office when and if the phone the employee receives a stipend for has been terminated. Failure on the part of an employee to notify his/her supervisor of termination or reduction of cellular telephone use/service constitutes a terminable offense if the employee continues to receive a stipend.

IV. DISCONTINUATION OF CELLULAR TELEPHONE SERVICE

On January 31, 2010, Tennessee State University will terminate all cellular telephone accounts with the exception of department-pool telephones. Any employee needing to avoid disruption in his/her current service is required to request a stipend.

Procedure II-09.0: Contract Routing Form

The Contract Routing Form must be attached to each grant, contract, dual service agreements, memorandum of understanding, maintenance or licensure agreement, letter of intent, or other contracting document obligating the University. The form must have all required signatures prior to submission to the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs. Sponsored Research approval process must be followed if applicable prior to submission to the Vice President of Academic Affairs for review. No form is to be taken directly to the President or Legal Office prior to review and approval by the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs.

STEPS:

- 1) Attach the form signed by the President (or designee).
- 2) Make sure the contract start date is not prior to the Preapproval signed date and allow ample time for contract processing through the TSU system.
- 3) If a grant, attach Sponsored Research Proposal Routing Form, and follow procedure established by that Office.
- 4) Acquire signatures of department/unit head and dean.
- 5) Bring hard copy of form and contract to the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs for review and consideration.
- 6) If denied, form will be returned to dean/director office.
- 7) If approved, form will be scanned and forwarded to the Office of the University Counsel for review.
- 8) If denied by the Office of the University Counsel, the form will be returned to Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs, then returned to originator.
- 9) If Office of the University Counsel approves form, it will be forwarded to the President's Office for action.
- 10) If approved, the signed form will be returned to dean/direct report for submission to the external agency and, if applicable, entering into Tiger$hoppe for purchase order.
- 11) While it is the intent of the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs to review and submit Contract Routing Forms to the next area of review within a 48 hours period, the processing time of the other units maybe longer.

12) No contract should be written that violates proper internal controls or segregation of duties.

All contracts should indicate funds are to be remitted to the Vice President for Business Office and Finance Division and not the department/college unless a process has been established and documented with the TSU Bursar's Office in accordance with Internal Audit procedures. It is the responsibility of the department/college to insure information is provided to insure proper receipting of funds and timely billing working with Grants Accounting. Reporting and financial reconciliations working with the Grants Accounting Office is the responsibility of the originating department.

Procedure II-10.0: Departmental Review of Student Records

STEPS:

1. A student's request to inspect and review a record will be granted within a reasonable period of time.
2. The record must be inspected and reviewed by the student or his/her designee, upon receipt of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act Form - completed, in advance, in the presence of the administrator in charge or a designee. # Tennessee State University

Student Consent to Release Confidential Information

FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT (FERPA)

In compliance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) and Tennessee State University's policy on the Disclosure of Educational Records, a student may grant the University the right to release confidential information such as grades, academic progress reports, class attendance records, financial aid, disciplinary actions, and financial account information, to parent(s)/guardians(s)/spouse by completing the "Student Release of Confidential Information Form" provided.

The release does not apply to information such as counseling and health records protected by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). Authorization is valid as long as the student is enrolled at Tennessee State University or until receipt of a written statement from the student cancelling consent.

Disclosure of Educational Records

Tennessee State University will disclose information from a student's educational records only with the written consent of the student, except to school officials who have a legitimate educational interest in the records, certain government or other public officials, and parents of an eligible student who claim the student as a dependent for income tax purposes. However, directory information so designated by the University or the results of any disciplinary proceeding conducted by the University alleging a sexual offense may be released without the student's consent. Records of both the accused and accuser are subject to this policy.

Directory Information

Tennessee State University designates the following items as Directory Information: student name, address, telephone listing, institutional electronic mail address, photograph(s), videotape/digital image(s), date and place of birth, major field of study, classification, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of members of athletic teams, dates of attendance, degree(s), honors and academic awards received, and the most recent previous educational agency or institution attended by the student. The University may disclose any of these items without prior written consent, unless the student completes and submits to the Records Office the "Request to Prevent Disclosure of Directory Information Form" within the first two weeks of classes each semester.

Parental Disclosure without Written Consent

Under FERPA, when a student turns 18 years of age or enrolls at a postsecondary institution at any age, all parental FERPA rights are transferred to the student. However, FERPA does provide for some information to be shared by schools with parents or legal guardians without the student's consent. Examples are: (1) disclosure of educational records if the student is a dependent for income tax purposes. This would apply to a student who was a dependent for the most recent tax year; (2) disclosure of educational records if a health or safety emergency involves their student; or (3) if the student is under age 21 and has violated any law or policy concerning the use or possession of alcohol or controlled substance.

Parents should discuss their intentions to obtain confidential information with their student and complete the "Student Release of Confidential Information Form" and submit it to the Records Office. The student may cancel consent after it is given by submitting a signed request to cancel the release in person at the Records Office.

Procedure II-11.0: Emergency Evacuation Plan

To anticipate possible emergencies and disasters and implement measures to reduce any indecisions should such conditions occur. To ensure the safety of people first and reduce the amount of damage to the library facilities and materials should such conditions occur.

STEPS:

TSU Emergency Response Procedures based on Emergency Type.

1. Evacuation Maps are located near stairwells, elevators, and throughout each floor of every building or on the building on TSU Main & Avon Williams Campuses.
2. ON-CAMPUS EMERGENCIES, DIAL EXT. 5171
3. OFF-CAMPUS EMERGENCIES, DIAL 9-911 (9-911 if using campus telephone system)
4. IN ALL CASES OF FIRE, CAMPUS POLICE DEPARTMENT MUST BE NOTIFIED IMMEDIATELY!

FIRE

When the building evacuation alarm is sounded

STEPS:

1. Walk to the nearest marked exit and ask others to do the same.
2. ASSIST THE HANDICAPPED IN EXITING THE BUILDING!
3. *** Remember that elevators are reserved for handicapped persons.
4. DO NOT USE THE ELEVATOR IN CASE OF FIRE.
5. Stay near the floor where the air is less toxic from smoke (it is the greatest danger in a fire).
6. DO NOT PANIC!
7. Once outside, move to a clear area that is at least 500 feet away from the affected building(s). Keep streets, hydrants, and walkways clear for emergency vehicles and crews. Know your assembly points.
8. If requested, assist emergency crews as necessary.
9. A Campus Emergency Command Post may be set up near the disaster site.
10. Keep clear of the Command Post unless you have official business.
11. DO NOT RETURN TO AN EVACUATED BUILDING unless told to do so by a University official.

NOTE: If you become trapped in a building during a fire and a window is available, place an article of clothing (shirt, coat, etc.) outside the window as a marker for rescue crews. If there is no window, stay near the floor where the air will be less toxic. Shout at regular intervals to alert emergency crews of your location. DO NOT PANIC!

IMPORTANT: After any evacuation, report to your college or department's designated campus area assembly point. Stay there until an accurate head count is taken. The Senior Building Emergency Coordinator will take attendance and assist in the accounting for all building occupants.

EARTHQUAKE

During an earthquake, remain CALM and QUICKLY follow the steps outlined below:

STEPS:

1. If INDOORS, seek refuge in a doorway or under a desk or table. Stay away from glass windows, shelves and heavy equipment. "DUCK, COVER, AND HOLD."
2. If OUTDOORS, move quickly away from buildings, utility poles, and other structures. CAUTION: Always avoid power or utility lines, as they may be energized. Know your assembly points.
3. If in an AUTOMOBILE, stop in the safest place available, preferably away from power lines and trees. Stop as quickly as safety permits, but stay in the vehicle for the shelter it offers.
4. After the initial shock, evaluate the situation and, if emergency help is necessary, call Campus Police at ext. 5171 (on campus); be prepared for aftershocks.
5. Damaged facilities should be reported to the Facilities Management at 963-5671 or Campus Police at 963-5171.
6. If necessary, or when directed to do so, ACTIVATE the building alarm. CAUTION: The building alarm only rings in some buildings. You must ALSO report the emergency by telephone.
7. When the building evacuation alarm is sounded, walk to the nearest marked exit and ask others to do the same.
8. ASSIST THE HANDICAPPED IN EXITING THE BUILDING! Remember that elevators are reserved for handicapped persons. DO NOT USE THE ELEVATOR IN CASE OF FIRE. DO NOT PANIC!
9. Once outside, move to a clear area that is at least 500 feet away from the affected building(s). Keep streets, hydrants, and walkways clear for emergency vehicles and crews. Know your assembly points.
10. If requested, assist emergency crews as necessary.
11. A Campus Emergency Command Post may be set up near the disaster site. Keep clear of the Command Post unless you have official business.
12. DO NOT RETURN TO AN EVACUATED BUILDING unless told to do so by a University official.

IMPORTANT: After any evacuation, report to your College or Department's designated campus area assembly point. Stay there until an accurate head count is taken. The Senior Building Emergency Coordinator will take attendance and assist in the accounting for all building occupants.

TORNADO PREPAREDNESS AND RESPONSE

STEPS:

1. During a “watch,” (when weather conditions are such that a tornado may develop):

- a. Do not open any doors or windows; close them all to provide more protection.
- b. Store portable equipment, breakable items, etc., inside building away from shelter areas.
- c. Generally, buses may continue to operate, but drivers should be watchful.

2. During a “warning,” (when a tornado has been sighted and/or has touched down):

- b. Secure or store articles, which may act as missiles indoors.
- c. Buses should not operate.
- d. Transportation personnel should be instructed in tornado procedures.
- e. If a driver sees a tornado approaching, he/she should:
  - i. Drive away from the tornado’s path at right angles, if possible.
  - ii. Evacuate the bus and take shelter in a pre-designated building or other substantial buildings along the route.
  - iii. Evacuate the bus and direct students to a ditch or hollow and have them lie down, hands over head. Keep students far enough from the bus so it cannot be turned over on them. (Be careful of flooding.)
- f. If there is sufficient time to take shelter:
  - i. Evacuate room quickly, quietly, and orderly.
  - ii. Check restrooms or nearby vacant rooms for students, staff, or visitors.
  - iii. Take personal belongings only if they are at a desk and will provide extra protection (large books, notebooks, or coats may be held over head and shoulders).
  - iv. Professors should take roll book and take attendance.
  - v. Once in a shelter, report missing students. (Directors and principal administrators should take a similar accounting of staff members.)
Take position for greatest safety by crouching on knees, head down with hands locked at back of neck.
All staff, faculty, administrators, and students should know the “symptoms” of severe thunderstorms and tornadoes.
  - vi. Selected University employees and responsible students should be trained as “severe weather watchers” or tornado spotters. These people should also be trained in the use of the University’s warning and communication system.
  - vii. With the assistance of authorities, determine and designate the best tornado shelter areas in each building.
  - viii. In multi-storied buildings:
    - Use identified fallout shelters.
    - Use basement.
    - Use first floor interior hallways.
    - Use restrooms or other enclosed small areas away from large glass areas of large open rooms.

Except in extreme emergencies, the President will be consulted before such disciplinary actions are taken.
- e. Efforts should be made to secure positive identification of demonstrators in violation to facilitate later testimony, including photographs if deemed advisable.
- f. After consultation with the President and Director of Campus Police, a need for an injunction and intervention of civil authorities will be determined.

GUIDELINES FOR DEGREE/CERTIFICATION INCENTIVE

Effective January 1, 2007, Tennessee State University launched its new compensation plan. As part of the new plan, it provides for recognition of regular employees who earn job related degrees beyond those required for the position. Those employees who earn job related national and/or certifications (first time) will also be recognized with a lump sum payment.

To receive the lump sum payment employees must provide written proof to the department head who will then initiate a personnel action request form (PARF). Payment will be included in the next available paycheck within the established guidelines for proper receipt of PARFs in the Office of Human Resources.

The Director of Human Resources will be the final authority, in consultation with the dean and/or vice president, to grant the payment for either of these incentives. The decision will be based on the information provided by the employee and confirmation by the department head and/or dean as being an appropriate degree or certification for the employee's position.

DEGREES

1. Employees eligible for payment must be classified as a regular employee who has successfully completed the initial six months probationary period. Temporary status will not count toward this incentive.
2. Eligible employees must submit proof within 30 days after conferring of the degree to the department head who will then initiate a personnel action request form (PARF).
3. Payment will be included in the next available paycheck within the established guidelines for proper receipt of PARFs in the Office of Human Resources.
4. Payment will be made to eligible employees who earn degrees beyond that which is required for the position. Payment will only be made for those degrees in the field that is related to the position held by the employee at the time of request for payment. Payments will be prorated for part time employees. An administrative assistant II who works in biology will not be compensated for earning a degree in music. On the other hand a mechanic who earns an associate degree in automotive mechanics will receive the lump sum payment for earning a degree in a job related field.

CERTIFICATIONS

1. Employees eligible for payment must be classified as a regular employee who has successfully completed the initial six months probationary period. Temporary status will not count toward this incentive.
2. Eligible employees must submit proof within 30 days after notification of earning the job related certification to the department head who will then initiate a personnel action request form (PARF).
3. Payment will be included in the next available paycheck within the established guidelines for proper receipt of PARFs in the Office of Human Resources.
4. Payment will be made to eligible employees who earn certifications that are accredited by national and/or state agencies that are recognized by the various professions. The certification generally requires passing of an examination by the accrediting agency. Payment will only be made for those certifications that are related to the position currently held by the employee at the time of request for payment. Payments will be prorated for part time employees.

Procedure II-15.0: Inclement Weather Plan

In the event of inclement weather, TSU will disseminate the closing plans. The purpose of this section procedure is to outline the plan, decision making, and procedure related to opening late, dismissing early, or closing the University completely due to inclement weather. The emergency hotline is (615) 963-5171.

If TSU classes are canceled, the announcement will apply to all classes, credit and non-credit. Offices at TSU will be considered open unless the announcement specifically says all offices will be closed. If such a decision is made overnight, it should be announced by 6 a.m. the following morning via the following area radio and television stations:

RADIO STATIONS

WQKQ-FM 92.1
WKDF-FM 103.3
WGFX-FM 104.5
WNPL-FM 106.7
WLAC-AM 1510

TELEVISION

WKRN Ch. 2
WSMV Ch. 4
WTVF Ch. 5
WZTV Ch. 17

STEPS:

1. The final decision related to emergency closings will be made by the President or, in his/her absence, the Vice President of Academic Affairs and Executive Vice President (PEVP). The PEVP will be assisted by the Director of Media Relations (DMR), the Vice President for Student Affairs (VPSA), and the Associate Vice President of Facilities Management (AVPFM), and the four of them shall be considered the Inclement Weather Team.
2. Information related to class and work schedules will be submitted to local television and radio stations and be distributed inside the University as follows:
  - the intranet (University Communications and myTSU),
  - the homepage (www.tnstate.edu),
  - the weather line (extension 5059),
  - telephone operators (963-5000), and
  - the Tennessee State University Police Department (TSUPD) 963-5171.Texting as well as social media applications will also be used to disseminate information.
3. Because of the limited number of incoming lines and the potential for congestion that could cause delays in service, TSU employees should obtain information regarding closings from the media, social media, the texting system, and/or online, and should use the weather line, operators, and TSUPD only as last resorts.
4. In the event that Metropolitan Davidson County schools are closed, but the University is open, notification will be disseminated by the DMR via TSU's internal communications systems and social media networks. The DMR will also share this information with media outlets. The VPSA will implement the University's text messaging system.
5. Inclement weather decisions related to University sites outside of Davidson County will be made by the University directors/coordinators for those sites, based on local conditions and/or in accordance with local governments, school districts, etc. Those administrators will develop procedures to communicate information through local media and will inform the PEVP of all decisions. If the non-Davidson County site is a non-University-owned teaching location, the closure will be determined by the non-University administrators/directors at those sites, and the faculty members should communicate those closures to their department chairs, who will in turn will report them to deans and the PEVP.

6. At no later than 4:30 a.m., TSUPD will begin gathering the latest available weather information from local media sources and will consult with other local institutions (such as Nashville State Community College, Fisk University, Meharry Medical College, Metro Nashville Public School System, etc.) to determine their plans. The Chief of TSUPD will then contact the VPSA with this information as well as information on campus conditions no later than 5:00 a.m. The VPSA will contact the three other Inclement Weather Team members, and the Team will develop two recommendations based on all information available – one related to classes convening and the other related to staff reporting to work. The PEVP will brief the President via telephone by 5:30 a.m. of the Team's recommendations for morning classes/staff.
7. Decisions regarding cancellation of afternoon or evening classes and staff reporting will be identical to the morning process. The VPSA will gather information from the Chief of TSUPD no later than 1:00 p.m. and convene the Team within thirty minutes after the weather crisis has developed. The PEVP will contact the President with recommendations.
8. Early dismissal due to inclement weather will be decided on a case-by-case basis, and the Inclement Weather Team will evaluate conditions and make recommendations as far in advance as possible.

THE FOLLOWING ACTIONS WILL BE TAKEN AFTER THE PRESIDENT HAS MADE HIS/HER DECISIONS:

9. The PEVP will communicate the President's decisions to the DMR as well as to deans and to the Associate Vice President responsible for the Avon Williams Campus.
10. The DMR will communicate the President's decisions electronically to the local media, post information on various social media networks, update the message on the University's weather line, and contact the Associate Vice President for Communications and Information Technology (AVPCIT) with information to post on Exchange, myTSU, and the University's homepage. The AVPCIT will also notify the University's telephone operators so that they can relay current information. The DMR will contact neighboring institutions to offer support/assistance, as appropriate.
11. Deans and the Associate Vice President responsible for the Avon Williams Campus will disseminate information provided by the PEVP to department chairs, faculty, staff, and students.
12. The Vice President for Business and Finance will ensure that food services are available to residential students on an uninterrupted basis, the bookstore is operating if the University is open, and that the Director of Human Resources posts administrative leave information (see TBR Policy 5-01-01-11 and TSU Personnel Policy 6.42) on Exchange as early as possible.
13. The VPSA will communicate the decisions to the Chief of TSUPD, the AVPFM, the Dean of Students, and Director of Health Services. He/she will authorize the Chief of TSUPD to disseminate the decisions via the University's text messaging system.

14. The Chief of TSUPD will open and/or close facilities as needed and update the person answering the TSUPD telephone so that correct information is relayed to callers. He/she will disseminate the President's decisions via the University's text messaging system.
15. The Dean of Students will communicate to the Chief of TSUPD, the AVPFM, etc., what space is available in residence halls for essential staff or staff unable to leave campus.
16. The AVPFM will activate the inclement weather/emergency operation plan as needed and give priority to: clearing (1) pathways between residence halls and dining facilities, (2) key areas, such as the steps to Hale Hall, and (3) parking and roads

Procedure II-19.0: Letter of Intent-Collaboration Agreement

The purpose of the Letter of Intent-Collaboration Agreement process is to provide cooperation between two or more parties. It promotes mutual understanding; establishes ties of friendship to work towards more formal, complex, and binding commitments. The Letter of Intent-Collaboration Agreement provides a clear statement of work, including the names of key personnel, signature of person(s) authorized to make commitments, a detailed budget, and start dates and end dates.

STEPS:

1. Contract Initiator discusses details and requirements (Scope of Work) with potential contractor. Make it perfectly clear that the conversations are not and should not be construed as creating a contract.
2. Contract initiator submits "Office of the President's Pre-Approval Form for Contracts and Agreements" to the President's office for approval.
3. Contract initiator will complete the Contract Routing and Approval Form, assuring that all spaces of the form are completed.
4. Contract initiator submits TBR standard Agreement to the contractor and request two (2) original copies be signed and returned to the contract initiator.
5. Contract initiator delivers Contract Routing and Approval Form, The Office of the President Pre-Approval Form for Contracts and Agreements along with the other required documents to their Vice President for signature.
6. The Vice President of Academic Affairs/Vice President's office will deliver the contract and supporting documents to the University Counsel's office for review and processing.
7. The University Counsel's office will review the contract for compliance with TBR policy (standard contracts) and impermissible clauses (vender generated contract).
8. Once the corrections have been made and the addendum signed, the contract initiator will need to re-submit the contract and all associated documents for review.
9. The contract initiator is notified by email to pick up the contract from University Counsel's office. The initiator will need to forward the fully executed original contract to the Contractor and keep a copy on file.
10. For Dual Service Contracts, route four (4) signed originals with the Contract Routing and Approval Form and Purchase Requisition (if required) only. The Minority/Ethnicity Form and IRS W-9 Form are not needed for this type of contract.
  - In conformance with Tennessee Board of Regents Guideline G-030. (www.tbr.edu/Policies)
  - Initiated by their respective areas
  - With proposed contracts of $10,000.00 or more, and must be competitively bid unless adequate non-competitive procurement justification is provided.
  - With contracts totaling $250,000.00 or more in annual revenue or expenditures require the signature of the President and the Chancellor.
  - With prior approval of the Fiscal Review Committee for non-competitive contracts of $250,000.00 (value of total contract term) or more and for which the term is greater than (1) year. This process requires at least 90 calendar days lead time prior to the effective date of the contract.

Procedure II-20.0: Media Relations (Speaking on behalf of the University to Outside Entities)

The preparation and release of all information and publicity concerning the University, intended for distribution to the media, is coordinated by/through the Department of Media Relations, unless otherwise authorized by the President.

The Director of Media Relations serves as the official University spokesperson and conveys the official University position on issues of general University-wide impact or significance, or situations that are of a particularly controversial or sensitive nature. Inquiries from the media about such issues should initially be referred to the Director of Media Relations.

In cases of critical significance to the University, the Director of Media Relations will work with other University officials to develop "talking points" to detail the known facts of the situation and summarize the University's position. Statements will be developed along with possible/anticipated questions and answers, and messaging.

In the event of a crisis or emergency situation, the Director of Media Relations will handle all contacts with the media and will coordinate the information flow from the University to the public. In such situations, all campus departments should refer calls from the media to the Department of Media Relations.

STEPS:

Contact with the Media

1. It is expected that direct contact between the University and the media will be initiated by or coordinated through the Department of Media Relations. Having a reliable one-stop office fosters media confidence in the institution and ensures that the University speaks with "one voice," especially on sensitive issues.
2. The University maintains an expert source guide online, and reporters are encouraged to utilize the expertise provided by faculty, staff, and administrators listed in the guide on non-sensitive issues. The Department of Media Relations is available to assist media with contacting other members of the University community.
3. If Tennessee State University faculty members, staff, or administrators are approached by the media for interviews, notify the Department of Media Relations prior to the interview.
4. In speaking with the media, an individual should answer a reporter's question as fully and openly as possible. If an individual is uncertain as to how much information should be provided, it is appropriate to redirect the inquiry to the next administrative level or to the Department of Media Relations.
5. Advance notice of a topic that may provoke media interest is extremely helpful. If you become aware of such subject matter, please pass it along to the media relations staff so that the groundwork for a response can be laid. The University's chances of being portrayed favorably are much greater if there is time for adequate preparation.

Media Referral Policy

(What to do if / when a reporter calls)

The media contact Tennessee State University for a number of reasons. All reporters requesting information about the University by telephone, letter, fax, e-mail, or personal visit must begin their inquiry with the Department of Media Relations. The Department will refer the reporter to the appropriate University representative if questions cannot be completely answered. In such cases, Media Relations will telephone the designated University representative immediately if a reporter is referred.

1. If the area of inquiry involves an administrative topic, an executive-level spokesperson will likely be the appropriate contact.
2. If the inquiry involves a specific academic discipline, the Vice President of Academic Affairs or a faculty member will often be the best contact point.
3. If approached by a reporter and the subject matter involves an administrative or University-wide issue, refer the reporter to the Department of Media Relations.
4. Any staff or faculty member receiving a media inquiry related to athletic competitions should refer the inquiry to the Sports Information Director (SID). Sports Information will handle the query unless it involves an administrative or athletic policy in which case the Director of Media Relations will address the query in conjunction with the Athletic Director and SID.
5. If the inquiry involves your personal area of expertise or “expert” opinion, you are free to set a tentative time to be interviewed (at least one hour away unless deadlines prohibit) and then call media relations to inform the office of the inquiry. For “expert” inquiries, the office will confirm that the subject should be addressed, and will brief the person on media interviews, possible talking points and potential pitfalls. If necessary, the Department of Media Relations will coordinate a time and place for the reporter to interview the University representative.
6. For University-wide issues, the Media Relations staff will determine the appropriate campus person to address the subject, and will work with the resource to gather information and create “talking points” on the topic.
7. The Department of Media Relations will answer queries from media outlets as soon as possible or within one hour unless deadlines dictate otherwise.
8. It is the responsibility of the Media Relations staff to find out the reporter’s deadline to provide the best, timely response. Staff and faculty may not realize the consequences of a missed deadline. If a query cannot be answered by the deadline, the story probably will appear without a comment from Tennessee State University, and the University has missed an opportunity. If something delays response, call the Media Relations staff as soon as possible and before the deadline.

Designated Spokesperson for Media Issues

After receiving an interview request, the Department of Media Relations will determine the right spokesperson. Depending on the specific circumstances, another University administrator may be designated to serve as spokesperson on a particular issue.

The spokesperson must present a positive Tennessee State University image and be able to speak on the subject. Normally it is the Director of Media Relations who is the designated spokesperson on campus.

Procedure II-21.0: Movable Property Inventory

Movable Property (equipment) is defined by the University as any material manufactured or fabricated that serves a useful purpose with a normal expected life of more than five years and has cost or dollar value of at least $5,000 and above. These items may be purchased by the University or donated as gifts to the University with supported documentation from the Foundation. Materials that are designed to be expended or consumed within a relatively short period of time (usually within a year), regardless of cost, are not to be treated as equipment. Items with a dollar value of $1,500 – 4,999.99, are treated as sensitive equipment items; however, they are not included with assets that are considered capital equipment. The Assistant Vice President for Procurement Services is responsible for the correct classification of equipment. Tennessee State University is required to conduct property inventory inspection of property and equipment annually.

Tennessee State University depends on a range of equipment to support its mission of providing a quality education for its students. The University is required to conduct property inventory inspection of property and equipment annually. Department chairs and account holders are responsible for ensuring the proper use, security, maintenance, and disposition of all property, and to complete an annual inventory of property and equipment within their areas.

Annual Property Inventory

An inventory of University property is conducted annually at the end of each fiscal year. Inventory folders and printouts are distributed by Facilities Management and must be completed through Sharepoint by the established deadline (see Procedure IV-020).

STEPS:

1. Department chairs and account holders are responsible for ensuring the proper use, security, maintenance, and disposition of all property, and to complete an annual inventory of property and equipment within their areas. .
2. Property inventory will be conducted during the period of April through May. Inventory folders must be returned to the Facilities Management.
3. The Property Deletion, Transfer, Addition and Computer Inventory sheets are required and must be completed and returned.
4. Each sheet must be completed, signed, dated, and returned with each inventory printout folder.
5. If there are no deletions, additions or transfers, please indicate "NONE," sign, date, and return the form with each inventory printout.
6. All items listed on the inventory printout must show a building and room number for location. This is a very important part of maintaining property accountability. If there is no room number for an item(s) inside of a building, one must be assigned and placed on the inventory printout.
7. Property that must be kept on the outside of a building, due to operational necessity, such as a vehicle, is assigned the following room code: 999.
8. Property will not be deleted from the inventory unless supported by proper authenticated documents. Without the proper support documents, line-through items will remain as accountable property and will not be deleted until the proper document is submitted.

The following items are needed to support deletion of lined-through items on the inventory.

Procedure II-22.0: Naming of Buildings

Tennessee State University has adopted TBR Policy No. 4:02:05:01 in the naming of buildings, facilities, and building plaques which applies to read as follows:

The naming of buildings, facilities, grounds, and organizational units of institutions for individuals or groups who have made significant contributions to society is an honored tradition of higher education. The prerogative and privilege of such naming on the campuses of the Tennessee Board of Regents System are vested in the Board. Authority to name identifiable sub-units or components of buildings and facilities, however, is delegated to the institution president or technology center director, subject to the criteria and process set forth below.

This policy applies to all buildings of the institutions governed by the Board. It also applies to other facilities, grounds, and organizational units which the institution wishes to dedicate in the name of an individual or group. Buildings designated by their general purpose or functions are not subject to this policy.

In general, individuals and groups for whom buildings are named must have made a significant contribution to the field of education, government, science, or human betterment. To preserve the integrity of all buildings named in the System, this honor must be reserved for individuals of recognized accomplishment and character; no building may bear the name of an individual convicted of a felony. With respect to the naming of buildings on a particular campus, special consideration shall be given to:

- A. The historical significance of the contribution of the individual or group to the institution;
- B. The association of the individual or group with the building to be named;
- C. Any financial contribution of the individual or group to the institution; and
- D. State, regional, national, or international recognition of the individual's or group's contributions and achievements.

A given surname may be assigned to only one building on a specific campus.

In all cases, naming rights are considered to be in effect for the duration of the effective and typical useful life of the physical building, space, or object, and not in perpetuity. If necessary, the Board reserves the right to remove a name associated with any physical building, space, object, or project at any time if the naming gift pledge remains unfulfilled, it is in the best interests of the institution or of the donor to do so, or to protect the reputation of the institution and/or the donor.

STEPS:

Naming the Building

The institution president or technology center director shall charge a committee to consider and make recommendations for the naming of a building. The committee shall be comprised of students, faculty, and administrative representatives; other representatives of the campus community may serve on the committee, as deemed appropriate by the president or director.

- a) The committee shall consider all suggested namings which satisfy the criteria cited above. Any individual or group associated with the institution may suggest a name for consideration by the committee.
- b) The committee shall submit a report to the president or director, which includes a recommendation for the naming, documentation of all suggestions considered, and justification of its recommendation.
- c) For namings which require Board approval, the president or director shall submit his or her recommendation, along with the committee's report and any additional supporting information deemed appropriate, to the Board through the Chancellor.
- d) No publicity shall be given to the recommendation for naming until it is considered by the Board. For naming not subject to Board approval, the president or director shall determine and make known the naming in the manner deemed most appropriate.

3. Dedication Ceremony and Plaque

- a) Upon approval of the naming by the Board, an appropriate dedication ceremony may be planned and conducted by the institution.
- b) The institution also may erect a dedication plaque or comparable marking upon approval of the naming by the Board. The plaque may be separate from the building plaque provided by State regulations. In addition to the individual or group for whom the building is named, the dedication plaque should identify the institution president or technology center director, the Chancellor, and the Chairman of the Board at the time the naming was approved.

4. Building Plaques

An institution may affix a building plaque to a new or newly renovated building or facility. All building plaques must comply with Tennessee Board of Regents guidelines adopted pursuant to this policy and State Building Commission policy on building plaques. This section shall apply to any new or newly renovated building or facility.

Procedure II-25.0: Purchase of Food with Unrestricted Funds

Business meals generally include at least one non-employee of the university and should not include any individual whose presence is not necessary to the business discussion. Meals associated with gatherings that are primarily social in nature do not qualify as business meals.

GUIDELINES:

- All purchases of food and beverages must be approved in advance. If a requisition is processed to reimburse an employee, there must be a memo or e-mail documenting advance approval of the purchase or the employee may be held personally liable for all related costs.
- Payments or reimbursement shall not exceed twice the allocated per meal allowance for that location. If, for example, the per diem schedule reflects a dinner rate of $x for Nashville, payment or reimbursement shall not exceed $2x.
- The university does not pay sales taxes, although an exception exists for some restaurant meals. Gratuities may be reimbursed up to 20% with documentation.
- Alcoholic beverages may only be purchased with Foundation funds and under no circumstance should be purchased using state or federal funds.
- Institutional funds may be used to purchase food and non-alcoholic beverages for recognition, appreciation and/or retirement events if the events are in accordance with institutional policies and are reasonable in number of events per fiscal year and amount spent.
- The approval of the President or his/her designee is required for all food and food-related purchases (e.g., meal tickets, credit cards from grocery stores for research participants, concession supplies, food preparation demonstrations, etc.).
- A purchase requisition for an event must have at least two attachments: A Banquet Event Order (BEO) form or some other type of special event form or quote.
- Prices from catering menus are acceptable.
- An On-Campus Catering Form or an Off-Campus Catering Form
- If an off-campus caterer does not accept a university purchase order and requires a check at the time of service, a proforma invoice must also be attached to the requisition.
- The above-referenced On-Campus Catering Form should be used if the university's contracted food service provider is catering the event or if the event is being held off-campus and supplied by an off-campus caterer. An Off-Campus Catering Form is only used when an off-campus caterer is providing services on-campus.
- Aramark must decline to provide the service by signing the form, which connotes Aramark does not wish to meet the price, schedule, menu, or other requirement.
- On-Campus Catering Forms and Off-Campus Catering Forms should be filled out completely. For example, attendees should be numbered and the total should match the quantity on the BEO. Asterisks should be placed by the names of non-employees, including students.
- One purchase requisition may be submitted for multiple events only if quotes or proforma invoices are attached for each event, and the information related to time/date/place, topic/purpose and attendees is provided for each.

Events that are repetitive in nature (such as summer programs that provide a daily lunch to the same list of students at a standard price) require only one quote or proforma invoice.

- Requisitions require the approval of the appropriate Vice President before being submitted to the Office of the Vice President for Business and Finance for approval as designees of the President.

Procedure II-26.0: Record Retention and Disposals

The TBR Guideline G-070 set forth the procedures for disposal of institutional records for all institutions and technology centers governed by the Tennessee Board of Regents. Disposal of institutional and center records must be approved by the State Public Records Commission. No records may be destroyed unless and until provided below. Unless specified otherwise, or otherwise required by law, records may be imaged, microfilmed, or electronically reproduced and the paper copy destroyed upon verification of an archival quality reproduction. The microfilm, image, or electronic record will then be retained for the balance of the indicated retention period.

The following record series have been approved for disposal by state-approved methods: shredding or burning. No record shall be destroyed, however, so long as it pertains to any pending legal case, claim or action or to any federal or state audit until such actions have been concluded. Records which reflect "Permanent" retention may be destroyed after verification of an archival quality electronic reproduction. Actions by the State Commission shall be communicated to all campus records officers through the Board staff.

Institutional or Center Records Officers have the authority and responsibility to dispose of records in accordance with approved records disposition authorizations. Prior to the destruction of any records, the Records Officer must determine if the action should be delayed due to audit or litigation requirements. Specific records pertaining to current or pending litigation or investigation must also be retained until all questions are resolved. These specific records can be retained in a suspense file, while all other records not under pending investigation should be disposed of in accordance with established RDAs (Records Destruction Authorizations).

The Public Records Commission has authorized the implementation and utilization of the Certificate of Destruction form (see Attachment A) in order to better track the volume of records destroyed and to insure that records have met the criteria necessary for destruction. Institutions and centers need to complete a Certificate of Destruction form when destroying public or confidential records that are not destroyed during the annual Operation Roundfile campaign – an initiative through Executive Order 38 to purge out-of-date documents on an annual basis.

Notwithstanding the retention period stated herein, should such periods conflict with federal law, the period of longer retention shall apply.

The following definitions are applicable to TBR Guideline 070:

RECORD: All books, papers, electronic mail messages, maps, photographs, films, microfilm, imaged copy, electronic data processing output, sound recordings or other materials regardless of physical form or characteristics made or received pursuant to law or ordinance or in connection with the transaction of official business by any governmental agency.

NON-RECORD: Those documents which do not document the activities of an agency: i.e. extra copies of documents kept for convenience or reference; stock supplies of publications; extra copies of circulated materials where follow-up copies are kept for the record; reading files; follow-up correspondence copies; identical or carbon copies kept in the same file; draft copies or work copies of documents when the final version is complete; letters of transmittal which add nothing to the transmitted information; inter-office memoranda; shorthand notes, steno type tapes or sound recordings after they have been transcribed; and internal housekeeping materials such as intra-office memos, routing slips, telephone call slips, and computer edit error listings after the corrections are made; library or museum material which is for reference or exhibition; private materials neither made nor received by an institution or school staff member in connection with the transaction of official business. As non-records, the above-mentioned items are excluded from the record retention and disposal requirements.

PERMANENT RECORDS: Those records or materials which have permanent administrative, physical, historical or legal value.

WORKING PAPERS: Those records or materials created to serve as interim documents or inputs to final reporting documents, including electronic data processed records, computer output microfilm and records which become obsolete immediately after agency use or publication and are not classified as being a permanent record, or record of archival value.

I. BUSINESS RECORDS

NOTE: Business records must be retained the indicated number of years listed below. In addition, prior to disposal or destruction, these business records must have been subjected to the completion of an annual or bi-annual audit conducted by the State Audit Division of the Comptroller's Office as required in T.C.A. § 4-3-304. Internal audit reports and work papers must be retained either 5 years or through 2 audits. "Completion" includes the issuance of the final audit report and the resolution of any audit exceptions or questions arising from the audit.

Procedure II-29.0: Solicitation of Money, Goods, and Services

The Tennessee State University Board of Trustees (Board) recognizes the vital importance of gifts to institutional development. Gifts of real and personal property from individuals and organizations often benefit institutions by making possible the accomplishment of objectives for which support from other sources is limited or unavailable. Gifts also often represent a means by which the donor may contribute to an aspect of postsecondary education that is of particular interest to the donor.

The Board authorizes and encourages the institutions to solicit and accept gifts for purposes that are consistent with their missions. All activities related to the solicitation and acceptance of gifts shall be implemented in a manner which serves the mutual interests of the donors and institutions.

Accountability the greatest issue in the acceptance of gifts, money and service, therefore, approval at each level is vital.

STEPS:

1. The president/director shall designate the campus official(s) authorized to approve and conduct activities for the purpose of soliciting gifts to the institution.
2. Criteria and procedures for soliciting gifts shall be established which clearly define appropriate activities and the campus approval process.
3. Solicitation of gifts which may require a commitment of institutional/school resources must be approved by the president/director.

Acceptance of Gifts

1. The president/director is authorized to accept gifts on behalf of the institution/school, subject to the following conditions:
  - a. Only the Board may accept a gift if Board acceptance is a condition set by the donor;
  - b. Only the President and Board may accept gifts of real property or any permanent interest in real property, and title must be conveyed to the Board on behalf of the institution; in the name of the Board or President for the use and benefit of the Institution.

Any such Deed transferring title to the Board or President shall not be recorded until the State Building Commission has approved the acceptance of the gift property.
  - d. Gifts with conditions that ultimately will require consideration by the Board must be approved by the Board prior to acceptance (e.g., gifts to support the initiation of a new academic program or capital improvement project); and

e. Gifts of property subject to an indebtedness must be approved by the Board or President prior to acceptance.

2. The president/director may recommend approval by the Board prior to acceptance of any gift.

3. The president/director may delegate to a campus official or officials his/her authority to accept gifts on behalf of the institution; however, institutional policies must identify the specific types of gifts that may be accepted by the designated official(s). The acceptance of all gifts is subject to confirmation by the president/director.

4. Corporate stock given to an institution/school may be sold by the institution through or in consultation with a registered security broker within 60 days of receipt of the stock certificate, and the sale may be executed by the president/director or a designated representative.

Procedure II-30.0: Student Inappropriate Behavior

Procedure II-30.1: Institution Policy Statement

1. College and university students are citizens of the state, local, and national governments and of the academic community and are, therefore, expected to conduct themselves as law---abiding members of each Community at all times. Admission to an institution of higher education carries with it special privileges and imposes special responsibilities apart from those rights and duties enjoyed by non--- students.

In recognition of the special relationship that exists between the institution and the academic community which it seeks to serve, the Board has authorized the Presidents of the institutions and Directors of the technology center under its jurisdiction to take such action as may be necessary to maintain campus conditions and preserve the integrity of the institution and its educational environment.

2. Pursuant to this authorization and in fulfillment of its duty to provide a secure and stimulating atmosphere in which individual and academic pursuits may flourish, Tennessee State University ("TSU," "the university" or the "institution") has developed the following policy which is intended to govern student conduct on the campuses under its jurisdiction

3. For the purpose of this policy, a "student" shall mean any person who is admitted and/or registered for study at TSU for any academic period. This shall include any period of time following admission and/or registration, but preceding the start of classes for any academic period. It will also include any period which follows the end of an academic period through the last day for registration for the succeeding academic period, and during any period while the student is under suspension from the institution. Finally, "student" shall also include any person subject to a period of suspension or removal from campus as a sanction which results from a finding of a violation of the policy governing student conduct. Students are responsible for compliance with Institutional policy at all times.

4. Disciplinary action may be taken against a student for violations of this policy which occur on institutionally owned, leased or otherwise controlled property, while participating in international or distance learning programs, and off campus, when the conduct impairs, interferes with, or obstructs any institutional activity of the mission, processes, and functions of the institution. If a student's violation of applicable laws or ordinances adversely affects the University's pursuit of its educational objectives, it may enforce its policies, including this policy, regardless of any proceedings instituted by other civil or criminal authorities. Conversely, violation of any section of this policy may subject a student to disciplinary measures by the University whether or not such conduct is simultaneously in violation of state, local or national laws.

5. This policy, and related material incorporated herein by reference, is applicable to student organizations as well as individual students. Student organizations are subject to discipline for the conduct and actions of individual members of the organization while acting in their capacity as members of, or while attending or participating in any activity of, the organization.

6. Confidentiality of Discipline Process. Subject to the exceptions provided pursuant to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA), 20 U.S.C. 1232g and/or the Tennessee Open Records Act, T.C.A. § 10---7---504(a)(4), a student's disciplinary files are considered "educational records" and are confidential within the meaning of those Acts. This policy is promulgated pursuant to, and in compliance with, TBR Rule 0240---02---03---.01, Institution Policy Statement. To the extent that a conflict exists between this policy and TBR rule, policy and/or applicable law(s), the TBR rule, policy and/or law will control. History – Adopted by TBR: 12/8/11. Effective: 1/29/12.

In the case of an interim suspension, the student shall be given an opportunity at the time of the decision or immediately thereafter to contest the suspension. If the student contests the suspension, the Dean of Students or a designee shall articulate the findings associated with the interim suspension decision and the student shall be given an opportunity to further contest those findings by requesting a preliminary hearing on the Dean of Student's determination.

1. During an interim suspension, the student shall be denied access to campus facilities, classes, and/or all other university activities or privileges unless prior approval has been granted by the Dean of Students/Chief Judicial Officer.

2. If a student chooses to challenge the imposition of an interim suspension, a preliminary hearing will be conducted by the Student Affairs Disciplinary Committee, in consultation with university officials. The hearing will be scheduled within five (5) working days of the student's request for a hearing. The preliminary hearing committee's sole charge will be to determine whether the Dean of Students' (or designee) interim suspension decision was arbitrary and capricious or constituted an abuse of discretion. During this preliminary hearing, the student will be given notice of the allegations against him/her and provided a summary of the evidence that supports the interim suspension. The student will be afforded an opportunity to respond to the allegations. The preliminary hearing committee may, at its sole discretion, call witnesses or permit the Dean of Students

(or designee) and the student to call witnesses in support of their respective presentations. If the preliminary hearing committee upholds the Dean of Students' interim suspension decision, a formal hearing under the disciplinary procedures set forth in this policy shall be held as soon as practical, if applicable. If the preliminary hearing committee reverses the Dean of Students' (or designee) decision, the Vice President for Student Affairs may, in his or her sole discretion, review the decision and uphold, modify or reverse the preliminary hearing committee's decision if he or she determines that the evidence does not support the preliminary hearing committee's determination.

This policy is promulgated pursuant to, and in compliance with, TBR Rule 0240--02--03---04 Disciplinary Sanctions. To the extent that a conflict exists between this policy and TBR rule, policy and/or applicable law(s), the TBR rule, policy and/or law will control. History – Adopted by TBR: 12/8/11. Effective:1/29/12.

Such admission shall be binding and may not be subsequently revoked without concurrence of the Dean. At the conclusion of the preliminary conference, the Dean of Students/Chief Judicial Officer shall execute the "Preliminary Conference Form" reflecting the action taken or to be taken in the case. #### E. Academic Misconduct Disciplinary Committee

1. The Academic Misconduct Disciplinary Committee is charged with the authority to hear cases where a student has been determined to be engaged in academic misconduct and has received a reduced grade. A student shall have the right to appeal that determination to the Academic Misconduct Disciplinary Committee. A course instructor may choose to forward the allegations of academic misconduct to the Academic Misconduct Committee for the committee to make the initial determination of academic misconduct. In cases involving an appeal by a student or when an instructor requests review by the committee, the Academic Misconduct Disciplinary Committee may also recommend the imposition of additional disciplinary action, including suspension or expulsion. That recommendation shall be forwarded to the Dean of Students for further action.
2. Academic Misconduct Disciplinary Committee Meetings, Members, Procedures, Decision and Record – The provisions governing meetings, members, procedures, decision and record of the Student Disciplinary Committee and all review/appeal there from, as set forth above, are hereby applicable to the Academic Misconduct Disciplinary Committee. Appeals from decisions of the Academic Misconduct Disciplinary Committee will be to University Vice President of Academic Affairs and will be governed by the same procedures applicable to an appeal to the Vice President for Student Affairs from a decision of the Student Affairs Disciplinary Committee.
3. Alternative Resolution Process – At all times during the disciplinary process, the Dean or other designated university official may pursue alternative measures to resolve disciplinary matters, including informal resolution meetings.

Procedure III-02.0: Budget Contract Forms for Restricted Funds

Budget forms and budget revisions are processed in compliance with funding agency guidelines. These forms are reviewed and approved by the Grants Accounting Office prior to being entered in the university accounting system (Tiger$hoppe).

STEPS:

When an award agreement is received, the Principal Investigator or Project Director must prepare the Restricted Project Summary/Budget Form to establish the project's budget in the accounting system and forward it to the Grants Accounting Office for processing.

The Principal Investigator, or designee, must prepare and submit a budget revision form to the Grants Accounting Office when there is a need to change or deviate from the sponsor's approved budget. Although the Principal Investigator has ultimate responsibility for compliance with agency guidelines and should only make requests consistent with those guidelines, the Financial Analyst III will also review those guidelines in order to minimize the possibility of an unauthorized budget revision being processed. Upon receipt of approval from the agency, where applicable, or determination that the proposed revision is allowable, the Financial Analyst III will approve the revision and enter it in the university accounting system.

STEPS:

1. At the beginning of each fiscal year (July 1), the Vice President of Academic Affairs will email a copy of each personnel budget for departments/units in the college/unit to each dean or direct report. It will be the responsibility of the dean/direct report to distribute the respective personnel budget to departments/units in their area.
2. If across the board increases are made after the beginning of the fiscal year (i.e., 2% increase), updated personnel budgets will be emailed based on step 1 above.
3. The names and position numbers on the Personnel Budget should be reconciled with the unit/department's organization chart.
4. Changes (new hires, vacant positions, cut positions, change in title, change in department FOAP of position, etc.) should be corrected on the organizational chart and forwarded to the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs (Ms. Tamica Davidson/Dr. Crook) for update consistent with Procedure 17 "Organizational Chart-Developing and Updating"
5. Missing or incorrect information on the Personnel Budget should be brought to the immediate attention of the Associate Vice President (Dr. Crook) for follow-up.
6. When filling unrestricted (state funded) positions, the position number must be on the organization chart which validates its existence. If the position number is not on the chart, as the case with new approved positions by the University Budget Office, notification must be sent to the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs for verification, prior to the beginning of the hiring process.
7. Positions reassigned to other departments must be supported by approval of the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs and a budget revision to move the position to a new unit (FOAP) and an account.
8. Change Form processed in PeopleAdmin, prior to the employee being allowed to work in the different unit. The position number and FOAP should always be consistent with where the employee is allowed to work and the job description should be consistent with the actual work to be performed.

9. If the duties and responsibilities of a position change significantly, a job reclassification form is to be completed, approved by the supervisor and next two supervisors and submitted to Human Resources for review and approval prior to allowing an employee to perform work over an extended period that is outside the scope of the job and pay grade.
10. Changes in the distribution of salary of an employee among different FOAPs require completion of a Personnel Action Form (Account Change) executed via PeopleAdmin effective the date of the change.
11. Permanent positions may only have one employee assigned to them, and have an undetermined end date. Requests for new permanent positions on State funds must be requested prior to April 1st for the Proposed budget; The new position will be effective July 1st. Or be requested prior to September 1st for the Revised budget; The new position will be effective January 1st.
  - 1) Part-time positions on State funds may be requested at any point during the year, but department is required to fund them with a permanent reduction in its operating budget
  - 2) Positions on restricted funds may be requested at any time during the year
12. Group positions may have multiple employees assigned to the same position number, and should have a predetermined end date. These are not permanent assignments. Examples: Temporary, Extra Service Pay, Graduate Assistant, Adjuncts, Student Work-Aid. (All of the positions noted above are different positions, thus requiring different position numbers). Note: Extra Service Pay position number is NOT your primary/regular position number
13. All actions submitted through People Admin must have a position number included. Position numbers are tied to FOAPs. If any part of the FOAP changes, the position number may change.
14. All assignments to group positions must be funded by the department by budget revision. This excludes department chair stipends and degree incentives.
15. Salary Savings are funds budgeted for a position that is not currently being used for an employee assignment; it may be used to increase other accounts. Position must be vacant before funds can be removed.
16. Need a position? Send a request by email to the Budget Office explaining the type of position, the FOAP, and the FSLA status (hourly-non-exempt, monthly-exempt). Send requests to Ms. Noor Latif at nlatif@tnstate.edu.
17. Most Commonly Used PARFs (All PARFs are found on HR Website)

A: Account Change - It's only used for account changes, no change in the position number. Position number remains the same, but the FOAP (Fund-Org-Acct-Prog) is changing. If the position splits between two or more FOAPs, the percent total should be equal 100%.

B: Extra Service Pay – The form is used to pay Exempt employees extra money for additional duties beside their normal working responsibilities. Non-Exempt employees cannot get ESP.

- An ESP position number needs to be used. Do not use the regular position number of the employee.
- Add Begin & End dates to the form.
- ESP under State funds cannot cross our fiscal year
- ESP under Grant funds can cross our fiscal year
- A budget revision is needed if the ESP under State Funds (110001). Exceptions: the Department Chair stipends and Degree Incentive will be funded by Budget Office, no budget revision is needed.

C: Transfer/Promotion – The form is used to transfer a person from one position to another, or to provide promotion information for the employee.

- For Transfer: the employee will require two different position numbers.
- For Promotion: the employee may or may not need two different position numbers on the form.
- An approval from Human Resources is needed for any change in the title or salary amount before submitting the PARF in PeopleAdmin.

D: Temporary Appointment - For temporary assignments only. The information needed on this PARF is:

1. Title: HR determines the FLSA status, but based off the title, it gives Budget and HR an idea of what type of work the temp employee will be completing and how they should be classified.
2. FOAP (Fund-Org-Acct-Prog) & Position number.
3. Begin & End dates:
  - Contract under State Funds (110001) cannot cross our fiscal year 6/30/20xx. Fiscal Year starts 7/1/20xx and ends 6/30/20xx
  - Contract under Grant Funds (2xxxxx) can cross the fiscal year.
4. Average Hours Per Week, 37.5 hr. for Full-Time.
5. Total Salary amount:
  - a. For monthly: Pay rate per month X Number of months
  - b. For hourly: Number of weeks X Number of hours worked per week X Pay rate per hour.

Procedure III-05.0: Decentralization of Summer School Budget

The summer school budget is decentralized at the college level. Deans working with department chairs in their respective college will allocate funds to departments based at minimum on descriptive factors indicated below or a process established for the respective college. The budget will be based on the July Budget Summary (adjusted for any applicable reductions or increases, via administrative decision of Vice President) reduced by a predefined contingency amount.

Department chairs should be assigned six (6) hours of teaching (lecture courses, exception to teach less than 6 hours must be approved by the Associate Vice President/Director of Summer School) during the summer which may be all or a combination of teaching during MayMester, Summer I, Summer II, and full-term. To maximize the allocation, department chairs should be assigned to teach MayMester and other summer term courses prior to assigning courses to other faculty or adjuncts. A department chair can buy release time with non-state appropriated funds to teach less than 6 hours (lecture courses). The savings from the aforementioned buy-out will be added to the respective college's decentralized summer school budget to hire a replacement of either permanent or adjunct faculty. A department chair may earn extra compensation during the year, including the summer. However, the extra compensation cannot exceed 25% of the annual year's salary. A non-department chair faculty cannot be paid more than 25% of the previous academic year's base salary for teaching assignments charged to the decentralized or other state budgets. However, a non-department chair faculty may earn up to 33 1/3% of the previous academic year's base salary during the summer if teaching and conducting externally funded research or externally funded research only. Nonteaching work assignments (excluding clinical assignment) cannot be charged to the summer school decentralized budget without the approval of the Vice President for Academic Affairs

A separate FOAP is established for each college with position numbers for faculty, adjuncts, retirements, and extra service pay for staff teaching during summer terms, via budget revision. Funds allocated for summer school will be used to support summer school expenditures crossing two fiscal years (Summer II and ½ of full summer and Summer I and ½ of full summer of next fiscal year).

Processing Summer School Faculty Appointments and Contracts

STEPS:

1. Check decentralized budget to insure funds are available.
2. Complete Summer School Contract (Dual Service, Adjunct, Extra Service Pay Form as applicable).
3. Use the following FOAP based on the type of summer school employee being hired.
4. Record transaction on College decentralize log.
5. Enter transaction in People Admin with attached supplemental document from step 2.
6. Forward to Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs for review and action.

Procedure III-06.0: Faculty Overload – Decentralized Overload Budget Fall / Spring

Faculty may receive extra compensation for teaching up to 6 hours above the approved workload requirement per semester. The Faculty Overload form can be retrieved from the Office of Human Resources website under “Forms” must be completed, via PeopleAdmin for overload payment based on in load classes meeting minimum class size which should be consistent with the preliminary workloads for the semester as approved by the department chair and dean. They should then be forwarded to the Interim Vice President for Academic Affairs, Dr. Alisa Mosley.

Faculty Overload payments will be paid per credit hour based on the faculty’s academic rank as follows:

| Rank         | Per Credit Hour Rate | Engineering &amp; Computer Sciences* |
|---------------------|-----------------------------|---------------------------------------------|
| Professor           | $700                       | $1,500*                                    |
| Associate Professor | $650                       | $1,250*                                    |
| Assistant Professor | $600                       | $1,250*                                    |
| Instructor          | $550                       | $1,000*                                    |

STEPS:

1. Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs transfers funds based on request from the Dean of each College for Overload payments to faculty in an (fall & spring) overload position number assigned to each college as follows.

| College      | FOAP            | Position Number |
|---------------------|------------------------|------------------------|
| CPS                 | 110001-13092-61200-200 | 003711                 |
| Liberal Arts        | 110001-13192-61200-200 | 003712                 |

| Engineering         | 110001-13492-61200-200 | 003715                 |
| Agriculture         | 110001-13592-61200-200 | 003716                 |
| Health Sciences     | 110001-13692-61200-200 | 003717                 |
| Business            | 110001-13792-61200-200 | 003718                 |
| Life & Physical Sci | 110001-14092-61200-200 | 003719                 |

The FOAP is 110001-College Org-61200-200, as indicated in step one above as assigned by the Finance and Accounting and Budget Offices.

2. Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs prepares a budget revision to allocate funding consistent with the request submitted by each College.

3. Dean's Office controls, manages, and is responsible for distribution to applicable departments in the respective College.
4. Distribute funds such that allocation pays the salary and the benefits (approximately 15%).
5. Budget allocation to cover the Fall 2018 and Spring 2019 semesters.
6. Insure allocation is used to pay faculty approved to work overloads.
7. Attach copy of the signed workload form in PeopleAdmin with each overload request form. The forms should be submitted immediately after the final date for cancellation of classes and not before to insure class load does not change.
8. Deans are to insure the allocation is not used for nonteaching duties. The funds cannot be transferred to operating for travel or operating expenses.
9. Deans are to use the funds for all departments in the specific college.
10. Overload payments may not exceed the budget allocation.
11. Unused overload funds can be transferred and used to hire adjuncts and other categories of temporary instruction faculty and clinical staff.
12. A log of original budget, disbursements, and available balance should be maintained by each college.
13. The balance and entries on the financial log of disbursement and budget revision to increase or decrease funding should be reconciled with the data in Banner Finance weekly.

Procedure III-07.0: Service Level Agreements – Division of Business and Finance

In an attempt to provide timely services by support units, service level agreements have been established projecting time needed to process documents requiring action by departments in the Division of Business and Finance.

STEPS:

1. Determine action requiring Business and Finance review and processing.
2. Review applicable table below required action for processing time by the respective department.
3. Submit request or form to the applicable offices making sure appropriate signatures are obtained and appropriate system or process is followed.
4. If transaction is not processed based on turn-around-time reflected in the tables for the various departments and transaction, contact the respective office for an explanation.

Procedure III-08.0: THEC Outcomes-Based Funding Formula

Outcomes-Based Funding Formula

The Commission (originally Tennessee Act (2010) requires Tennessee public community colleges and universities to be funded on outcomes like student progression and completion. The Tennessee Higher Education Commission and Formula Review Committee developed a formula that funds institutions through outcome metrics that reflect institutional priorities and mission. THEC uses a three-year average of the outcomes listed below to limit potential volatility in the formula year over year.

Outcomes

Community Colleges:

Student, Accumulating 12 hrs.
Student, Accumulating 24 hrs.
Student, Accumulating 36 hrs.
Dual Enrollment
Associate Degrees
Long-Term Certificates
Short-Term Certificates
Job Placements
Transfers out with 12 hrs.
Workforce Training, Contact Hours Awards per 100 FTE

Universities:

Students Accumulating 30 hrs.
Students Accumulating 60 hrs.
Students Accumulating 90 hrs.
Bachelor's and Associate Degrees:
Master's/Ed.S. Specialist Degrees:
Doctoral/Law Degrees
Research, Service, and Sponsored Programs:
Six-year Graduation Rate
Degrees per 100 FTE

Outcomes are weighted to align with institutional priorities and mission, totaling 100 percent for each institution. At the recommendation of the Tennessee Board of Regents, the 2015-2020 model uses a common weight structure for progression and awards at community colleges. The formula also includes premiums for focus populations for student progression and undergraduate awards to encourage completion at public institutions.

2 Focus Population = 100% = 2 Outcomes
3 Focus Populations = 120% = 2.4 Outcomes

How It Works: Universities and community colleges compete for a share of available state appropriations each year. They do this through improvement in their outcomes relative to peers. Data are counted and scaled and compared to previous outcome levels. An institution's increase or decrease in outcome production is assessed compared to peer increases or decreases in outcome production. That movement influences that institution's share of state appropriations. For example, if an institution experienced net improvement in outcomes, institutions that experienced the greatest improvements would increase their share of total funding, compared to institutions that lagged in performance, who could receive reduced funding.

The funding formula also includes an assessment of institutional quality and programmatic support via the Quality Assurance [QA] score. Institutions may earn up to an additional 5.45% of funding based upon metrics such as licensure pass rates, accreditation, and success with underrepresented populations. The formula also includes values for institutional fixed costs (e.g., rent, utilities, maintenance and operation), intended to ensure institutions receive adequate funds to maintain the operation of their infrastructure.

Procedure III-08.1: THEC Quality Assurance Funding

The Tennessee Higher Education Commission (THEC) Quality Assurance Funding addresses the University's performance on the following six areas: (1) General Education Assessment; (2) Major Field Competencies; (3) Academic Programs: Accreditation and Evaluation; (4) Student, Alumni, and Employer Satisfaction; (5) Quality Enhancement Plan (QEP) Assessment Implementation; and (6) Student Access and Success. Quality Assurance Funding allows for a possibility of one hundred total points that can be earned for all of the six areas. For TSU, each point is roughly equivalent to $27,000 for a total of $2.7 million each year. Information concerning THEC quality assurance funding can be found at the following website http://www.tn.gov/thec/topic/quality-assurance-funding\_. A detailed review of the assessment process can be found within the 2015-20 Quality Assurance Funding Guidebook. For more information concerning this process at TSU please contact the Office of Institutional Effectiveness and Research (OIER) at 615-963-7031 or Dr. Pamela Burch-Sims.

The Division of Academic Affairs is responsible for collecting, analyzing, and reporting the data to THEC in coordination with the Office of Institutional Research and Effectiveness (OIRE) in the Office of the President. The Division of Academic Affairs through the Office of Institutional Planning and Assessment takes a lead role in implementing the planning and improvement processes for addressing concerns regarding the University's Quality Assurance Funding results. The Division of Academic Affairs achieves this goal by assisting individual units in preparing their students for the Major Field Competencies and preparations for Academic Program Accreditation and Evaluations. The Office of Institutional Planning and Assessment in collaboration with the Office of Institutional Research and Effectiveness, and other relevant stakeholders are also responsible for developing, distributing, and reporting on all Satisfaction Surveys (e.g. NSSE, Alumni, and Employer).

I. General Education Assessment

The General Education component of Quality Assurance Funding is measured by the overall performance of an institution by comparing the university performance on the ETS Proficiency Profile to the average performance of other colleges and universities on this instrument. Based on the performance of TSU versus the national average, up to 15 points for General Education Assessment are awarded according to the scale found in the 2015-2020 Quality Assurance Funding Guidebook \(pg. 8\), Table 1: Generalized Education Scoring Table.

II. Major Field Assessment

The Major Field Assessment component focuses on the performance of individual academic units. While certain units are evaluated annually, other units are only evaluated once every five years. For the Major Field Assessments, 15 points are possible and are calculated using the following formulas:

$$\frac{\text{Institutional Score}}{\text{National Average Score}} = \text{Comparison Score}$$

The institutional score is determined by dividing the number of students that passed by the total number of students that take the test or by determining the average score of the students on the exam.

$$\frac{\text{\textit{\# of students that pass the test}}}{\text{\textit{\# of students that take the test}}} = \text{\textit{Institutional Score}}$$

III. Academic Programs: Accreditation and Evaluation

The Academic Programs: Accreditation and Evaluation component measures the University's ability to meet external accrediting and evaluation standards of academic units. Accreditation and Evaluation is divided into three sub-categories: Accredited programs, Non-Accredited Undergraduate programs, and Non-Accredited Graduate programs. A total of twenty-five points can be earned for this area. Quality Assurance Funding for accredited programs is determined by dividing the number of currently accredited programs by programs that are eligible for accreditation. For Non-accredited programs, there are two types of evaluation: a Program Review or an Academic Audit. A Program Review consists of an external review assessing program outcomes, curriculum, teaching and learning environment, faculty, and support. An Academic Audit utilizes a standard criteria checklist of 20 or 23 items.

The Academic Audit consists of a self-review followed by an onsite review by an external team. Units up for an academic audit will first prepare a report that reviews its own program. Then a team of auditors, comprised of faculty from other TBR institutions, reviews the report and conducts an onsite review of the program with input from faculty, administrators and students. Points are determined by the percentage of standards met divided by total standards in order to come up with an institutional percentage. The institutional percentage is then plugged into Table 5: Non-Accreditable Undergraduate Programs Program Review and Academic Audit (2015-2020 Quality Assurance Funding Guidebook, pg. 14). Non-accredited graduate programs also utilize either a Program review or Academic Audit.

IV. Satisfaction Surveys

Satisfaction surveys are designed to assess overall impressions of student services and the performance of TSU graduates in the world of work. To this end, TSU is expected to regularly assess its performance in three areas: Student Satisfaction (National Survey of Student Engagement-NSSE), Alumni Satisfaction, and Employer Satisfaction. Points are awarded based not only on TSU's performance on the satisfaction surveys, but also on the use of the survey results to make improvements. Ten points are possible for this section.

V. Assessment Implementation (QEP)

The WRITE Program coordinates and runs programs connected to the Quality Enhancement Plan (QEP). Assessment implementation points are determined by the quality and impact of the University's assessment process as it relates to QEP. QEP focuses on demonstrable improvements in the writing skills of TSU students. Points are determined on the basis of a report provided to THEC that details University QEP goals, steps taken to meet those goals, including assessment of student learning, and the implementation of improvement plans based on the assessments. A total of ten points is possible in this section.

VI. Quality of Student Access and Success

Student Access and Success are determined by using three-year trend data on the enrollment, progression, and graduation of University identified sub-populations. Consistent with its Strategic Plan, TSU 2015, the University has identified the following five subpopulations to focus on for the 2010-2015 Performance Funding cycle: Adults (25+), Low Income (Pell grant eligible), African Americans, Health Professions, and STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math) programs. The AY enrollment and progression of these subpopulations will be divided by the average of the previous three-year enrollment and progression to determine a percentage of attainment. This number will be used with the Table 11: Quality of Student Access and Success Student Sub-Populations (2015-2020 Performance Funding Guidebook, page 25) to determine a possible five points for each of the subpopulations with a total of 25 points being possible for this section.

Procedure III-09.0: Transfer Voucher

The purpose of the Transfer Voucher is to transfer funds between University departments. State funds may not be transferred to restricted accounts i.e. Foundation, Grants). However these funds can be transferred to state accounts.

STEPS:

1. The initiating department fills out the transfer voucher form, indicating the department, FOAP to be debited, and the purpose of the transaction.
2. Fill in the department to be credited, account number to be credited and the department phone number.
3. The form is to be signed by both the initiating department budget head and the crediting department budget head.
4. The form is then forwarded to the budget office for approval and execution.
5. Restricted accounts to be debited must be approved by the Foundation or Grants office before submitting to budget to ensure availability of funds.

Procedure III-10.0: University and Department Operating Budgets

Tennessee State University Budget is a financial plan for gathering and spending money over a 12 month fiscal year starting on July 1 and ending June 30. It involves or impacts a large number of people (president, vice presidents, associate vice presidents, deans, department chairs, students, community, alumni, and other stakeholders). The process is political in nature. Steps in the budgetary process include preparation and formulation, submission and approval, execution or implementation, and audit or review.

University Budget is submitted twice a year, Proposed and Estimated Budget submitted in May (current and next fiscal year beginning in July) to the TBR and becomes a part of the consolidated budget presented to the Legislature by THEC for possible funding; Revised Budget (October submitted to TBR. The TSU entire budget is on the Business and Finance- Budget Office (forms) Web page. The University budget includes decentralized operating budgets for each cost center (department/unit).

Academic Affairs' major budget challenge is to strategically allocate limited and constantly diminishing resources to achieve the mission, goals, and objectives of the University for the Division of Academic Affairs as guided by the University's Strategic, Academic Master, Access and Diversity, and other planning documents in a constantly changing and competitive environment.

STEPS:

1. At the beginning of each fiscal year (July 1), the University Budget, inclusive of a decentralized operating budget for each college/department/unit Form VII, can be accessed by visiting the Business and Finance Office- Budget Office. (The following is the original budget for the 2018-19 academic year.)

| Form VIII | Summary of Restricted Current Funds, Revenues and Expenditures               |
2. The University's Proposed Budget is prepared in May of the current fiscal year for the succeeding year. The Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs is allowed to present requests to the Budget Office/Vice President for Business and Finance for presentation to the President for inclusion consideration. The President presents the University's Budget to the Tennessee Board of Trustees for inclusion in the TBR Consolidated Budgeted that is forwarded to THEC for consideration in the Governor's Budget for legislative action for Higher Education funding.
3. The University has an opportunity to present a revised budget to the Tennessee Board of Trustees in October of the current fiscal year based on receipt of additional or reductions in revenues from registration or other spending changes.

4. The University's budget is decentralized with a FOAP (account number) assigned to each cost center or operating unit (i.e., Library {FOAP} 110001-19000-350) then by major spending categories (i.e., salary, benefits, travel, operating, scholarships, equipment).
5. It is the responsibility of the dean, department chair or director assigned to an account to insure funds are spent within the budget allocation and in accordance with the rules, regulations, policies, and procedures established by TBR, Business and Finance, and the Division. Budget charges, credits, and balances are to be reconciled with Banner Finance as often as necessary to insure proper charges and credits are recorded to the assigned FOAP as authorized.
6. Instances of improper or inaccurate charges or credits are to be immediately reported to Business and Finance Accounting and Budget offices with notification to the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs.
7. Discovery or strong suspicion of illegal or misappropriation of funds is to be immediately reported to the Internal Audit Department, Ms. Adrian R. Davis, Director, and the Vice President of Academic Affairs.
8. Budget revisions are to be submitted to the office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs upon approval of the dean or direct report to the Vice President of Academic Affairs and processed by the Budget Office prior to spending in Tiger$hoppe, People Admin or submitting requests to the Vice President of Academic Affairs or other appropriate offices.
9. Funds are not to be spent without prior approval, via a purchase order processed through Tiger$hoppe. Unauthorized purchases will be subject to punitive action which may include the unauthorized spender not being reimbursed.
  - Emergency purchases require prior approval by the Purchasing Office prior to obligation or receipt of goods and services from a vendor.
10. Overtime and extra service pay to employees must be approved by the Vice President of Academic Affairs and President's offices prior to allowing a person to begin work.
11. Contracts and agreements must be approved by the Vice President of Academic Affairs and President's offices prior to any work being performed on a contract or agreement.
12. Charges to TSU Foundation accounts require prior approval by the Foundation Office (Mr. Ben Northington) and the Associate Vice President for Business and Finance (Mr. Horace Chase) prior to spending, including travel.

SECTION IV: COMPUTER SYSTEMS

Procedure IV-01.0: Passwords

Passwords are an important aspect of computer security. They are the front line of protection for user accounts. A poorly constructed password may result in the compromise of an e-mail or computer access account or even the entire TSU network. All TSU students, employees, contractors, and vendors with access to TSU computer and network systems are responsible for taking the appropriate steps, as outlined in this policy to select and secure their passwords. All employees and students are assigned password(s) to gain access to various computer systems as needed based upon job duties and responsibilities and other needs as applicable.

STEPS:

To obtain access to TSU Outlook email:

1. New employees upon hiring will need to contact IT Help desk. Extension: #7777. They will need to have their T#
2. IT will set up new employees with an email address and give a password to access TSU outlook email. Employee can change email password upon signing in. This unique username/password combination will let employee sign in on campus desktops.
3. IT will assist setting up account access to MyTSU as well.

To receive a username and password to access Tiger$hoppe, go to main page:

1. <http://www.tnstate.edu/procurement/tigershoppe.aspx>
2. Click Tiger$hoppe – that will lead you to Tiger$hoppe website. Click “Create Account”.

Generally, users will be prompted to change their password every 3 to 6 months or if password compromise is suspected. Additional information and help is available on the TSU website:

<http://www.tnstate.edu/cit/password.aspx>

Procedure IV -02.0: Sharepoint

System Administrator – MR. JOHN BURGHER / MR. BEN COLEMAN

STEPS:

1. The easiest way to access the Inventory Approval application is from the email alert that you will receive as a department chair or custodian. It will contain a link directly to the department approval page:

3. The Inventory Approval application handles three types of approvals:
  - a. Verification Approvals – for items that are currently in use
  - b. Surplus Approvals – for items to be removed from the inventory
  - c. Transfer Approvals – for items that have been provisionally transferred to your department

The application contains three individual sections—one for each type of approval—though the functionality of each section is the same.

4. Inspect the first item and decide if it is approved or rejected. Approved items are submitted for review and reconciliation by Facilities, while Rejected items are sent to a special queue for individual processing by Facilities. Click either APPROVE or REJECT:

| Verification Approvals                                                       |                  |        |            |             |          |             |            |                      |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------|--------|------------|-------------|----------|-------------|------------|----------------------|
|                                                                              | Department       | Asset  | Serial Num | Custodian   | Location | Tag Missing | Submitter  | Submit Date          |

An approved item will turn green to indicate approval, while a rejected item will turn red:

| Verification Approvals                                                       |                  |        |            |             |          |             |            |                      |

Notice that the green Approve button is still active. If you accidentally reject an item that you meant to approve (and vice versa), simply click the correct button. You are able to make corrections until you submit your approvals.

- Once you have approved or rejected all of the items for your session (you can process as many approval items as you'd like in a single session; pending items will be available for you the next time you launch the application), find the SUBMIT button in the lower-left-hand corner and click it:

The screenshot shows a web application interface with three sections: 'Verification Approvals', 'Surplus Approvals', and 'Transfer Approvals'. Each section contains a table with columns: Department, Asset, Serial Num, Custodian, Location, Tag Missing, Submitter, and Submit Date. Each row in the table has a green 'Approve' button and a red 'Reject' button. The 'Submit' button is located at the bottom right of the interface, highlighted with a red rectangle.

Submit

- When your approvals have been submitted successfully, you will receive this message:

NOTE: Transfer approvals work slightly differently from verification and surplus approvals. An approved transfer will have the department information committed immediately. After submission, it will be available to be processed under the new department in the Inventory Update Application. Rejected transfer changes are discarded and it is returned to the original department's queue.

Multi-disciplinary teams of researchers at TSU and other universities work with Center staff and community partners, including African Americans, Hispanics, and others in under-served communities to address their health-related needs and reduce health disparities through various research projects and collaborative arrangements. Grant funds are also used to support and train TSU undergraduate and graduate students in social science research methods, manuscript development, and other knowledge dissemination strategies.

Procedure V-04.0: Electronic Proposal Routing and Approval System (E-PRAS)

Research and Sponsored Programs has an Electronic Proposal and Routing System called E-PRAS. The system consists mainly of two on-line components, the Intent to Submit a Proposal (ISP) form and the Proposal Routing and Approval form, to be completed by the Principal Investigator or Program Director or someone working on their behalf. The ISP can be accessed in the navigation area at page left from the TSU website under the Research site at www.tnstate.edu/research/researchresources.aspx or in the Staff Applications section of the MyTSU Portal index page. A proposal specific link for the PRA will be generated and e-mailed to the individual listed as PI or PD based on information collected from an ISP submittal. A PRA cannot be accessed without first submitting an ISP.

Procedure V-04.1: Intent to Submit

The Intent to Submit a Proposal (ISP) form is the mechanism to notify the Research and Sponsored Program Office of a plan to submit a proposal to an external agency. The ISP is a tool used to collect data and is used internally to proactively prepare for budget review and general assistance prior to the application submission. The ISP can be accessed using the following web address: https://tnstateu.az1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV\_5oruBn3pVx3BuVn. The ISP should be completed 30 days in advance and takes 5 minutes or less to complete. An email confirmation is sent once it is completed.

Procedure V-04.2: Proposal Routing and Approval

The Proposal Routing and Approval (PRA) form captures additional information regarding the grant proposal indicated in the Intent to Submit a Proposal (ISP) form. The PRA must be accessed with a link specifically tailored using the information gathered from the ISP and is sent to the PI via e-mail shortly after submittal of the ISP. The PRA should be completed once the PI has the grant application and budget completed.

Procedure V-05.0: New Account Establishment

1. RSP receives new award notification from the Agency or PI and reviews for compliance.
2. The Award Acknowledgement and Budget Form is completed in RSP with the agency approved budget information.
3. RSP distributes New Award set-up packet to PI for Review and Signature
  1. Award set-up packet consist of

- ii. TigerShoppe set-up request form
  - iii. Banner Security Clearance form (first time Banner User.)
  - iv. Banner Access form
- 4. PI signs and returns Award Acknowledgement and Budget Form to RSP for processing.
- 5. RSP sends the completed Award Acknowledgement and Budget form, Scope of Work and Award to Grant Accounting Office.
- 6. TigerShoppe set-up form emailed to Procurement once FOAP is established.
- 7. Banner Security Clearance and Banner Access form sent to Grant Accounting Office once FOPA is established.

Procedure V-06.0: Obtaining Principal Investigator (PI) ID Numbers

The National Science Foundation (NSF) ID Number will be available to researchers to access Fastlane.gov and Research.gov. These websites will allow grant seekers to search by topic/area, etc.

Please do not request a new NSF ID for any user who has previously applied to NSF or received funding from NSF.

STEPS:

1. The PI must provide RSP with first and last name, e-mail address, phone and fax numbers, department, highest degree earned, and year it was earned.
2. RSP will assign the temporary password and email it to the PI.

PI will receive an e-mail message from NSF containing an NSF ID number and requesting the PI to visit Research.gov or Fastlane.gov to update their newly created account.

Principal Investigator (PI) Profile

The eRA Commons ID Number is available to researchers for access to NIH.gov

STEPS:

1. The PI must provide RSP with first and last name, e-mail address, phone number, and role status for the research project. If the PI has ever received an eRA Commons login, that must be disclosed as well.

SECTION VI: PERSONNEL-RELATED PROCESSES

Procedure VI-01.0: Alternate Work Arrangement

Reference: 5:01:01:20

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to set the standards for a consistent process and treatment of employees regarding alternate work arrangements for Tennessee State University. Availability of an alternate work arrangement is at the discretion of each institution and subject to change with or without notice. This policy applies only to non-faculty employees in Institutions who choose to offer alternative work arrangements. Future references to employees in this policy refer to non-faculty. Any reference to Institutions includes the TBR Central Office.

Definitions

1. Telecommuting - A work arrangement in which supervisors authorize employees to perform their usual job duties away from their central workplace in accordance with work agreements.
2. Flex Time - Adjusted work schedule where daily working hours may fall outside the hours of 8am to 4:30pm.
3. Compressed Work Week - Adjusted schedule where the employee works a 37.5 hour week in less than 5 days.
4. Flex Year - Any time-period, greater than 9 and less than 12 months, scheduled to accommodate the cyclical workload of the Institution.
5. Job Sharing - Two or more people share a single job for which they are equally accountable.
6. Central Workplace - The employer's place of work where employees normally are located.
7. Employee - A person employed by the institution pursuant to the Board of Regents policies.
8. Alternate Work Arrangement Agreement (Work Agreement) - The written agreement between the institution and the employee that details the terms and conditions of an employee's work schedule whether away from or at the central workplace. Work agreements are required for any alternate work arrangement.

9. Work Schedule - The employee's hours of work in the central workplace and/or in the alternate work location.

STEPS:

- a) Speak with your supervisor regarding the request.
- b) Complete and submit the Alternate Work Arrangement Agreement for approval (see Exhibit 1: Alternate Work Arrangement Agreement --Signatures Required).
- c) Requests for alternate work arrangements should be initiated by the employee's supervisor and should establish the business justification for the alternate work arrangement. Each institution must establish an internal procedure to review and approve/deny these requests.
- d) Alternate work arrangements are not to be considered a universal employee benefit or right. No employee is entitled to or guaranteed the opportunity to an alternate work arrangement. Management is responsible for the continued successful operations of each institution and thus management has the sole discretion to designate positions and/or individuals for an alternate work arrangement.
- e) Alternate Work Arrangements do not change the conditions of employment or required compliance with laws and policies. Employees working on an alternate work arrangement are subject to the same policies, statutes, and procedures applicable to all employees including, but not limited to, time and attendance and leave policies. Institutions must ensure that procedures are in place to document the work hours of employees in alternate work arrangements ensuring compliance with the Fair Labor Standards Act. Supervisors may require employees to report to a central workplace or video conference as needed for work-related meetings or other events or may meet with employees in the alternative work location as needed to discuss work progress or other work related issues. If a holiday falls on an employee's scheduled day off as a result of an alternate work arrangement, the employee's supervisor will make appropriate schedule adjustments to accommodate the holiday.
- f) If approved for an alternate work arrangement, the employee is expected to maintain appropriate levels of productivity and quality of work. If working from a home-based location, the employee will be expected to make arrangements which will allow the work site to be a productive work environment during the agreed upon work hours. The supervisor will use the institution's normal performance management system to clearly define the performance expectations and to assess the employee's performance. If a decline in performance is noted, the arrangement will be canceled.

- g) Approved alternate work arrangements must be initiated through a formal alternate work arrangement agreement. At a minimum, this agreement will establish:
  - i. That the agreement may be revoked any time without cause by written notification of the Institution or upon request by the employee;
  - ii. That the agreement will be reviewed periodically for compliance and to insure the continued business justification for the work agreement;
  - iii. The employee's work schedule;
  - iv. The employee's work location(s);
  - v. How communications between the employee, supervisors, colleagues and others will be maintained;
  - vi. Exclusions of liability for the institution and the State related to injury or property damage to third persons at employee maintained home-based work locations;
  - vii. An indemnification and hold harmless clause releasing the institution and the State from any, and all, claims, demands, judgments, liabilities, losses, damages, or expenses resulting or arising from any injury or damage to any person, corporation or other entity caused directly or indirectly by the employee's acts, omissions, bad faith, willful misconduct or negligence excluding acts within the scope of the employee's employment pursuant to TCA 9-8-307(h);
  - viii. The institution's right to inspect home-based work facilities upon request;
  - ix. The employee's status during emergency or weather-related closings.

F. Alternate Work Arrangement Agreement is provided in Exhibit 1.

G. Employees working from a location within their home are responsible for maintaining their work environment as a safe and productive work space. Work related injuries occurring at the employee's home-based work location are subject to Tennessee Worker's Compensation laws. Alternate work locations are considered extensions of the employee's central work location during the time-period outlined in the Alternate Work Arrangement Agreement.

H. The supervisor should consider material and equipment needs when drafting a proposal for an alternate work arrangement with the goal of making the arrangement cost-neutral, i.e., no more equipment, supplies or expense should be necessary, as a result of the alternate work arrangement than would be needed in the original work location. However, at the Institution's discretion, appropriated funds may be used to:

- 1) Pay for leased telephone lines in employee's alternate work location;
- 2) Install and provide basic telephone service in employees' alternate work location or;
- 3) Provide cell phones or cell phone allowances to employees for business use;

Procedure VI-02.0: Background Checks for Faculty and Staff

The purpose of this policy (POLICY: 6.64) is to provide guidance and describe the process for conducting background investigations on faculty and staff at Tennessee State University. It is Tennessee State University's policy to conduct background investigations on all applicants recommended for full-time employment, part time employment, and authorized volunteerships after December 7, 2011. Tennessee State University also reserves the right to conduct background investigations on employees during the term of their employment for legitimate business-related reasons, including, but not limited to criminal offense investigations, investigations associated with serious violations of University policies, including the University's antidiscrimination/ harassment policy, as determined appropriate by the University. This policy is implemented to ensure that individuals are selected or retained who possess the qualifications to perform the duties of the position most effectively and who are best able to serve the institution.

This policy is in addition to background check requirements under applicable federal and state laws, regulations, and policies governing certain positions at the University, including, but not limited to, residence life/housing, child care and clinical affiliation related positions. This policy shall not, at this time, apply to individuals hired to serve as adjunct faculty members.

Except as provided above, all applicants for positions at Tennessee State University shall be subject to a criminal background check. Individuals may be subject to other background checks based upon the responsibilities of the positions.

STEPS:

1. The individuals subject to background checks must be made aware of this practice at the earliest possible stage in the process. All position vacancy announcements for the positions in the areas identified above shall include a statement indicating that applicants may be subject to background checks.
2. Appointment to a position shall be contingent upon successful completion of a background check. Background investigations can only be completed after the selection of the preferred candidate. However, should a check be initiated after an employment offer and/or employment has begun, the results shall be used to assess the employee's suitability for continued employment. Background checks shall be initiated within the first sixty (60) days for new employees.
3. The Director of Human Resources has been designated as the University official responsible for conducting background checks in compliance with applicable laws for all employees. Individual departments, Colleges, or units are not authorized to conduct their own background checks unless authorized by the Director of Human Resources. The Director of Human Resources must ensure that the Disclosure and Authorization Form required by the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) and other authorization forms are completed before a background check is conducted. The third party vendor conducting the background check is required to provide all necessary forms to be used in the process. If the candidate/employee refuses to sign the Disclosure and Authorization Form, no further consideration will be given to this candidate/employee.

4. Once received, the Director of Human Resources will review and evaluate the information in the background investigation. If the background investigation report contains information upon which it is determined that further review is necessary, the Director of Human Resources will forward the information to the University Counsel for review. The University Counsel may also confer with other appropriate University officials as he deems appropriate. An offer of employment or continued employment may be withdrawn based on a determination that the candidate or employee does not meet the necessary qualifications or characteristics for the position.
5. Criminal convictions or pleas of nolo contendere will be considered in determining a candidate's or employee's suitability for employment or continued employment. In determining suitability for employment where there is a record of criminal conviction, consideration shall be given to such issues as the specific duties of the position, the number of offenses and circumstances of each, the nature and seriousness of the offense, how long ago the conviction occurred, whether the circumstances arose out of an employment situation, and the accuracy of the information on the application.
6. If adverse action is to be taken based in whole or in part on the information obtained from the background check, additional provisions of the FCRA must be followed. Prior to taking adverse action, the Director of Human Resources must provide the candidate or employee with a copy of the background check report, along with a summary of rights. After the adverse action is taken, the candidate or employee must be given a written notice of the adverse action. If the job offer or an employee is recommended for termination, appropriate notice in accordance with other policies is required. The President of the University has final authority on the disposition for an adverse personnel action.

Procedure VI-04.0: Complaint and Grievance Procedures

\(According to Guideline P-080\)

The purpose of this policy is to provide a clear, orderly and expedient process through which all employees of the university may process bona fide complaints or grievances. Some grievances are covered by specific appeal processes; therefore, these procedures have no application to those grievances. These include appeals of tenure and promotion decisions, allegations of discrimination in employment on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, age, handicap, national origin, or veteran status or complaints of sexual harassment. These procedures also have no application to a termination procedure initiated against a tenured faculty member under 5:02:03:60 Section IV.1., or 5:02:03:70 Section V.1.2.. A grievance which is the subject of an action filed with an external body shall not be processed through these procedures. The term external body includes a court or federal or state administrative body such as the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, Office of Civil Rights or Tennessee Human Rights Commission.

It is the policy of Tennessee State University to provide an effective procedure for resolution of problems arising from the employment relationship or environment. To this end, a formal grievance/complaint procedure has been established for the use and benefit of all employees. When an employee believes a condition of employment affecting him/her is unjust, inequitable or a hindrance to effective performance of his/her employment responsibilities, the employee should seek resolution through these procedures without fear of coercion, discrimination or reprisal. It is the policy of this institution to make every effort to resolve disputes prior to their being reduced to a grievance. The President is responsible for implementation of these procedures and has final decision making authority in any action subject to these procedures.

STEPS:

A. MATTERS SUBJECT TO THE COMPLAINT OR GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES: There are the types of matters which are addressed by this policy:

1. GRIEVANCE (Committee review available): A grievance may result from any action the institution has taken against the employee which:

6. Violates Tennessee State University or TBR policy, or involves an inconsistent application of these same policies;

7. Violates any constitutional right. The most likely areas of concern are the First, Fourth or Fourteenth Amendments of the federal Constitution when action hampers free speech, freedom of religion, the right to association, or freedom from improper search and seizure or denies constitutionally required notice or procedures; or
8. Violates a federal or state statute not covered by TBR Guideline P-080.

2. COMPLAINTS (Committee review not available): A complaint is a concern which an employee wants to discuss with supervisory personnel in an effort to resolve the matter. Personnel actions such as performance evaluations, rates of pay, and position reclassification or position terminations due to reduction in force do not fall under the definition of complaint.

1. Application of Guideline

- c. This Guideline applies to employees of an institution and has been developed to assist in drafting procedures for addressing grievances and complaints filed.
  - a. There shall be two types of procedures, which each institution shall address through policies developed pursuant to this Guideline.
  - b. The two types are:
    1. Grievances, which are subject to committee review; and
    2. Complaints, which must be resolved without committee review.
  - c. Standard grievance forms shall be made available to employees at each work site, but no grievance may be denied because a standard form has not been used.
9. The following is a minimum which must be incorporated in the institutional grievance and complaint procedures.
10. This Guideline has no application to a termination procedure initiated against a tenured faculty member under TBR policy No. 5:02:03:60 Section IV.I., or 5:02:03:70 Section V.I.2.C.
4. This Guideline is not to be used for support staff employees who are demoted, suspended without pay, or terminated.
5. In accordance with T.C.A. § 49-8-117, Support Staff Grievance Procedure, support staff employees who are demoted, suspended without pay, or terminated must follow the grievance process contained in Guideline P-111.

1. Support staff employees who wish to challenge other employment actions not covered by P-111, however, may utilize the procedures set forth in the guideline, as applicable.
2. If the grievance involves or is based on unlawful discrimination or unlawful harassment, the process set out in Guideline P-080 must be utilized; however if the President's/Director's/Board's, as appropriate, decision includes demotion, suspension without pay, or termination, the employee so disciplined may use this procedure or the procedure described in TBR policy 1:06:00:05.

D. An employee may choose to utilize the procedure for review by the grievance committee established pursuant to this Guideline in actions relating to the suspension of employees for cause or termination in violation of an employment contract which fall under TBR Policy No. 1:06:00:05 (Cases Subject to UAPA), or TBR Policy No. 5:02:03:60 Section IV.I.1.b or 5:02:03:70 Section V.I.b.(2) (suspension of tenured faculty) or TBR Policy No. 5:02:03:10 Section III (O)(2) (suspension of tenured faculty at TCATs).

E. The institution may choose to utilize the procedure for review by the grievance committee (established pursuant to this Guideline) when resolving a complaint initiated pursuant to TBR Policy No. 5:02:02:10 (Faculty Promotion at TCATs), 5:02:02:20 (Faculty Promotion at Universities), or 5:02:02:30 (Faculty Promotion at Community Colleges).

2. Complaint Procedure

- A. The complaint procedure should state a time limit within which a complaint must be presented after the date the employee received notice or becomes aware of the action which forms the basis of the complaint.
  - a) If the complaint arises from a repeated or continuing occurrence, the time limit begins from the date of the last such occurrence.
  - b. Any complaint not presented within the time limit is waived and shall not be considered.
  - c. Once a final determination is made, the employee may not later present the same complaint in an attempt to gain a more favorable outcome.
- b. The institution policy shall indicate with whom a complaint is to be filed. It should also indicate that a complaint must be submitted in writing.

- c. Resolution of complaints at a minimum requires the institution to:
  - a. Allow the employee to present facts and/or materials;
  - b. Investigate the dispute; and
  - c. Attempt to find a solution.
    - 1. The President/Director or his/her designee shall be the final decision maker.
    - 2. Complaints do not include a right to any type of hearing, adversarial proceeding, nor the right to appeal to the Board.

2. The administrator considering the grievance at each step shall issue a written decision with specific reasons stated for the decision.
3. If the employee is not satisfied with the decision at any step, he/she must carry the grievance forward to the next step within fifteen (15) workdays after receiving the written decision.
  - a) If the employee does not carry the grievance forward within fifteen (15) workdays, the grievance procedure shall be terminated and the grievance disposed of in accordance with the last written decision.
    1. For purposes of this procedure, the term "workdays" refers to Monday through Friday.
4. Any party involved in the grievance proceeding may request an extension of any deadline set forth in the policy. The institution shall establish procedures for consideration of extension requests.
5. Once a grievance is initiated, the grievant may not later present the same grievance again in an attempt to gain a more favorable outcome.

B. Testimony, Witnesses and Representation

1. At every step, the employee may testify and present witnesses and materials in support of his/her position.
  - a) The testimony of an employee, given either on his/her own behalf or as a witness for another employee, will not subject an employee to retaliatory action.

  - a) At the discretion of the panel chair, additional employees from the unit may be allowed to attend the employee panel hearing conducted as the final step.

C. Steps of Review

1. Step 1-- Supervisor or Administrator Instituting Employment Action:

- a) Within fifteen (15) workdays after the employee receives notice or becomes aware of the action which is the basis for the grievance, the employee completes a Grievance Form (which may be obtained from Human Resources), submits it to Human Resources and provides a copy to his/her supervisor or the administrator instituting employment action. While a particular form is not required to file a grievance, the employee must make it clear that she/he intends to utilize the grievance procedures for resolution of the employment action.
- b) Within fifteen (15) workdays after receipt of the grievance, the supervisor or administrator initiating employment action and the employee meet and discuss the grievance in a face-to-face meeting.
- c) If the supervisor or administrator was not the one who recommended the original employment action, or is recommending a change from the original employment action, the supervisor or administrator will make a recommendation to the administrator who made the original employment action.
- d) Any changes from the original employment action must be approved by the President or Director, as appropriate, before being communicated to the employee.
- e) Within fifteen (15) workdays after the face-to-face meeting, the supervisor or administrator must communicate the decision in writing to the grievant with specific reasons stated for the decision.
- f) If the supervisor or administrator fails to respond or if the decision is not satisfactory to the employee, the employee may carry the grievance forward to Step 2.

2. Step 2--Next Higher Level of Management:

- a) Within fifteen (15) workdays after receiving the written decision at Step 1, if the employee is not satisfied with the result of Step 1, the employee must notify Human Resources that he/she wants further review.
  - 1. Human Resources schedules a face-to-face meeting to occur within fifteen (15) workdays after receiving notice that the employee wants further review of the next level administrator.
- b) Within fifteen (15) workdays after the face-to-face meeting, the next level administrator issues a written decision that includes specific reasons for the decision.

- c) Any changes from the original employment action must be approved by the President or Director, as appropriate, before being communicated to the employee.

3. Step 3--Hearing:

- a) Within fifteen (15) workdays after receiving the written decision at Step 2, the employee can request a grievance hearing before a panel of employees.
- b) The employee must notify Human Resources in writing whether he/she wants a hearing before an employee panel.
- c) Alternatively, the employee may request a hearing under TBR Policy No. 1:06:00:05 (Cases Subject to UAPA), if applicable.
- d) If the employee requests a hearing before an employee panel, Human Resources or the appropriate institutional person as defined by the institution policy selects the panel members, convenes the hearing and arranges for the grievance to be heard.
- e) The employee grievance panel may include non-exempt staff employees, exempt staff employees, or a combination of both exempt and non-exempt employees.
- f) The panel members representing the unit where the employee works may not serve on the grievance panel.
- g) Every effort should be made to include minorities, i.e. ethnic minorities and women, in the composition of the committee.
- h) The grievance panel shall hear the grievance within fifteen (15) workdays, if practicable, after the date on which the employee submits his/her written request to Human Resources.
- i) The written recommendation of the institutional panel or commission is subject to review by the President, Director, or in the case of grievances at the TBR System Office, the Board.

4. Step 4--Review by the President/Director/Board, as appropriate:

- a) The written recommendation of the grievance panel will be forwarded to the President, Director, or Board appropriate.
- b) Within fifteen (15) work days, if practicable, the President, Director, or Board, as appropriate, or a designee will notify the grievant of the final decision.

D. Grievances which are processed through the grievance committee and upon which the President/Director has made a decision are appealable to the Board only where the grievance falls within the parameters set out in TBR Policy 1:02:11:00.

TENNESSEE STATE UNIVERSITY

Procedure VI-07.0: Employee Separation Notification

When an employee under your supervision separates from the University, various departments MUST BE NOTIFIED within twenty-four (24) hours of receiving notice. The supervisor is required to submit the Employee Separation Administration (ESA) with accurate information specifically dates.

Submitting incorrect information could be problematic for both the separating employee and the university. When information is submitted timely and accurately, the separating employees (s) are paid correctly.

Therefore, it is imperative that the supervisor submits the ESA, per the instructions.

STEPS:

- Complete the ESA form accurately.
- Open up your email and attach the completed ESA form.
- Click on the "To" key to locate the address of the receiver (s).
- When the Address Directory appears, key in "ESA" which will automatically inform required offices of separation via the sent command.
- Click on the "Send" button.
- Complete and submit the Employee Separation form in PeopleAdmin within twenty four (24) hours. Both forms must be submitted.

Procedure VI-09.0: Hiring Adjuncts and Temporary Faculty and the Decentralized Adjunct Budget

STEPS:

Deans/Department Chairs are to advertise vacant positions and attempt to hire permanent or tenure-track faculty in a timely manner. If position cannot be filled, salary savings from vacant positions will be used first to hire one year full-time temporary faculty. Secondly, permanent faculty should be given priority to teach and be compensated using the overload budget as based on availability of funds and approval of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Lastly, the adjunct and part-time temporary faculty budget allocation should be used if additional faculty members are required.

Each college will be allocated funds for hiring adjuncts and temporary faculty (one semester or two semesters) annually, based on the availability of funds.

Funds from vacant non-faculty positions in the respective college/department's operating budgets maybe used to supplement the College's decentralized budget. Additionally, unused funds in the College's decentralized overload budget may be used to supplement their adjunct budget. The funds allocated may not be used for non-personnel purposes. A budget revision form has to be completed to move salary and benefit savings from vacant positions from the designated permanent position number to the adjunct, one semester or two semester position number or operation (for dual service agreements {74000}) as applicable in the adjunct budget. Whenever funds in one position are moved to a position in a different Org. code, a 35% of the salary being transferred entry should simultaneously be made.

Each College will have a unique FOAP assigned and the Dean's Office, working with the respective departments in the College, will determine the amount designated for each department. The initial funding allocation will be credited by the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs prior to the Fall term via Budget Revision in the adjunct per credit hour position number for the respective College as in 5B (highlighted in red) below:

1. A. The following is the FOAP for each College:

B. There is a different number for each type of adjunct/temporary faculty to be hired. All Adjunct and Temporary faculty are to be processed via People Admin (Human Resources) System, except those hired under a Dual Service (meaning the faculty is an employee of another state institution). Dual Service Agreements are to be processed via Tiger$hoppe. The following Org, account, and position number will be used when hiring in one of the categories below:

All adjunct/temporary contracts should be prepared allowing ample time for processing through the system. In emergency cases, beyond the department/college's control, it may become necessary to allow a temporary faculty to begin work prior to signing of the personnel contract in Human Resources (as in the case of dual service agreements). In such case, an Emergency Employment Form must be approved and signed by the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs prior to allowing the faculty to begin the first day of work. The Emergency Form is to be signed by the Department Chair and the Dean prior to submission to the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs. The form is not to be signed by the temporary faculty. This is an internal document for approval to allow the temporary person to begin work without a signed contract. As soon as the contract has been approved by the President, the temporary faculty member must report to the Human Resources Office to sign their contract within 72 hours to continue reporting to their assigned classes. Temporary faculty hired via dual service agreements must also have this form completed if the contract has not been signed by the President prior to the first day of work. Once the Emergency Form is signed, it should be entered in PeopleAdmin with the temporary Adjunct/Notice of Appointment Form as a supplement. Do not attach forms that have not been signed by the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs. Also, the start date on the Adjunct form or Notice of Appointment form should not be earlier than the date on the emergency hire form. The salary is to be prorated if the start date is after the official start date of the semester.

2. Each College should maintain a log (i.e., excel-spreadsheet) with the beginning balance being the annual allocation and deductions of adjunct and temporary faculty charges to the decentralized budget. Budget revisions, charges, and balances should be reconciled with Banner/Finance at minimum each pay period.
3. Deans are to insure the allocation is not used for nonteaching duties. The funds cannot be transferred to operating for travel or operating expenses.
4. Deans are to use the funds for all departments in the specific college.
5. Adjunct payments may not exceed the budget allocation and the amount paid to an adjunct may not exceed the amount allowed based on the degree and years of experience.
6. Unused adjunct funds can be transferred and used for faculty overload.
7. Department chairs are responsible for making sure all emergency hire forms are approved by the Vice President of Academic Affairs Office and contracts are signed when approved by the President prior to allowing a temporary faculty member to report to class.

Procedure VI-13.0: Job Reclassification

The position reclassification process is based upon securing accurate information on the current duties and responsibilities of each position using the Tennessee State University's Compensation Program. The information provided within this questionnaire is used as a basis upon which a proper reclassification (title and pay level) can be determined for new positions during a reclassification process or position pre-audit. This questionnaire may also be used to officially "update" existing position descriptions.

The following Job Analysis Questionnaire is to be completed by the current incumbent, or by the supervisor of a vacant position.

Reasons for submission of JAQ:

- The employee duties and responsibilities have changed significantly.
- The employee is very knowledgeable and possesses the skills and abilities for the position.
- The employee meets the minimum requirement of work experience for the position.
- The employee has experienced a degree of problem solving and can handle difficult and complex tasks.
- The supervisor identifies a need to reclassify a current vacant position in order to meet the needs of the University.

STEPS:

1. Job Analysis Questionnaire Form is completed and signed by the employee, then submitted to the immediate supervisor for signature.
2. The immediate supervisor submits form to a second level of management above the immediate supervisor who indirectly supervises the position. The Vice President of all areas must sign the JAQ before HR begins the evaluation process. If the signatures are not included, the document will be returned, further delaying the process.
3. The form is then submitted to the Associate VP/HR Director after acquiring the appropriate signatures.
4. A desk audit is performed in a timely manner by the appropriate person in Human Resources.
5. Once the reclassification is completed and signed by the Associate VP/HR Director, the document is forwarded to the supervisor of the position.
6. If the reclassification is for a current employee then the Reclassification PARF should be submitted along with the completed evaluation in PeopleAdmin for processing.
7. Once the documents are approved in PeopleAdmin and received by HR, the information is processed on the next available pay date.

JOB ANALYSIS QUESTIONNAIRE

PURPOSE

The purpose of this questionnaire is to gather information about the job and its requirements. This information will be used to ensure that the job is properly valued in Tennessee State University's Compensation Program.

Please take the time to complete this questionnaire as completely and accurately as possible. Before you begin to complete the questionnaire, please take a minute to review the following instructions.

INSTRUCTIONS

The questionnaire is divided into 13 sections. Administrative/Professional staff members should complete all sections, except for the last two sections, which are set aside for supervisors and managers. Before answering any question, read all of the instructions carefully.

1. Look over the entire questionnaire to make sure you understand the questions. The questions are largely self-explanatory; however, if you have difficulties, please refer questions to your immediate supervisor.
  2. The questionnaire asks you to describe the job in your own words and to provide responses which accurately represent the way the job currently functions; don't understate or overstate your answers. To help you in this, keep these points in mind:
    - Consider the job's usual responsibilities. Do not dwell on limited, short-term tasks or future responsibilities.
    - Look at the "whole picture". Compare the job to others in your department and in the entire University.
    - Remember, you are considering the job and its requirements - not your own personal background or how you would like to see the job performed.
  3. Answer all of the questions. Leave nothing blank. Please type, print, or write legibly your responses using black ink. Be sure to retain a copy of the questionnaire for your records.
  4. A sample statement of job duties and responsibilities follows these instructions to provide you with an example of how duty statements are written.
  5. After you have completed the questionnaire, sign and date it, and then give it to your supervisor for his/her review. Your supervisor and his/her supervisor will be reviewing each questionnaire separately and in relation to the questionnaires completed for other jobs they supervise. Your supervisor may wish to meet with you to discuss any differences in viewpoint.
  6. Supervisors or managers should not change or erase the Administrative/Professional staff employee's responses; however, comments may be provided in the margins next to the employee's responses and initialed in colored pen or pencil. (Supervisors should use red ink; managers at the next level should use blue ink.)
  7. Supervisors are strongly encouraged to meet with the Administrative/Professional staff employee after reviewing the questionnaire to mutually discuss the position and any differences of opinion which may exist.

REFERENCE: 5:01:01:03

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to establish the criteria and process regarding leaves of absence for employees at Tennessee State University.

Policy

I. Introduction

- It is the policy of the Tennessee State University to provide approved, unpaid time off to regular employees due to reasons of illness or injury, or disability of an employee who has insufficient accumulated annual and/or sick leave, leave for educational purposes and leave for justifiable personal reasons. [\[Refer to 5:01:01:08 for maternity leave policy.\]](#)

II. Leave of Absence

1. Leave of absence as referred to in this policy shall include any period of administrative leave with pay up to a maximum of 90 days, pending an institutional review or investigation or leave in a non-pay status or athletic competition leave as defined below.
2. Administrative leave with pay must be approved by the President or Director following review by the Office of Human Resources.
3. Leave of absence shall be granted for any period (which may exceed one (1) year) when an employee transfers to another TBR institution or to the Board's system office and requests to be placed on leave of absence.
4. Leave of absence without pay, not to exceed one (1) year, may be granted for justifiable absences wherein it is not desirable to terminate the employee.
5. Factors to be considered in determining whether it is desirable to not terminate the employee and to approve leave of absence without pay include whether;
  1. There are extraordinary circumstances present that justify keeping a position open or vacant and preserving it for that employee;
  2. It is, objectively and from a business standpoint, in the institution's best interest to retain the employee because of demonstrated contributions to the department; and
  3. The employee performs a unique service or has unique qualifications that are required for the position.
6. Such leave must be approved by the president/director/Chancellor or his/her designee, and any additional leave must be approved by the Chancellor upon the recommendation of the President/Director.

7. Employees who request an unpaid leave of absence due to a Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) qualifying event shall have their leaves processed in accordance with the provisions of Family and Medical Leave Policy 5:01:01:14 regarding eligibility, continuation of insurance coverage, maximum leave period for parents who are both State employees, etc.
  8. If an employee is not eligible for FMLA leave or the period of the leave exceeds the FMLA maximum, the remaining balance of the leave shall be processed in accordance with the provisions of this policy.
  9. In addition, an employee who is on an unpaid leave of absence which does not qualify as FMLA leave shall be responsible for paying both the employee and employer portion of insurance premiums.
  10. While on leave of absence for educational purposes or other justifiable personal reasons other than non-qualifying FMLA leave, illness, injury, or disability, an employee retains accumulated annual and sick leave, but does not earn or accrue additional annual or sick leave. In addition, an employee on leave of absence is not entitled to compensation for official holidays occurring within the leave period.
    - An employee who has qualified for Workers' Compensation may retain accumulated annual and sick leave.
1. In addition to the previously defined leave of absence policy, pursuant to T.C.A. § 8-50-1102, public employees who qualify as members of a United States team for athletic competition, on the world, Pan-American or Olympic level in a sport contest in either Pan-American or Olympic competitions are eligible to request a leave of absence with or without pay for the purpose of preparing for and engaging in the competitions just described.
    1. Team is defined as meaning any group leader, coach, official, or athlete who comprises the official delegation of the United States to World, Pan-American, or Olympic competition.
    2. In no event shall the total of all such leave exceed the period of the official training camp and competition combined plus a reasonable amount of travel or 90 calendar days a year whichever is less.
    3. The granting of leave under this section shall be discretionary with the public employer.
      - i. In order to qualify for athletic competition leave, a public employee must:
        - a. Be actively working for the public employer from whom the leave is requested at the time the request is made;
        - b. Request such leave of absence a reasonable period prior to the date the public employee wishes the leave to commence;
        - c. At the time of the request, the employee shall provide the employer with the actual or anticipated dates of the competition, the dates of the official training camp and specify the total number of leave days that will be necessary in order for the public employee to participate;

- d. The public employee must provide satisfactory evidence of qualification and selection for participation.
2. An employee of a TBR institution who is a member of the United States Air Force Auxiliary Civil Air Patrol who participates in a training program for the civil air patrol, or in emergency and disaster services, shall be entitled to a leave of absence with pay for a period of not more than fifteen (15) days during a calendar year for such purposes if the leave of absence is at the request of the employee's wing commander or the wing commander's designated representative.
  1. Any leave of absence pursuant to this section shall be in addition to any other leave of the employee.
  2. All other rights and benefits of the employee, including seniority rights, insurance benefits, health insurance benefits, creditable service and all other such rights and benefits, shall continue.
  3. The employee may be granted leave pursuant to the provisions of this Act with or without pay subject to the complete discretion of the employer.
  4. If leave of absence under this Chapter is granted with pay, the employee retains accumulated annual and sick leave and continues to earn or accrue additional annual and sick leave.
  5. The employee is also entitled to compensation for official holidays occurring within the leave period.
  6. If the leave is granted without pay, an employee retains accumulated annual and sick leave, but does not earn or accrue additional annual or sick leave.

Procedure VI-16.0: Requesting Leave (sick, vacation, professional, FMLA, etc)

It is the policy of the Tennessee State University to provide all regular and full-time and part-time employees with regular periods of leave or time away for various reasons. Approving authorities may require key administrative employees to take a specified number of consecutive days of annual leave each year. Under no circumstance can annual leave be taken before it is earned. Annual leave is accrued as described below.

Annual leave

Provides all regular full-time and part-time employees with regular periods of rest and relaxation away from the work environment and recognize length of service. All personnel entitled to accrue annual leave may request use of annual leave at any time. Such requests are subject to the discretion of the approving authority that is responsible for planning the work under his or her control and should be approved only at such times as the employee can best be spared. However, it is management's responsibility to plan the work so that employees are permitted to take their annual leave during the course of each year.

Eligibility to Accrue Annual Leave

Regular full-time employees (excluding nine-month faculty) regardless of probationary status shall be eligible to accrue annual leave.

1) Regular non-exempt full-time employees will start accruing annual leave upon completion of a calendar month of service or major fraction thereof, in accordance with the following schedule:

| ELIGIBILITY     | RATES OF ACCRUAL | MAXIMUM ACCUMULATION OF ANNUAL LEAVE | MAXIMUM ACCUMULATION ACCRUAL | ANNUAL ACCUMULATION FORWARD TO SERVICE PER MONTH ACCUMULATION WITHIN FY |
|-----------------|------------------|--------------------------------------|------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 0-less than 5   | 7.5 hours        | 90.0 hours                           | 315.0 hours                  | 225.0 hours                                                             |
| 5- less than 10 | 11.3 hours       | 135.6 hours                          | 405.6 hours                  | 270.0 hours                                                             |
| 10-less than 20 | 13.2 hours       | 158.4 hours                          | 450.9 hours                  | 292.5 hours                                                             |
| 20 or more      | 15.0 hours       | 180.0 hours                          | 495.0 hours                  | 315.0 hours                                                             |

2) Exempt employees will accrue 15.0 hours per month with a maximum accumulation of 315.0 hours, regardless of years of service.

3) Part-time regular employees will accrue annual leave on a pro-rated basis.

4) Temporary employees do not accrue annual leave.

5) Regular employees with MODFY (modified fiscal year) appointments will accrue annual leave during their appointment periods. MODFY employees who work during their normal non-duty periods shall accrue annual leave on the same basis as full-time employees for each month of full-time employment. For part-time employment during that period, MODFY employees shall accrue annual leave on a prorated basis.

6) The anniversary date for computation of leave shall be the beginning date of employment for each employee, except when adjustments in the date must be made because of periods of non-accrual, i.e., leaves of absence, temporary breaks in employment. Annual leave in excess of maximum may be used during the fiscal year in which the excess accrues; however, an employee may not exceed the maximum leave at the end of the fiscal year. In the event it is not so used during the fiscal year, it will be transferred to the employee's accumulated sick leave.

7) Annual leave shall be requested and approved by the approving authority before leave begins. Annual leave may not be advanced and shall not be in excess of the amount accrued by the employee.

8) Employees may request to use their annual leave any time they prefer by application to the approving authority. Such requests will be considered, subject to the discretion of the approving authority to plan the work under his/her control and to authorize absence only at such time as the employee can best be spared. However, it is management's responsibility to plan the work so that employees are permitted to take their annual leave during the course of each year.

9) An employee who is dismissed for gross misconduct or who resigns to avoid dismissal for gross misconduct shall not be entitled to any compensation for accrued but unused annual leave at the time of dismissal.

10) In the case of death, payment for an employee's unused accrued annual leave shall be made to the employee's estate or designated beneficiary.

11) Full-time and part-time employees who are employed through grants or contracts are not eligible to accrue annual leave unless the grant or contract involved provides sufficient funds to cover the costs of such leave or unless eligibility to accrue annual leave is approved by the President of the institution.

12) Student employees are not eligible to accrue annual leave.

13) Employees otherwise eligible to earn annual leave do not earn annual leave while on leaves of absence.

14) When an employee who is eligible to accrue annual leave transfers into a nine month academic position (thus becoming ineligible to accrue annual leave), the employee shall take all of his or her accrued annual leave prior to the date of transfer unless the appropriate approving authority determines the services of the employee must continue until the date of transfer. If that event, the employee shall be paid for all accrued annual leave by a lump sum payment at the time of transfer.

Sick Leave

Sick leave eligibility applies to the same personnel as described in Annual Leave. Illness of the employee shall be reported to the respective department chair as soon as possible on the first day of absence. If such notification is not given, such absence may be charged as annual leave or leave without pay. Sick leave should be documented and approved by the department chair on the first workday after the absence.

Accrued sick leave is cumulative for all days not used. Under no circumstance shall sick leave be taken before it is earned. Employees do not earn or accrue sick leave while on leave of absence. Employees do not receive payment for unused accrued sick leave days while on leave of absence or receive payment for unused accrued sick leave days upon termination. Sick leave may be used for purposes such as: illness or injury to an employee, medical examinations and dental appointments, and illness or incapacity to work due to pregnancy. In instances of death of a member of the immediate family, sick leave may be granted at the discretion of the appropriate approving authority for a maximum of two (2) days after the three (3) days of bereavement leave have been used. Regular employees accrue sick leave at the rate of one day (7.5 or 8.0 hours) for each calendar month of actual service or a major fraction thereof. A regular full-time employee cannot earn more than 12 days (90 or 96 hours) of sick leave per year. Part-time regular employees accrue sick leave on a pro-rata basis. Temporary, seasonal, and intermittent employees do not accrue sick leave. Regular employees with MODFY (modified fiscal year) appointments accrue sick leave during their appointment periods. MODFY employees who work during their normal non-duty periods shall accrue sick leave as full-time employees for each month of fulltime employment. For part-time employment during that period, MODFY employees shall accrue sick leave on a pro-rata basis. Additional information regarding the Sick Leave Bank for clerical staff is referenced at Sick Leave Bank Operating Plan \(Non Faculty\).

If neither sick nor annual leave is available, such absence will be charged as leave without pay. An employee may be required to present evidence in the form of a physician's certificate to support the reasons for an absence during the time for which sick leave is taken. Except in exceptional circumstances, physician certification will be required only after three consecutive days of absence.

Time-off to vote shall be recorded as non-duty pay hours and will be reported on the employee's time sheet. Time-off to vote is considered for non-exempt employees as non-worked time when calculating overtime.

Procedure VI-17.0: Retirement Programs

The purpose of the Retirement policy is to identify provisions under which regular full-time executive, administrative, and professional employees are able to participate in the State Retirement Program or optional retirement programs.

It is the policy of Tennessee State University that all regular full-time employees of the University shall be members of a state-supported retirement system. Regular academic, executive, administrative and professional employees shall have the option of becoming members of either the Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System or the Board of Regents Optional Retirement Program.

Retirement Plans: 5:01:03:03

References: <https://policies.tbr.edu/policies/retirement-plans>
<http://www.treasury.state.tn.us/tcrs/Pub.html>

STEPS

1. Review and select the Retirement Program of your choice on/or before the first day of employment. If you don't make an election you will be automatically enrolled into the State Tennessee Consolidated Retirement (TCRS) program.
2. Non-Exempt employees will be automatically enrolled into TCRS.

Tennessee Consolidated Retirement Program (TCRS).

This is the only retirement plan available to non-exempt, classified employees. These employees are paid semi-monthly. Full vesting in TCRS is reached after five (5) years of service. Fully vested employees accrue the rights to retirement benefits.

Exempt, classified employees may opt to participate in TCRS or the Optional Retirement Program (ORP). Exempt employees are paid monthly.

Employees who are members of the TCRS are eligible to retire upon attainment of age sixty or upon completion of thirty years of creditable service.

TCRS and the ORP are non-contributory on the part of the employee; the university contributes a percentage of your monthly base salary toward the retirement plan, if hired before June 30th.

If you are hired on/after July 1st, contribution rates apply. <http://www.treasury.tn.gov/orp/index.html>

Optional Retirement Program (ORP)

ORP members attain immediate vesting rights. This retirement option allows the member to direct employer contributions, made on his/her behalf, to one or more of the following designated companies for investment of the funds:

- VALIC (800-448-2542)
- VOYA (800-525-4225)
- TIAA (800-842-2776)

ORP members are offered a one-time opportunity to transfer membership to TCRS. The legislation can be found in Public Chapter 738 or TCA 8-35-403 (f). The specifics of this one-time opportunity are as follows:

1. The member must be a current State of Tennessee employee or higher education employee at the time of transfer with five (5) or more years of service in the ORP.
2. The member must not have received cash withdrawal or other distribution from the ORP.
3. The transfer must include Tennessee ORP service. If you elect to transfer to TCRS, you waive all current and future rights to ORP benefits from Tennessee contributions. The decision is irrevocable.
4. The cost of the transfer will be the greater of (1) the ORP account balance, or (2) a percentage of the member's compensation during the ORP participation period, plus annual interest. Most likely, in many cases, the ORP balance will not cover the total cost of the transfer.
5. The required payment must be made in lump sum not later than December 31st of the transfer year stipulated. There are various options for funding the payment including transferring your ORP account or other tax-deferred retirement accounts, or using personal savings.

Note: The transfer from ORP to TCRS is strictly voluntary. Employees are not obligated to change.

Procedure VI-18.0: Temporary Employment Report: Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System TCRS

Any retired member of the Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System (TCRS), except those receiving a disability retirement allowance, or ORP, except those who have never taken a withdrawal or distribution from his/her account, may return to service in a position covered by this system and continue to draw his/her retirement allowance under the following conditions:

1. The retiree must have a break in service for a minimum of sixty (60) days, unless an exception has been applied for and approved.
2. Retirees employed as teachers by an institution of higher education are limited to 24 quarter hours or 18 semester credit hours.
3. The entire compensation payable to the retiree for such work should not be more than 60 percent of the annual full-time salary received by the member in the year immediately prior to retirement. This limit on salary increases by 5 percent for each year since the member's retirement.

When a retiree begins temporary employment, he/she will be required to complete the appropriate form in Human Resources.

- A. TCRS retirees must complete the Temporary Employment form and the institution shall submit the form to TCRS. TCRS must be notified by letter when the retiree's temporary employment reaches the 120 day limit and/or when the employment is terminated to avoid possible overpayment or suspension of the monthly benefit.
- B. Optional Retirement Program (ORP) retiree's must complete the Optional Retirement Program (ORP) Part-time Re-employment Certification/Waiver form for the institution's files.
- C. New forms for TCRS and ORP retirees must be completed for each 12 month period.

Note: It is the responsibility of the retiree to work 120 days or less; otherwise, working beyond the allotted 120 days could reduce the retirement benefits.

SECTION VII: TRAVEL-RELATED PROCESSES

Procedure VII-01.0: Travel

Tennessee State University has established travel policies based on TBR Policy No. 4:03:03:00 which as well as the TSU travel section of the TSU Finance and Accounting Policy and Procedure Manual should be reviewed for more detailed information. All Tennessee State University employees who travel in the performance of their duties must follow the aforementioned TBR policy. Provisions of this policy may also apply to individuals other than employees who are authorized to travel at institutional expense. No authorization for travel by any employee shall be granted and not reimbursement for travel expenses shall be made, except in accordance with the provision of the University's policies and procedures. Employees are expected to be as conservative as possible in incurring travel expenses. All TSU employees and others who travel in the performance of their official duties must follow the procedures in the steps below and as described in detail in the additional travel policies:

STEPS:

1. All travel must be approved in advance. The authorizing form is the Travel Requisition Form. See TSU Policy # 5.9.3 for processing steps.
2. Travel reimbursement is subject to limits established by the TBR. See Addendum A.
3. Travel reimbursement must be requested on a Claim for Traveling Expenses Form. See TSU Policy # 5.9.15 for processing steps.
4. Travel by groups requires different processing than individual travel. See TSU Policy # 5.9.9 for processing steps or TSU Policy # 5.9.4 for athletic group travel.
5. Exceptions to TSU's travel regulations are established by the TBR in compliance with the Comprehensive Travel Regulations of the State of Tennessee. The institution has no authority to make exceptions outside those established by the TBR. See TSU Policy # 5.9.10 regarding lodging and meal rate exceptions.
6. A Travel Requisition Form must be completed by the traveling employee to authorize the work related travel even if no expenses will be incurred or the employee does not plan to seek reimbursement.
7. These policies and procedures apply to all employees of the University regardless of the original source of the funds to the University (unrestricted or restricted).

Travel Requisition Process

In addition to submitting a Requisition through Tiger$hoppe, you must complete a "Paper" Travel Requisition (.PDF) (See Travel Requisition 'Step-by-Step')

NOTE: IT IS RECOMMENDED THAT YOU COMPLETE THE TRAVEL REQUISITION .PDF & THE TIGER$HOPPE TRAVEL REQUISITION SIMULTANEOUSLY, AS EACH DOCUMENT REQUIRES DATA FROM THE OTHER.

1. Log into Tiger\$hoppe and start keying in your Travel Requisition information, using the "Step-by-Step" Guide, being sure to enter the total $ amount of the requisition onto the form.
2. Once you have completed the Tiger$hoppe process and submitted the Requisition for approval, Tiger$hoppe will automatically generate a Requisition Number that will appear on the top of the final screen.
3. Enter the Requisition number in to the "T_____" field on the top right side of the "paper" (.PDF) Travel Requisition.
4. Once the "paper" requisition is complete:
  - a. Print the Requisition
  - b. The Traveler needs to sign the bottom of the requisition
  - c. The Traveler's Supervisor does not necessarily have to sign/authorize the requisition
NO OTHER SIGNATURES ARE NEEDED!
5. Print out the necessary travel support documents:
  - a. Preferred Hotel (or Conference specified Hotel) location and reservation information, including the price per night of the room
Example: Most conferences have a specific/preferred hotel for their attendees

Procedure VIII-02.0: Frequently Asked Questions

STEPS:

To add to the list of questions below, submit an email to Dr. Pat Crook and the questions and answers will be researched and added to the next updated list.

Question 1: What is the process for paying institutional and accreditation membership fees and the names of the institutional memberships that will be paid by the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs?

Answer: Only the following institutional memberships will be paid by the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs from the University membership account. See Procedure II-17.0: Institutional Memberships.

All other institutional memberships (i.e., college, department, discipline or academic program) must be paid using a department or college budget, if the memberships are to be subscribed to or renewed. No funds will be provided beyond what has been currently budgeted in a department's operating for memberships not listed above.

Accreditation fees will be paid by the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs based on adequate documentation supported by an invoice from the agency and timely submission by the department.

Payment Process: The hard copy of an invoice for an institutional membership or accreditation fee is to be brought to the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs approximately 90 days prior to the agency due date or within 24 hours of invoice date by the applicable unit. An email notification with a scanned copy of the invoice attached is to be immediately sent to Ms. Cordia McCutcheon, Assistant to the Vice President of Academic Affairs, and copied to Dr. Pat Crook, Associate Vice President, and Ms. Tamica Davidson, Assistant to the Vice President of Academic Affairs. Upon receipt of the invoice the following will occur: (a) data from the invoice will be entered onto a manual log and scanned into our electronic tracking system; (b) upon receipt the Institutional Memberships and Accreditation invoices after scanning, will be immediately entered into Tiger$hoppe by the Assistant using the Direct Pay form; (c) a copy of the Purchase Requisition will be sent back to the requesting department within 24 hours, with a copy of the invoice; (d) Department administrative assistant (or designee) will contact Ms. McCutcheon and Ms. Davidson within five days, via email, if Purchase Requisition in Tiger$hoppe is not received; and, (e) Department chair (or designee) will follow-up with the accreditation or membership agency to insure check reached the agency in ample time prior to any penalty imposed on the University or program by the agency.

Please note that a letter of justification is required for any new memberships.

Question 2: Who will be responsible for paying late registration or processing fees when an authorization does not reach the Financial Aid Office by the designated deadline?

Answer: The delinquent department.

Question 3: Will the University pay travel to Individual Contractors?

Answer: No, a flat fee should be negotiated with the independent contractor with no mention of travel or other expenses in the body of the document. An independent contractor is responsible for all cost associated with providing the service and should be considered when the negotiated fee is decided.

Question 4: What are the Fall 20XX and Spring 20XX pay periods for adjunct, one-semester and one-year temporary faculty?

Answer: Adjunct and one-semester temporary faculty – FALL SEMESTER: September, October, November, and December, SPRING SEMESTER: February, March, April and May. Temporary one-year faculty are paid September – May, with deferred pay during June, July and August.

Question 5: Are the Overload and the adjunct Faculty budget allocations for the entire Academic Year (fall and spring semesters)?

Answer: Yes. Colleges will not be given additional funds during the year and may not overspend the allocation.

Question 6: Is a dual service agreement to be completed for an adjunct who teaches at TSU and another state agency or reverse?

Answer: No. An adjunct at one institution who becomes employed as an adjunct at another institution doesn't require a Dual Service Agreement. The intent with Dual Service Agreements is to address full-time employees.

Question 7: How does a TSU faculty receive payment for teaching at another college/university?

Answer: Approval should be acquired from the respective department chair and dean prior to accepting an offer to teach at another institution. Second, a dual service agreement must be signed by the president (or designee) of both institutions. The dual service agreement will be initiated by the other institution and sent to the respective department where the faculty is assigned. A routing form is to be attached to the dual service contract following standard procedures. The restricted FOAP (231001-12501-74440-200) is to be entered in the Account No. section of the Contract Routing and Approval Form. The original contract is to be mailed to the other party (college/institution). A copy of the document will be emailed to Grants Accounting by the Legal Office for billing the other institution. The contract language should instruct those agencies to mail payment directly to the TSU Business Office and not the department. The original document is to be filed and maintained in the dean and department offices for permanent recordkeeping and audit purposes.

An extra service pay form must be completed by the department and attached as a supplement document in PeopleAdmin before the faculty member will be paid. The period of releasing the funds should be indicated on the extra service pay form. Remember, if the extra service pay form is not completed by the department and received in Human Resources prior to the payroll deadline date, extra service payment will be delayed.

Question 8: How does a non-TSU faculty teach at TSU?

Answer: A dual service agreement must be signed by the President (or designee) of both institutions. The contract must be created by the TSU department where the non-TSU faculty will be assigned to teach and forwarded to the appropriate offices for signatures with a Contract Routing and Approval Form. Once the contract is returned to the department by the Legal Office, it is to be sent to the other institution. A budget revision is to be made for the amount of the contract transferring funds from the College's decentralized adjunct position number and benefits down to operating (74000) to cover the amount of the salary and benefits. (See attach example of budget revision).

The information must be entered into Tiger$hoppe using the Contract Services Form with a copy of the executed contract attached as support documentation. The College's decentralized adjunct/part-time faculty FOAP (110001-Org.-74440-200) is to be indicated in the Account No. section of the Contract Routing and Approval Form and entered into Tiger$hoppe to generate a Purchase Requisition. Once the contract is signed by the President by TSU Legal Office, the signed contract will be switched in Tiger$hoppe which will generate a Purchase Order to the vendor following the standard Purchasing and Procurement procedure. The original contract is to be mailed to the appropriate college/institution. A copy of the document will be emailed to Grants Accounting by the Legal Office for billing the other institution.

Question 9: Do department chairs receive vacation time?

Answer: Yes, they are fiscal (12 months) employees and accrue two days per month annual leave. They also accrue one day of sick leave per month. They are required to work the same days as other university administrators and deans. They must use annual or leave without pay if absent during the semester break or non-university official holiday periods, unless authorized sick leave is used. Department chairs serve as administrators and faculty. As administrators, they are required and accountable for ensuring all administrative responsibilities and tasks are completed timely and accurately, while effectively managing of department staff. When department chairs are absent or must leave the campus during university operating hours for non-TSU reasons, the time must be recorded as annual or sick leave on web time entry (in accordance with policy).

Question 10: Can we pay moving expense for new employees?

Answer: Yes, with the appropriate approval and per new hire contract.

Question 11: Is overtime pay allowed?

Answer: Yes, with appropriate advanced approvals including the President.

Question 12: Who can work at the University without a signed contract?

Answer: No one, including student workers, is allowed to work without a signed contract from the Human Resources Offices. A faculty or Teaching Graduate Assistant may be allowed to work without a signed contract only if the College has received a signed Emergency Hire form from the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs. A copy of the Notice of Appointment or Graduate Assistant Appointment form must be attached to the request. Once the approval is obtained the Emergency Hire form is to be attached to the Notice of Appointment form as a supplement document and immediately entered in PeopleAdmin.

Temporary workers cannot continue to work after the end date on the contract without a new appointment form. The transactions will be processed as quickly as possible in PeopleAdmin (or as applicable for processing students appointments); however, please allow approximately 10 days processing time when hiring temporary and student workers.

Question 13: When should we use a transfer voucher?

Answer: When transferring expenses to or from restricted to unrestricted funds; when transferring expenses from or to foundation accounts; and, when reimbursing another department.

Question 14: How is travel to be processed?

Answer: See Section VII: Travel-Related Processes.

Question 15: Can classes be taken during the workday?

Answer: Yes, if approved by the Supervisor, Department Chair, or Dean. Annual leave must be taken for time off during the work day to take a class. Lunch hour or breaks cannot be used in place of annual leave.

Question 16: How much can an adjunct faculty teaching less than 11 hours be paid?

Answer: Level 4 - $700 per credit hour- Doctorate & 10 or more years of experience

Level 3 - $650 per credit hour- Doctorate & Less than 10 years of experience

Level 2 - $600 per credit hour- Masters & 3 or more years of experience

Level 1 - $550 per credit hour- Masters & less than 3 years of experience

Special Note 1: Special rate for College of Business, Computer Science, and Social Work Program.

Special Note 2: Two and one semester temporary faculty (assigned teaching 15 hours workload) are paid based on department scale.

Question 17: How much can faculty teaching overload be paid?

Answer: Paid according to rank and experience

Professor - $700 per credit hour- Doctorate & 10 or more years of experience

Associate Professor- $650 per credit hour-- Doctorate & Less than 10 years of experience

Assistant Professor - $600 per credit hour- Masters & 3 or more years of experience

Instructor -$550 per credit hour- Masters & less than 3 years of experience

Question 18: What form needs to be used to make corrections to adjunct contract?

Answer: Adjunct Appointment – CORRECTION- Form

Question 19: On the budget revision, is a position number required for benefits?

Answer: No, benefits are grouped for all positions in account 62000.

Question 20: Is the department chair stipend paid out of the same position as the permanent position?

Answer: No, it is paid out of the Department Org. There is an Extra Service Pay (ESP) position number assigned to each department chair stipend in the Department Org.

Question 21: What is the difference in overload and extra service pay?

Answer: Overload form is for teaching faculty who are assigned to teach above the 15 hours workload (may be fewer hours for graduate class workload). Extra service is for exempt persons who perform additional duties outside the scope of the job descriptions consistently (i.e., special projects). A non-exempt (overtime or employee who is paid hourly) cannot be paid extra service pay.

Question 22: Where do we find our position numbers?

Answer: On your department personnel budget and department organization charts. The organization charts must be updated each year or as changes occur in personnel whichever occurs first.

Question 23: Can late registration fee for conferences and events be paid by the University?

Answer: No, the university will only pay the early or the regular registration fee. The traveler will be required to pay the difference.

Question 24: Can mileage from the Avon Williams to the Main Campus be claimed?

Answer: No. An employee traveling between campuses can ride the campus shuttle.

Procedure VIII-04.0: Updates, Modifications, and Changes to Operational Manual

The Academic Affairs Operating manual is an online living document subject to changes as needed and in accordance with the steps outlined below. A committee will be appointed by the Vice President of Academic Affairs to review and recommend major changes to the manual. Minor changes will be made under the direction of the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs as changes occur or upon recommendation of staff if necessary prior to quarterly committee meetings. Data contained in the manual that change annually will be updated no later than the month of August each year. Major changes in policies resulting in procedural changes will be updated no less than quarterly and will be based upon the recommendation of the committee or the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The manual will be updated to ensure procedures are developed to implement approved policies and guidelines promulgated by the appropriate governing bodies and University administrators. It will not be manually reproduced for mass distribution by the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

The manual is an online document, therefore can be downloaded by respective users as desired.

The committee will consist of members from various departments and divisions including support staff members, one faculty member selected by the Vice President for Academic Affairs, and the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs.

STEPS:

1. Review current or new procedures and related steps;
2. Submit a request for a procedure to be developed or submit a description of steps for a specific procedure.
3. E-mail request, using the procedure manual update form, for inclusion in manual to the Associate Vice President-Academic Affairs (Dr. Pat Crook) or Dr. Eleni Elder.
4. The proposed procedure will be discussed with Vice President for Academic Affairs and others as applicable.

6. Unapproved procedures will be returned to the originator by the designated Associate Vice President in Academic Affairs, via e-mail.

Procedure VIII-05.0: User Tips for Saving TSU's Online Forms and PDF

(Files Scanned as jpg files)

STEPS:

Files that are "scanned" as a .jpg file, which is a picture format, do not print out as clear or sharp as a .pdf or "regular document". If I may, I would like to share some "User Tips" with you regarding saving forms and other documents as "regular files" and as .pdf's.

You can save the BLANK online forms as regular files to your desktop/hard drive. I actually have most of the TSU online forms saved to my computer in a "TSU Forms" Folder, for easy access.

- To save a form to your computer simply:

- Create a Folder (i.e. "TSU Forms") on your desktop or in "My Documents" to store your forms

- Open the form from the online link

- Select: File

- Save As... (don't change the default format (.pdf, .doc, .xls, etc.) of the file)

- Select

where you want the files saved (i.e. □ Desktop □ TSU Forms)

□ Click "OK" (The file is then saved to your selected location).

- A) Once you have filled out the forms, you CAN save them to your computer two ways: editable and un-editable

- To save a form to edit later simply:

- Open the form from the online link

- Select: File

- Save As...

- Rename the file (i.e. Save a Travel Claim form as: "Traveler name-Destination-travel date")

Travel Docs)

☐ Select where you want the file saved (i.e. ☐ Traveler Name ☐

(Note: I have a folder for each Faculty Member in our College on my computer. Each Faculty folder has a "Travel Docs" Folder inside of it)

☐ Click "OK" (The file is then saved to your selected location).

- To save a form that cannot be edited, simply:

☐ Open the form, fill in all the information you want on the document:

☐ Select: Ctrl+P (print function)

☐ Select "Adobe PDF" from the Pull-down menu of printers

☐ hit "Print", (a separate window will pop up)

☐ "rename the file" (i.e. Traveler name-

Procedure VIII-06.0: Pictorial Directory Academic Affairs Support Staff

The Pictorial Directory for Academic Affairs Support Staff includes a list of Academic Affairs support staff in colleges/units in the Vice President for Academic Affairs/Academic Affairs Division. Information that is included: name, department, college, phone, fax, email, title, and office location. These were the individuals that were primarily responsible for locating and collecting information for this Operating and Procedures Manual.

STEPS:

1. When there is a change in support staff due to new hire, termination, promotion, demotion, etc., the supervisor (or designee) should contact the Vice President for Academic Affairs Office via email (pcrook@tnstate.edu) with the updated information on the employee directory consistent with the following entries.
2. When submitting employee information to Pictorial Director:
  - The employee completes the Directory Form with current information (send via email)
  - Schedule an appointment to Pictorial Director to take photo
3. This attached form is to be used when:
  - The Directory Form is used for all employees who are new, relocating, title changes or number changes

AFFAIRS SUPPORT STAFF: REVISING THE ACADEMIC AFFAIRS OPERATING MANUAL

Dr.Eleni C. Elder

Dr. Patricia Crook

ABSTRACT

June 30, 2012

The overall goal of this project was to align the existing Academic Affairs Operations Manual with The Academic Master Plan 2008- 2015, and TSUs 2010-2015 Strategic Plan, and then make the information easily accessible and available online by faculty and staff. In developing this project, it was desired to add value to the TSU community in the development and preparation of young adults and increasing graduation rates indirectly by the training and development of the Academic Affairs support staff through a human resource perspective. The desire to apply a human resources leadership approach was chosen as a means to engage the support staff in the revision process, thus giving them a sense of ownership in the resulting manual.

By using the Academic Master Plan (AMP) as a guiding framework, it was decided to pilot test the concept of using a personality type approach (i.e., the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator®) with Academic Affairs support staff at TSU, as a means of encouraging engagement and cooperation in four consecutive staff development workshop/training sessions designed specifically to review and update the 2011-2012 Academic Affairs Operations Procedures Handbook. The Kirkpatrick Model for Evaluating Effectiveness of Training Programs (1998) was used as a framework for evaluating staff development programs on four increasingly complex levels using a variety of data collection instruments.

The purpose of this project was multi-faceted: (a) harness best practices, streamline and update the current 2011-2012 Academic Affairs Operating Procedures Handbook; (b) engage the support staff in training and professional development that would increase customer service and enhance learning and, (c) develop a Professional Development Training Unit based on the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator® (MBTI®) that can be tailored for other divisions within the workplace. It was decided to adopt a human resources approach (Bolman and Deal, 2011). This report contains the results of this pilot test.

Major findings of this project: (a) by engaging the staff in the operations manual revisions process, there was increased learning and increased understanding of others' preferences; (b) MBTI® is an excellent teambuilding tool for increasing problem-solving and communication skills; (c) The MBTI® helps team members to build community; (d) Action research builds basic leadership skills in a safe environment; (e) The MBTI® training reduces conflict and enables change in organizations; (f) staff members are more likely to set realistic goals and more likely to meet these goals; (g) type training is excellent for supporting diversity training and helps individuals gain insight into others; and; (h) better relationships lead to increased morale, teamwork, job satisfaction, and job efficiency.

It was concluded that MBTI® adds validity to teambuilding, diversity, communication, and problem-solving programs workshop/training by providing a valuable tool and logical structure for getting acquainted and working together in the workplace. The following benefits of the MBTI® to the university and its staff and students may include: (a) increased value in diversity, (b) reduced conflict; (c) better relationships with co-workers; (d) increased customer service; and (e) organized structure for individual and group reflective action planning.

INTRODUCTION

Tennessee State University, as most Research I Universities, strives for relevancy in preparing students in contemporary society. TSU is at a critical juncture, as the centennial celebration reaches a climax and the search for the eighth university president sets underway. With a practical dream of becoming the nation's leading multicultural public university, it is not surprising that so many people hesitate to take a chance at such a creative leap forward, even to the point of undermining or resisting well-thought-out strategic plans.

Statement of the Problem

Underlying the Academic Master Plan (AMP) is the assumption that TSU needs to change to meet the challenges that it faces and to seize its opportunities. To achieve the goals of the AMP, however, TSU will need to improve significantly in its infrastructure, including academic policies and procedures, the budget priority setting process, and multiple non-academic policies and procedures.

It has been past practice at TSU for each of the seven colleges to interpret policy at their discretion. It is the desire of the Division of Academic Affairs to streamline college academic affairs policies and procedures, harness best practices, and codify processes into one comprehensive document—the updated 2012-2013 Academic Affairs Operating manual. In doing so, there would be widespread benefits for all stakeholders, including more efficient, systematic processes, consistency across the colleges within the university, increased communication leading to job satisfaction, improved customer service, more content students, and ultimately increased graduation rates.

Currently, the Academic Affairs unit is responsible for the development, implementation, oversight, and enforcement of policies related to guiding academic affairs, including the support staff, in achieving the goals and objectives of their respective units. The support staff (i.e., Administrative Assistant I – Administrative Assistant III) are the foundation of their respective departments. They are trained in the processes to assist deans, department chairs, faculty, and students toward attaining departmental and university goals and objectives. They are the “glue” that holds their department together.

The Tennessee Board of Regents (TBR) has established policies and guidelines that are implemented on a system-wide basis. Both policies and guidelines work their way through the appropriate sub-council(s), then go to the presidents' council for approval. Approval at that level is all that is required to establish guidelines, which generally describe the process of policy implementation. Policies themselves must go on to the full board for consideration after being approved by the presidents' council.

All TBR Institutions are required to follow system policies and guidelines and incorporate them into their campus policies and guidelines. As the need arises, policies and guidelines are updated and re-posted to the website. TSU, as a state university, is guided by the TBR-established Guidelines, as well as the TSU Academic Master Plan, the University Strategic Plan Measures and the TBR Measures.

Purpose of the Study

The purpose of this project was multi-faceted: (a) harness best practices, streamline, update the 2011-2012 Academic Affairs Operating Procedures Handbook; (b) engage the Academic Affairs Support Staff in training and professional development that would not only increase customer service, but would also enhance learning that may be used elsewhere in a real-time situation; and, (c) develop a Professional Development Training Unit based on the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator® (MBTI®) that may be tailored for other divisions within the workplace.

Conceptual Framework

This action research project was developed as a creative response to traditional training. Making connections from promoting participation, motivating employees, encouraging teamwork, and developing good interpersonal relationships, to providing community service through the planning, developing, implementing and evaluating a staff development program. Reframing leadership and promoting self-reflection through action research were the crux of this project.

Action Research (AR) is an emerging leadership development activity with two basic goals: (a) solve the organizational problem (in this case, update the handbook), and (b) engage in learning that can be used elsewhere in a real-time situation (self-reflection about personality type, workshops on teambuilding, problem-solving, and change in organizations). In AR, the first priority is learning; the second is solving the problem.

Assumptions about leadership were based on the following factors. First, leadership is about behavior. Behavior, especially as related to communication, gives strong clues to leadership style. Second, to enhance effectiveness, leaders need to fully understand the patterns in their current behavior and to recognize and employ the range of behaviors available to them. Third, a psychology of leadership as suggested by psychological type invites individuals to recognize their demonstrated behaviors as expressions of their type, and to see type development as a way to enhance overall leader development. It is through type development, we become clear about our habits of mind, and about when our other preferences (behavior potentials) should be used.

Reframing Through the Human Resources Lens

In their book, Reframing Organizations, Bolman and Deal (2009) reflect on four perceptual lenses (or frames) of leadership: structural, political, cultural, and human resource. The frames constitute a comprehensive checklist of issues to which change agents must recognize and respond. It happens that many excellent change efforts in organizations fail because they rely entirely too much on data gathering, analysis, report writing, and presenting, instead of more creative and humanistic approaches to capture the employees' feelings (Kotter, 2002).

Working toward establishing clear structures and well-developed management systems, structural leaders focus on rationality, logic, analysis, and deal with facts and data. An effective structural leader thinks clearly, has great analytical skills, and can organize systems that are practical and can get things done. They perceive their organization as being a factory with specific goals and measurable productivity. However, the crisis of conditions facing many university administration in our nation persists, as Bolman and Deal explain, "change agents fail when they rely almost entirely on reason and structure and neglect human, political, and symbolic elements" (pg. 383).

Political leaders gather and mobilize needed resources and fight for the organization's objectives and goals. They build power bases consisting of allies, networks, and coalitions. An effective political leader is an advocate and negotiator who understands the political arena and feels comfortable dealing with conflict. Symbolic leaders employ personal charisma and a dramatic flair to get their subordinates excited and committed to the organization's mission. An effective symbolic leader is a visionary who uses symbols, tells inspirational stories about the organization, and frames experiences in ways that generate hope and provide meaning. And, the human resource leader emphasizes the importance of people. They perceive their organizations in terms of a family and work toward meeting the needs of the individual. They believe that the primary task of management is to create a good fit between individuals and organizations. An effective human resource leader is a facilitator and participative manager who supports and empowers others.

Reflecting: Personality Type Workshops

Knowing oneself well and understanding how others may differ are fundamental ingredients to strong relationships, effective leadership, and efficient teams in organizations. Personality is one of the most important tools to use in an effort to influence teams. As used throughout this project, personality, means, “a consistent pattern of ways of thinking, feeling, and acting with regard to the environment, including other people” (Stech, in Northouse, p. 319, 2009). Capitalizing on the natural strengths of personality and enjoying interaction with people who are different are crucial for success. However, tolerating differences in the personalities coworkers is not enough—it is important to celebrate those differences. These differences provide the natural strengths one may need to benefit the team.

Personality workshops show how these factors—(a) self-knowledge, (b) team building, (c) communication, and (d) problem solving—are related to each other. Moreover, by becoming aware of team members’ preferences for taking in information and making decisions, individuals will discover and practice better ways of working together and accomplishing tasks.

Although there is no one best way for an individual to conduct a self-assessment, there are many instruments or assessment tools available on the market for such purposes. For instance, one could engage in a 360-degree feedback process and have their boss, colleagues, and subordinates and/or team mates fill them out. Over the past several decades, there have been many specific knowledge domains, skills, traits, attributes, dispositions, and personal qualities which have been identified as those that constitute an effective leader. But, how do you know which are your natural strengths? The Myers-Briggs Type Indicator® assessment provides a framework for understanding personalities.

The Myers-Briggs Type Indicator® (MBTI®) is based on Swiss psychiatrist Carl Jung’s theory of type. Jung recognized distinct patterns in people’s seemingly random behavior. The MBTI® inventory was created by the American mother-daughter team Isabel Briggs Myers and Katharine Cook Briggs in the 1940’s. This inventory has since been updated and has been researched continually for the past 50 years.

The Myers-Briggs Type Indicator® is a self-report questionnaire designed to make Jung’s theory of psychological types understandable and useful in everyday life. MBTI® results identify valuable differences between normal, healthy people, differences that can be the source of much misunderstanding and miscommunication. Taking the MBTI® inventory and receiving feedback helps individuals identify their unique gifts. The information enhances understanding of self, motivations, natural strengths, and potential areas for growth. It also helps individuals to appreciate people who are different from them. Understanding MBTI® type is self-affirming and encourages cooperation with others. More than two million Indicators are administered annually in the United States. The MBTI® is also used internationally and has been translated into more than 30 languages.

Overview of Type Theory

The Personality Type Approach is used to encourage leaders and followers to become aware of their personality types and those of the people with whom they work in order to better understand their behavior and the responses they get from other people.

Preference: A term used to describe our natural tendencies for performing certain tasks. There are eight different preferences on the MBTI®: Extraversion, Introversion, Sensing, Intuition, Thinking, Feeling, Judging, and Perceiving. They are organized into four pairs of opposites.

Preference Scales: The pairs of opposite preferences are arranged on four scales or dichotomies (See Figure 1): Extraversion and Introversion, Sensing and Intuition, Thinking and Feeling, and Judging and Perceiving. These scales indicate whether a preference is very clear, clear, or slight.

Description of Extraversion (E) and Introversion (I)

The first type preference pair asks: what is the direction of your energy or attention? (See Figure 2) People who prefer Extraversion are energized by active involvement in events, and they like to be immersed in a variety of involvement. They feel comfortable with and like working with groups. They have a wide range of acquaintances and friends and have an energizing effect when around them. Extraverts often find their understanding of a problem becomes clearer if they can talk out loud about it and hear what others have to say. Sometimes, however, extraverts jump too quickly into activities and may not allow enough time for reflection, or may forget to pause to clarify the ideas that give aim or meaning to their activities. Extraverts are often seen as “go-getters or “people-persons” (Lawrence and Martin, 2001).

| SOURCE OF ENERGY                                         |                                                                       |
|----------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|
| EXTRAVERSION                                             | INTROVERSION                                                          |

| IV. Take initiative in social and work settings          | <input type="checkbox"/> Like working alone or with one or two others |
| V. Will get involved in social activities to re-energize | <input type="checkbox"/> Will spend time alone to re-energize         |

People who prefer Introversion are energized and excited when they are involved with the ideas, images, and memories and reactions that are a part of their inner world (Lawrence and Martin, 2001). Introverts often prefer solitary activities or spending time with one or two others with whom they feel comfortable, and they often have a calming effect on those around them. Introverts prefer fewer, more intense relationships. They sometimes, though, may spend too much time reflecting and not moving into action quickly enough. Or, they may forget to check with the outside world to see if their ideas really fit their experience. Introverts are often seen as calm and “centered” or reserved.

Description of Sensing (S) and Intuition (N)

The second type preference pair describes the way you like to take in information and what kind of information you tend to trust the most (See Figure 3).

Do you trust more that information that comes in through your five senses (Sensing), or do you trust more that information that comes into your awareness by way of insight and imagination (Intuition)?

People who prefer Sensing tend to be concerned with what is actual, present, current, and real. They are immersed in the facts and details of a situation and the richness of the experience. They recall events and solve problems by working through things thoroughly for a precise understanding. Thus, they often develop a good memory for detail, become accurate in working with data, and remember facts or aspects of events that did not even seem relevant at the time they occurred. Sensing types work from the facts to the big picture; sometimes focusing so much on the facts of the present or past that they miss new possibilities.

People who have a preference for Intuition are immersed in their impressions of the meanings or patterns in their experiences. They would rather gain understanding through hands-on experience and would be interested in doing things that are new and different. Intuitive types work from the big picture to the facts. They place great trust in insights, symbols and metaphors and less in what is literally experienced (Lawrence and Martin, 2001). They are often interested in the abstract in the theory, and may enjoy activities where they can use symbols or be creative. Intuitive types learn best when they have the overall idea first. Sometimes, though, they focus so much on new possibilities, that they miss the practicalities of bringing them into reality.

Description of Thinking (T) and Feeling (F)

The third preference pair describes how you like to make decisions or come to closure about the information you have taken in using your Sensing or Intuition. In other words, what kind of judgment do you prefer to use? A person of good judgment is able to make distinctions among a variety of choices and settle on a course of action that demonstrates excellence of understanding. You can make these judgments in two ways: (a) by giving more weight to objective principles and the impersonal facts (Thinking), or (b) by giving more weight to personal and human concerns and people issues (Feeling) (See Figure 4).

| THINKING <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li><input type="checkbox"/> Base decisions on logical analysis</li> <li><input type="checkbox"/> Analytical</li> <li><input type="checkbox"/> Perceived as reasonable</li> <li><input type="checkbox"/> Guided by cause-and-effect reasoning</li> <li><input type="checkbox"/> Want things to be fair</li> </ul> | FEELING <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li><input type="checkbox"/> Base decisions on personal values</li> <li><input type="checkbox"/> Sympathetic</li> <li><input type="checkbox"/> Perceived as compassionate</li> <li><input type="checkbox"/> Guided by personal beliefs</li> <li><input type="checkbox"/> Want things to be harmonious</li> </ul> |

People who have a preference for Thinking are concerned with determining the objective truth in a situation (Lawrence and Martin, 2001). They often appear analytical, cool and tough-minded, and have a technical or scientific orientation. They are concerned with truth and notice inconsistencies. At times, Thinking types believe that telling the whole truth is more important than being tactful. They look for logical explanations or solutions to most everything, make decisions with their heads, and want to be fair. They sometimes, however, miss seeing or valuing the “people” part of situations, so they might be viewed as too task-oriented, uncaring or indifferent.

People who have a preference Feeling are concerned with whether decisions and actions are worthwhile. They have more of a people or communications orientation and appear caring and warm. More personal in approach, Feeling types believe they can make the best decisions by weighing what people care about and the points-of-view of persons involved in situations (Lawrence and Martin, 2001). In other words, they make decisions with their hearts and want to be compassionate and believe that being tactful is more important than telling the “cold” truth. Feeling types can sometimes miss seeing or communicating about the “hard truth” of situations, so they tend to be viewed by others as too idealistic, mushy or indirect.

Description of Judging (J) and Perceiving (P)

The fourth preference pair describes how you like to live your outer life—what is your lifestyle? Do you prefer a more structured and organized, planned way of life (Judging) or a more flexible, adaptable, and spontaneous lifestyle (Perceiving). See Figure 5. This preference may be also referred to as attitude by some type users.

People who prefer Judging like to have things settled and organized and feel more comfortable when decisions are made. They look task-oriented and like to make lists of things to do. They like to get their work done before playing and plan to avoid rushing just before deadlines. Sometimes they make decisions too quickly without enough information, or focus so much on the goal or plan that they miss the need to change directions at times.

People who prefer Perceiving are flexible and like to stay open to new experiences. They want to continue to take in new information. They tend to look more loose and casual. They work in bursts of energy, and enjoy rushing just before deadlines. They sometimes stay open to new information so long that they miss making decisions that need to be made, or focus so much on adapting in the moment that they do not settle on a direction or plan.

Psychological Type

Type refers to one’s four-letter type. The MBTI® assessment combines an individual’s four preferences—one preference from each dichotomy, denoted by its letter—such as ENFJ, ISTP, etc. There are 16 possible type combinations, and each type is equally valuable. See Figure 6 for estimated frequencies, based on a sample of 3000, of each type in the U.S.

The type table was designed by Isabel B. Meyers as a way to highlight similarities and differences of the types by placement in the table. Each type in the type table is located directly adjacent to a type which shares three of the four preferences or personality characteristics.

The primary aim of the Personality Type Approach is to raise awareness of individuals to their own personality types and the implications of those types on work and relationships. Although everyone can learn skills in non-preferred areas, coworkers, or team members, can benefit from the natural focus and skills of colleagues with preferences different from their own (Kirby and Myers, 1998).

Teambuilding and Using Type Differences at Work

According to some researchers (McCaulley, 1975) the MBTI® tool allows us to make predictions about team effectiveness based on psychological type, such as the following:

- The more similar the types on a team, the more readily the team members will understand each other.
- The more dissimilar the types on a team, the slower the understanding.
- Groups with high similarity will reach decisions more quickly but are more likely to make errors due to inadequate representation of all viewpoints.

- Groups with members of many different types will reach decisions more slowly (and painfully) but may reach better decisions because more viewpoints are covered.
  - Teams with only a single representative of a certain preference (e.g., only one Introvert) may fail to appreciate the gifts/skills associated with that preference and may view that member as different.
  - Teams that come to appreciate and use different types may experience less conflict.
  - Successful teams with members of many different types promote the personal development of team members by encouraging learning from the gifts of other types.
- Although no one should use type to avoid tasks or to excuse unacceptable or insensitive behavior, in work settings:

- ❑ The clearest vision of the future usually comes from an Intuitive type.
- ❑ The most practical realism usually comes from a Sensing type
- ❑ The most incisive analysis comes from a Thinking type.
- ❑ The most skillful understanding and handling of people usually come from a Feeling type. (See Figure 8)

Constructive Uses of Type

In work teams or organizational contexts, it is important to be aware of and understand the differences between the various people who must work together. Psychological type and the MBTI® provide a tool for understanding differences between people. Appreciating and making constructive use of these differences is also part of the theory underlying the Myers-Briggs® assessment. However, moving from recognizing and tolerating, to appreciating and effectively using these differences is a challenge because we all have a natural bias for our own way of seeing things and making decisions. For example:

|                      |                                                                           |

What are first irritants or even conflicts may become understandable when one comprehends the psychological types of individuals involved. Team and organizational success depends on existence of a diverse set of competencies and interpersonal skills.

Personality Type and Work Style: Problem Solving

The Sensing-Intuition (S-N) and Thinking-Feeling (T-F) dichotomies represent cognitive functions underlying one's personality. Several researchers have found that a person's preferences on these two scales explain much about his or her approach to problem solving and decision-making (Nutt, 1986; Haley and Pini, 1994). Since these are core behaviors of influencing and teams, it can be particularly helpful to look at the four resulting preference combinations (ST, SF, NF, NT) when examining work style—in this case, the columns of the Type Table. Exploring these combinations can help you understand some of the strengths and potential blind spots of your personality type (Huszczy, 2004).

Preferences for Sensing and Thinking (STs)

Individuals with preferences for Sensing and Thinking (STs) are down-to-earth types who tend to focus on completing the list of tasks assigned to them. They tend to provide stability to a team and usually are reliable types other members can depend on. They would rather help the team fix its problems in a step-by-step fashion than throw out what the team has been doing and invent a whole new system. STs love common sense and want the team to deal with what is real rather than dream about the ideal. They prefer to look at facts and details. They may not love bureaucracy but they can survive it better than other types. They like to be organized and well documented.

No one personality type demonstrates the perfect set of traits and preferences required to succeed as a leader. Many STs are prone to be too short-term oriented; they tend to focus solely on the here and now and fail to produce long-term plans. They are not likely to embrace chance unless they are first convinced that the system is broken. When trying to help a team with a change effort, they may take an overly cautious approach to guard against catastrophe. Their focus on details may lead them to nitpicking and micromanaging the team's efforts.

Preferences for Sensing and Feeling (SFs)

Individuals with preferences for Sensing and Feeling (SFs) are often very good at helping people feel like they belong. They build teams inclusively, connecting members with other member having similar interests. They try to make sure everyone has some relationships on the teams than the tasks. SFs take pleasure in rescuing teammates (Hirsh, Hirsh, & Hirsh, 2003).

SF tendencies can also produce blind spots. In leadership positions SFs may also be perceived as softhearted and suckers for lost souls. They enjoy socializing and tend to know a lot about everyone; they may be accused of being busybodies or gossipers. SFs tend to be uncomfortable with conflict which leads them to overuse strategies of avoidance and accommodation to smooth over conflicts.

Preferences for Intuition and Feeling (NFs)

Individuals with preferences for Intuition and Feeling (NFs) tend to focus on the big picture and the values of the organization. They believe in the cause and in people's important role in forwarding the cause. They are often terrific communicators and can inspire their followers, provoking change and cheering on efforts to do what is right. They are strong supporters of training and development opportunities for their people.

NFs typically have some blind spots too. Their attraction to aesthetics and inspiration may overwhelm the substance of the tasks to be performed. Their flair for being fun loving and/or dramatic may turn off or frighten their teammates. While they can be great communicators, sometimes they just talk too much.

Preferences for Intuition and Thinking (NTs)

Individuals with preferences for Intuition and Thinking (NTs) seek more perfect systems. They are often visionary leaders dissatisfied with the status quo—constantly thinking about what a team or organization could be or should be like. They are the architects of progress, designing frameworks and systems to produce results. They prize and demand competency in themselves and others with high standards and a focus on the big picture and the future.

Like all people, NTs have their blind spots, too. They tend to find it hard not to show disappointment, even disdain, for repeated mistakes. They are often accused of being too idealistic and too demanding because their mind races ahead and keeps escalating expectations of the team. They may be more interested in the challenge than in savoring the successes.

Organizations and Change

Organizations today are involved with a variety of changes for any number of reasons. In an organizational context, a change is “an event that takes place outside of people, a shift in the external situation where something old ends or something new begins” (Edgelow and Bridges, 2000, pg. 20). Everyone knows that people are different, yet oftentimes organizations make and implement plans and initiate changes as though everyone were the same. Those individuals leading the change tend to become frustrated when others don’t immediately come on board with the initiative or seem as excited as they are.

Individuals of different types have varying approaches to planning, implementing, and managing organizational change. Understanding the effects of each preference is a beginning, but type becomes even more useful in organizations when combinations of preferences are explored. For instance, combinations of the direction of energy (E or I) and orientation to the external world (J or P) influence how people respond to change. These combinations are represented by the four rows across the type table. Myers and McCauley (1976) refer to these four combinations as: the Decisive Introverts (IJ), the Adaptable Introverts (IP), the Adaptable Extraverts (EP), and the Decisive Extraverts (EJ). Complete descriptions of each profile are provided in Figures 7, 8, 9, and 10.

When changes are proposed, the IJs check them out against their internal perceptions (data or big pictures). If the changes “fit”, they move quickly to implement them. If the changes don’t fit, they dig in their heels and become unmovable opponents. The four types included in this group are: INFJ, INTJ, ISFJ, and ISTJ. Characteristics and contributions of each of the Decisive Introvert types are displayed in Figure 7.

Adaptable Introverts” IPs

When changes are proposed, IPs are curious and seek information. Then they assess the information with their internal judgment (values and logical principles). Their information seeking appears adaptable, but they move ahead only in their own time—after they have decided. The four Adaptable Introvert types include: INFP, INTP, ISFP, and ISTP. Characteristics of IPs and change are displayed in Figure 8.

Figure 8: Profile of the “Adaptable Introvert” (IPs) and Change

The “Decisive Extraverts” (EJs)

When changes are proposed, the EJs tend to apply their judgment (logic or values) out loud by questioning. Then, if their questions are answered, they move quickly to plan, organize, and implement the change. The four Decisive Extravert types include: ENFJ, ENTJ, ESFJ, and ESTJ. See Figure 9.

The “Adaptable Extraverts” (EP)

When changes are proposed, these types tend to consult their networks, talk to people, and find out what everyone thinks. If the changes allow room for their creativity and action, they gather resources and try to energize everyone to implement the changes. The four Adaptable Extravert types include: ENFP, ENTP, ESFP, and ESTP. See Figure 10.

Designing, Developing, and Implementing Effective Staff Development Programs

The genesis of staff development originates from educational goals and objectives providing the guidance necessary for integrating the individual goals of employees with those of the organization (Davies and Armistead, 1975). Figure 11, a model for a staff development program, is a summary of the steps necessary to the designing of an effective program.

From Davies, D.R. and Armistead, C.D. (1975). In-service Education: Current Trends in School Policies and Programs (Arlington, VA: National School Public Relations Association).

The primary purpose of a staff development program is to increase the knowledge and skills of staff and employees, thereby increasing the potential of the organization to reach its goals (Davies and Armistead, 1975). The process of assessing staff needs is essentially the process of determining the difference between what the staff knows and what they need to know. It is the information gained from a needs assessment survey or questionnaire or interview that will provide the framework within which program goals and objectives will be established.

Program design is a process of matching needs with available resources through an effective delivery method. It is unproductive to consider only one method of delivering a staff development program. One method for providing a rational structure for designing staff development activities focuses on psychological type which identifies some of the normal differences in learning styles (Dunning, 2003a). Colin Graves (2011), a licensed MBTI® facilitator and CEO of IRIDIUM Consulting Firm of the UK, describes that a typical MBTI®-based team workshop looks at improving communication, enhancing team problem-solving, valuing diversity and providing a non-judgmental way to approach team issues.

In designing and preparing the training sessions, there were several factors to consider: (a) type distribution of the group (b) location of the group meetings (c) time of day (d) provision of incentives and, (e) make up of the group. Thought was also given to learning styles of adults. Adults learn most effectively when they are given the opportunity to use their most effective learning styles. Though each of the eight preferences has some predictable effects on learning styles, the most significant difference is between the S and the N dichotomy.

Based on research from the ASCD, some specific problems that tend to hinder employee participation include: when participants are unclear as to what they hope to achieve, or when they consider past programs as a waste of time. Other obstacles to employee participation include programs that are so highly structured as to hinder creativity, or at the other extreme, programs where there is no orderly plan at all. Finally, when a group involved with a specific program is so large, participation may be hindered.

Effective evaluation is the final phase in a staff development program. For most programs, a perception-based approach is both appropriate and effective. Participants are asked to rate the individual conducting the program, the content of the program, how the program was organized, and the time and place of the presentation. Nevertheless, the most well-known and used model for measuring the effectiveness of training programs was developed by Donald Kirkpatrick in the late 1950's. It has since been adapted, modified, and stood the test of time (Kirkpatrick, 1959, 1979, 1998). The basic structure of Kirkpatrick's four-level model is shown in Figure 12.

Using Kirkpatrick's classic model, any training or staff development program can be evaluated at four progressive levels. Level 1: Reaction is a measure of the learners' reactions to the course or program; Level 2: Learning is a measure of what they learned; Level 3: Transfer is a measure of changes in their behavior when they return to the job after the training program; and, Level 4: Results is a measure of the business outcomes that occur because they are doing their jobs differently.

Using the Kirkpatrick Model for Measuring Results of Type Training of the Academic Affairs Support Staff at Tennessee State University

Level 1: Reaction

Evaluation at Kirkpatrick's Level 1 measures how the participants in a program feel about their experience. For example, how satisfied are the support staff with what they learned? Do they regard the material as relevant to their work? Do they believe the material will be useful to them on the job? This level, therefore, does not measure learning per se; it merely measures how well the learners liked the training sessions and the workshops. Kirkpatrick's model suggests using data collection instruments, such as completed participant feedback questionnaires, informal comments from participants, and focus group sessions with participants (Kirkpatrick, 1998).

Level 2: Learning

According to Kirkpatrick, learning is defined as the facts, principles, and techniques that are absorbed and understood by the participants (1979). When instructors measure learning, they are finding out how much of the skills, knowledge, and attitudes of the individuals have changed. This process requires more than a reaction survey; it requires an assessment of the material presented throughout the time period and a measurement of the “student outcomes and learning objectives”. Did the participants learn what they were supposed to learn? Evaluation measures at Level 2 may include: pre- and post-test scores, on-the-job assessments, scores on end of program exams, and supervisor reports. For the purpose of this study, we used the pre- and post-assessment surveys.

Level 3: Behavior

Even well written learning objectives do not indicate how the individual will transfer the learning and new knowledge to job performance. A change in on-the-job performance and behavior is the ultimate goal of Level 3, rather than test-scores, as was the primary measure in Level 2. In other words, Level 3 is mostly concerned with the extent the support staff changed their behavior back in the workplace once they have completed the workshops and training. The ideal measures at this level are instruments involving feedback from the stakeholders (e.g., an on-the-job performance evaluation by a supervisor, a letter from a parent or community member, a report from a peer or manager, or a more reflective self-assessment questionnaire from the learner herself). For this study, we used the Personality Assessment Survey (Wagner and Weigand, 2005)

Level 4: Results

Level 4 evaluation attempts to measure the results of a program as it directly affects the organization's bottom line. What organizational benefits resulted from the student's advanced education? Measures to examine at this level may include Return of Investment (ROI) surveys and organizational climate surveys, student retention and graduation rates.

METHODOLOGY

Research Design

This study used an organizational level action research design. A pre- and post-test survey was administered to determine to what degree the support staff in the academic affairs division (including the seven colleges and CIT, institutional planning, and sponsored research) feel have adequate access to the resources they need to fulfill their job requirements, and to what degree they feel this information is important. Through the use of the MBTI® to promote cooperation and collegiality the support staff engaged in teambuilding activities to revise the current Academic Affairs Operating Procedures Handbook.

Action Research (AR) is an emerging leadership development activity with two basic goals: (a) solve the organizational problem (in this case, update the handbook), and (b) engage in learning that can be used elsewhere in a real-time situation (self-reflection about personality type, and involvement at workshops on teambuilding, problem-solving, and change in organizations). In AR, the first priority is learning; the second is solving the problem. The focus on learning also distinguishes AR from task forces, teams, quality circles, committees, and work groups.

According to Spalding and Falco (2012), there are five basic steps in conducting action research at the organizational level. See Figure 15. Step 1: Identify the Issue—issue was identified from the AMP (improve customer service and update policies); Step 2: Develop a Program—workshop/training sessions designed around the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator and based on Pre-Assessment Survey; Step 3: Implement a Program—four consecutive workshops/trainings conducted for academic affairs support staff; Step 4: Measure Program's Effectiveness—using Kirkpatrick's Model, training will be assessed on several levels, including reaction, learning, organization; Step 5: Reflect and Modify—using the data collected, modifications will result in two deliverables, including an updated version of Academic Affairs Operating manual and a Workbook for a staff development training unit on Type and Teambuilding. Figure 13 illustrates the five basic steps, as well as an overview of each of the steps.

Instruments

Several instruments were used to collect data for this project: (a) The Pre- and Post-Test Academic Affairs Support Staff Assessment, (b) The Myers-Briggs Type Indicator®, (c) Session Evaluations for the monthly staff development training/workshops (four count), (d) The Wagner and Weigand Personality Type Assessment

Questionnaire (2005), (e) Tennessee State University website directory, and (e) various email messages and verbal comments from participants.

The Academic Affairs Support Staff Assessment Survey is a researcher-created survey composed of 45 items categorized into six (6) areas: (a) items # 1-7: University Strategic Plan; (b) items # 8-17: Division of Academic Affairs; (c) items # 18-20: Computer Systems; (d) item # 21: Travel Processes and Procedures; (e) items # 22-28: Budget Processes and Procedures; and, (f) items # 29-45: Personnel Issues. Participants were asked to rate the levels to which they feel they have “access” to the information they need to perform their job, and how “important” they feel this information is to their job. All items were rated on equivalent 5-point Likert scales (5 = “high access and importance” to 1 = “low access and importance”) scale. Means and standard deviations were calculated for each item, and item means scores were collapsed for each category. A difference score (importance minus access) was computed for a more precise comparison. These calculations were done for both the pre- and post-assessments. Space was provided at the end of the survey for comments and suggestions. The data obtained from this assessment helped provide the framework for workshop training needs. The PRE-test Questionnaire was distributed during the December 15, 2011 training meeting. The POST-test Questionnaire (same items) was distributed four months later at the March 30, 2012 meeting. Participant ID numbers were coded on the questionnaires for the purpose of pre- and post-test score analysis and disaggregation by area.

The Myers-Briggs Type Indicator® was distributed during the December 15, 2011 training meeting for use with teambuilding and communication workshop training sessions. Taking the 93-item MBTI® inventory and receiving feedback helps participants identify their unique gifts. The information enhances understanding of themselves, their motivations, their natural strengths, and their potential areas for growth. It also helps individuals appreciate people who differ from them. Understanding their MBTI® type is self-affirming and encourages cooperation with others. Data obtained from this personality inventory was used in the planning process along with the data received from the needs assessment survey to provide the framework for the workshops.

Each participant received her MBTI® personality type, a one-page description profile which includes Type Characteristics, How Others See Them, and Potential Areas for Growth; a pencil engraved with his/her four-letter type; and, and the frequency distribution chart of the types of all academic affairs support staff. The benefits in this survey allow for raising awareness of responsibilities and tasks to be accomplished in the area of academic affairs. Through experiential activities team members were exposed to the different preferences for taking in information and making decisions (according to the MBTI®). Participants were provided opportunities to discover and practice better ways of working together and accomplishing tasks leading to a healthier climate conducive for student learning and retention.

Training Session Evaluations were administered after each monthly staff development training workshop: December 2011, January 2012, February 2012, and March 2012. Participants were asked to evaluate each workshop to assess the suitability of the workshop, the participants understanding of the workshop’s materials, and the presenters’ effectiveness. All participants in the workshop were sent an invitation to complete the survey to evaluate the effectiveness of the workshop.

Personality Type Assessment Questionnaire (Wagner and Weigand, 2005). The purpose of this valid and reliable instrument is to evaluate the effectiveness of the MBTI® training on six components: (a) partnering and mentoring: consulting with a person of a different type to help improve his or her understanding of other types; (b) workforce diversity: valuing the diversity and strengths of the team, demonstrated participation in decision making by all staff members; (c) performance contracting: defining realistic goal and contracts, followed up with verbal commitments and action plans; (d) communication: improving communication between individuals and groups as a result of type flexibility; (e) problem solving: considering other types when thinking about decision strategies, offering content at a different pace and in a different order to accommodate type differences in the group; (f) type flexibility: understanding preferences or types that are unlike one’s own , consciously modifying one’s presentation to achieve optimal communication with an individual or group; and, (g) customer service: applying type dynamics to raise awareness of and improve response to customer needs (Wagner and Weigand, 2005).

Participants

Participants for this pilot project included sixty-seven (67) support staff from the academic affairs division from one public university in the Middle Tennessee area. Participants (all female) ranged in age from mid twenties to mid sixties. The participants were selected because of their position in the university and the purpose of the research.

Table 1 displays a breakdown of the participants by the four preference dichotomies. As expected, there is a predominance of Feeling Types, as the group is all female, and females tend to prefer Feeling over Thinking. Note, also that over 80% of the participants prefer Judging over Perceiving. This also appears on target.

| Preference        | n  | Percentage | Preference        | N  | Percentage |
|-------------------|----|------------|-------------------|----|------------|
| Extraverted Types | 34 | 53.1%      | Introverted Types | 30 | 46.9%      |
| Sensing Types     | 42 | 65.6%      | Intuitive Types   | 22 | 34.4%      |
| Thinking Types    | 28 | 43.7%      | Feeling Types     | 36 | 56.3%      |
| Judging Types     | 53 | 82.8%      | Perceiving Types  | 11 | 17.2%      |

Procedures

At the first training workshop in December 2011, the support staff from Academic Affairs units completed the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI®) and a PRE needs assessment survey related to the policies and procedures as stated by the TBR Policies and Guidelines. These assessments provided the researcher with baseline data. Demographic data was also collected (i.e., gender, ethnicity, academic unit, time in position).

During January, February and March 2012, three more training workshops (teambuilding, enhancing problem solving and decision making, and developing communication skills) were designed and implemented while simultaneously reviewing and updating the Academic Affairs Operations Manual. Each workshop was designed with an icebreaker, group activity, a training segment with knowledge content, a brief work session on the manual, and a closing activity. The materials from each of the workshops have been compiled into a participant workbook: Type Training and Teambuilding with the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator®. Group activities and incentives (Sharpie-on-a-lanyard) were selected to increase motivation and participation. At the March 2012 workshop, a POST assessment (the same) was administered to the same group to determine if operations manual, and/or MBTI® training, awareness of TSU mission/values provided guidance and promoted learning.

Research Results

Kirkpatrick's Model for Evaluating Effectiveness of Training provided the framework for collecting the data. The results are organized by the level of the model and by perceptions of the participants.

Level 1: Reaction How Do Learners Feel?

Workshop/Training #1. A developmental workshop was held in December 2011 for the support staff of the Division of Academic Affairs. The evaluation survey was placed in the university's on-line survey system Qualtrics with assistance from the university's Division of Institutional Planning and consisted of eight questions. Seven of the eight questions utilized a four point Likert scale response (1= poor, 2= satisfactory, 3= good, 4= excellent) and the eighth question was an open-ended response question. Overall, 41 individuals were asked to respond to the survey. An initial response rate of 36% (15 responses) was achieved with the survey. A reminder email was sent out to all participants, which resulted in another seven individuals responding for a total response rate of 54% (22 responses). This response rate was considered acceptable for analysis and the results of the responses are as follows.

Overall the responses to the evaluation survey were positive with only one area (My Understanding of the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator®) having any negative responses. Over 70% of the participants believed that the content of the workshop was good (this is a combined rate for both good responses and excellent responses) and the organization of the workshop and the suitability of the space used also received high levels of satisfaction (63% and 68% respectively). Participants indicated that at the end of the workshop that they had a good understanding of all topics presented in the survey (MB = 78%, University Strategic Plan = 73%, Decentralization of Adjunct/Temporary Employees = 78% , and the Overload Budget = 78% ).

Qualitative data showed that participants had two improvements that they wished to see for future workshops: improved acoustics and making sure that all support staff are able to attend the professional development workshops. In addition, future workshop ideas were presented that included ideas for improved employee performance (self-esteem and motivation) as well as workshop related to policies and procedures.

Workshop/Training #2. Two staff development workshop were held on January 27, 2012 and February 9, 2012 for the support staff of the Division of Academic Affairs. All participants in the workshop were sent an invitation to complete the survey to evaluate the effectiveness of the workshop. The evaluation survey was placed in the university's on-line survey system Qualtrics and consisted of nine questions. Eight of the nine questions utilized a four point Likert scale response (1= poor, 2= satisfactory, 3= good, 4= excellent) and the ninth question utilized a five point Likert response (1= Very Satisfied, 2= Satisfied, 3= Somewhat Satisfied, 4= Dissatisfied, 5= Very Dissatisfied). Overall, 61 individuals were asked to respond to the survey. An initial response rate of 31% (19 responses) was achieved with the survey. This response rate was considered acceptable for analysis and the results of the responses are as follows.

Overall the responses to the evaluation survey were positive with only one area (the Organization of the Session) having any significant amount of negative responses (Although the use of the term "Satisfactory" is not considered a negative response, the use of a four point Likert scale suggest that the level of satisfaction in this area is less than would be considered ideal) and represents an area for improvement in future presentations. Over 70% of the participants believed that the content of the workshop was good (this is a combined rate for both good responses and excellent responses) and their understanding of the Meyers-Briggs and the University's Core values also received high levels of satisfaction (89% and 94% respectively). The meeting room was sufficient for its purposes (64% indicated either good or excellent, with no poor responses) and the audio/sound for the presentation was also sufficient. In response to the questions about benefiting personally and professionally, over three quarters of respondents indicated that they definitely benefitted from their participation in the workshop (83% and 78% respectively). Finally participants' responses to "How satisfied participants feel about their work" indicate that up to 90% of respondents indicated that they were satisfied to very satisfied with their work.

Workshop/Training #3. Three staff development workshops were held on Friday, February 24, 2012 (Make-up sessions: Thursday, March 14th and Wednesday, March 21st) for the support staff of the Division of Academic Affairs. All attendees at the March workshop were given a paper/pencil evaluation to complete to evaluate the effectiveness of the February workshop. The evaluation survey consisted of nine questions. Eight of the nine questions utilized a four point Likert scale response (1= poor, 2= satisfactory, 3= good, 4= excellent) and the ninth question utilized a five point Likert response (1= Very Satisfied, 2= Satisfied, 3= Somewhat Satisfied, 4= Dissatisfied, 5= Very Dissatisfied). Workshop/Training #4. A staff development workshop was held on March 27, 2012 for the support staff of the Division of Academic Affairs. All participants in the workshop were sent an invitation to complete the survey to evaluate the effectiveness of the workshop. The evaluation survey was placed in the university's on-line survey system Qualtrics and consisted of 9 questions. Overall, the 43 individuals who attended the training were asked to respond to the survey. An initial response rate of 46.5 % (20 responses) was achieved with the survey. A second request to complete the evaluation form was sent out a week later and three more responses were received for the number of responses totaling 23 and a response rate of 53.5% which was considered acceptable for analysis. A summary of all evaluations shown in Table 2..

Level 2: Learning

Learning is defined by what is absorbed and understood by participants throughout the course of training, which for this study, was measured using Pre- and Post-Test Assessments. Scores were collected on all participants December and March. Table 3 displays the extent to which the participants felt they gained knowledge. Pre- and post-assessment importance scores were rated higher than the corresponding access scores, in all areas.

Level 3: Behavior

Kirkpatrick's Level 3 is mostly concerned with the extent the support staff changed their behavior back in the workplace once they have completed the workshops and training. The researcher explored the opinions and behaviors of the participants to gauge how their perceptions on six different dimensions changed since they have attended an MBTI® type training program and learned about their MBTI® type. These dimensions included: (a) partnering and mentoring, (b) workforce diversity, (c) performance contracting, (d) communication, (e) problem solving, (f) type flexibility, and (g) customer service. Table 4 displays the survey assessment results by dimension and indicates which dimensions showed significant changes in behavior for this group. A significant score is 3.75 or greater.

ANALYSIS & DISCUSSION

The use of the MBTI® in organizations promotes learning, as evidenced by the pre- and post-assessment results. When tailoring training to groups, it is critical to design the activities that will appeal to all learning styles. Dunning (2007) suggests providing teambuilding training to include a variety of activities, and she further describes eight learning styles based on the MBTI®. These styles include: Responders (ESP), Explorers (ENP), Expeditors (ETJ), Contributors (EFJ), Assimilators (ISJ), Visionaries (INJ), Analyzers (ITP), and Enhancers (IFP). For example, the predominant learning styles in the Academic Affairs support staff group were: ISJ (n=15), ETJ (n=14), and EFJ (n=14). Alone, these 43 individuals comprise nearly two-thirds of the group (65.2%). Table 6 displays some suggested training activities for each of the learning styles and the frequencies for this project's support staff group.

Insights about why educational institutions are so difficult to change were brought to light. Training and staff development are sometimes viewed as “simple solutions” to complex problems. Trainers are often asked to provide a “miracle”. Rather, the training sessions should be designed to provide information, insights, and experience to participants which will ultimately lead to changes in perceptions, behavior, and, if lucky, performance. By being strategic, an organization will be able to be proactive and more prepared to take advantage of opportunities as they arise.

Finally, the MBTI® tool supports diversity, which is particularly applicable in today's global and diverse organizations. By becoming aware of preferences for taking in information and making decisions and discovering individual and team problem-solving styles, support staff were able to unify around a common purpose and understand more clearly TSUs vision for the future.

LIMITATIONS

Although the research has reached its aims, there were several unavoidable limitations of this study. First, this research was conducted using data from participants from only one functional division from one public institution. Therefore, to generalize the results for larger groups, the study should have involved more participants from different levels and/or from different institutions. Additionally, the participants self-reported responses on both the pre- and post-assessment instruments, as well as the personality type inventory. To some extent, the self-reporting might have affected the quality of the resulting operating procedures handbook, because group assignments were determined by personality type. Perhaps, an additional assessment from participants' supervisors regarding content knowledge might have provided a more accurate profile.

CONCLUSION & SUGGESTIONS

In summary, the major findings of this project included: (a) by engaging the staff in the operations manual revisions process, there was increased learning and increased understanding of others' preferences; (b) MBTI® is an excellent teambuilding tool for increasing problem-solving and communication skills; (c) the MBTI® helps team members to build community; (d) action research builds basic leadership skills in a safe environment; (e) the MBTI® training reduces conflict and enables change in organizations; (f) staff members are more likely to set realistic goals and more likely to meet these goals; (g) type training is excellent for supporting diversity training and helps individuals gain insight into others; and; (h) better relationships lead to increased morale and job satisfaction.

The MBTI® adds validity to teambuilding, diversity, communication, and problem-solving programs workshop/training by providing a valuable tool and logical structure for getting acquainted and working together in the workplace. The following benefits of the MBTI® to the university and its staff and students may include: (a) increased value in diversity—the recognition of and appreciation for differences with others; (b) reduced conflict which enables change and enhances team interaction; (c) better relationships with co-workers promotes increased job satisfaction leading to increased customer service; (d) increased customer service resulting in higher student retention and graduation rates; and (e) organized structure for individual and group reflective action planning.

The MBTI® provides a perspective for analyzing organizational culture, climate, or health, for work teams. By providing a language and a framework, personality type can appropriately be used for building the awareness and appreciation of individual differences necessary for positively impacting effectiveness in organizations.

Significance of the Study

The challenge of change in higher educational organizations is increasing. With the Academic Master Plan (AMP) guiding its future, TSU has many opportunities to distinguish itself and many advantages on which to build. To reach its destiny, however, TSU must continue to implement with vigor and drive, the changes outlined in the AMP. In doing so, TSU will provide a unique and distinctive education for its students, thereby opening to them endless leadership opportunities on a global scale.

This Handbook includes specific information about those policies and guidelines as well as general information you will need in the performance of your duties. Your department chair will request that you sign a statement noting that you have read and will abide by the policies outlined in the Adjunct Faculty Handbook. Please read this Handbook before you sign your contract and address any questions to your College Dean, Department Chair, or the appropriate College official, prior to signing.

1. Your contract must be signed by all parties for any class you teach. Sign your contract and return it to Human Resources as soon as possible after you receive it.

2. CHECK CLASS ROLLS: Only those students who have enrolled and PAID are eligible to attend your class. It is IMPORTANT that you check student attendance against the CURRENT class roll during the first weeks of the semester. Any student attending who is not on the roll should be referred to the Business Office. IT IS THE RESPONSIBILITY OF FACULTY TO INFORM STUDENTS THAT THEIR NAME IS NOT ON THE ROLL.

3. PARKING DECALS REQUIRED: All employees, including adjunct faculty, and students MUST display a parking decal, day and evening. All employees should obtain parking information by going to the following website-<http://www.tnstate.edu/auxiliary/parking/>.

ACADEMIC FREEDOM, CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT, AND FACULTY EVALUATION

Conditions of Employment

Appointment-- Adjunct faculty members are employed on the basis of credentials and interviews, and they must meet the same minimum education preparation requirements as full-time faculty (See pages following for credentialing requirements). Credentials include personal data, official transcripts of college work, and other appropriate documentation (e.g., evidence of valid licenses or certificates, description and verification of work experience, etc.). Adjunct faculty are responsible for ensuring that their Human Resources file is complete: employment application, W-4 form, 1-9 form (plus documentation), and official transcripts.

Paychecks will not be issued until all Human Resources requirements have been met. The final paycheck will not be issued until all contractual obligations have been met. Faculty members must update their files annually to include official transcripts of courses taken or degrees earned relevant to their teaching and to include current licenses and certifications.

Adjunct appointments are only for the semester or dates as specified on the contract. Contracts should not be interpreted as an ongoing commitment by the university on a semester-by-semester basis. If enrollment is not sufficient to warrant holding the class, the contract will be cancelled.

Evaluation

Academic divisions conduct student evaluations of courses and instructors, peer evaluations, and supervisor evaluations. The evaluation process is essential in the College's efforts to constantly improve upon teaching and learning.

Adjunct faculty are evaluated by students in each course each semester they teach. The student/course evaluation is conducted at a predetermined date near the end of each semester. Evaluation instructions will be completed by students on-line through the Internet. Results of the evaluations will be available to faculty, Department Chairs, and College Deans after the final date for recording grades at the end of each semester.

ACADEMIC FREEDOM POLICY

Policy/Guideline

I. Introduction

A. The following policy of the Tennessee State University on academic freedom and responsibility is available to adjunct faculty.

II. Academic Freedom and Responsibility

A. The faculty member is entitled to freedom in the classroom in discussing his or her subject, being careful not to introduce into the teaching unrelated subject matter.

B. The faculty member is entitled to full freedom in research and in the publication of the results, subject to the adequate performance of his/her other academic duties, including and consistent with any and all policies pertaining to clinical and research practices. Research for financial gain must be based upon an understanding with the authorities of the university, which is documented reduced to writing and signed by the faculty member and the appropriate academic officer(s)

C. The faculty member is a citizen, a member of a learned profession, and an officer of an educational university/college. When the faculty member speaks or writes as a citizen, he/she should be free from university/college censorship or discipline, but his/her special position in the community imposes special obligations. As a man or woman of learning and an educational officer, he/she should remember that the public may judge the profession and the university/college by the faculty member's utterances. Hence, a faculty member should at all times be accurate, should exercise appropriate restraint, should show respect for the opinions of others, and should make every effort to indicate that he/she does not speak for the university/college.

D. Academic freedom is essential to fulfill the ultimate objectives of an educational university/college - the free search for and exposition of truth - and applies to teaching, research, and faculty participation in institutional governance. Freedom in research is fundamental to the advancement of truth, and academic freedom in teaching is fundamental for the protection of the rights of the faculty member in teaching and of the student to freedom in learning. Faculty participation in institutional governance is fundamental to the development and maintenance of effective academic policies, national and regional accreditation, and shared responsibility for the delivery of educational programs and services to students. Implicit in the principle of academic freedom are the corollary responsibilities of the faculty who enjoy that freedom. Incompetence, indolence, intellectual dishonesty, failure to carry out assigned duties, serious moral dereliction, arbitrary and capricious disregard of standards of professional conduct may constitute adequate cause for dismissal or other disciplinary sanctions against faculty members subject to the provisions of Article III.

E. The right to academic freedom imposes upon the faculty an equal obligation to take appropriate professional action against faculty members who are derelict in discharging their professional responsibilities. The faculty member has an obligation to participate in tenure and promotion review of colleagues as specified in university policy. Thus, academic freedom and academic responsibility are interdependent, and academic tenure is adopted as a means to protect the former while promoting the latter. While academic tenure is essential for the protection of academic freedom, the full benefits and responsibilities of academic freedom extend to all individuals teaching at TSU, whether or not they are eligible for tenure.

FACULTY CREDENTIALING REQUIREMENTS & PROCEDURES

Tennessee State University guarantees that only appropriately credentialed individuals serve on the faculty. All original documents are held by the Office of Human Resources.

The credentialing process is maintained by the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs and the respective academic colleges.

It is the responsibility of each individual faculty member to provide to the Office of Human Resources current, official transcripts of all collegiate coursework or other documentation necessary to meet Tennessee State credentialing requirements. Only original, not "issued-to-student", college transcripts are acceptable.

The credentialing file content is compiled and approved by the appropriate College Dean. The Vice President of Academic Affairs reviews and certifies that all faculty credentials meet established criteria. College Deans conduct periodic reviews of the files to assure current content (at least annually).

The Vice President of Academic Affairs will coordinate the credentialing process between College Deans and the Office of Human Resources. Academic Affairs will ensure that credentialing files include the matching of degrees, coursework, training, certifications, and experience to the specific Tennessee State course(s) the person is qualified to teach. Human Resources will maintain the official credentialing documents including applications, transcripts, the credentials sheet, and other required documents.

Tennessee State faculty credential requirements meet current SACSCOC criteria. Our faculty will meet or exceed SACSCOC minimum requirements. The requirements may change subject to accrediting requirements, Tennessee Board of Regents policy, or College policy.

These degree and credential requirements meet or exceed the standards set by our principal accrediting body -- The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACSCOC). The College holds a number of specialized accreditation and program approvals for areas including Business, Allied Health, Paralegal Studies, and Social Science/Education. Additional specific faculty credentials such as professional licensure, professional certifications, appropriate work experience and/or educational preparation may be required for teaching in specific course and program areas. Details on faculty credentials for these programs are available through the academic unit.

SECTION III. PROFESSIONAL TEACHING RESPONSIBILITIES

Classroom Responsibilities:

Course Outlines (Syllabi)-- Each course that is taught at Tennessee State must have a course outline (syllabus) on file with the department. If the course is one which has been taught by full-time faculty members, the College dean or department chair will have a copy of the outline for the part-time faculty member. If the course is one which is taught only by the part-time faculty, the division dean or department chair should be contacted about the development of the course outline. Every student should receive a syllabus on the first evening or day of class. Faculty are required to notify students on the syllabus how they may contact faculty concerning issues.

Syllabi should contain the following minimum components:

- The course number, title, semester, and year offered
- Any prerequisites the student must have
- Information about office/conference hours
- Instructor's contact information
- Course description
- Course objectives
- Organization and format of the course
- Topics to be covered in the course
- Competencies students are expected to learn in the course
- Course requirements (textbook and other educational materials)
- Instructor's grading policy, how final grades will be determined, and the minimum requirements for successfully completing the course

TEMPLATE SYLLABUS LANGUAGE

DISABILITY ACCOMMODATION STATEMENT

- TSU is committed to creating inclusive learning environments and providing all students with opportunities to learn and excel in their course of study. Any student with a disability or condition which might interfere with his/her class performance or attendance may arrange for reasonable accommodations by visiting the Office of Disability Services (ODS). ODS is located in Kean Hall, room 131 and can be reached at 963-7400 or www.tnstate.edu/disabilityservices . You will be required to speak with ODS staff and provide documentation of the need for an accommodation. If you qualify for an accommodation you will be provided with a document stating what type of classroom accommodations are to be made by the instructor. It is your responsibility to give a copy of this document to the instructor as soon as you receive it. Accommodations will only be provided AFTER the instructor receives the accommodation instructions from ODS; accommodations are not retroactive. You must follow this process for each semester that you require accommodations.

- SEXUAL MISCONDUCT, DOMESTIC/DATING VIOLENCE, STALKING

TSU recognizes the importance of providing an environment free of all forms of discrimination and sexual harassment, including sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. If you (or someone you know) has experienced or is experiencing any of these incidents, there are resources to assist you in the areas of accessing health and counseling services, providing academic and housing accommodations, and making referrals for assistance with legal protective orders and more.

Please be aware that most TSU employees, including faculty and instructors, are “responsible employees”, meaning that they are required to report incidents of sexual violence, domestic/dating violence or stalking. This means that if you tell me about a situation involving sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking, I must report the information to the Title IX Coordinator. Although I have to report the situation, you will still have options about how your situation will be handled, including whether or not you wish to pursue a formal complaint. Our goal is to make sure you are aware of the range of options available to you and have access to the resources you need.

You are encouraged to contact TSU’s Title IX Coordinator to report any incidents of sexual harassment, sexual violence, domestic/dating violence or stalking. The Title IX coordinator is located in the Office of Equity and Inclusion, McWherter Administration Building, Ste. 260 and can be reached at 963-7494 or 963-7438. For more information about Title IX and TSU’s SART or policies and procedures regarding sexual, domestic/dating violence and stalking please visit: www.tnstate.edu/equity.

If you wish to speak to someone confidentially, who is not required to report, you can contact the TSU Counseling Center, located in the basement of Wilson Hall, at 963-5611 or TSU Student Health Services, located in the Floyd Payne Campus Center room 304, at 963-5084. You may also contact the following off campus resources: Sexual Assault Center of Nashville at 1-800-879-1999 or www.sacenter.org or the Tennessee Coalition to End Domestic & Sexual Violence at 615-386-9406 or www.tncoalition.org.

HARASSMENT & DISCRIMINATION

Tennessee State University is firmly committed to compliance with all federal, state and local laws that prohibit harassment and discrimination based on race, color, national origin, gender, age, disability, religion, retaliation, veteran status and other protected categories. TSU will not subject any student to discrimination or harassment and no student shall be excluded from participation in nor denied the benefits of any educational program based on their protected class. If a student believes they have been discriminated against or harassed because of a protected class, they are encouraged to contact the Office of Equity and Inclusion at McWherter Administration Building, Ste. 260, 615-963-7494 or 963-7438, www.tnstate.edu/equity.

Course Instruction-- During the first meeting of the class, the faculty member should discuss the specific objectives of the course and the system of grading that will be used. In addition, the faculty member should outline briefly topics to be studied, the number and nature of outside reports, reading requirements, experiments, tests, and other expectations of students. The first class meeting, including the longer evening class sessions, should be planned to meet for the entire period.

Faculty Attendance--If for some unforeseen reason a faculty member cannot meet class as scheduled, the department chair should be notified as early as possible. This will allow the department chair time to make arrangements for the class so that students will not be deprived of a class meeting.

Room Assignments-- When a room assignment has been made for a class, the room should be utilized until a change of room assignment has been made. Should there be a problem with size, facilities, number of chairs, or other difficulties, the faculty member should notify the department chair to determine if a change is possible.

E-Mail -- Official Tennessee State e-mail accounts will be provided to all adjunct faculty. This is to be the preferred e-mail used for communication with students and for administrative purposes. Adjunct faculty are encouraged to utilize e-mail and other technical enhancements to communicate regularly with students. Your e-mail should always be managed so you can respond to official communication.

Library Use and Services:

Library Hours-- The Tennessee State Library has posted hours and location information which can be found on its website- <http://www.tnstate.edu/library/>.

Grades and Quality Points-- At the end of each term, instructors report to the Registrar the standing of all students in their classes. The grade of a student in any course is determined by the progress of the student as outlined in each course syllabus.

The instructor's evaluation of the quality of the student's work is expressed by letters as follows:

| Grade | Instructor's Evaluation | Quality Points Awarded Per Semester Hour |
|--------------|--------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------|
| A            | Superior                       | 4.0                                             |
| C            | Average                        | 2.0                                             |
| S            | Passing                        | 0.0                                             |

Academic Advising-- Academic advising is a responsibility of the full-time faculty. Students requesting advisement assistance should be referred to the appropriate department office by major field. Students who are classified as "undeclared" are referred to the Learning Resource Center. Normal center hours are 8:00 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Payment of Salary

All employees, newly-hired and rehired, are required to participate in direct deposit. Direct deposit advice will be mailed. All required documents must be on file in Human Resources. Pay periods are to be the last day of the month shown on the adjunct contract. State employees who are employed through dual service agreements will be paid at the end of the term upon completion of the contract.

Adjunct Faculty Compensation

Tennessee State fully embraces the importance of adjunct faculty as a part of the instructional team. These individuals must possess the equivalent credentials and qualifications of full-time faculty as established by the division and in compliance with all appropriate accrediting agencies. Adjunct faculty must submit original transcripts documenting appropriate credentials. Payments to faculty will be withheld until transcripts are received. All adjunct faculty must participate in an orientation developed by the institution and complete all required periodic trainings.

Tennessee State will advertise, as needed, for appropriate and qualified part-time faculty. Each applicant must complete an application for employment and submit original transcripts to Human Resources. Department and college officials will review, screen and recommend appointment of adjunct faculty to the Vice President of Academic Affairs.

Appointments will be for one semester. No appointment is official until the proper contract is completed and approved by all appropriate officials.

SECTION V.

RECORDS AND REGISTRATION INFORMATION

CONFIDENTIALITY OF STUDENT RECORDS- To comply with the Family Educational Records Protection Act (FERPA) as amended, Tennessee State has adopted policies to protect the privacy of its students. Student records may be released only after the Office of Records and Registration receives written authorization from the student to release personal identifiable information.

Faculty should not post grades where other students could see and identify their classmates' grades. All requests for student information, including requests from parents, should be referred to the Registrar or the department chair.

CLASS ROLLS - Class rolls for their own courses are available to faculty from the beginning of each term through the Banner Self-Service system. The computer generated class rolls are very important and should be checked carefully by instructors each day the class meets through the first two weeks of the term.

Adds, drops, and withdrawals are immediately updated on this screen as students make changes to their class schedules. If a student is attending class and the student's name is not on the class roll, refer the student to the Registrar to determine why the name has been omitted.

Students who are attending class and not officially registered will not receive credit for the class. If, for any reason, at the beginning of a term the adjunct faculty member does not yet have computer access to their class rolls, the department office will provide those until the instructor has access. Faculty should notify the department immediately if a class roll cannot be accessed, so that an alternative can be provided.

It is the responsibility of the instructor of record, to ensure that the class rolls are correct and complete both at the beginning of the term and throughout. Errors on the Final Grade roll should be discussed with the Registrar immediately upon discovery.

ADDING CLASSES: After the registration period, requests to add a course must be approved by the appropriate college dean or his/her designee. The college office will be responsible for communicating with the faculty if permission to add late is approved.

DROPPING CLASSES- Students can withdraw from courses through the published last date to withdraw. The College procedure may require the permission of the instructor or the department chair or college dean. Students who fail to follow official procedures for withdrawing from a course will receive the grade earned for the course and the grade will be calculated in the grade point average. A student may be permitted to withdraw from a course of courses after the published last date to withdraw and still receive a "W" only if the student can present documented evidence of serious personal illness, death in the immediate family, or employer mandated transfer.

Students should contact the Office of Records and Registration if they have questions.

WITHDRAWAL FROM COLLEGE - Students who find they need to stop attending Tennessee State and withdraw from ALL classes are required to follow the process detailed in the university catalog.

ADMINISTRATIVE WITHDRAWALS- Students may be administratively withdrawn by an instructor for failure to attend class. The Administrative Withdrawal Forms are available in Student Affairs. This form must be completed and signed by the Student Affairs official and approved by the Vice President for Academic Affairs by the last date to withdraw as published in the College Catalog. A copy of the form will be mailed to the students, giving them an opportunity to contact the university if an error has occurred.

GRADES- Faculty will submit final grades using Banner Self-Service.

GRADING PROCESS AND DUE DATE- Faculty will be notified by the Office of Records and Registration each semester of the procedure and final date for posting grades. It is IMPORTANT that you observe this DEADLINE. Failure to observe this due date delays the processing of all grades.

All grades are submitted through Banner Self-Service. If you have trouble logging into Banner Self-Service or cannot remember your PIN, please contact the Help Desk at 963-7777.

GRADE CHANGES- After grading for the term has been completed for a term, grades can only be changed by submitting a Change of Grade Form to the Office of Records and Registration.

To change a grade of "I"-- An "I" grade must be completed the term following the semester the "I" was awarded. The instructor must complete the Change of Grade Form. Changing a grade of "I" requires the signature of instructor of the course, signature of the department chair, and the signature of the college dean. Forward the completed form to the Office of Records and Registration for processing.

To correct a grade other than the "I"- A Change of Grade Form must be completed and signed by the instructor of the course, department chair, college dean, and forwarded to the Office of Records and Registration.

Students will be notified of all grade changes.

MID-TERM DEFICIENCIES- The university Catalog indicates that students who are in danger of receiving a grade below the accepted minimum be notified at mid-term indicating a lack of satisfactory progress. This notice is very important to students and each faculty member is required to complete the mid-term deficiency process. The letter "U" is used to identify students on the mid-term deficiency rolls who are not making satisfactory progress. All others will be left blank. Banner Self-Service will be used to post Mid-Term Deficiencies. Please follow the directions provided by the Office of Records and Registration on the notice e-mailed to all faculty at mid-term. Students who receive deficiency notices are advised to contact the instructors of the courses in which they have deficiencies for advice on continuing successfully in those courses.

FERPA is the acronym for the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act. Originally enacted in 1974 as part of a bill extending the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, it has been amended over the years since. FERPA was enacted as a series of civil rights legislation, designed to assert and protect the rights of students and their parents. Its primary purpose was two-fold: to assure parents of students' access to their education records and to protect such students' rights to privacy by limiting the transferability of their records without their consent.

Can a school disclose information to parents in a health or safety emergency?

Yes. Tennessee State University is permitted to disclose information from education records to parents if a health or safety emergency involves their son or daughter. The disclosure of such information shall be limited to data that is necessary to manage the emergency situation.

Can parents be informed about students' violation of alcohol and controlled substance rules?

Yes. TSU is permitted to inform parents of students under the age of 21 of any violation of law or policy concerning the use or possession of alcohol or a controlled substance.

Can a school disclose law enforcement unit records to parents and the public?

TSU may disclose information from "law enforcement unit records" to anyone -- including parents or federal, State, or local law enforcement authorities -- without the consent of the eligible student. Many colleges and universities have their own campus security units, just as Tennessee State University does. Records created and maintained by these units for law enforcement purposes are exempt from the privacy restrictions of FERPA and can be shared with anyone.

When may a school disclose information to parents of dependent students?

Under FERPA, schools may release any and all information to parents, without the consent of the eligible student, if the student is a dependent for tax purposes under the IRS rules or if the student voluntarily provides the University with a wavier consenting to his or her parent's access to educational records.

Can school officials share their observations of students with parents?

Nothing in FERPA prohibits a school official from sharing information with parents that is based on that official's personal knowledge or observation and that is not based on information contained in an education record. Therefore, FERPA would not prohibit a professor or other school official from letting a parent know of his or her concern about the student based on his or her personal knowledge or observation.

How does HIPAA apply to student education records?

The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) is a law passed by Congress intended to establish transaction, security, privacy and other standards to address concerns about the electronic exchange of health information. However, the HIPAA Privacy Rule excludes from its coverage those records that are protected by FERPA at school districts and postsecondary institutions that provide health or medical services for students. This is because Congress specifically addressed how education records should be protected under FERPA. For this reason, records that are protected by FERPA are not subject to the HIPAA Privacy Rule and may be shared with parents under the circumstances described above.

Release of Student Information

A student is any person who is or has been enrolled at Tennessee State University. An applicant who does not enroll or who is declared ineligible has no inherent right to inspect any file. Wherever "student" is used in reference to personal rights, an eligible parent of a dependent student has similar rights. This eligible parent is one who has satisfied Section 52 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 and who presents such proof to the custodian of the education records. Normally this proof will be written affirmation by the student and the parent declaring that the student is a dependent for Federal Income Tax purposes.

Generally, Tennessee State University does not permit access to, or the release of any personally identifiable information other than Directory Information, without the written consent of the student. However, FERPA allows schools to disclose those records, without consent, to the following parties or under the following conditions:

- School officials with legitimate educational interest;
- Other schools to which a student is transferring;
- Specified officials for audit or evaluation purposes;

- Appropriate parties in connection with financial aid to a student;
- Organizations conducting certain studies for or on behalf of the school;
- Accrediting organizations;
- To comply with a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena;
- Appropriate officials in cases of health and safety emergencies; and
- State and local authorities, within a juvenile justice system, pursuant to specific State law.

Tennessee State University may disclose, without consent, "directory information" such as: a student's name, address, telephone listing, institutional electronic mail address, photograph(s), videotape/digital image(s), date and place of birth, major field of study, classification, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of members of athletic teams, dates of attendance, degree(s), honors and academic awards received, the most recent previous educational agency or institution attended by the student.

At the time a student registers for courses, the student may notify the Records Office in writing, that "directory information" should not be released. This notification is only effective for the current semester for which the student will be enrolled. Download Form Here

Parental Access to Student Records

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) protects the privacy of your child's education records. Once your child turns 18 or attends a school beyond high school, you can no longer access his or her records without your child's written consent.

If you want to access your child's Tennessee State University records, he or she must complete the Student Release of Confidential Information Form.

Without your child's consent, FERPA allows Tennessee State University to release information to you if at least one of these statements applies:

- Your child is considered a "dependent" for tax purposes. You must verify this with a copy of your most recent tax return.

- Your child is under age 21 and has violated any law or policy concerning the use or possession of alcohol or a controlled substance.
- A health or safety emergency involves your child.
- The information an official is sharing is based on personal knowledge or observation of your child.

For more information, type the search term "FERPA" in the advanced search box at www.ed.gov.

Enrollment Verification

If your insurance provider requires verification that your child is enrolled at Tennessee State University, you must have your son or daughter complete the Enrollment Verification Form. The form may be mailed or faxed to the Records Office.

FOREWARD

The STUDENT HANDBOOK facilitates communication among the members of the university community. The materials for this university handbook have been created and developed over more than 70 years by students, faculty and staff members, various university organizations, and committees.

The STUDENT HANDBOOK serves as a source of necessary and useful information that will help the students understand their privileges, rights, and responsibilities pertaining to Student Affairs. It will contribute significantly to the continued high level of cooperative and constructive relationships between students and the various departments of the university. These relationships help develop positive responsible leadership and citizenship, deepened loyalty, and heightened morale.

“THINK, WORK, SERVE”

As a land-grant institution, the mandate for Tennessee State University is instruction, research and public service. The university contributes to the advancement of all who seek its services and can profit from its broad educational programs. Tennessee State University stimulates its students and the citizens of Tennessee to reach their full potential through respect for inquiry and appreciation of their cultural traditions, imbues them with the desire to develop basic knowledge and skills that will enable them to succeed in an ever changing world, develops the leadership needed for the advancement of knowledge, and applies that knowledge toward the improvement of the quality of life for the citizens of our state and nation. The objectives of Tennessee State University are represented in the university's motto: “Think, Work, Serve.”

TRADITIONS AND TRADITIONAL EVENTS

With each generation of students, some traditions fade away and others come into being. Each generation has the privilege and obligation of preserving or not preserving and of adding to traditions according to their interpretations of what is significant and what is essential to the heritage. It is with pride that the following traditions and traditional events are presented.

Traditions

The university colors, adopted many years ago by the students: reflex blue and white.

The seal of the university is one of its most cherished traditions. It is affixed to diplomas and other documents. It is displayed in a place of honor at the entrance to the Harold M. Love Learning Resource Center, bearing ensigns representing our dedication to growth, construction and learning with a hand holding a light above all and the motto “Think, Work, Serve.” It deserves respect at all times and is not to be walked upon.

The university's logo combines a script acronym and cupola which proclaims the traditional and future elements in the school's heritage.

The university's charge, “Enter to Learn, Go Forth to Serve,” is inscribed over the proscenium arch of the Walter S. Davis Humanities Building.

It is a memorable and respected tradition of the alumni association to induct the candidates for degrees into the association during the commencement ceremonies.

Other traditional events are: Opening Convocations, Inauguration of the Student Government Association President and Vice President; Miss TSU and Mr. TSU Coronation; Greek Show; Homecoming Week; John Merritt Classic; Christmas Tree Lighting Ceremony; Student Elections Week; Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Convocation; Commencement Exercises; Founders' Day and Academic Awards Day.

HISTORICAL STATEMENT

The present-day Tennessee State University exists as a result of the merger on July 1, 1979, of the former Tennessee State University and the University of Tennessee at Nashville.

Through successive stages, Tennessee State University has developed from a normal school for Negroes to its current status.

By virtue of a 1909 Act of the General Assembly, the Agricultural and Industrial State Normal School was created, along with two other normal schools in the State, and began serving students on June 19, 1912. In 1922, the institution was raised to the status of four-year teachers' college and was empowered to grant the bachelor's degree.

The first degrees were granted in June 1924. During the same year, the institution became known as the Agricultural and Industrial State Normal College; and in 1927, "Normal" was dropped from the name of the College.

The General Assembly of 1941 authorized the State Board of Education to upgrade substantially the educational program of the College, which included the establishment of graduate studies leading to the master's degree. Graduate curricula were first offered in several branches of teacher education. The first master's degree was awarded by the College in June 1944.

Accreditation of the institution by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools was first obtained in 1946.

In August 1951, the institution was granted university status by approval of the State Board of Education. The reorganization of the institution's educational program included the establishment of the Graduate School, the School of Arts and Sciences, the School of Education, and the School of Engineering. Provisions were also made for the later addition of other schools in agriculture, business, and home economics.

The University was elevated to a full-fledged land-grant university by the State Board of Education in August, 1958. The Land-Grant University program, as approved by the State Board of Education, included: the School of Agriculture and Home Economics, the Graduate School, the Division of Business, the Division of Extension and Continuing Education, and the Department of Aerospace Studies. A School of Allied Health Professions and a School of Business were created in 1974. The School of Nursing was established in 1979.

On July 1, 1979, the former University of Tennessee at Nashville was merged with Tennessee State University as a result of a court order.

Begun initially in 1947 as an extension center of the University of Tennessee, which is based in Knoxville, the University of Tennessee at Nashville offered only one year of extension credit until 1960, when it was empowered by the Board of Trustees of the University of Tennessee to offer two years of resident credit. Authorization was granted to extend this to three years of resident credit in 1963, even though degrees were awarded by the Knoxville unit.

To more fully realize its commitment as a fully-functioning evening university, the Center at Nashville became a full-fledged, four-year, degree-granting institution in 1971, upon successfully meeting the requirements for accreditation of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. During the same year, the General Assembly sanctioned the institution as a bona fide campus of the University of Tennessee, and the new university occupied its quarters in the building at the corner of Tenth and Charlotte Avenues.

It was the erection of the above-mentioned building that gave rise to a decade-long litigation to "dismantle the dual system" of higher education in Tennessee. The litigation, culminating with the merger of both institutions, resulted in an expanded mission of the present-day Tennessee State University as a Tennessee Board of Regents Institution.

JOINT STATEMENT ON RIGHTS AND FREEDOMS OF STUDENTS

In June 1967, a joint committee comprised of representatives from the American Association of University Professors, U.S. National Student Association, Association of American Colleges, National Association of Student Personnel Administrators, and the National Association of Women Deans and Counselors met in Washington, DC., and drafted in part the Joint Statement of Rights and Freedoms of Students published below.

Since its formulation, the Joint Statement has been endorsed by each of its five national sponsors, as well as a number of other professional bodies. The Association's Council approved the statement in October 1967 and the 54th annual meeting endorsed it as association policy. While Tennessee State University endorses this statement, nothing in its content should be interpreted or construed to supersede existing policies or procedures.

PREAMBLE

Academic institutions exist for the transmission of knowledge, the pursuit of truth, the development of students, and the general well-being attainment of society. Free inquiry and free expression are indispensable to the attainment of these goals. As members of the academic community, students should be encouraged to develop the capacity for critical judgment and to engage in a sustained and independent search for truth. Institutional procedures for achieving these purposes may vary from campus to campus, but the minimal standards of academic freedom of students outlined below are essential to any community of scholars.

Freedom to teach and freedom to learn are inseparable tenets of academic freedom. The freedom to learn depends upon appropriate opportunities and conditions in the classroom on the campus and in the larger community. Students should exercise their freedom responsibly.

The responsibility to secure and to respect general conditions conducive to the freedom to learn is shared by all members of the academic community. Each college and university has a duty to develop policies and procedures which provide and safeguard this freedom. Such policies and procedures should be developed at each institution within the framework of general standards and with the broadest possible participation of the members of the academic community. The purpose of this statement is to enumerate the essential provisions for student freedom to learn.

I. FREEDOM OF ACCESS TO HIGHER EDUCATION

The admission policies of each college and university are a matter of institutional choice—provided that each college or university makes clear the characteristics and expectations of students that it considers relevant to success in the institution's program. While church-related institutions may give admission preference to students of their own persuasion, such preference should be clearly and publicly stated. Under no circumstances should a student be barred from admission to a particular institution on the basis of race. Thus, within the limits of its facilities, each college and university should be open to all students who are qualified according to its admission standards. The facilities and services of a college should be open to all of its enrolled students, and institutions should use their influence to secure equal access for all students to public facilities in the local community.

II. IN THE CLASSROOM

A. PROTECTION OF FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION

Students should be free to take reasoned exception to the data or views offered in any course of study and to reserve judgment about matters of opinion, but they are responsible for learning the content of any course of study in which they are enrolled.

B. PROTECTION AGAINST IMPROPER EVALUATION

Students should have protection through orderly procedures against prejudiced or capricious academic evaluation. At the same time, they are responsible for maintaining standards of academic performance established for each course in which they are enrolled.

C. PROTECTION AGAINST IMPROPER DISCLOSURE

Information about student views, beliefs, and political associations which professors acquire in the course of their work as instructors, advisors, and counselors should be considered confidential. Protection against improper disclosure is a serious professional obligation. Judgments of ability and character may be provided under appropriate circumstances, normally with the knowledge or consent of the student.

STATEMENT OF POLICY REGARDING THE COLLECTION, RETENTION AND DISSEMINATION OF INFORMATION ABOUT STUDENTS

I. INTRODUCTION

In compliance with state and federal law for protection of the rights and privacy of students, a statement of policy has been established at Tennessee State University.

Code of Student Conduct

GENERAL REGULATIONS ON STUDENT CONDUCT AND DISCIPLINARY SANCTIONS

Part 1. Institution Policy Statement

1. College and university students are citizens of the state, local, and national governments and of the academic community and are, therefore, expected to conduct themselves as law-abiding members of each community at all times. Admission to an institution of higher education carries with it special privileges and imposes special responsibilities apart from those rights and duties enjoyed by non-students. In recognition of the special relationship that exists between the institution and the academic community which it seeks to serve, the Tennessee Board of Regents has authorized the Presidents of the institutions and Directors of the technology center under its jurisdiction to take such action as may be necessary to maintain campus conditions and preserve the integrity of the institution and its educational environment.
2. Pursuant to this authorization and in fulfillment of its duty to provide a secure and stimulating atmosphere in which individual and academic pursuits may flourish, Tennessee State University ("TSU," "the university" or the "institution") has developed the following policy which is intended to govern student conduct on the campuses under its jurisdiction.
3. For the purpose of this policy, a "student" shall mean any person who is admitted and/or registered for study at TSU for any academic period. This shall include any period of time following admission and/or registration, but preceding the start of classes for any academic period. It will also include any period which follows the end of an academic period through the last day for registration for the succeeding academic period, and during any period while the student is under suspension from the institution. Finally, "student" shall also include any person subject to a period of suspension or removal from campus as a sanction which results from a finding of a violation of the policy governing student conduct. Students are responsible for compliance with Institutional policy at all times
4. Disciplinary action may be taken against a student for violations of this policy which occur on institutionally owned, leased or otherwise controlled property, while participating in international or distance learning programs, and off campus, when the conduct impairs, interferes with, or obstructs any institutional activity of the mission, processes, and functions of the institution. If a student's violation of applicable laws or ordinances adversely affects the University's pursuit of its educational objectives, it may enforce its policies, including this policy, regardless of any proceedings instituted by other civil or criminal authorities. Conversely, violation of any section of this policy may subject a student to disciplinary measures by the University whether or not such conduct is simultaneously in violation of state, local or national laws.
5. This policy, and related material incorporated herein by reference, is applicable to student organizations as well as individual students. Student organizations are subject to discipline for the conduct and actions of individual members of the organization while acting in their capacity as members of, or while attending or participating in any activity of, the organization.
6. Confidentiality of Discipline Process. Subject to the exceptions provided pursuant to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA), 20 U.S.C. 1232g and/or the Tennessee Open Records Act, T.C.A. § 10-7-504(a) (4), a student's disciplinary files are considered "educational records" and are confidential within the meaning of those Acts.

Extended or permanent exclusion from the classroom or further disciplinary action can be effected only through appropriate procedures established by the institution.
- 2. Academic dishonesty may be defined as any act of dishonesty in academic work. This includes, but is not limited to, plagiarism, the changing or falsifying of any academic documents or materials, cheating and giving or receiving of unauthorized aid in tests, examinations or other assigned work. Students guilty of academic misconduct, either directly or indirectly through participation or assistance, are immediately responsible to the instructor of the class. The instructor has the authority to assign an appropriate grade for the exercise or examination, proportional to the nature and extent of academic misconduct, including an "F" for the assignment/test or an "F" in the course. Disciplinary sanction will be imposed only through the appropriate institutional disciplinary process.
- 3. Courses may not be dropped pending the final resolution of an allegation of academic misconduct.
- 4. In cases where student absences are the result of emergency circumstances (e.g., death in the family, a student's serious injury or incapacitating illness), for which student(s) are unable to make immediate contact with faculty, the student may contact the Office of the Vice President of Student Affairs, the Office of Academic Affairs and the One Stop Center for assistance in providing such immediate notification to faculty. However, the student remains responsible for verifying the emergency circumstances to faculty and for discussing arrangements with faculty for possible completion of coursework requirements, if feasible.

Part 4: Disciplinary Sanctions

1. Upon a determination that a student or student organization has violated any of the rules, policies or disciplinary offenses set forth in this Code of Student Conduct, disciplinary sanctions that may be imposed, either singularly or in combination, by the appropriate university officials include but are not limited to the sanctions referenced below.
  - a. Restitution. Any such payment in restitution shall be defined by the university.
  - b. Fine – Fine of not more than $200. This sanction shall apply to violations of the following disciplinary offenses: misuse of documents or identification card and failure to cooperate with university officials. Failure to pay fines may result in further disciplinary action.
  - c. Warning – The appropriate university official may notify the student or student organization that continuation or repetition of specified conduct may be cause for further disciplinary action.
  - d. Reprimand – A written or verbal reprimand, or censure, may be given to any student or organization whose conduct violates part of the Code of Conduct. Such a reprimand does not restrict the student in any way, but it does have important consequences. It signifies to the student that he or she is in effect being given another chance to conduct himself or herself as a proper member of the university community but that any further violation may result in more serious penalties.
  - e. Apology – A student or student organization may be given the opportunity, under certain circumstances, to apologize to an affected party, either verbally or in writing, as an alternative or in addition to the imposition of other disciplinary sanctions, for the behavior related to a disciplinary offense.
  - f. Restriction – A restriction upon a student's or organization's privileges for a period of time may be imposed. This restriction may include, for example, denial of the right to represent the University in any way, restrictions on university or TBR sponsored travel and events, denial of the use of facilities, parking privileges, or restrictions involving the participation in any extra-curricular activities, organizational privileges, athletic events, or on an athletic team.

This restriction may include, for example, denial of the right to represent the university in any way, university or TBR sponsored travel, denial of the use of facilities, parking privileges, or participation in extra-curricular activities or restriction of organization privileges.
  - g. Referral to the University Counseling Center or appropriate healthcare provider is never to be considered as a punishment for any specified behavior. Participation in counseling treatment is strictly voluntary and highly confidential, but the student may be referred to the university-counseling center or an appropriate health care provider for an evaluation to determine if the student poses a threat to the campus community. The University Behavior Intervention Team may, in coordination with the Judicial Affairs Office or other University officials, issue appropriate directives regarding a student's continued presence on campus in connection with the Referral referenced herein.
  - h. Community or Educational Project – A project beneficial to the individual, campus, and/or community may be required. The project will be related to the offense the student is guilty of violating.
  - i. Assignment of work hours – A specified number of supervised hours of work to be completed on campus may be assigned. This work will be commensurate to the offense the student is guilty of violating.
  - j. Probation. Continued enrollment of a student or recognition of a student organization on probation may be dependent upon adherence to the Code of Student Conduct. Any student or organization placed on probation will be notified of such in writing and will also be notified of the terms and length of the probation. Probation may include restrictions upon the extracurricular activities or any other appropriate special conditions. Any conduct in violation of this Code while on probationary status may result in the imposition of a more serious disciplinary sanction.
  - k. Suspension. If a student is suspended, he or she is deprived of student status and is separated from the university for a stated period of time with conditions of readmission stated in the notice of suspension. The suspension shall appear on the student's disciplinary record regardless of whether or not such student is successfully readmitted.
  - l. Expulsion. Expulsion entails a permanent separation from the institution. The imposition of this sanction is a permanent bar to the student's readmission or student organization to the institution. Tennessee State University policy requires that any student or organization receiving a penalty of expulsion shall be restricted from the campus of Tennessee State University during the period of expulsion unless on official business with the university verified in writing by the Judicial Officer/Dean Students.
  - m. Any alternate sanction deemed necessary and appropriate to address the misconduct at issue.
  - n. Revocation of Admission, Degree or Credential

- o. Housing Probation. Continued residence in campus or student housing may be conditioned upon adherence to this policy as well as institutional housing policies. Any resident placed on housing probation will be notified in writing of the terms and length of the probation. Probation may include restrictions upon the activities of the resident, including any other appropriate special condition(s).
- p. Housing Suspension and Forfeiture. A resident suspended from housing may not reside, visit, or make any use whatsoever of a housing facility or participate in any housing activity during the period for which the sanction is in effect. A suspended resident shall be required to forfeit housing fees (including any unused portion thereof and the Housing Deposit). A suspended resident must vacate the housing unit. Housing suspension shall remain a part of the student resident's disciplinary record. A student may be immediately removed from campus or student housing for violations of the University's housing policy or residence agreement under the interim suspension standards set forth in paragraph m. above.
- q. Removal or suspension from an athletic team.
- r. Interim Suspension. Though as a general rule, the status of a student or student organization accused of violations of these regulations should not be altered until a final determination has been made in regard to the charges. Interim suspension may be imposed upon a finding by the Chief Judicial Officer or designee that the continued presence of the accused on campus constitutes an immediate threat to the physical safety and well-being of the accused or of any other member of the University community or its guests, destruction of property, or substantial disruption of classroom or other campus activities. In any case of interim suspension, the student, or student organization, shall be given an opportunity at the time of the decision, or as soon thereafter as reasonably possible, to contest the suspension.
  - 1. During an interim suspension, the student shall be denied access to campus facilities, classes, and/or all other university activities or privileges unless prior approval has been granted by the Dean of Students/Chief Judicial Officer.
  - 2. If a student chooses to challenge the imposition of an interim suspension, a preliminary hearing will be conducted by the Student Affairs Disciplinary Committee, in consultation with university officials. The hearing will be scheduled within five (5) working days of the student's request for a hearing. The preliminary hearing committee's sole charge will be to determine whether the Dean of Students' (or designee) interim suspension decision was arbitrary and capricious or constituted an abuse of discretion. During this preliminary hearing, the student will be given notice of the allegations against him/her and provided a summary of the evidence that supports the interim suspension. The student will be afforded an opportunity to respond to the allegations. The preliminary hearing committee may, at its sole discretion, call witnesses or permit the Dean of Students (or designee) and the student to call witnesses in support of their respective presentations. If the preliminary hearing committee upholds the Dean of Students' interim suspension decision, a formal hearing under the disciplinary procedures set forth in this policy shall be held as soon as practical, if applicable. If the preliminary hearing committee reverses the Dean of Students' (or designee) decision, the Vice President for Student Affairs may, in his or her sole discretion, review the decision and uphold, modify or reverse the preliminary hearing committee's decision if he or she determines that the evidence does not support the preliminary hearing committee's determination.

This policy is promulgated pursuant to, and in compliance with, TBR Rule 0240-02-03-.04 Disciplinary Sanctions. To the extent that a conflict exists between this policy and TBR rule, policy and/or applicable law(s), the TBR rule, policy and/or law will control. History – Adopted by TBR: 12/8/11. Effective: 1/29/12.

Part 5: Procedures and Guidelines for the Enforcement of Student Discipline

- 1. A university has the responsibility and obligation to its students, faculty, and community to maintain an academic environment that promotes intellectual pursuits and harmonious interpersonal relationships between its various publics and constituents. Toward this end, TSU has established and published a uniform Code of Conduct, which spells out and informs students at the university the parameters of appropriate student conduct.
- 2. The following is a description of the procedures by which the university enforces its standards of student conduct.
- 3. Inherent in these procedures is the university's recognition of its obligation to protect the rights and privileges of its students in accordance with the guarantees afforded all citizens under the Constitution of the United States and due process as interpreted by appropriate judicial authority.
- 4. The maintenance of order and the enforcement of the rules and policies of the university and the Tennessee Board of Regents are vested with the president of the university or his/her designee. This responsibility is delegated to the Vice President for Student Affairs who in turn delegates this authority to the Dean of Students/Chief Judicial Officer and the faculty and students appointed to participate in the administration of these procedures.
- 5. The university believes that the disciplinary procedures described below will serve the interests of students in obtaining full and fair hearings.

A. Pre-Hearing Procedures

All matters involving allegations of impermissible discrimination, harassment, or retaliation will be governed by the procedures outlined in TBR Guideline P-080 Subject: Discrimination and Harassment – Complaint and Investigation Procedure and/or an institutional policy that reflects the requirements of that Guideline as well as the TSU Policy governing Sexual Misconduct.
3. At the conclusion of the investigation, the Dean of Students/Chief Judicial Officer for Student Affairs shall conduct a preliminary conference and shall advise the student of the charge(s) and proposed sanction(s), if any. The student may admit the violation(s) and accept sanction(s) or may elect to contest the charge. Admission of the violation(s) and sanction(s) shall constitute a waiver of hearing, and shall be in writing when possible. Such admission shall be binding and may not be subsequently revoked without concurrence of the Dean. At the conclusion of the preliminary conference, the Dean of Students/Chief Judicial Officer shall execute the "Preliminary Conference Form" reflecting the action taken or to be taken in the case. If the student fails to appear for the preliminary conference, the student shall be deemed to have waived his/her right to contest the charges and sanctions and said sanctions shall become final. A student has five (5) working days from the date of the preliminary conference to make an election.

For all cases where suspension or expulsion are not possible sanctions, if the student chooses to contest the charge, it shall be heard pursuant to the Institutional Hearing Procedures set forth in section D below.

B. Tennessee Uniform Administrative Procedures Act (TUAPA)

1. All cases which may result in: (a) suspension or expulsion of a student, or student organization, from the institution, for disciplinary reasons or (b) revocation of registration of a student organization, are subject to the contested case provisions of the Tennessee Uniform Administrative Procedures Act (TUAPA), T.C.A. § 4-5-301 et seq., and shall be processed in accord with the Uniform Contested Case procedures adopted by the Tennessee Board of Regents unless the student or organization, after receiving written notice, waives those procedures and elects to have the case disposed of in accord with institutional procedures or waives all right to contest the case under any procedure.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR WITHDRAWAL FROM THE UNIVERSITY

To accomplish proper withdrawal from the university, it is necessary that a student clear his/her status with all the offices on the withdrawal request form by obtaining signatures for clearance verification from each office and then file the form at the Office of Records.

Steps for Withdrawal are below:

1. A student seeking to withdraw from the University must first report to the Advisement Center to initiate the withdrawal process and to obtain a signed withdrawal sheet. (The University Counseling center will only be available for consultation regarding the resolution of personal problems related to the reason for the withdrawal but not for the administrative processing of the withdrawal)
2. The student will need to have the withdrawal sheet signed by the Office of Financial Aid.
3. If the student lives on campus, they will need to have the Office of Residence Life sign the withdrawal sheet, however, if the student is not housed on campus, they can proceed to the Bursar's office for their signature.
4. The student will need the signature of the Bursar's office, and finally the student must take the completed withdrawal sheet to the Records office for official withdrawal.
5. The student seeking withdrawal is strongly encouraged to follow these steps in face-to-face interactions with the assigned offices. However, if the student cannot meet face-to-face, then the student can, with written informed consent, assign a designee to follow these steps in their place.

All students with disabilities who require accommodations will need to register with the office of Disability Services and provide medical documentation.

POLICY ON REQUESTING SPECIAL ACCOMMODATIONS

The following procedures should insure that you receive appropriate and reasonable accommodations:

1. As early in the semester as possible (preferably within the first two weeks of the semester), the student should initiate contact with Disability Services (DS) to request accommodations. At this time, the student should provide DS with current documentation regarding the disability.
2. The student should then plan on meeting with DS to review how the disability substantially limits you and determine what reasonable accommodations would be appropriate for you. Recommendations from documentation and consultation with the student are both used to determine accommodations. Final determination of accommodations rests with the University.
3. Each semester that accommodations are wanted or needed in classes; it is the student's responsibility to obtain the Accommodation Letter from the DSS office for the professors.
4. It is the student's responsibility to present the Accommodation Letters to the professors, meet with them privately, raise their level of understanding about the strengths the student may have and work out the logistics of providing the approved accommodation. Since the primary relationship in the learning process is with the professor, the student is encouraged to take the initiative within the first two weeks of the semester, or earlier, to develop that relationship.
5. If difficulties occur in the actual provision of approved classroom or testing accommodations and the student is unsuccessful in resolving those issues with the professor, then the student may request assistance from DS with securing the approved accommodations. Requests for assistance should be made as soon as any difficulties arise. DS will work with both the student and the faculty member, or department, to arrive at an appropriate resolution.

Additional information about requesting accommodations is available by, contacting Disability Services:

The priority deadline for federal financial aid is March 1st. You must reapply every year to receive federal assistance. The FAFSA must be processed and forwarded back to the financial aid office by this date to be considered for ALL types of federal aid.

The processing deadline to receive federal financial aid in time for fall registration is August 1st. This means your file must be complete in the financial aid office by this date. Information submitted after the processing deadline will not be processed until September. Students will need to pay all fees out-of-pocket until processing resumes.

Other eligibility requirements for federal financial aid include being fully admitted to the university as a degree-seeking student, being a United States citizen or eligible non-citizen, and meeting satisfactory academic progress guidelines. The current satisfactory academic progress guidelines are available at www.tnstate.edu/finaid. It is also important that students attend all classes for which they have enrolled. Failure to do so will result in a student being billed for any financial aid received for that class. Also, if the student withdraws from all classes prior to completing 60 percent of the semester, a portion of the financial award MUST be repaid and returned to the Federal Title IV Programs.

TBR/UT (spouse/dependent) and TN public school teacher/State Employee (dependent) completed forms should be submitted thirty (30) days prior to the fee payment/confirmation deadline to prevent class schedules from being deleted. Forms will not be accepted after the first fourteen (14) days (including weekends) of classes.

Other third-party sponsors that will be billed for students' fees (e.g., employers, prepaid tuition programs, government agencies, foreign embassies, etc.) should submit authorization paperwork to the Bursar's Office in advance of the registration/confirmation deadline to prevent class schedules from being deleted.

CONFIRMATION OF ATTENDANCE

All students MUST CONFIRM. Confirmation affirms that students plan to attend the classes for which they are registered and gives the university permission to apply financial aid. Students who register/confirm and subsequently decide not to attend must drop all classes before the first day of classes to avoid a penalty.

To confirm, access myTSU and do the following:

- Click on Banner Services
  - Click on Student Tab
  - Select Student Account
  - Select Account Detail for Term/Confirm Enrollment/Credit Card Payment
  - Select term
  - Review Account Summary for accuracy
  - Select Confirm Registration. Click Yes, I will attend
1. If the balance due is $0 or a credit (-) (i.e., authorized/memo aid is equal to or greater than the amount due), the student will be given a confirmation number when he/she successfully completes the process.
  2. If the balance is owed, the student will be directed to a secure site "TSU Bill Payment Suite" to pay in full or enroll in a deferment plan.
    - a. To pay the balance in full, click on Make Payment and follow the instructions
    - b. To enroll in the Deferred Payment Plan, click on Enroll in a Deferment plan and to follow the instructions.
  3. Write down the confirmation number as verification of completion of the confirmation process. The system will enter a code into the computer to hold the classes. If in doubt, the student may try the process again and the systems will tell him/her if registration has already been confirmed. The confirmation will not be repeated. If a student decides not to attend classes after confirming, an official withdrawal from the University is required. If the student decides to attend after checking that he/she will not attend, then he/she must contact the Bursar's Office to reverse the negative response and prevent his/her class schedule from being deleted.

Housing Deposit

1. A $100 non-refundable housing deposit is required for all students who apply for university housing.
2. The non-refundable deposit is paid once a year to reserve an on-campus housing space for the upcoming academic year. The $100 is deducted from the housing fee for the fall semester or whichever semester is applicable.

Refund of Fees

Students who officially drop or withdraw from classes will receive tuition and fee refunds as follows:

NOTE: Refunds are calculated based on liable credit hours. Therefore, in some instances, a refund may not be applicable. Students are encouraged to better plan their schedules and retain their full-time status on their way to a timely and successful graduation.

Students dropping and adding a class on or after the first day of classes must process both the Add and the Drop ON THE SAME DAY and the Add must be processed first.

RODP courses cannot be evenly exchanged with TSU courses when students drop/add on or after the first day of classes. RODP classes can be identified by section number R50. RODP courses are charged separately from TSU courses.

- 100% before the first day of classes;
- 75% beginning the first day of classes through the fourteenth day (including weekends);
- 25% beginning the fifteenth (15th) day of classes through 25% of the term;
- 0% after the 25% refund period.

Please refer to the PAYMENT DEADLINES AND OTHER IMPORTANT DATES section of the Bursar's Office website (<http://10.52.128.224/bursar/index.aspx>) for the 100%, 75% and 25% refund dates.

EXCEPTIONS:

- 100% will be refunded for classes canceled by the University.
- 100% will be refunded in the case of death of the student.
- 0% will be refunded if a student is dismissed or suspended.

FINANCIAL AID-WITHDRAW/REFUND POLICY

THIS POLICY SHALL APPLY TO ALL STUDENTS AT TENNESSEE STATE WHO RECEIVE FINANCIAL AID FROM TITLE IV FUNDS AND WHO TOTALLY WITHDRAW, DROP OUT OR STOP ATTENDING ALL CLASSES WITHOUT OFFICIALLY WITHDRAWING.

Federal regulations require that when you officially withdraw from the university or stop attending classes that the amount of Federal Title IV Financial Aid assistance “earned” up to that point must be calculated using a pro-rata formula. If you received more Financial Aid than you earned, the excess funds will be returned on your behalf by the University to the program in which you received aid. In most instances this will leave you owing the University.

If you change enrollment status within the first 14 days of classes, your financial aid will be adjusted accordingly and you may possibly owe the University.

If you have completed more than sixty percent (60%) of a period of enrollment (i.e. fall term, spring term) you have earned all of your Financial Aid and your account will not be adjusted. Anything less than earning 60% of your aid will require an adjustment and billing.

Upon receipt of the official withdrawal notification from the Registrar’s Office, the Financial Aid Office will perform the return calculation. You will be notified by mail. If there is any outstanding balance with the University you are responsible for making payment arrangements with the Bursar’s Office.

FINANCIAL AID REFUNDS

Refunds will be available via direct deposit and on student ID cards for returning students who have Comdata accounts. Refunds will be processed for students who have registered, completed all paperwork in the Financial Aid Office, and confirmed that they will be attending for the term on myTSU, have had their classroom attendance confirmed, and have actual aid credited to their accounts.

To obtain a financial aid refund, please follow these five steps:

Step #1: Logon to myTSU and select Student then Refund Account Information and follow the instructions.

Step #2: Check your account at myTSU.tnstate.edu to see if you have a credit balance. Refunds will be processed daily beginning with the date posted on the TSU website each semester. Refunds will appear on the ID card within a 24 to 48 hour period from the date of the refund transaction that appears on your student account.

Direct deposit is required if you are a freshman, transfer, or a returning student with a new ID card. Direct deposits may take up to three business days to post to bank accounts. Students who do not sign up will receive their refunds via checks mailed to their permanent addresses on file, beginning mid-September for fall term and mid-February for spring term.

Step #3: Contact the Bursar’s Office if you believe you qualify for a refund, but the website reflects that one has not been processed for you. Keep in mind that some scholarships do not allow refunds and PLUS Loan proceeds in excess of fees are treated according to parents’ instructions. Refunds will NOT be issued for financial aid that is in “estimated” status.

Refund of Housing Expenses

A. The room and board refund policy is outlined below:

- ▶ Refunds will be pro-rated on a weekly basis when a student is forced to withdraw from a residence hall/apartment.
  - ▶ Because of personal medical reasons confirmed in writing by a licensed physician
  - ▶ At the request of the university for other disciplinary reasons
- (A week is to consist of at least three business days)

B. 100% of fees will be refunded in the case of death of a student.

C. Withdrawal for other reasons will be subject to the same 75%/25% amounts and time periods as described in the PAYMENT DEADLINES AND OTHER IMPORTANT DATES section of the Bursar’s Office website (<http://10.52.128.224/bursar/index.aspx>).

APPEAL PROCEDURES FOR FEES AND REFUNDS

A student may appeal the assessment, application, calculation, or any interpretation of any university fee, charge, deposit or refund, or any university action connected with fees or charges. Questions should be discussed with personnel in the Bursar’s Office. If a student is not satisfied with the resolution of the problem offered by the Bursar’s Office, a written appeal can be made to the Vice President of Student Affairs for Business and Finance,

PERSONAL PROPERTY, RIGHTS, FREEDOMS, RESPONSIBILITIES

FREEDOM OF ASSEMBLY

Students enrolled at the university are reminded to take every precaution to safeguard their personal property. Large sums of money should be deposited in the bank for safekeeping. Letters with money orders or checks should be sent registered to ensure delivery. The university cannot assume responsibility for the loss of personal property whether the loss of such property results from theft, fire, or other causes.

STATEMENT OF ASSURANCE

A university campus is considered an appropriate place for spontaneous and impromptu gatherings, where speeches are made, controversial topics are presented and discussed, and acceptable forms of active dissent in support of issues may take place. Picketing, demonstrations, or student strikes, provided they are conducted in an orderly and non-obstructive manner, are legitimate at a state-supported institution, and it is assumed the students involved in such activities have a serious purpose and a sincere interest in his or her own social and intellectual development. They are expected to approach problems with intelligence and reasonableness; are subject to laws and ordinances of the nation, state, and community of which they are a part; and are expected to work peaceably for the changes considered necessary. As students value rights and freedoms for themselves, they are obligated to respect the rights and freedoms of others.

The Tennessee Board of Regents recognizes the right of the individual student, or of student groups, to disagree with national, state, local, and university policies and positions. Students have the right of lawful assembly and to express constructively their views on issues which capture their interests.

Although there are areas of common concern in the several colleges and universities under the Tennessee Board of Regents, there are also appreciable differences in tradition, environment, mission, and institutional character.

It is required, therefore, that each institution establish student and campus regulations that emphasize the unacceptability of the following:

- ▶ The support of action through unlawful means;
- ▶ Interference with accepted functions or activities of the university and the educational program;
- ▶ Unauthorized occupancy of university facilities or blocking access to or from such areas;
- ▶ Interference with approved university traffic (pedestrian or motor vehicle);
- ▶ infringement of the rights of students, faculty, staff, and/or authorized person to gain access to any university facility for the purpose of attending classes or participating in an interview, university conferences, and/or other university activities.

In adopting policy directives to the presidents of the institutions under its control, the Tennessee Board of Regents emphasizes its commitment to the basic principles involved in academic freedom, scholarly inquiry, constructive criticism, and honest dissent. Simultaneously, the Board reiterates the principles of responsibility of students and faculty members in exercising rights and privileges and the use of recognized, organized channels of expression and communication.

In this spirit, and the conviction that the vast majority of students deserve commendation and will conduct themselves as mature and responsible citizens, the Tennessee Board of Regents hereby makes its policy a matter of public record and instructs the presidents of the universities and colleges under its jurisdiction to take such action as may be necessary to maintain campus conditions that accord with this directive and that preserve the integrity of the institutions and their educational environment. (The preceding statement appeared in the Minutes of the State Board of Education, August 8, 1968).

Tennessee State University assumes the position that dissent, when carried out in the prescribed form (being registered in advance with the Vice President of Student Affairs, in order to ensure that the event is held at an acceptable time and appropriate site), will be protected; on the other hand, disruption in any form, will not be tolerated. When dissent takes the form of group activity, sponsored by university-recognized organizations or clubs, it must be carried out in such a manner that the normal function of the university is not interrupted. Group dissent taking the form of demonstrations, marching, or sit-in activities will not be permitted inside university buildings or during university-wide events such as athletic contests, convocations, special lectures, assemblies or at the president's home and surrounding grounds. This applies equally to students, faculty, employees of the university, and campus visitors.

In the event an unacceptable and/or illegal group or action should occur on the Tennessee State University campus, any one of the following persons has the authority to terminate the meeting or gathering and ask students and/or association, university employee to disperse: the President of the Student Government Association, the Vice President of Student Affairs, Dean of Students/Chief Judicial Officer, Police Officers, Vice Presidents of the university or the President of the university. If it is determined that the speaker or leaders of the unacceptable and/or illegal group or action cannot present a valid identification card or prove they are students of Tennessee State University, the campus police officer shall be summoned to escort those persons from the campus to face possible criminal charges.

In addition, students are cautioned that participation in any disruptive action may lead to civil prosecution as well as institutional disciplinary action.

OFF-CAMPUS RIGHTS, FREEDOMS, AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Off-campus rights and freedoms of students involve the responsibility to display conduct and behavior that reflect favorably on them, the university, and the community.

Students at Tennessee State University are both citizens and members of the academic community, as well as the local community of Nashville. As citizens and members of the academic and city community, students should enjoy the same freedom of speech, peaceful assembly, and right to petition that other individuals enjoy and are subject to the obligations and responsibilities that accrue to them. Due respect for the rights of others in addition to the compliance with local, state, and federal laws is a fundamental responsibility.

A university student should not expect special treatment or consideration because of the campus affiliation. With respect to this relationship, the university is not responsible for making bond should one of its students be arrested by civil authorities and be held for court appearance. Students, local citizens, and taxpayers have equal obligations to respect the rights of others and to comply with local, state, and federal laws. Violation of state laws, if committed off-campus, shall be subject to university disciplinary action when a clear and present danger to life or property of members of the university or the community can be determined through campus due-process procedures.

MISCELLANEOUS

- A. The office of the official at each institution is responsible for receiving and processing applications and registrations pursuant to this policy shall maintain a copy of the policy for inspection by groups, organizations, and individuals interested in the use of campus property and/or facilities and shall provide a copy of such policy upon request and payment of a reasonable charge.
- B. Exceptions to this policy can be made upon approval of the Chancellor of the Tennessee Board of Regents.

CLASS ATTENDANCE, ABSENCES, DROP/ADD AND WITHDRAWALS

CLASS ATTENDANCE

Regular and punctual attendance of all courses taken for credit is expected of each student. Course requirements, including tests and examinations must be completed in order to secure maximum ratings consistent with student performance. Permission to take make-up examinations will be affected by irregular attendance.

EXCUSED ABSENCES FOR STUDENTS INVOLVED IN OFFICIAL UNIVERSITY TRAVEL

It is the university's policy that students who are members of official participants in a university activity requiring travel are to receive excused absences for classes missed during official university travel. These activities include: band, athletics, choir, drama and forensics groups, and other registered student organizations whose travel has been approved by the appropriate Division Head of the sponsoring organization. Students should receive excused absences from classes on the dates indicated in the itinerary and be allowed to make up any missed examinations and assignments at the earliest possible time convenient to the faculty member and the student.

Excused absences for official university travel do not count toward the university policy on excessive absences.

STUDENT ABSENCES

- (1) Under the Tennessee Board of Regents' system-wide rules on student conduct, students are required to provide explanations and/or justifications for tardiness and missed class sessions directly to the faculty member for each class in which student is enrolled. In pertinent part, TBR system-wide student disciplinary rule number 0240-2-3-.03(5) reads:
- (2) Class attendance and punctuality requirements are contracted between the faculty and the students, through specific expectations for attendance and punctuality and specific consequences that are outlined by individual faculty members in the printed syllabus for each course.

- (3) Students are expected to attend classes regularly and on time and are responsible for giving explanations/rationale for absences and lateness directly to the faculty member for each course in which they are enrolled.
- (4) In cases, where student absences are the result of emergency circumstances (e.g., death in the family, a student's serious injury or incapacitating illness), for which students are unable to make immediate contact with faculty, the student may contact Academic Affairs for assistance in providing such immediate requirements.

POLICY ON EXCESSIVE ABSENCES

Students are expected to attend class regularly and on time. Instructors will keep an accurate record of class attendance. "Excessive absence is defined as no less than one more than the number of times a class meets per week. It is the student's responsibility to withdraw from a course in which excessive absences have been incurred. A student with excessive absences may only be readmitted to class by the instructor. A student who has not been readmitted to a class by the official withdrawal date, may not be readmitted to class by the instructor. A student who has not been readmitted to a class by the official withdrawal date, may not be readmitted to that class and will receive a mandatory grade of "F."

WITHDRAWING FROM A COURSE

Students wishing to withdraw from a course must do so via "mytsu." Athletes wishing to withdraw from a course must secure approval and signature from his/her athletic advisor and submit the proper form to the Records Office. Withdrawal from developmental studies classes is prohibited except in extenuating circumstances and with approval of the director. A student may receive a grade of "W" if he/she withdraws according to the time period listed in the Class Schedule and/or the Academic Calendar which is listed on the web at www.tnstate.edu.

If a student never attends a class officially registered for or stops attending class without officially withdrawing, that student will be assigned a final grade of "F."

After the above deadlines, the student must be assigned a grade of "F." Administrative withdrawal from the university must be documented by the student and approved by the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Health problems or other circumstances beyond the student's control may be reasons for granting withdrawal from the university.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR WITHDRAWAL FROM THE UNIVERSITY

To accomplish proper withdrawal from the university, it is necessary that a student clear his/her status with all the offices on the withdrawal request form by obtaining signatures for clearance verification from each office and then file the form at the Office of Records.

Steps for Withdrawal

1. Begin withdrawal procedures at the Office of Records.
2. Obtain signatures at all offices indicated on the "Withdrawal Request Form".
3. File the "Withdrawal Request Form" at the Office of Enrollment Management. Failure to properly file the withdrawal request form at the Office of Records will result in "F" in all currently enrolled courses, thus jeopardizing a student's eligibility to re-enter Tennessee State University or transfer to another institution. The official date of withdrawal is the date on which the properly completed withdrawal form is received in the Office of Records.

ADMINISTRATIVE WITHDRAWAL

Occasionally, extenuating circumstances will result in a student's needing to withdraw from the university after the published date for withdrawals. In these cases, the student must present a request to the Dean of Students. The request will be reviewed and the student informed of procedures to follow to affect the withdrawal. This option is not available during the final week of classes or during the final examination period.

Circumstances that occur during the final week of classes or during examination period are generally resolved with instructors and the department based upon the student's attendance record and classroom performance. Students who have satisfactory attendance records and who are passing courses may be eligible to receive "Incompletes." (A student who is failing or a student with excessive absences is not eligible to receive "Incompletes").

MEDICAL WITHDRAWAL

A student whose incapacitation makes it impossible to communicate with the university in a timely manner must provide complete medical documentation. This documentation must be received and acknowledged by the university within 30 (thirty) days after the semester ends.

1. Those granted medical withdrawal were required to meet with the Chief Student Affairs Officer (CSAO) or designee and may have been assigned certain treatment related pre-conditions be met prior to readmission to facilitate student retention and eventual graduation. The CSAO may request a waiver of release of information from a student to consult with the Student Reentry Committee prior to establishing pre-conditions.
2. Those medically withdrawn students wishing to return to their studies who were assigned pre-conditions must meet with the Student Reentry Committee in order to ascertain if or to what extent these were met, the latter resulting in a recommendation to the Chief Student Affairs Officer or designee to readmit or not, based on the meeting and/or not meeting of any/all established pre-conditions.
3. In order to accomplish this, the Reentry Committee may request waivers or release(s) of information to communicate with primary treating physicians and/or others to ascertain that the student is medically and otherwise ready to return to her/his studies at the university. Of course, a student may refuse to sign a waiver of release, or revoke a signed waiver in writing, but this may negatively affect the Committee's recommendation.
4. Upon receiving a readmission recommendation from the Committee, the CSAO or designee renders a decision.
5. Students in disagreement with this decision may appeal, per relevant TSU Student Handbook procedures.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The Student Government Association ("SGA") serves as the governing body for Tennessee State University's students. The SGA works with the administration in planning and regulating student affairs. It appoints student representatives to university committees, stimulates student participation in campus life, and recommends students organizations to the administration for official recognition. (See "Student Government Association Constitution, Purposes").

CONSTITUTION OF THE TENNESSEE STATE UNIVERSITY STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

PREAMBLE

Whereas Tennessee State University recognizes the legitimate prerogative of its students to participate in the governance and affairs of the university and whereas such participation shall be consistent with applicable university policies, Tennessee State University does hereby establish and create the Student Government Association in accordance with the provisions of this Constitution as herein contained for the following purposes:

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

The University, Registered Student Organizations, and the Student Union Board of Governors sponsor well-balanced programs of activities. These activities are coordinated by the Director of Student Activities with the assistance of the Vice President of Student Affairs and include concerts, athletic events, educational and social trips (museums, Battle of the Bands) convocations, recitals, lyceum series, programs of a religious nature, lectures, art exhibits, intramural tournaments, movie series, as well as community partnerships and opportunities for service learning.

Admission to all campus activities (except travel and Homecoming Step Show/Concert) is by TSU identification card and/or admission fee.

Participation in organizations may serve to develop special talents and skills in music, dramatics, writing, and religious expression or to develop an appreciation and capacity for leadership, cooperation, and fellowship. In making a choice of organizations, the student should consider his/her interests, health, scholarship, finances, and home relations. Involvement in extracurricular activities complements the work learned in the classroom and develops a well-rounded student.

Freshmen are urged to limit their participation in organizations and other extracurricular activities particularly during the first semester when numerous academic, social and other adjustments to university life have to be made.

POLICY ORIGINS

Tennessee State University, the Division of Student Affairs, the Office of Student Conduct, and the Office of Student Activities reserve the right to create and change policies and procedures pertaining to student organizations. Changes will become effective at the time the proper authorities so determine and the changes will apply to both prospective and current student organizations. Changes to policies will be noted on the Office of Student Activities webpage at the time of adoption. It is the responsibility of the student to view revisions online or to obtain revisions from the office of Student Activities or other appropriate University offices. The Registered Student Organization Manual is another resource provided by the Office of Student Activities to assist and guide organizations.

POLICY ON STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

I. Scope

The following policy of the Tennessee Board of Regents, applicable to all institutions in the State University and Community System of Tennessee, provides minimum standards for registration and conduct of student organizations at the institutions. Each institution is authorized to establish additional policies and procedures affecting student organizations that are consistent with the provisions of this policy. (TBR Policy 3:01:01:00 Subject: Student Organizations)

II. Types of Student Organizations

Student organizations may be either organizations sponsored by the institution, such as student government associations, associated student body organizations, and professional and honor societies, or organizations officially registered by the institution. Organizations that may be officially registered on campus include the following: (a) honors and leadership organizations/recognition societies; (b) departmental organizations and professional fraternities and sororities; (c) social fraternities and sororities; and (d) special interest groups (political religious, athletic, etc.) Registration of a student organization by an institution shall neither constitute nor be construed as approval or endorsement by the institution of the purposes or objectives of the organization.

III. General Policies on Student Organizations

- A. No student organization may carry on any activity on the campus of the institution unless the organization has been officially registered by the institution. The institution shall not be responsible for injuries or damages to persons or property resulting from the activities of student organizations or for any debts or liabilities incurred by such organizations.
- B. No student organization or individual shall engage in or condone any form of hazing. Hazing shall include, but not be limited to, any action taken or a situation created intentionally to produce mental or physical discomfort, embarrassment, or ridicule; any form of verbal or physical harassment or abuse; and participation in public stunts or morally degrading or humiliating behavior or games, whether on or off campus.
- C. Excessive demands on a student's time so as to interfere with academic performance are prohibited. Threatening in any manner or form for the purpose of cajoling individuals into secrecy in regard to breaches (planned, threatened, attempted, or perpetrated) of hazing restrictions also is prohibited. Hazing activities that are in violation of any other institution or school regulations such as the misuse of alcohol, drugs, school property, etc. are strictly forbidden.

- D. Student organizations shall be responsible and liable for the conduct and actions of each member of the organization while acting in the capacity of a member or while attending or participating in any activity of the organization.
- E. No person, group or organization may use the name of the institution in any manner, provided that registered student organizations may use the name of the institution following the name of the organization. No person, group, or organization may use the seal or any symbol of the institution without the prior written approval of the president of the institution or his/her designee.

IV. Criteria for Recognition of Organizations

- A. Any proposed student organization shall be open to all students of the institution who otherwise meet membership requirements. Membership in the organization shall be limited to currently enrolled students, provided that organizations may include faculty and staff of the institution and/or spouses of students, faculty, and staff and provided further that professional organizations may include members of the professional and business communities.

- E. The proposed organization must have a minimum of at least ten (10) charter members designated by the institution, and there must be a demonstration of continuous interest in the purposes of the organization sufficient to afford recognition on a long-term basis. In the event there is not sufficient interest to warrant long-term registration, an institution may grant temporary registration to an organization for a limited period of time.
- F. New organizations may be denied registration when its purposes are within the scope of a currently registered organization. No organization may use the same name or a name that is misleading and similar to the name of a currently registered organization.

XII. Advisors to Student Organizations

Individuals who agree to serve as advisors of registered student organizations must sign the "Advisor Commitment Form" and submit it to the Office of Student Activities before they can be considered official advisors of the organizations. All organizations and advisors who are registered and approved by the Office of Student Activities must adhere to the all Tennessee Board of Regents and University policies (TBR Guideline S-030 Subject: Student Advisor Guidelines).

- A. Student organizations are required to have three (3) advisors. One of the advisors must be a full-time staff or faculty member employed at Tennessee State University. This faculty/staff advisor is considered the primary advisor. Secondary advisors can be either full-time faculty/staff members of the university or individuals outside of the university. The university grants student organization advisors the authority to make certain decisions, or to take certain actions, within their stated responsibilities as advisors. In some instances, the university reserves the right to intercede if necessary (for instance, signing contracts, unresolved issues and issues that involve hazing).
- B. Graduate assistants may serve as secondary advisors if one full-time employee (staff or faculty) is the primary advisor on record. A graduate assistant/student may not serve as the only (or primary) advisor to any student organization. Graduate students may participate as either student members of a student organization or as a secondary advisor, but not both at the same time.
- C. Advisors to student organizations are elected by the organizations; however, the advisors to the four undergraduate classes, the Student Government Association, the Student Union Board of Governors, the Student Election Commission, the General Assembly and the Pan-Hellenic Council, are administratively appointed by the Vice President for Student Affairs.
- D. Advisors are responsible for ensuring the organization's compliance with the policies and procedures of the university by reinforcing institutional policies and applicable state laws and warning the organization if what they are planning or doing is wrong, inappropriate, illegal or risky, and offering alternative suggestions. For example, if a planned activity may constitute "hazing", the advisor has an obligation to take appropriate steps to ensure that the activity is not undertaken, including informing the Director of Student Activities and TSU Police Department if necessary. The advisor must also report potentially unsafe facilities and warn participants of risks that may be associated with certain activities.

- E. Other major responsibilities of advisors are as follows:
- a. Advisors are expected to be present at each meeting of their respective organization that they serve and to be present at all on and off campus activities sponsored by the organizations, to monitor the activities, to provide guidance and support, and to assume leadership in the event of an emergency.
  - b. Advisors to organizations are expected to guide their respective organizations by being available when the organizations need advice or support, being aware of the activities of the organizations, and ensuring that all meetings and activities contribute in spirit and expression to the wholesome development of the students and to the best interest of the university.
  - c. Advisors are responsible for assisting their respective organizations in understanding and observing good practices relative to program planning, budgeting, keeping records, parliamentary procedures, business procedures, proper use of university facilities and work cooperatively with related offices.
  - d. Advisors to student organization who sign an "Event-Space Requisition Form" for an activity assume responsibility for seeing that the sponsoring organization plans, conducts, and, where appropriate, follows-up with the activity in keeping with the regulations and standards set by the university.
  - e. Advisors ensure that the organizations follow the Student Activities and General Assembly requirements including submission of an annual report, attending mandatory Risk Management and Anti-Hazing programming and General Assembly meetings, and sponsoring the required amount and types of activities.
  - f. When handling problems and internal conflicts the advisor should provide timely, constructive criticism of the organization relative to intended or ongoing activities and member interactions within the organization; be willing to contact the Coordinator of Registered Student Organizations to discuss organizational problems or issues of interest to TSU; and upholding the best interest of the institution at all times.
- F. Student organizations must give the following considerations to their advisors:
- a. The leaders of the organization are expected to consult advisors well in advance of all activities and obtain their approval before plans are finalized. Advisors may refuse to approve any activity that they believe is not consistent with the university mission, policy, or procedure, or is not in the best interest of the organization and/or its members.
  - b. The organization is expected to keep the advisor informed of all organization business. It is an expectation that advisors are to be present at meetings and activities and organizations are responsible for giving the advisor sufficient notice about meetings and activities to ensure their advisors' attendance.
  - c. Students are expected to recognize the major responsibilities of an advisor and coordinate all activities of the organization with the advisors.
- G. The Office of Student Activities reserves the right to remove an advisor from his or her role with a student organization should circumstances require such action.
1. Grounds for removal of an advisor include but may not be limited to:
    2. Inappropriate behavior and/or language
    3. Behavior that violates University policy and/or procedure
    4. Direct knowledge of hazing incidents and/or failure to report such incidents
    5. Direct knowledge of, advocacy for, and/or participation in illegal activities and/or behavior
    6. Behavior resulting in unreasonable and/or unnecessary risk for students
  7. Student organizations may have the right to remove an advisor from his or her role with the group. Should a student organization believe it is in the best interest of the organization to remove an advisor, specific steps should be taken as listed in the Registered Student Organizations Manual.
- H. Involvement by Non-TSU Students, Faculty, or Staff
- a. Under limited circumstances the Office of Student Activities, in consultation with a given student organization, may determine that outside involvement by members of the extended Nashville community (i.e. those not already serving in official advising capacities) will serve to enhance Tennessee State University's mission and the mission of the student organization. Student organizations desiring such involvement by outside individuals must seek written approval by the Office of Student Activities and comply with any conditions specified by the office including, but not limited to, the signing of release forms and acknowledgement of Tennessee State University student organization policies and procedures.

- b. Under no circumstances may an outside individual be an officer, voting member, or have any other membership status/ authority within the organization as Tennessee State University student organizations are to be run/governed by TSU students only. The Office of Student Activities will hold the student organization responsible for all conduct occurring at its meetings or events, whether by members or outside individuals.
- c. Outside individuals are expected to adhere to all University policies and procedures, and are not to perform roles designated for student organization advisors. The Office of Student Activities may remove any outside individual for behavior that does not align with the mission of the University or the organization.

ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT—THE ACHIEVEMENT COMPATIBILITY INDEX

Article I

Tennessee State University has as its principal purpose the promulgation of the positive intellectual and academic development of its students. It is therefore the assumption of the university that all student organizations seeking university recognition and support do so to develop programs, practices, and activities that complement the academic mission of the university and in no instances conduct activities that are in opposition or counter-productive to these goals.

The university shall regularly sample the academic histories of a statistically significant number of currently enrolled students with senior standing. Each semester's grade point average will be compared with the students' first six semesters of full-time attendance at the university. A determination will be made as to the average variance from semester to semester as compared to the cumulative average for these persons. The average of the individual variances for this population is defined as the "Achievement Compatibility Index." At the end of each semester following the completion of an organization's membership/intake program, the average grade point average of the students participating in the program will be compared with their averages of the semester immediately preceding their participation in the program. If this comparison reveals a negative change in the group's average in excess of the achievement compatibility index, the organization conducting the membership/intake program shall forfeit the privilege of conducting a program the following academic year. The cumulative average for the membership intake roster cannot fall below 2.50.

All decisions are based upon regulations established by the Tennessee Board of Regents, with the intent that all Tennessee public institutions of higher education apply uniform classification rules. Should a student be denied in-state classification, the student has the right of appeal. The appeal steps are: (1) The Office of Enrollment Management (2) Vice President for Academic Affairs; (3) President of the University; (4) Tennessee Board of Regents.

Readmission

- A. Students who leave the university voluntarily and who do not enroll for courses during one or more regular semesters must submit an application for readmission to the university. Summer is not considered a regular semester in determining absences from the university.
- B. Students who return to TSU after attending other colleges or universities must submit an application for readmission and a transcript from all institutions attended since leaving TSU. Applicants in this category need a grade point average equal to TSU retention standards when all courses attempted at all colleges are combined.
- C. Re-enrollees who wish to attend TSU after being suspended should follow Sections A and B above as well as the following:
  1. Students who receive his/her first suspension at the end of the fall semester may not register at TSU until the following summer semester.
  2. Students who receive his/her first suspension at the end of the spring semester will not be eligible to re-enroll until the following spring semester.
  3. Students who receive his/her first suspension at the end of the summer session will not be eligible to re-enroll until the following spring semester.
  4. Students who attend another accredited institution during his/her suspension from TSU and raises his/her cumulative GPA to meet TSU admissions standards will be allowed to reenroll at TSU.
- D. In determining retention and re-enrollment, Summer I and Summer II grades will be as one semester.

Retention Standards, Academic Probation and Suspension

The minimum grade point average required by the university for awarding the baccalaureate or Associate degree is 2.00 for all credit work taken by the student as part of an approved program of study. The GPA is computed by dividing the total number of hours attempted by the total number of quality points earned (See "Grading System", University Catalog) except for credit hours in courses for which the student received a "W" or "I" (See "Adjusting Class Loads", University Catalog). Also, a repeated course is counted as attempted one time only (the last grade earned will be used to calculate the GPA). Any enrolled student who meets the minimum academic requirements is in good academic standing at the university.

Probationary status will be incurred by the student who fails to meet the standards listed below in any semester.

- 0-14 attempted hours – No minimum GPA
- 15-29 attempted hours – Not less than a 1.4 cumulative average
- 30-50 hours attempted – Not less than 1.7 cumulative average
- 51-67 hours attempted – Not less than 1.9 cumulative average
- 68 hours or more attempted - Not less than a 2.0 cumulative average and Satisfactory completion of all developmental or remedial courses.

At the end of the next semester of enrollment, a student on academic probation who has failed to attain either the above cumulative standard or a 2.0 GPA for that semester will be suspended. When re-admitted, the student will enter the university with probationary status. Another suspension at the end of the semester of readmission may be avoided by achieving the minimum cumulative average according to the above standards. Moreover, a student on academic probation will not be suspended at the end of any semester during which a semester average of 2.00 has been earned.

Academic Suspension and Appeal

Faculty and staff are committed to helping students achieve their academic goals. Nevertheless, some students fail to maintain an adequate grade point average and are academically suspended. A student who believes that extenuating circumstances contributed to his/her suspension may appeal his/her case to the university's Committee on Suspension and Readmission. To appeal, the student must explain those circumstances in a letter submitted to the committee immediately after receiving notification of suspension. (See also "Grade Appeal, Retention Standards, and Academic Probation" in the Undergraduate Catalog).

Grade Appeals

The university recognizes the right of a student to appeal a grade which he/she believes is incorrect and does not reflect the student's class performance. Issues related to harassment (sexual, racial, or other) should be referred to the Affirmative Action Officer.

Students who believe an incorrect grade was awarded should seek a resolution with the instructor as soon as possible. If the student is not satisfied after attempting to reconcile the matter with the instructor, the student may appeal to the head of the department. This appeal must be in writing, accompanied by any relevant supporting documents, and must be initiated within 30 (thirty) calendar days of the beginning of the semester immediately following the semester in which the grade was awarded (excluding summer school).

The department head shall provide a copy of the student's letter to the instructor and request a written response from the instructor. The instructor will provide the department head with a written response within ten (10) working days. (Exceptions will apply when the instructor is not teaching, as in summer sessions, or when the instructor is on leave.) In instances where an instructor indicates to a student that a grade adjustment is warranted, and fails to make the adjustment within ten (10) working days, the student should inform the instructor's department head.

If the student is not satisfied with the decision of the department head, a further written appeal may be made to the dean of the college/school. This appeal must be made within ten (10) calendar days of the decision of the department head. After reviewing the appeal record, the dean must render a decision within ten (10) days of receipt of the appeal. The Vice President for Academic Affairs is the next level of appeal.

If the instructor happens to be the department head or the dean, the appeal will be submitted to the next higher academic officer (that is, to the dean, if the department head is the instructor or to the Vice President for Academic Affairs if the dean is the instructor). In such cases, the decision of the Vice President for Academic Affairs is final.

Grades, transcript information, drop/add, withdrawals and other data perceived by the student to be in error must be disputed by the student within 30 (thirty) days. Appeals made after this time will not be reviewed.

Graduation

Graduation ceremonies are held during the fall and spring semesters. Students who intend to graduate should complete the "Graduation Application" through his/her major department. Any specific questions about graduation requirements should be directed to the major advisor.

Health Insurance

Students are urged to carry health insurance to cover illnesses and accidents that may occur while they are enrolled, since the coverage is not provided by the university. Information about a health and accident insurance plan, available at low cost to students, can be obtained during registration or in the Student Health Center. For more information call (615) 963-5291.

Chronic Communicable Diseases Policy

Tennessee State University places a high priority on providing a safe and intellectually stimulating environment for its staff and students. The university will take appropriate measures to encourage the health maintenance and regular attendance of all staff and students. The university is sensitive to concerns relative to the spread of chronic, communicable diseases, including Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS). The university accepts its role in providing relevant information to staff, students, and the community regarding methods by which the AIDS virus may be transmitted and how to prevent transmission.

Individuals with identified chronic, communicable diseases may be employed/admitted provided the transmission of the disease to others and/or the risk of further injury to the individual is negligible. The university will make employment/placement decisions within the context of this standard and in conjunction with interpretations of current public health guidelines concerning the particular disease in question. The determination of whether an individual with a chronic communicable disease may be employed or attend the university shall be made in accordance with procedures implemented by the university.

Code of Computing Practice

(There are numerous technology policies and guidelines that students must be aware of as they utilize technology in classrooms, labs, residence halls, and off campus. The "TSU Code of Computing Practice," included below, references a general set of rules that students must follow when using technology on campus. In addition, students are responsible for reading and following the TSU technology policies and guidelines available at the website www.tnstate.edu under "TSU Technology Policies").

Computer resources within Tennessee State University (TSU) are available to students, faculty, and staff for authorized use in a responsible, ethical, and equitable manner. It is important that all users of the computing facilities conduct their computing activities in this manner since they have access to many valuable and sensitive resources and their computing practices can adversely affect the work of other users. Ethical standards that apply to the use of computer resources are not unique to the computer field; rather they are derived directly from the standards of common sense, decency, and courtesy that apply to the use of any public resource.

The following constitutes a code of computing practice to be adhered to by all computer system users. This includes all computing facilities owned, leased, or controlled by TSU.

- A. Unlawful or unauthorized access to or use of computers, computer networks and computer data, programs, software materials or information is a misuse of computers. The use of computer resources for any purpose other than a purpose for which they are intended is an act of misconduct. Users are authorized to use the computer facilities for purposes that conform to the goals and objectives of TSU.
- B. Users of computing resources are expected to conduct themselves in a manner that does not constitute a danger to any person's health or safety or interfere with or harass individuals or TSU activities.
- C. Users must not misuse, damage, or misappropriate in any manner computing equipment, property, and other facilities and resources.
- D. Users are responsible for the use of their computer resources; and as such, they should take precautions against others obtaining access to their computers resources. This includes managing and controlling the use of individual passwords, operational activities, and resource utilization.
- E. Users must utilize only those resources that have been authorized for their use and only for the purpose for which the authorization was granted. The fact that a resource is unprotected does not imply permission for an unauthorized person to use it.
- F. Users must not attempt to modify system facilities or subvert the restrictions associated with their computer resource. Users must follow the established procedures for accessing the computing systems.
- G. Users shall utilize software only in accordance with the applicable license agreement. TSU licenses the use of most of its computer software from a variety of outside companies. TSU does not own this software nor its related documentation and, unless authorized by the license, does not have the right to reproduce it.
- H. Users may not access, modify, or copy programs, files, or data of any sort belonging to other users or TSU without obtaining prior authorization from the appropriate authority. Similarly, programs, subroutines, data, equipment, and other computing-related resources may not be taken from TSU to other computer installations without the proper authorization and a clearly defined understanding of the responsibilities associated with such action (e.g., security of access to the data at the other computer installation).

- I. Users should minimize the impact of their work on the work of other users. Attempts should not be made to encroach on others' use of the facilities or deprive them of resources.
- J. Users and non-users must not encourage, collaborate, or tolerate the misuse of computer resources or the violations of this code by any other person. It is TSU policy that anyone with knowledge of violations or suspected violations of computer security measures or controls report this information to the appropriate TSU authority. The above code is intended to work to the benefit of all computer users by encouraging responsible conduct and use of computer resources. Disciplinary action for violating this code shall be governed by the applicable policies and procedures of the Tennessee Board of Regents. The following disciplinary sanctions outline some, but are not limited to, actions that may be taken either singularly or in combination by TSU against violators of this code.

Repeated Violators and Sanctions:

- Require restitution to TSU for damage to or misuse of computing facilities
- Warn the individual that continuation or repetition of a specified conduct may cause other disciplinary action.
- Reprimand in writing indicating further violation may result in more serious penalties
- Result in more serious penalties.
- Restriction of computing privileges for a specified period of time
- Probation status, with the associate implications, imposed on the individual
- Suspension or expulsion of the individual from TSU
- Termination of employment of the individual by TSU
- Interim or summary suspension until a final determination has been made in regard to the charges made against the individual

According to the U.S. Copyright Law, illegal reproduction of software can be subject to civil damages and criminal penalties including fines and imprisonment.

Tornado Warning Procedures

In the event of a tornado warning, one should observe the following procedures:

- proceed to the basement or first floor level interior hallways or restrooms;
- if hallways are not suitable, use inside wall of rooms away from glass windows and opposite side from which the storm is approaching;
- take position for greatest safety by crouching on knees, head down with hands locked at back of neck.

(For additional information on tornado preparedness and other emergency types, go to the Facilities Management website: <http://www.tnstate.edu/vpbf/fmo>)

Proposal Submission Policy

In order for the Division of Research and Sponsored Programs (RSP) to provide the most effective service and meet mandated requirements and budget constraints, the cooperation of the TSU research community is essential.

We would like to remind everyone of the following items:

1. The staff of the Division should be notified as soon as possible of your intent to submit a proposal, preferably 30 days in advance, using our 'Intent to Submit a Proposal' form at: https://tnstateu.az1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV\_5oruBn3pVx3BuVn. This form must be submitted for all proposals in order to officially notify RSP staff. (Please note, this form is internal and the PI will still be required to upload proposal documents into the agency's submission portal).
2. Investigators should submit complete proposals for RSP review. The staff is responsible for reviewing rather than preparing proposals. We will not be able to complete our review until we receive the complete proposal. Once the proposal is reviewed, PIs are still responsible for uploading the documents into the agency's submission portal.
3. Proposal budgets should be submitted to RSP five working days prior to the submission deadline to guarantee review and approval. Completed applications will be submitted on a first come, first serve basis.
4. For limited submissions, where the funding agency limits the number of proposals that a university can submit, if the number of notices of intent to submit (RSP form) is greater than the number of submissions allowed, PIs will be required to submit a white paper summarizing their proposal concept and pertinent background information. The white papers will be reviewed by an internal panel to select the most competitive proposal(s) for submission. Thus, 'Intent to Submit a Proposal' forms for limited submission should be submitted at least 30 days before the submission deadline to ensure adequate time for review and selection of proposals.

5. All proposals submissions must be approved and submitted by the University's Authorized Organizational Representative, Dr. Frances Williams, Chief Research Officer and Associate Vice President.
6. Office hours for Research and Sponsored Programs are 8:00am to 4:30pm. Please plan to work with RSP staff during these hours to process your proposal.

Your cooperation with these best practices will facilitate the Division of Research and Sponsored Programs' goals to provide the best service to you and help TSU continue to expand its external research base.

Best Regards,
Frances Williams, Ph.D.
Associate Vice President

Post Award Non-Financial Reporting Policy

Overview

For active awards, financial and performance reports are generally required to be submitted at pre-determined intervals to the sponsoring agency. During closeout, all required financial, performance, and other reports must be submitted as required by the agency, and all obligations incurred under the award liquidated. Sponsors must make prompt payments for allowable, reimbursable grant costs. The award notice specifies the interim and closeout report requirements. Performance reports are prepared and submitted by the principal investigator (PI). The TSU Division of Research and Sponsored Programs (RSP) is responsible for communicating with PIs and their supervisors to ensure their performance reports are submitted in a timely manner. Financial reports and invoices are prepared and submitted by the TSU Grants Accounting Office (GAO). This document outlines the post award non-financial reporting process.

Determination of Reporting Deadlines

During intake of award notices from grantors, RSP will create performance report submission schedules for PIs to aid them in staying on track with their quarterly or annual reporting requirements. Further, the non-financial post award closeout reporting dates and requirements are also captured. These reports generally include the Final Technical Report, Final Inventions Report, and Final Equipment Report.

Non-Financial Interim Reports

Depending on the agency, performance reports are prepared by the PI and submitted by the PI or the TSU Division of Research and Sponsored Programs (RSP). However, RSP will notify the PI 60 days before the interim performance report is due about the submission of their report. Another reminder email will then be sent to the PI 30 days before the interim report is due. The Academic Dean, Division Head or Unit Head will be copied on the reminder emails. They will be expected to enforce compliance of report submissions. If reports are not submitted by the due date, email notices will be sent to the PI and their Academic Dean/Unit Head of the overdue report.

Non-Financial Final Closeout Reports

The PI is also responsible for submitting their final closeout reports (excluding financial reports). RSP will notify the PI 90 days before the end of the grant closing about the submission of their final reports. Reminder emails will be sent to the PI each month, thereafter. The Academic Dean, Division Head or Unit Head will be copied on the reminder emails and will be expected to enforce compliance. If reports are not submitted by the due date, emails will be sent to the PI and their Academic Dean/Unit Head of the overdue reports.

Code of Federal Regulations (Uniform Guidance)

Title 2: Grants and Agreements

PART 200—UNIFORM ADMINISTRATIVE REQUIREMENTS, COST PRINCIPLES, AND AUDIT REQUIREMENTS FOR FEDERAL AWARDS

Subpart D—Post Federal Award Requirements

§200.343 Closeout

The Federal awarding agency or pass-through entity will close-out the Federal award when it determines that all applicable administrative actions and all required work of the Federal award have been completed by the non-Federal entity. This section specifies the actions the non-Federal entity and Federal awarding agency or pass-through entity must take to complete this process at the end of the period of performance.

- (a) The non-Federal entity must submit, no later than 90 calendar days after the end date of the period of performance, all financial, performance, and other reports as required by the terms and conditions of the Federal award. The Federal awarding agency or pass-through entity may approve extensions when requested by the non-Federal entity.
- (b) Unless the Federal awarding agency or pass-through entity authorizes an extension, a non-Federal entity must liquidate all obligations incurred under the Federal award not later than 90 calendar days after the end date of the period of performance as specified in the terms and conditions of the Federal award.
- (c) The Federal awarding agency or pass-through entity must make prompt payments to the non-Federal entity for allowable reimbursable costs under the Federal award being closed out.
- (d) The non-Federal entity must promptly refund any balances of unobligated cash that the Federal awarding agency or pass-through entity paid in advance or paid and that are not authorized to be retained by the non-Federal entity for use in other projects. See OMB Circular A-129 and see §200.345 Collection of amounts due, for requirements regarding unreturned amounts that become delinquent debts.
- (e) Consistent with the terms and conditions of the Federal award, the Federal awarding agency or pass-through entity must make a settlement for any upward or downward adjustments to the Federal share of costs after closeout reports are received.
- (f) The non-Federal entity must account for any real and personal property acquired with Federal funds or received from the Federal Government in accordance with §§200.310 Insurance coverage through 200.316 Property trust relationship and 200.329 Reporting on real property.
- (g) The Federal awarding agency or pass-through entity should complete all closeout actions for Federal awards no later than one year after receipt and acceptance of all required final reports.

INTRODUCTION

This handbook is a guide to the responsibilities, principles, and benefits of employment at Tennessee State University (TSU). It is intended to be a general reference source and does not create a contract of employment. Due to constant changing of situations and conditions, the policies and practices contained within this handbook are subject to change at any time. Additional information is available in the TSU and TBR policies and procedures manuals. Copies of the TSU manual should be located in all departmental offices and are accessible by using the World Wide Web: (www.tnstate.edu/PersonnelHandbook). You may also call the Human Resources Office at 963-5281 for assistance.

The welfare of employees is extremely important to the success of TSU. However, it is recognized that, with the variety of departments within TSU, no single Handbook can cover all foreseeable questions. With this in mind, TSU tries to develop Policies that will ensure good working conditions, fair wages and hours, and appropriate security for all employees. Due to length, some detailed explanations and exceptions to policies have been omitted. Therefore, this handbook cannot be regarded as the official statement of policy from which interpretations are to be made.

This handbook addresses the benefits and privileges provided to full-time employees. Part-time employees may contact the Human Resources Office at 963-5281 for specific benefits and privileges.

B. History of Tennessee State University

When the first eager students set foot on the campus in 1912, they beheld a very different setting from the beautifully manicured grounds with numerous, modern, state-of-the-art structures students see today. The Tennessee Agricultural and Industrial State Normal School, as the institution was formerly known, began operations on June 12, 1912, with 247 students and 15 faculty members. This new “learning community” was housed in three modest brick and stone buildings.

In 1922, the institution was raised to the status of a teaching college and empowered to grant the bachelor’s degree. The first degrees were awarded in June, 1924. During the same year, the institution became known as the Agricultural and Industrial State Normal College, and in 1927, “Normal” was dropped from the name.

The general assembly of 1941 authorized the State Board of Education to upgrade substantially the educational programs of the college, which included the establishment of graduate studies leading to the master’s degree. The college awarded the first master’s degrees in June, 1944. In August, 1951, the institution was granted university status and elevated to a full-fledged land-grant university in 1958.

The University has emerged today as a major comprehensive, urban, land-grant university with 43 bachelor’s degrees, 24 master’s degrees and four doctoral programs. TSU is currently in the final stages of a $112 million capital construction campaign designed to prepare it for the 21st Century with some of the finest facilities available anywhere. The University has been listed in U.S. News & World Report as one of America’s best universities. The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) accredits TSU.

C. Tennessee Board of Regents

Tennessee State University is one of forty-six institutions in the Tennessee Board of Regents System (TBR), the seventh largest system of higher education in the nation. The TBR was established by the Tennessee General Assembly. The Board consists of eighteen members, including the Governor. Tennessee State University is unique because it is the only 1890 land grant, comprehensive, major urban institution in the TBR. The other universities in the TBR with baccalaureate and graduate programs are Austin Peay State University, East Tennessee State University, Middle Tennessee State University, Tennessee Technological University, and the University of Memphis.

D. Affirmative Action

It is the policy of Tennessee State University to provide and maintain a program of equal employment opportunity and fairness in all personnel matters and all aspects of employment relations, including recruitment or recruitment advertising, hiring, employment upgrade or promotion, development, demotion or transfer, layoff or termination, rate of pay, leave of absence, and any other form of compensation or training. It is the intent of this policy to safeguard against unsound and illegal personnel practices. The University, therefore, shall engage in no practice which will discriminate against any group or individual for reasons of race, color, religion, national origin, disability, sex, age (except where sex or age is a bonafide occupational qualification as determined by statute or Tennessee Board of Regents requirement), or status as a qualified disabled veteran or veteran of the Vietnam Era. In the implementation of this policy, the University will aggressively recruit and employ persons from classes that are under-represented in its work force. Reasonable accommodations have been and will continue to be made for qualified disabled veterans and others disabled persons.

The University's policy statement requires units to undertake affirmative action in working toward the achievement of goals set-forth and the attainment of an acceptable level of participation in its work force, programs and activities for students, contracted services, and services rendered to individuals, groups, and communities. The degree of success achieved in meeting affirmative action goals will be a performance indicator used in the evaluation of all management personnel of the University. Likewise, the degree to which employment opportunity is assured in the functional units of managers/supervisors will be evaluated.

The University has adopted the policy that criteria for employment and promotion be job-validated, such that only the skills or preparation actually necessary for the performance of a job are considered in making employment or promotion decisions.

CONTRACTS/AGREEMENT WITH VENDORS WILL HAVE THE FOLLOWING STATEMENTS:

The parties agree to comply with Title VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Executive Order 11246, and the related regulations of each. Each party assures that it will not discriminate against any individual including, but not limited to, employees or applicants for employment and/or students because of race, religion, creed, color, sex, age, disability, veteran status or national origin. Tennessee State University is committed to the education of a non-racially-identifiable student body.

All employees and students are subject to federal, state, and local laws related to this matter. Additionally, any violation of this policy will result in disciplinary actions as set forth in University policy.

Employees who are experiencing difficulties with drug or alcohol abuse have access to the State of Tennessee Employee Assistance Program (See: Special Benefits Section for more information regarding this program). Under State of Tennessee policy, persons who drive vehicles for the University may be selected to participate in the State's random drug-testing program.

F. Harassment

Harassment of any kind (including sexual and racial harassment which are prohibited by federal law) is considered conduct unbecoming a TSU employee and is expressly prohibited. Fair and prompt consideration will be given to all charges of such harassment in accordance with University policy. Substantiation of charges of harassment may result in dismissal.

Sexual harassment may be defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when one of the following criteria is met:

1. submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of the individual's employment or of the individual's status in a program, course, or activity;
2. submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as a basis for employment decisions, a criterion for evaluation, or a basis for academic or other decisions affecting such individual;
3. such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance or educational experience or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive work or educational environment.

Whether the alleged conduct constitutes sexual harassment depends upon the record as a whole and the totality of the circumstances, such as the nature of sexual advances in the context within which the alleged incident occurred.

Racial harassment is defined as any person's conduct that unreasonably interferes with an employee's or student's status or performance by creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working or educational environment. Harassment on the basis of race, color, or national origin includes offensive or demeaning treatment of an individual, where such treatment is based typically on prejudiced stereotypes of a group to which that individual may belong.

Harassment-religion, handicap, or protected status includes any conduct that has the purpose or the reasonably foreseeable effect of interfering with an individual's academic efforts, employment, or participation in institutionally sponsored activities. Such harassment also includes any activity that creates an intimidating, hostile or demeaning environment.

The University provides specific procedures pursuant to harassment, and employees are encouraged to consult the EEO Office at 963-7435 or the Human Resources Office at 963-5281 for further guidance.

G. Nepotism

A "relative" is a parent, parent-in-law, child, spouse, brother, foster brother, sister, foster sister, grandparent, grandchild, son-in-law, brother-in-law, daughter-in-law, sister-in-law, or other family member who resides in the same household.

When marriage results in an employee being supervised by a relative, the situation may be resolved by transfer within the University, transfer to another institution, or resignation. If transfer alternatives are available, the employees will be given the opportunity to select among the available alternatives. If the employees are unable to agree upon any alternative within sixty days, the President or designee will take action to resolve the situation. Tennessee State University shall apply this policy in a non-discriminating manner and shall ensure that the implementation of this policy does not adversely affect employees of one sex over those of the opposite sex.

H. Smoking and Clean Air

The Smoking and Clean Air Policy applies to the use of tobacco products within buildings and vehicles owned and/ or operated exclusively by the University. The University intends to provide a healthy and sanitary environment free from tobacco products for all users of its facilities. Prohibition of the use of tobacco products in these University buildings and vehicles continues during all hours in order that such facility not be smoke or odor laden during routine use.

The policy promotes an environment free from tobacco products in buildings and vehicles where students, faculty, and staff are working or conducting seminars, research, discussions, etc., and at the same time recognizes the right of those who choose to smoke. Those persons desiring to smoke may do so outside of Tennessee State University buildings.

There is no intent within this policy to inhibit the lifestyles of persons who choose to use tobacco products. Rather, this policy is for the protection of all persons who comprise the University community while they function as members of the University community.

SECTION II – WORKING AT TSU

A. Attendance and Promptness

Employees are required to report for duty promptly at the beginning of their work periods and to remain on the job throughout their regular work hours. Employees must also be prompt in returning from rest and lunch periods.

Punctual and regular attendance is expected of each employee. When an employee is unable to report for work or will be late, it is expected that he/she will notify his/her supervisor as soon as possible or leave a message so that the supervisor will be aware of the situation and can arrange for a temporary replacement, if necessary.

Tardiness and unexcused absences may be charged as leave without pay and may be grounds for disciplinary action.

B. Change of Status

Any change in employee status should be reported to the Human Resources Office. Change of name, marital status, dependents, home telephone number and address are important to an employee's interests and should be reported promptly. Beneficiary changes on life insurance and/or retirement should also be provided to the Human Resources Office.

C. Employment Vacancies and Transfers

The University enables its employees to fill position openings by application through the Human Resources Office. Only employees with current satisfactory evaluations may apply for another University position and they must have served at least six months in their current position prior to such an application. The present supervisor may agree to an exception to the six-month waiting rule. The Human Resources Office and the appropriate Vice President must also agree to such an exception.

D. Exit Interview

All employees who are leaving employment, for whatever reason, must secure the "Final Checkout" and "Personnel Clearance Record" forms from the Human Resources Office. The completed forms should be returned to the Human Resources Office. The supervisor will complete the Final Checkout Form. The process includes a check for return of all books and keys; clearance of all computer and telephone codes; assurance from the Bursar that no money is owed to the University, etc. Thereafter, and by prior appointment, a Human Resources Office staff member will complete the "Clearance Form." This form addresses the ex-employee's benefits, rights, and accumulations.

E. Identification Cards (ID)

All University employees are expected to obtain a TSU identification (ID) card as soon as possible after employment. The Human Resources Office gives the employee a temporary ID card, usually at the orientation session for new employees. The temporary card is exchanged for a permanent picture identification card, which can be made in the Communication and Information Technologies Department between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. The ID card permits the employee to use the University library and recreational facilities, gain admittance to some University events, purchase a parking decal, etc. It should be turned in to the Human Resources Office upon termination of employment.

The Human Resources Office also provides a State of Tennessee employee identification card. This allows employees to take advantage of the designated discounts on items such as lodging, airfare, merchandise at participating vendors, and car rentals. This card also provides evidence of state employment when needed.

F. Issuance of Keys

Employees requesting keys to any building or room on campus must have their supervisor request approval. The request must be submitted to and approved by the Facilities Management Department. The requesting department will be notified when a key is ready for the employee to pick up. Loss of a key must be immediately reported to the TSU Police Department and the supervisor. All TSU issued keys must be turned in to the Human Resources Office upon termination of employment.

G. Lunch and Rest Periods

The regular workday also includes a one (1) hour, unpaid lunch period for all employees (exception: TSUPD officers, security guards and dispatchers). Breaks are non-accumulative, cannot be combined with the lunch period, nor “swapped” in order to leave early or arrive late. Breaks are designated only for non-exempt employees and are to be taken only by permission—they are not mandatory. If permitted (usually dependent upon the workload), the employee may take two- 15minute break periods: one break may be taken during the morning hours, and one during afternoon hours, as the workload permits. The timing of the one-hour unpaid lunch period will be established by the department head or supervisor (in compliance with FLSA Regulations for hourly-paid employees).

H. Orientation (New Employee)

The Human Resources Office conducts orientation sessions for all new, benefit eligible employees. It is important that you, as an employee of the University, attend to:

- (1) Obtain additional information about the benefits provided to Tennessee State University employees; (2) receive information on the location of campus facilities; and,
- (2) have an opportunity to ask questions you may have after reading this handbook and other pertinent materials.

I. Outside Employment

A full-time employee may accept employment outside the University only if it does not interfere with the employee's regular duties or University functions and is scheduled outside regular working hours. Outside employment accepted by the employee should not bring discredit to the University nor should the University position or name be used to acquire it. Employees should be certain that a conflict of interest does not exist.

Prior to engaging in outside professional employment or continuing business activity, the faculty, professional staff member, or administrator must notify the President or his/her designee, of the nature of the employment and the expected commitment of time (TSU Human Resources Manual, Policy: 6.26). Before accepting off-time employment, it is advisable that employees discuss the matter with their supervisors.

J. Parking Regulations

All university employees are required to have vehicles registered in order to park on campus. Eligible employees who require parking spaces for their vehicle(s) must enter the required vehicle registration information on-line, pay for the decal in the Cashier's Office in the Ned McWherther-Administration Building, or complete a Payroll Deduction Authorization Form for payroll deductions. Decals are picked up at the TSU Police Department, using the paid receipt as documentation.

The TSU Police Department issues temporary parking permits to new employees for a specified period of time and to guests for special functions for a maximum of five days. Requests for multiple temporary permits can be requested by letter, in advance of the function. There is no fee for temporary parking permits.

Annual renewal of parking decals takes place in August. Vehicles not properly registered or properly parked are subject to parking fines or towing. Parking slots reserved for the disabled and residence parking are enforced 24-hours a day. Persons who park illegally in slots reserved for persons with disabilities are subject to a fine of $100 and may have their cars towed. Other university traffic regulations and information about authorized parking areas will be furnished to the employee by the TSU Police Department.

There is a nominal fee for replacement of unexpired, lost or stolen decals. The TSU Police Department does not accept payments of any kind.

For payroll deduction of the parking decal fee, contact the Human Resources Office at 963-5281.

K. Personal Telephone Calls

Personal calls take up valuable time that should be devoted to completing job assignments on a timely basis, take your mind off your work, tie up University telephone lines needed for business use, and add unfairly to University cost. If you must make occasional local personal calls, please limit them.

L. Performance Evaluations

All non-faculty employees are to participate in a written evaluation process within the sixth month of their probationary period. This review is important in identifying performance strengths and areas that need improvement with regard to position duties and responsibilities. In addition, its purpose is to identify where additional training or development may need to be concentrated. Thereafter, annual evaluations are conducted, usually in April. The purpose of the annual evaluation is to (1) promote employee development; (2) determine training needs; (3) provide supervisors with a means of informing employees about their progress; (4) provide a permanent record of job performance; and (5) serve as a partial basis for salary increases, promotions, termination, etc.

Both the supervisor and the employee contribute to this evaluation of performance. The evaluation form should be signed by the employee and the supervisor and becomes part of the permanent employee record in the Human Resources Office. The employee and supervisor should retain a copy.

M. Probationary Period

Each new employee will be required to serve a six-month probationary period, which will include training, and a written evaluation prepared by the supervisor within the six months. The probationary period is used to determine whether the employee can SATISFACTORILY PERFORM THE DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF HIS/HER POSITION before being placed on regular employee status. During the probationary period, employment may be terminated at any time. After the probationary employment period is completed, employees are still considered employees "at will" of the University, and the "employment agreement" may be terminated without cause as specified in the agreement. The University reserves the right to impose additional probationary periods at any time during employment, during which time advance notice of termination would not be applicable.

N. Recruiting

Although the Human Resources Office has the primary responsibility for recruiting and attracting new employees to the University, it is every employee's responsibility. Employees are encouraged to refer prospective applicants to the Human Resources Office for consideration of employment.

O. Resignation/Termination of Employment

A minimum of two (2) weeks notice for non-exempt employees or thirty (30) days notice for exempt-professional employees notice should be given to the respective department head. The Department head will inform the Human Resources Office if an employee decides to terminate employment with the University. The resigning employee will be paid for any unused annual leave or compensatory time. Any employee leaving or being discharged for gross misconduct or who resigns to avoid dismissal for such reasons will not be paid for accumulated annual leave.

P. Security and Safety

The Tennessee State University Police Department is charged with the mission of protecting students, faculty and staff, and property owned, leased, or operated by the university. The department is provided legal authority by Tennessee Code Annotated No. 49-7-118 and Tennessee Board of Regents Policy No. 5:01:07:00. These emphasize the required training and parameters for law enforcement officers on university campuses.

The TSU Police Department is composed of a director, assistant director, prevention counselor, twenty-two campus officers, fourteen campus security officers, five dispatchers, and one secretary. The campus police officers are certified through the Peace Officers Standard of Training Commission consistent with municipalities. These officers have the police powers necessary to enforce Tennessee laws and TBR rules and regulations on campus. The security officers are responsible for providing security in the residence halls, escorting females on campus after dark and reporting criminal activity. Additionally, the security officers are certified bicycle officers and patrol the main campus from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 a.m.

The TSU Police Department works closely with the county authority and the Metropolitan-Nashville Police Department. The Tennessee Bureau of Investigation, the Federal Postal Inspector, and the Federal Bureau of Investigations also readily assist the Department. The TSU Police Department is located in the General Services Building, 2700 Heiman Street. The emergency number is 963-5171 and is answered 24 hours, seven days a week. For other services, the following numbers should be called:

- Administrative Services 963-5174
- Parking Ticket Information 963-5165
- Prevention Counselor 963-2011

Tennessee State University seeks to ensure safe and healthy working conditions for the entire University community. Environmental safety (hazardous material, lab waste, etc.) is addressed by Sponsored Research. The Facilities Management Department addresses workplace/shop safety (i.e., OSHA requirements).

Q. Standard of Conduct

A certain standard of conduct is necessary for employees to meet their responsibility to the university and its students. Some areas, including the TSU Police Department and the Facilities Management Power Plant, operate on a forty-hour per week schedule. Some offices are required to work on Saturday. Employees in service departments are required to work different hours with a 37.5 hour or 40.0-hour workweek in order to provide continuous service to the university.

All employees of service areas must provide their supervisors with telephone contact numbers for use in case of emergencies or other scheduling problems. In some cases where employees reside on campus and duties require irregular hours, written agreements concerning working hours are required between the employees and the University.

SECTION III-PAY POLICIES

A. Compensation

All positions are classified according to relative job requirements and responsibilities. Each job classification is assigned an appropriate skill level. All jobs are paid within a salary range. Information on the salary range for your job classification may be obtained from your supervisor or the Human Resources Office. Usually, new employees are paid at the beginning of the applicable salary range. If salary increases are awarded, such increases are usually approved annually and are usually effective at July 1. There is no guarantee or assurance of salary increases since all increases are based on the state appropriation and other relevant factors regarding the operation of the University.

B. Overtime Pay/Compensatory Time (Non-Exempt Employees Paid Twice a Month)

Overtime pay is not authorized unless it is approved in advance by the appropriate Vice President and the President. ### C. Emergency Call-Back

A minimum of two hours (three hours for Facilities Management) of premium rate overtime payment (at time and one-half compensation) will be paid to non-exempt employees who are called back to work for emergency reasons (equipment failures, etc.) at times other than their regular work hours. Failure to enroll in either of the programs will result in having a paper check charge for each check that must be processed. The paper check issued will be delivered to the Cashier's window in the Bursar's Office on the official pay date. An employee may pick-up his/her check during normal hours of the Cashier's window. The employee must present his/her university identification card.

Departments with employees located at sites off the main campus must make pick-up and distribution arrangements with the Payroll Office. Payroll checks not picked up by the employee after five (5) work days will be returned to the Payroll Office.

Calculation of longevity pay is based on an employee's total years of eligible full-time service and the rate of pay in effect for the fiscal year in which the payment is made. All regular full-time employees (or employees who work 82.1 percent time or more) are eligible for longevity pay as a bonus for years of service after three consecutive years of full-time service. Once the employee has worked three years (full-time), he/she will receive $100 for each year of full-time state service at the end of the month in which the anniversary date falls. Therefore, if an employee has worked three years, he/she will receive $300 ($100 x 3 years). Longevity is paid up to a maximum of 25 years of service. Approval of this program, the rate, and total maximum years are subject to change by the state legislature.

For employees who completed 15 years of creditable service prior to July 1, 1984, September 1 shall be their longevity anniversary date. All other employees who have three years or more of creditable service shall receive their longevity payments in conjunction with their longevity anniversary date and in accordance with TSU payroll procedures.

Employees who transfer from one Tennessee state agency to another without a break in service are eligible for longevity compensation in accordance with their adjusted anniversary month. At the time of initial employment, the employee's longevity anniversary date is established using all periods of prior eligible service with the state or one of its agencies or an institution within the TBR or the UT system. If the employee does not indicate prior service, the longevity anniversary date is the same as the initial employment date.

H. On-Call Time

Employees may be scheduled for on-call duty so that personnel will be available to provide repairs and /or services during normal off-duty hours. An employee on call may come and go freely but must leave a telephone number where he/she can be reached or carry a pager furnished by the university. When reached, the employee is expected to report for work. Non-exempt employees are paid only for time worked when scheduled to be on call. If called in, the employee will be compensated as emergency call-back time.

I. Inclement Weather

At times, it may be necessary for the President to declare specific hours as emergency closing as a result of inclement weather. In such cases, regular full-time and part-time employees on the active payroll who are scheduled to work during the declared times of closing will be granted time off from work with pay.

If an emergency closing has not been declared due to inclement weather and an employee is prevented from reporting to work for his/her normally scheduled working hours, annual leave, compensatory time, or leave without pay will be charged or the employee may be allowed, with institutional approval, to make up the time lost. Regular part-time employees will be affected on a pro-rata basis in each of the provisions listed above.

Except in those instances when the university is closed, staff will be expected to report to work at the scheduled hour. Staff should plan to cope with severe weather conditions in such a fashion as to be able to report to work as scheduled. In instances when the University is closed, the following personnel are expected to perform duties as scheduled:

- a. Food service employees
- b. TSU Police Department employees
- c. Postal employees
- d. Selected Facilities Management employees
- e. Senior administrative employees

The Division of University Relations and Development will make announcements of university closings through area media. Employees should confirm inclement weather closing announcements by calling the TSU Police Department at 963-5171.

J. Time Sheets

All departments use time sheets for recording of time worked, leave usage, and compensatory time usage. Some departments also use time cards for internal record keeping. It is the employee's responsibility to comply with departmental work schedules and accurately record all time worked, leave taken, and compensatory or overtime worked and accumulated. Each work area or department usually has a designated "timekeeper" who will help employees with proper time recording. Each time sheet has a "due date" printed in the upper right hand corner. All employees should assist the "timekeeper" with the timely submission of the time sheets to the Human Resources Office by the scheduled due date.

Work MUST BE RECORDED EXACTLY as to the date and amount of time worked. Falsification of ANY time record violates University policy and may be grounds for dismissal. All changes, alterations or notations on the time sheet must be approved as evidenced by a signature notation of the department head and/or supervisor. All time recordings are to be initialed by the recording employees in the “accounting no. boxes” next to their name spaces. Employees using time clocks must only “punch in” THEIR OWN TIME CARDS. Punching in another employee’s time may be cause for DISMISSAL of all parties involved.

SECTION IV – HEALTH, RETIREMENT AND OTHER BENEFITS

A. State of TN Dental Insurance

All regular, full-time employees may choose a dental plan from a number of plan options in the Dental Insurance Program, sponsored by the State of Tennessee. The State has contracted with established general dentists to deliver a wide variety of dental services to participants and/or their dependents. The plan selected by the employee may require the designation of a primary, general dentist, or the employee may select a plan that affords him/her the flexibility to receive services from any dentist listed in the network or outside the network.

You may elect this coverage when first employed (within a 30-day eligibility period), or during the annual Enrollment/Transfer Period (generally, Oct. 15 – Nov. 15), of each year. The Human Resources Office should be contacted for more detailed information concerning dental plan options available as of January 1 of the ensuing calendar year.

B. TBR Flexible Benefits Plan

Group medical plan premiums are automatically tax-sheltered. Dental premiums may also be tax-sheltered under the Flexible Benefits Plan. The employee may, however, elect to waive participating in the tax-sheltered plan.

The Flexible Benefits Plan also provides tax-sheltering of additional contributions that are payroll deducted, for payment of eligible out-of-pocket medical, dental and dependent day care expenses. Contributions for eligible out-of-pocket expenses for that plan year are banked in flexible spending accounts and are reimbursed upon receipt of required documentation. Changes to tax-sheltering of premiums and contributions made through payroll deductions must be documented and submitted to Human Resources within 90-days of the status change. Out-of-pocket contributions not reimbursed within a specific time-frame, are forfeited.

The plan effective date, for new employees, is the first day of the calendar month following one full calendar month of employment. New and current employees may enroll or waive participating in the plan, for the ensuing calendar year (January through December), during the Enrollment/Transfer Period (generally, October 15 through November 15). The Human Resources Office will provide new plan year enrollment forms and booklets during the Enrollment/Transfer Period.

C. State Group Insurance Program: Medical/Life/Accident, Optional Special Life and Accident, Optional Term/Universal Life, Long Term Care, and the Employee Assistance Program (EAP)

The State of Tennessee Group Insurance Program is self-insured and contracts with various agencies to administer the plans which involve approving various medical procedures/hospital stays and payment of claims:

Medical/Basic Term Life/Basic Special Accident:

All regular full-time employees (employed not less than 80% time), are eligible to enroll in the medical plan (which includes: basic term life insurance and basic special accident insurance plans), within the first 30 days of employment (i.e., full calendar month), without having to prove insurability. The employee may elect single coverage (employee only); family coverage (covers employee, spouse and all eligible dependent children); or, split coverage (i.e., the employee and spouse are state employed- one spouse covers eligible dependents and the other spouse elects single coverage).

Currently the university pays 80% of the total monthly premium and the employee pays 20%, which is payroll deductible. The premiums for medical/basic term life and basic special accident coverage are deducted in the month-end payroll check. An employee may terminate or cancel participation at any time; however, certain forfeitures exist if the medical premium is tax-sheltered.

If the employee refuses to participate in the medical plan when eligible, several options are available through application: the Late Applicant Process and the Special Enrollment Provisions Process. Coverage may be denied based on health and/or other non-qualifying events.

Enrollees may transfer from one medical plan to another medical plan during the Enrollment/Transfer Period, Oct 15 to Nov 15; the transfer effective date is January 1 of the ensuing year.

Optional Special Life and Accident Plan:

Optional Special Accident coverage is available on a contributory basis for employees and dependents (spouse and/or spouse and children), and is in addition to the basic special accident death coverage. Benefits are payable for dismemberment if the loss occurs within 90 days of the accident, provided the employee or dependent was covered on the date of the accident and meets established criteria.

Optional Term/Universal Life Plans:

Optional Term and Universal Life insurance are available on a contributory basis for employees and dependents (spouse and children) whether or not they participate in the health coverage. For guaranteed-issue coverage (up to three times your annual salary), the employee must enroll during the first full month of employment. The Optional Term Life provides a lower cost, pure death benefit, and age-based premiums, whereas the Optional Universal Life provides a death benefit, level premiums, a cash value, and policy loan provisions. Both optional life products offer an advance benefit feature, which makes available part of the life insurance proceeds if an insured encounters a terminal illness.

Long Term Care Coverage:

This coverage is available to employees, spouse, eligible dependents, parents, parents-in-law, and retirees, for services required by individuals who are no longer able to care for themselves without the assistance of others. Premiums are based on the age of the insured at the time of enrollment and are payroll deductible. Services covered include nursing home care, assisted living, home health care, home care and adult day care. Benefits are available through different options based on a daily benefit amount ($100, $150 or $200) for either a three-year or five-year coverage period. Benefits are available with or without inflation protection.

New employees have a 90 day enrollment period (from the initial hire date), to acquire guaranteed issuance of coverage. The spouse, eligible dependent children, parents and parents-in-law can apply for coverage at any time during the year; however, they must provide information about their health status.

The coverage is guaranteed renewable (i.e., it cannot be cancelled as long as premiums are paid), and portable (i.e., if the employee terminates employment, he/she can continue to pay premiums directly to the insurance company under the same terms and conditions as active employees). Direct billing can be set-up on a quarterly, semi-annual or annual basis. Additional information and enrollment materials can be requested directly from the company via the customer service representative, or on-line at: www.ltc-tn.com.

Employee Assistance Program:

Employees may use the State of Tennessee Employee Assistance Program (EAP) which provides problem assessment and referral services for a wide range of family and individual problems including marital and family discord, emotional distress, alcohol and drug abuse, grieving, job stress, legal and financial referrals, child or spouse abuse, concerns about aging parents, issues with children and adolescents, or other problems. Professional counseling and intake coordinators are available, around the clock, to provide voluntary services that are strictly confidential.

COBRA

The Federal COBRA law permits certain employees and dependents to continue coverage for a specific period of time in the event of: death of the employee, divorce, termination of employment (if not gross misconduct or retirement), reduction of work hours, and dependents becoming ineligible for insurance coverage under the employee's plan.

COBRA enrollment forms, brochures, and other pertinent information are automatically generated by the State of Tennessee Insurance system and mailed to the employee's listed address, after "qualifying event" data are entered in the state system. There is a 60 day window from the date of the letter of notification in which the individual can sign-up for COBRA.

For more detailed information, current premium schedules, brochures, insurance plan booklets and directories, and the State Group Insurance Program Handbook, contact the Human Resources Office or, visit the State of Tennessee website:

www.state.tn.us/finance/ins/health.html.

D. Other Benefits:

The Tennessee Board of Regents sponsors Long Term Disability Plans for eligible employees (i.e., scheduled to work not less than 80% time). Two plans are available for employees: non-exempt employees (clerical and support); and, exempt employees (faculty, administrative/professional). The effective date of coverage is the first of the month following the 30-day eligibility period.

Long Term Disability coverage affords the employee continued income in the event of a loss of pay or reduced pay as a result of an extended illness and/or disability. Each plan offers three levels of monthly income benefits based on the elimination period for the on-set of the illness or disability. The insured period involves an initial elimination period (for pre-existing conditions) from the date coverage begins, as follows: Exempt plan: 12 months, plus disability elimination period (i.e., 3-months-66 2/3%; 4-months-60%; or 6-months-60%) ; Non-exempt plan: 730 days, plus disability elimination period (i.e., 3-months-60%; 4-months-60%; or 6-months-50%).

Non-covered, pre-existing illnesses and/or disabilities, length of benefit period, etc., are stipulated in policy for each plan.

Plan participants who separate from employment have plan conversion privileges.

E. Retirement System Membership

Membership in the Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System (TCRS) is mandatory for all regular full-time and part-time, non-exempt (clerical and support) employees. Exempt (faculty and administrative/professional) employees may elect to participate in TCRS or the Optional Retirement Program (ORP), which consists of TIAA-CREF, VALIC and AETNA. All plans are non-contributory on the part of the employee; the university contributes the appropriate percentage based on the employee's monthly salary.

TCRS requirements for service retirement for members joining on or after July 1, 1979, are age sixty (60), with five (5) years of service, or any age, upon completion of thirty (30) years of service. An employee retiring with at least five (5) years of service at age sixty (60), will be entitled to an unreduced benefit based on the actual years of service. Members with military service, which is granted conditionally upon attainment of vested status, will be eligible for credit after completing five (5) years of service.

Employees eligible to enroll in the ORP (i.e., faculty, administrative/professional employees), but who elect to participate in TCRS, may transfer membership from TCRS to the ORP effective July 1 of each year. All required forms must be completed and submitted to the Human Resources Office by June 1.

During the 2004 legislative session, the General Assembly passed legislation giving Optional Retirement Plan (ORP) members a one-time opportunity to transfer membership to the Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System (TCRS). The legislation can be found in Public Chapter 738 or TCA 8-35-403(f). The specifics of this one-time opportunity are as follows:

- The member must be a current State of Tennessee employee or higher education employee with five or more years of service in the ORP and must also be a current employee at the time of transfer in order to enroll in TCRS.
- The member must not have received a cash withdrawal or other distribution from the ORP.
- The transfer must include Tennessee ORP service. If you elect to transfer to TCRS, you waive all current and future rights to ORP benefits from Tennessee contributions. The decision is irrevocable.
- The cost of the transfer will be the greater of (a) the ORP account balance, or (b) a percentage of the member's compensation during the ORP participation period, plus annual interest. Most likely, in many cases, the ORP balance will not cover the total cost of the transfer.

- The required payment must be made in lump sum by no later than December 31, of the transfer year stipulated. There are various options for funding the payment including transferring your ORP account or other tax-deferred retirement accounts, or using personal savings.

Employees are under no obligation to transfer membership from the ORP to TCRS.

F. Social Security

The University participates in the federal Social Security, Old Age and Survivors Insurance Program (OASI). In addition to old-age retirement payments, OASI includes two types of benefits: disability benefits and survivor's insurance. Benefits are paid to you at any age under 65 (and to your eligible dependents) if you are so severely disabled that you are not able to work. Benefits are paid to your family or other dependents if you die, insured at any age. The employee's contribution (FICA and FICA Med) is specified by the Federal Social Security Administration and a matching amount is paid by the university.

G. Workers' Compensation Program (Injury During Work)

Under a 1984 Act of the General Assembly, State employees are entitled to the same workers' compensation benefits that are provided by private employers in Tennessee. The State of Tennessee's Workers' Compensation Program is a self-insured plan and is currently administered by: Sedgwick James of Tennessee (1-800-526-2305).

The Tennessee State University Police Department (TSUPD) is charged with the primary Responsibility to provide a safe working environment for all Tennessee State University employees. An employee injured on the job is required to inform his/her supervisor and to notify the TSU Police Department, located in the General Services Building at 2700 Heiman Street, 1st floor, north side of the building. An incident/accident report must be completed and submitted to the TSUPD and the Human Resources Office. All accidents are required to be reported on the appropriate form by the employee or a family member/friend within 24 hours of the occurrence. Failure to file such a report may place a subsequent workers' compensation claim in jeopardy.

The State of Tennessee and its administrator, determine benefits payable for job-related injury, medical treatment, and/or lost time payment. The Human Resources Office receives and transmits all reports, claims and medical bills to Sedgwick James. The Human Resources staff will assist employees with information and proper procedures, including information as to approved medical providers of treatment for initial service in case of injury.

At this time, Davidson County medical service for Workers' Compensation Injury is provided by Baptist Hospital and Baptist Centra Care Centers. Service provider lists for other counties are available through contact with the TSU Human Resources Office or through contact with USA Workers' Injury Network at 1-800-USA-3860. Employees ARE RESPONSIBLE for bills incurred for which WORKERS' COMPENSATION CLAIMS are DENIED. A Workers' Compensation Handbook is available from the Human Resources Office.

Employees should become familiar with their rights and duties as listed below:

1. It shall be your duty to cooperate with your supervisor and the Safety Officer in furthering the objectives of the safety program.
2. It shall be your duty to perform your tasks in such a manner that you do not present a hazard to yourself or your fellow workers. Employees who fail to do this or who perform their duties in such a manner that equipment and property may be damaged, are subject to disciplinary action in accordance with personnel policies.
3. You may submit complaints through your department head to the TSU Police Department or campus OSHA representative concerning conditions or practices that may be injurious to your safety or health.
4. If after submitting complaints through the proper channels you are not satisfied with the action taken to correct the condition or practice, you have the right to petition the Commissioner of Labor for an investigation.
5. If you feel you have been transferred, dismissed, or given a position in a lower skill level as a result of having submitted a complaint, you may file a grievance in accordance with personnel policies.
6. You are entitled to review the annual safety report submitted by the University and to protest any portion of the report which you feel is inaccurate or fails to portray real and existing conditions. You are encouraged to report safety hazards promptly and make suggestions that you feel will result in making TSU a safer place to work.

SECTION V – LEAVE POLICIES

A. Annual Leave

The purpose of annual leave is to provide regular full-time and part-time employees with periods of rest and relaxation away from the work environment. Approving authorities may require key administrative employees to take a specified number of consecutive days of annual leave each year. Under no circumstance can annual leave be taken before it is earned. Annual leave is accrued as described below.

- 1) Regular non-exempt full-time employees will start accruing annual leave upon completion of a calendar month of service or major fraction thereof, in accordance with the following schedule:

ELIGIBILITY, RATES OF ACCRUAL, AND MAXIMUM ACCUMULATION OF ANNUAL LEAVE

| YEARSSERVICE | ACCRUALRATEPER MONTH | MAXIMUMANNUALACCUMULATION | MAXIMUMACCUMULATIONWITHIN FY | MAXIMUMACCUMULATIONCARRIEDFORWARD TONEXT FY |
| 0-less than 5    | 7.5 hours                    | 90.0 hours                        | 315.0 hours                          | 225.0 hours                                                 |

| 10-less than 20  | 13.2 hours                   | 158.4 hours                       | 450.9 hours                          | 292.5 hours                                                 |
| 20 or more       | 15.0 hours                   | 180.0 hours                       | 495.0 hours                          | 315.0 hours                                                 |

- 2) Exempt employees will accrue 15.0 hours per month with a maximum accumulation of 315.0 hours, regardless of years of service.
- 3) Part-time regular employees will accrue annual leave on a pro-rated basis.
- 4) Temporary employees do not accrue annual leave.
- 5) Regular employees with MODFY (modified fiscal year) appointments will accrue annual leave during their appointment periods. MODFY employees who work during their normal non-duty periods shall accrue annual leave on the same basis as full-time employees for each month of full-time employment. For part-time employment during that period, MODFY employees shall accrue annual leave on a prorated basis.
- 6) The anniversary date for computation of leave shall be the beginning date of employment for each employee, except when adjustments in the date must be made because of periods of non-accrual, i.e., leaves of absence, temporary breaks in employment. Annual leave in excess of maximum may be used during the fiscal year in which the excess accrues; however, an employee may not exceed the maximum leave at the end of the fiscal year. In the event it is not so used during the fiscal year, it will be transferred to the employee's accumulated sick leave.

- 7) Annual leave shall be requested and approved by the department head before leave begins. Annual leave may not be advanced and shall not be in excess of the amount accrued by the employee.
- 8) Employees may request to use their annual leave any time they prefer by application to the department head. Such requests will be considered, subject to the discretion of the department head to plan the work under his/her control and to authorize absence only at such time as the employee can best be spared. However, it is management's responsibility to plan the work so that employees are permitted to take their annual leave during the course of each year.
- 9) An employee who is dismissed for gross misconduct or who resigns to avoid dismissal for gross misconduct shall not be entitled to any compensation for accrued but unused annual leave at the time of dismissal.
- 10) In the case of death, payment for an employee's unused accrued annual leave shall be made to the employee's estate or designated beneficiary.

B. Sick Leave

Sick leave applies to the same personnel as described in Section V-B, Annual Leave. Accrued sick leave is cumulative for all days not used. Under no circumstance shall sick leave be taken before it is earned. Employees do not earn or accrue sick leave while on leave of absence. Employees do not receive payment for unused accrued sick leave days while on leave of absence or receive payment for unused accrued sick leave days upon termination. Sick leave may be used for purposes such as: illness or injury to an employee, medical examinations and dental appointments, and illness or incapacity to work due to pregnancy. In instances of death of a member of the immediate family, sick leave may be granted at the discretion of the appropriate approving authority for a maximum of two (2) days after the three (3) days of bereavement leave have been used.

Regular employees accrue sick leave at the rate of one day (7.5 or 8.0 hours) for each calendar month of actual service or a major fraction thereof. A regular full-time employee cannot earn more than 12 days (90 or 96 hours) of sick leave per year.

Part-time regular employees accrue sick leave on a pro-rata basis. Temporary, seasonal, and intermittent employees do not accrue sick leave.

Regular employees with MODFY (modified fiscal year) appointments accrue sick leave during their appointment periods. MODFY employees who work during their normal non-duty periods shall accrue sick leave as full-time employees for each month of full-time employment. For part-time employment during that period, MODFY employees shall accrue sick leave on a pro-rata basis.

Illness of the employee shall be reported to the respective department head as soon as possible on the first day of absence. If such notification is not given, such absence may be charged as annual leave or leave without pay. Sick leave should be documented and approved by the department head on the first workday after the absence.

C. Maternity Leave

In accordance with T.C.A. 50-1-501, time off is provided to regular female employees for the birth of children. Leave for maternity purposes will be granted for a period of up to sixteen weeks upon request of the female employee. Thirty unpaid days are granted to men for the birth of a child. Persons requesting such leave should contact their supervisors and the Human Resources Office (963-5281) and file their requests for such leave. Other documentation, if needed, will be discussed at that time. More specific details are available in the Human Resources Office and the TBR Policy Manual.

D. Paternity Leave

It is the policy of the Tennessee Board of Regents to provide up to thirty (30) working days of paternity leave to regular, male employees due to the birth of children, in accordance with T.C.A. 50-1-503, and the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 (FMLA). Upon receipt of the regular employee's written request for paternity leave, the appropriate authority will process the request in accordance with the provisions set-forth in this policy and the employee's eligibility for leave under TBR Family and Medical Leave Policy No. 5:01:01:14.

Regular employees who are eligible for FMLA leave will have paternity leave processed in conjunction with the TBR FMLA policy, regarding election of paid/unpaid leave, continuation of insurance coverage, etc.

Sick leave may be used for paternity leave for a period not to exceed the employee's accumulated sick leave balance or thirty (30) working days, whichever is less. Employees with less than 30 days may use annual leave, compensatory time (if applicable), and leave without pay for the balance of the leave period.

E. Family and Medical Leave (FMLA)

As part of TSU's sick leave options, the Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA) is available for a maximum of twelve (12) paid or unpaid weeks to employees who are ill or who may be required to assist/ care for a member of their immediate family. (For employees: on the fourth CONSECUTIVE day of illness, contact the Benefits staff in the Human Resources Office.)

Where an employee must be absent because of serious illness in the immediate family, family medical sick leave may be granted by the supervisor and the Human Resources Office. For purposes of this section, “immediate family” shall be deemed to include (a) spouses; (b) children, adopted children, stepchildren; (c) parents, parents-in-law, stepparents, and foster parents; (d) siblings; and (e) other members of the family who reside within the home of the employee.

Forms will be completed to place the employee on FMLA. Paid sick or annual leave may be used until it expires. The following events qualify for FMLA entitlement:

- 1) the birth or adoption of a child, foster or step-child;
- 2) foster care of a child;
- 3) care of spouse, son, daughter, parent, or that person who stood in place of absent parent. [This definition does not include a parent-in-law; it does include a foster or stepchild, legal ward or child, or a person standing in place of an absent parent.]

In instances where the employee has no sick leave, such absence may be charged to annual leave, if available. If neither sick nor annual leave is available, such absence will be charged as leave without pay.

An employee may be required to present evidence in the form of a physician’s certificate to support the reasons for an absence during the time for which sick leave is taken. Except in exceptional circumstances, physician certification will be required only after three consecutive days of absence.

F. Bereavement Leave

In instances of death of one of the following relatives, a maximum of three (3) paid bereavement leave days are granted by the approving authority: (1) grandparent, grandchild 2) sibling; 3) parent, step-parent, foster parent, parent-in-law; 4) child, stepchild, foster child; or 5) spouse. In instances of death of a member of the above immediate family, as defined in the bereavement leave policy, the approving authority may, upon request, grant an additional two (2) days which will be charged to sick leave.

G. Adoptive Parents Leave

Employees may request special leave without pay for up to four months for adoptive parents leave. During the four-month period, employees may use accumulated sick leave for up to thirty (30) working days. Adoptive leave does not cover stepchildren or adults.

Persons requesting such benefits should contact their supervisors and the Human Resources Office (963-5288) and file their requests for such leave. Other needed documentation will be discussed at that time. More specific details are available in the Human Resources Office and are referenced in the TBR Policy Manual.

H. Leave of Absence

Leave of absence without pay, not to exceed one (1) year, may be granted for justifiable absences wherein it is not desirable to terminate the employee. Examples of such absences are: illness, injury, or disability of an employee who has insufficient accumulated leave; leave for education purposes; and leave for justifiable personal reason. The President must approve such leave.

Leave of absence for periods exceeding one (1) year may be granted upon recommendation of the President and approval by the Chancellor of the TBR.

Leave without pay (LWOP) for periods of one month or less shall be requested in writing when the employee has no applicable leave accumulation. Requests that have been approved by the supervisor shall be forwarded to the Human Resources Office for approval by the Human Resources Director as designated by the President as the approval authority for periods of one month or less.

Leave Without Pay for periods exceeding one month and any period of LWOP requested when the employee has an applicable leave accumulation shall be requested by memo to his/her immediate supervisor, with approval of the Human Resources Director and the President.

While on leave of absence for educational purposes or other justifiable personal reasons other than illness, injury, disability, or maternity leave, an employee retains accumulated annual and sick leave, but does not earn or accrue additional annual or sick leave.

I. Military Leave

All employees who are members of any reserve component of the armed forces of the United States or of the Tennessee National Guard shall be entitled to military leave for periods of military service during which they are engaged in the performance of duty or training in the service of this state, or of the United States, under competent orders.

Each employee who is on military leave shall be paid his or her salary for a period, or periods, not to exceed fifteen (15) working days in any one (1) calendar year. After that time, the employee may use accumulated annual leave, if he/she so chooses. At the end of the fifteen (15) days (or when the annual leave is exhausted), the employee will then be on leave of absence without pay. The employee must furnish certification from competent military authority of the dates active duty was actually performed.

An employee called into military service shall be entitled to reinstatement as prescribed by law.

J. Civil Leave

SECTION VII – DISCIPLINARY POLICY AND PROCEDURES

A. Purpose

The university's grievance policy is designed to provide an effective procedure for resolution of problems arising from the employment relationship or environment. The instructions below are provided to establish a disciplinary procedure that will afford consistent and equitable treatment of all employees.

B. Disciplinary Policy

The following are components of the University's disciplinary policy:

1. All new employees are on probation for a period of six (6) months. If during this period, there is cause for disciplinary action, it may result in dismissal.
2. Normally, the reason for taking disciplinary action is to correct an individual's misconduct and to warn that repetition of similar behavior can result in discharge.

3. No disciplinary action involving demotion, suspension, or dismissal is to be taken against any regular, full-time employee until such disciplinary action has been discussed with the Human Resources Office or a designated representative, except when, in the judgment of the employee's supervisor, immediate suspension is necessary to protect the safety of persons or property or for similar grave reasons. In addition, dismissal requires the concurrence of the appropriate Vice President and the President.

C. Supervisory Responsibility

The supervisor is responsible for maintaining proper conduct and discipline of University employees under his/ her supervision. When disciplinary action appears to be necessary, the supervisor will conduct an interview with the subject employee for the following reasons:

1. To give the employee a clear understanding of exactly what is expected;
2. To explain in what way the employee has failed in meeting the requirements or in what way his/ her conduct has been unacceptable;
3. To give the employee an opportunity to account for his/ her actions or lack of actions;
4. To take appropriate disciplinary action if the situation warrants it. All disciplinary discussions should be done in a climate conducive to good understanding and reasonable discussion.

D. Examples of Circumstances and Instance of Misconduct Requiring Disciplinary Action

1. There are circumstances that will require immediate discharge, as in the following cases:
  - a. Possession or use of liquor on University property;
  - b. Buying, selling, using, possessing, or being under the influence of any unauthorized narcotic, including marijuana, heroin, LSD, and any other related or similar drugs;
  - c. Inappropriate behavior on University premises;
  - d. Theft (including removal of discarded items);
  - e. Fighting on University property;
  - f. Possession of unauthorized weapons on University property;
  - g. Falsification of records or fraud;
  - h. Willful violation of safety rules;
  - i. Willful damage to University property;
  - j. Gross insubordination, including overt refusal to follow, and/ or willful disregard of explicit instructions.

2. There are cases of misconduct that usually do not warrant immediate discharge but will result in disciplinary action. Usually this disciplinary action will be either a noted oral warning or a written reprimand. While not inclusive, examples of such misconduct are as follows:
  - a. Ineffective use of University time;
  - b. Improper or careless use of equipment, including failure to report damage to equipment;
  - c. Repeated absenteeism or tardiness, including failure to report to the supervisor the circumstances and occasion when absence or tardiness may unavoidably occur (i.e., employees are to call their supervisors on such occasions);
  - d. Disregard for instructions or general University rules;
  - e. Failure to report an accident occurring during work hours. All employees who are injured must file a written report of such accident/ injury with the TSU Police Department.

E. Forms of Disciplinary Action

1. ORAL WARNING: If the problem was caused by inattention or neglect of minor significance and the employee has not been reprimanded for a similar offense during the previous six months, an oral warning is suggested. The basic cause of the incident should be clearly pointed out, suggestions made for its correction, and the employee told what consequences to expect should incidents of like nature continue to occur. The supervisor may administer an oral warning without prior approval and will record the date and other pertinent information, retaining it for future reference.

2. WRITTEN WARNING: If a problem is caused by a second occurrence of the act(s), which had previously resulted in an oral warning for the first offense, a written warning (or possibly discharge) may be necessary. However, under most circumstances, a second occurrence of an incident that had necessitated the earlier noted oral warning and which is NOT judged to have been premeditated or deliberate will result in a written warning. When it is the employee's second offense with a same problem within a six-month period, the supervisor SHALL initiate a written warning. A written warning is to be issued only when accompanied by written documentation of the exact facts and occurrences, including a record of the previously noted oral warning. Before writing and presenting the written reprimand to the employee, the supervisor must have the concurrence of the department head or the person to whom the supervisor directly reports. The written warning presented to the employee shall be copied and placed in the employee's file in the Human Resources Office.

3. TIME OFF WITHOUT PAY (Suspension): This action may be taken to impress upon the employee the serious nature of his/ her act or offense. This should be considered as a notice that the employee is facing possible termination if his/ her performance or attitude does not improve. The supervisor will consult the department head and the Director of Human Resources and the time-off period will be determined through such consultation. In addition to the time off without pay, a letter of warning will be issued to the employee and a copy placed in his/ her personnel file.

4. TERMINATION: When an employee is recommended for termination for disciplinary reasons, the following procedures (TSU Policy 6.37) will occur:

- a. The Budget Head will submit to the appropriate Vice President:
  - a1. copies of performance evaluation(s) on the employee,
  - a2. copies of previous disciplinary notice(s),
  - a3. copies of any related documentation,
  - a4. an original PARF (personnel action request form) indication effective termination date;
- b. After approval, the Vice President will submit these documents to the Director of Human Resources;
- c. The Director of Human Resources will review the recommendation and documentation and may meet with the department head, as necessary;
- d. The Director of Human Resources will meet with the AA/EEO Officer to obtain a signature on the PARF. The PARF and a termination letter will be presented to the President for signature and materials will be returned to the Human Resources Office;
- e. The Director of Human Resources will present the Termination Letter (or Suspension Letter, see item #5 below) to the employee and arrange for an EXIT Interview, as appropriate;
- f. In case(s) of GROSS MISCONDUCT, warranting immediate dismissal, the Director of Human Resources may act as necessary to expedite the President's approval.

5. SUSPENSION: When, in the judgment of the supervisor, immediate suspension of an employee is necessary to protect the safety of persons or property or for similarly grave reasons:

- a. The supervisor will direct the employee to leave the University premises at once and either: (1) to report back to the supervisor the following day, or (2) to remain away until further notice;
- b. The procedures in 4 a through 4e, above, will then be followed.

6. JOB ABANDONMENT: An employee who is absent from duty for more than three (3) consecutive business days without giving notice to the appointing authority or appropriate manager concerning the reason for such absence and without securing permission to be on leave, or who fails to report for duty or to the immediate supervisor or the appointing authority within two (2) business days after the expiration of any authorized leave of absence, absent unusual circumstances causing the employee's absence or preventing the employee's return, is considered as having resigned not in good standing.

SECTION VIII – COMPLAINT AND GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES FOR EMPLOYEES

A. Purpose

The purpose of these procedures is to provide a clear, orderly, and expedient process through which all employees of the institution may process bona-fide complaints or grievances. Specific appeal processes cover some grievances. Therefore, this policy has no applications to those grievances. These include appeals of tenure and promotion decisions. Questions, concerns, and complaints about sexual harassment should be directed to the Equal Opportunity/ Affirmative Action Office. Complaints will be handled in a prompt and confidential manner pursuant to TSU procedures and TBR policies.

B. Policy Statement

It is the policy of Tennessee State University to provide an effective procedure for resolution of problems arising from the employment relationship or environment. To this end, formal complaint and grievance procedures have been established. When an employee believes a condition of employment affecting him/ her is unjust, inequitable, or is a hindrance to effective performance of his /her employment responsibilities, the employee should first seek resolution through the complaint procedure without fear of coercion, discrimination, or reprisal. It is the policy of TSU to make every effort to resolve disputes before they become grievances. The President is responsible for implementation of these procedures and has the final decision-making authority in any action subject to these procedures.

C. Matters Subject to the Complaint or Grievance Procedures

1. There are two types of matters that are addressed by this policy.
  - a. COMPLAINT (Committee review not available): A complaint is a concern that an employee wants to discuss with supervisory personnel in an effort to resolve the matter. A grievance may result from any action the institution has taken against the employee which:

- b1. Violates institutional or TBR policy, or involves an application of these same policies;
- b2. Violates any constitutional right. The most likely areas of concern are the First, Fourth, or Fourteenth Amendments of the federal constitution when that action hampers free speech, freedom of religion, the right to association, provides for improper search and seizure, or denies constitutionally required notice or procedures.

2. EMPLOYEES

F. Steps for Filing the Complaint/Grievance

Step 1: DISCUSSION WITH IMMEDIATE SUPERVISOR

The employee should state in writing the basis for the complaint or grievance and the corrective action the complainant is requesting or desires. The written statement should cite facts, times, dates and specific events of occurrences. The statement should be presented in reasonable and temperate terms, which would enable a reasonable person to ascertain facts of the matter.

The employee and the supervisor shall discuss the complaint in an attempt to resolve the matter. The supervisor shall conduct any necessary or appropriate investigation and inform the employee of a decision based upon full and fair consideration of all the facts within five (5) working days of the initial discussion. ## FOREWARD

The Faculty Handbook has been prepared for faculty members of Tennessee State University and by a faculty committee appointed by the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Its purposes are to explain the duties and privileges of faculty members and to provide information about policies of the University, its governing body (The Tennessee Board of Regents), and its various accrediting agencies. It is subject to change through action of the Tennessee Board of Regents and the administration of the University.

The format of the Handbook is designed to permit easy updating at a minimum cost. When revisions are needed, new sheets will be issued by the Vice President for Academic Affairs; faculty members are responsible for keeping their copies up to date. Additions or substitutions made for insertion subsequent to the 1989 publication of this Handbook will be dated in the lower left-hand corner of the page. Requests for copies of the Handbook and suggestions for its revision should be sent to the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

Faculty members should also be familiar with those sections of University publications which are pertinent to their teaching, research, advising, and administrative assignments. The following publications are especially important:

Bulletins

The University bulletins are listed below. They are supplemented by the Schedule of Classes published for the fall semester, the spring semester, and the summer sessions. Because these publications, with the exception of the booklet of summer conditions, are designed for students and the general public, they do not contain much of the information which faculty members need and which this Handbook provides. Materials herein, however, in no way replace or supersede anything published in any section of the bulletins; in the event of an apparent or real contradiction, the bulletins take precedence.

History, Mission and University Goals

HISTORY

Tennessee State University was established by virtue of a 1909 act of the General Assembly and began serving students in 1912. It is one of Tennessee's two land-grant universities and is one of several universities in the State University and Community College System with a state-wide mission. Based in Nashville, it has a responsibility to the entire State, as specified in federal land-grant legislation. As a modern urban land-grant university, it not only offers a broad variety of residential academic programs but also has an extensive and growing commitment to the working adults of the midstate area, a commitment enhanced by its merger with The University of Tennessee at Nashville in 1979. TSU provides a full range of degree and non-degree programs, horary services, laboratories, classrooms, and faculty at both its John A. Merritt Boulevard campus and at its Avon Williams Campus. Programs and classes offered in the evening at times convenient for working adults are emphasized at both campuses.

CLASS ROLLS

Immediately following the registration process, the Registrar's Office will send each faculty member a preliminary classroll for each class. After the official drop-add period, the Registrar's Office will issue an official roll for each class. If a student is attending class and the name is not on the classroll, it is extremely important that the faculty member send the student to the Registrar's Office for enrollment status. Students may not attend class unless their names appear on the roll. A final class roll will be sent just prior to the end of the term to be used for reporting final grades..

GRADE REPORTING

It is the responsibility of each faculty member to assign and report a grade for each student who is enrolled in class within the specified time listed on the semester calendar. All grades are reported to the Registrar's Office. Once a grade is reported, it may be changed only by submitting a change of grade form signed by the instructor, department head, and dean. However, if a student appeals a grade, the grade may be changed by the administration if warranted. after due process.

GRADE BOOK

Grade books are to be a part of the official class records of each teacher. It is the policy of Tennessee State University that an accurate account be kept in this book of the attendance, grades, and other data of the faculty member's choosing which will give an account of the progress of the student. Grade books should be turned into the department head if work at the University is terminated.

WITHDRAWING FROM A COURSE

The proper forms for withdrawing from a class will be provided by the Office of Admissions and Records. Withdrawal is official only after the form has been completed and submitted to the Office of Admissions and Records. A student may receive a grade of "W" if he/she withdraws according to the following schedule.

|                         |                                             |
|-------------------------|---------------------------------------------|
| Regular Semester        | Prior to the end of the 9th week of classes |
| Summer SemesterI&II | Prior to the end of the 3rd week of classes |

After the above deadlines the student must be assigned a grade of "F". Withdrawal from the University must be documented by the student and approved by the Vice President for Student Affairs. Health problems or other circumstances beyond the student's control may be reasons for granting withdrawal from the University.

ACADEMIC AND CLASSROOM CONDUCT

The instructor has the primary responsibility for control over classroom behavior and maintenance of academic integrity and can order temporary removal or exclusion from the classroom of any student engaged in disruptive conduct or conduct in violation of the general rules and regulations of the institution. Extended or permanent exclusion from the classroom or further disciplinary action can be effected only through appropriate procedures of the institution.

Plagiarism, cheating, and other forms of academic dishonesty, either indirectly or through participation or assistance, are immediately responsible to the instructor of the class. In addition to other possible disciplinary sanctions which may be imposed through the regular institutional procedures as a result of academic misconduct, the instructor has the authority to assign an "F" or a zero for the exercise or examination, or to assign an "F" in the course.

If the student believes that he or she has been erroneously accused of academic misconduct and if his or her final grade has been lowered as a result, the student may appeal the case, through the appropriate institutional procedures.

POSTING GRADES

It has been the practice of many faculty members to post on their office doors or departmental bulletin boards test grades and final cotme grades for students enrolled in their classes. In order to continue with this practice and to comply with federal legislation (Buckley Amendment), the posting must be done in such a way as to maintain the anonymity of the students' grades. Social security numbers cannot be used in posting grades.

POLICY ON EXCESSIVE ABSENCES

Students are expected to attend classes regularly. Instructors will keep an accurate record of class attendance and be able to report on official request the number of absences of any student in class. At any time from the beginning of classes, an instructor may report a student for unsatisfactory attendance. Reporting a student is at the discretion of the individual instructor with the understanding that excessive absence is defined as no less than one more than the number of times a class meets per week. Any student reported for excessive absence from class will be barred from further attendance in that class until formally readmitted by the instructor.

Instructors will report promptly any excessive absences to the Registrar using the form provided by the Office of Admissions and Records. Any such reports must arrive in the Office of Admissions and Records no later than 5 p.m. on the last day of the 7th week of classes for regular semesters (2nd week of classes for Summer I and II). Excessive absences after the 7th week should also be reported promptly. Admissions and Records will notify the student by mail that he/she has been reported for excessive absence. The student then has three options. (1) He or she may withdraw from the course in accord with University policies and deadline dates and receive the grade of "W". (2) He or she may formally apply to the instructor for readmission to the course with the understanding that all course requirements must be met in order to receive a passing grade. (3) He or she may take no action to elect options 1 or 2 above and receive the mandatory grade of "F".

COURSE SYLLABI

Each faculty member is to present a course syllabus to students enrolled in each class, preferably on the first day of class but not later than the end of the second week of class. In addition to the content agreed upon by the department and college or school, the University has established the following minimum content for course syllabi:

1. The course number, title, semester, and year offered,
2. Any prerequisites the student must have,
3. Information about the instructor's office hours,
4. The instructor's office telephone number,
5. The rationale for the course,
6. General course objectives,
7. The organization and format of the course,
8. The topics to be covered in the course,
9. Competencies (skills, concepts, theories) students are expected to learn in the course,
10. Course requirements (textbook, supplies, equipment, etc.), and
11. The instructor's grading policy, how final grades will be determined, and the minimum requirements for successfully completing the course.

TEXTBOOK POLICIES

Number of Texts. It is anticipated that normally only a single text will be ordered for each course. Exceptions; (1) In a multiple-section course, a different text may be adopted for given sections in extraordinary circumstances with the approval of the department head and dean, such as when experimenting with a new course format or writing a new text; (2) the department head may authorize the adoption of more than one text for a single-section course when it is clearly viewed as a necessary supplement based on the nature of the course and the text(s) on the market

In almost all cases, any need for additional resources should be met by placing on reserve in the library copies of collateral text(s) and/or selected readings made available by the instructor.

Selection of Texts. The responsibility for selecting a textbook rests with the instructor in charge of a course acting in cooperation with the department head. In the case of multiple-section courses taught by more than one instructor, the department head should rely on the recommendation of either a discipline coordinator or a faculty committee within the discipline to make selection of texts.

Requisition of Texts. Each department head, working in cooperation with the University Bookstore, is responsible for seeing that an ample supply of textbooks is available for the first meeting of classes in his or her department. To assist in this effort, the University Bookstore should provide an updated inventory to each department head approximately two weeks prior to the beginning of each semester. The department heads, deans and Vice President for Academic Affairs are to furnish the best possible information concerning course offerings, class schedules and anticipated enrollments. The department head will need to receive full cooperation from each faculty member and to maintain close contact with the University Bookstore as the final requisitions are developed.

Requisition Procedures for Texts. Textbooks are requisitioned on forms supplied by the University Bookstore. Requisitions may originate with either the course instructor or the department head, although they shall always require the approval of the department head. All requisitions are forwarded to the University Bookstore within the time frame requested, which in all cases should be at least six weeks prior to the beginning date of the semester in order to assure delivery and availability of texts.

It is the policy of Tennessee State University to provide and maintain a program of equal employment opportunity and fairness in all recruitment or recruitment advertising, hiring, employment upgrading or promotion, development, demotion or transfer, layoff or termination, rates of pay, leaves of absence, and other forms of compensation and training. It is the intent of this policy to safeguard against unsound and illegal personnel practices. The University, therefore, shall engage in no practices which will discriminate against any group or individual for reasons of race, color, religion, national origin, handicap, sex, age (except where sex or age is a bonafide occupational qualification as determined by statutory or Tennessee Board of Regents requirement), or status as a qualified disabled veteran or Veteran of the Vietnam Era. In the implementation of this policy, the University will aggressively seek to recruit and employ persons from classes that are under-represented in its work force. Reasonable accommodations have been and will continue to be made for qualified disabled veterans and other handicapped persons.

The University's policy statement requires units to undertake affirmative action in working toward the achievement of goals set forth and the attainment of an acceptable level of participation in its work force, programs and activities for students, and conn-acted services. Success achieved in meeting affirmative action goals will be a performance indicator used in the evaluation of all management personnel of the University. Likewise, the degree to which employment opponunity is assured in the functional units of managers/supervisors will be evaluated.

The University has adopted the policy that criteria for employment and promotion be job validated, such that only the skills or preparation actually necessary to the performance of a job are considered in making employment or promotion decisions.

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES FOR TENURE AND PROMOTION

The following policy of Tennessee State University on academic freedom, responsibility, and tenure complies with Academic Freedom and Responsibility (Article II, 5:02:03:00, 1986) and the Policy on Academic Tenure (Article ill, 5:02:03:00, 1986) of the Tennessee Board of Regents.

I. Academic Freedom and Responsibility

Tennessee State University recognizes the principle of academic freedom and responsibility, pursuant to which

- A. The faculty member is entitled to freedom in the classroom in discussing his or her subject, being careful not to introduce into the teaching controversial matter which has norelation to the subject;
- B. The faculty member is entitled to full freedom in research and in the publication of the results, subject to the adequate performance of his or her other academic duties; but research for pecuniary gain must be based upon written consent from the Academic Vice President and the President of the University; and

- C. The faculty member is a citizen, a member of a learned profession, and an officer of the University. When the faculty member speaks or writes as a citizen, he or she should be free from University censorship or discipline, but his or her special position in the community imposes special obligations. As a man or woman of learning and an educational officer, he or she should remember that the public may judge the profession and the University by the faculty member's utterances. Hence, a faculty member should at all times be accurate, should exercise appropriate restraint, should show respect for the opinions of others, and should make every effort to indicate that he or she does not speak for the University.

Academic freedom, responsibility, and tenure are decisively important factors in the viability of Tennessee State University. Academic freedom -- the free search for and exposition of truth -- is essential to fulfill the ultimate objectives of this University and applies to teaching and research. Freedom in research is fundamental to the advancement of truth, and academic freedom in teaching is fundamental for the protection of the rights of the faculty member in teaching and of the student to freedom in learning. Implicit in the principle of academic freedom are the corollary responsibilities of the faculty who enjoy that freedom. Incompetence, indolence, intellectual dishonesty, serious moral dereliction, arbitrary and capricious disregard of standards of professional conduct - these and other grounds may constitute adequate cause for dismissal or other disciplinary sanctions against faculty members subject to the provisions of the Policy on Academic Tenure. The right to academic freedom imposes upon the faculty an equal obligation to take appropriate professional action against faculty members who are derelict in discharging their professional responsibilities. Thus, academic freedom and academic responsibility are interdependent, and academic tenure is adopted as a means to protect the former while promoting the latter. While academic tenure is essential for the protection of academic freedom, all faculty members (tenured or non-tenured) have an equal right to academic freedom and bear the same academic responsibilities implicit in that freedom.

II. Policy on Tenure

A. Definitions

The following are general definitions of terms used in this policy. The terms are subject to further qualification and definition in the subsequent sections of this policy.

1. Academic Appointment: a personnel designation (not an assignment of responsibilities) that this University grants to its faculty members in exchange for professional services in the areas of instruction, research, scholarship, and public service.
2. Academic Department: an organizational unit within this University, generally devoted to the pursuit of a specific field of study.
3. Academic Rank: a position of faculty status in an academic organizational unit, limited to persons who meet this University's criteria for faculty promotion and consisting of the levels of instructor, assistant professor, associate professor, and professor.

4. Academic Tenure: a personnel status in an academic organizational unit pursuant to which the academic year appointments of full-time faculty who have been awarded tenure are continued at the University until the expiration or relinquishment of that status, subject to termination for adequate cause, for financial exigency, or for curricular reasons.
5. Adequate Cause: a basis upon which a faculty member, either with academic tenure or with a tenure-track or temporary appointment prior to the end of the specified term of the appointment, may be dismissed or terminated.
6. Tennessee Board of Regents: the unit which establishes, governs, manages, and controls the State University and Community College System of Tennessee.
7. Faculty Member: a full-time employee who holds academic rank as instructor, assistant professor, associate professor, or professor and who for purposes of this policy meets the criteria for tenure. and whose primary responsibilities include instruction, research, scholarship, and public service. (See 11.C below.)
8. Financial Exigency: the formal declaration by the Tennessee Board of Regents that the University faces an imminent financial crisis, that there is a current or projected absence of sufficient funds (appropriated or non-appropriated) for the campus as a whole to maintain current programs and activities at a level sufficient to fulfill its educational goals and priorities, and that the budget can be balanced only by extraordinary means which include the termination of existing and continuing academic and non-academic appointments.
9. President: the President of Tennessee State University.
10. Probationary Employment: a period of full-time professional service by a faculty member for whom an appointment letter denotes a tenure-track appointment in which he or she does not have tenure and in which he or she is evaluated by the University for the purpose of determining his or her satisfaction of the criteria for a recommendation for tenure.
11. "Program is deleted from the cumculum": the Board takes formal action to terminate a degree, major, concentration, or other curricular component and such termination eliminates or reduces need for faculty qualified in that discipline or area of specialization.
12. "Substantive and continued reduction of student enrollment in a field": over a period of at least three (3) years, student enrollment in a field has decreased at a rate in considerable excess of that of the University as a whole and such reduction has resulted in faculty-student ratios that, in the opinion of the President, cannot be warranted either by comparison with equivalent faculty load practices within the University or by comparisons with faculty loads in comparable departments at similar institutions which the President would deem to be appropriate for comparison.

13. University: Tennessee State University.

B. Academic Tenure

Tenure is a status pursuant to which faculty appointments for the academic year in an academic organizational unit are continued until retirement or physical or mental disability, subject to dismissal for adequate cause or unavoidable termination on account of financial exigency or curricular reasons. Tenure is awarded only by positive action by the Board, pursuant to the requirements and procedures of this policy at Tennessee State University. The awarding of tenure is a recognition of the merit of a faculty member and of the assumption that he or she would meet the long-term staffing needs of the academic organizational unit and the University. It is awarded only to those members of the faculty who have exhibited professional excellence and outstanding abilities sufficient to demonstrate that their future services and performances justify the degree of permanence afforded by academic tenure.

C. Minimum Eligibility Requirements for Consideration for Academic Tenure

1. Academic tenure is awarded only to full-time faculty members who:
  - (a) hold academic rank as instructor, assistant professor, associate professor, or professor and meet the minimum rank criteria for the rank; (b) have been employed pursuant to tenure-track appointments and have completed not less than the minimum probationary period of service; and (c) have been determined by the University to meet the criteria for recommendation for tenure and have been so recommended pursuant to this policy.

(Faculty holding temporary appointments are not eligible for tenure.)

2. Faculty members supported in whole or in part by funds available to the University on a short-term basis, such as grants, contracts, or foundation-sponsored projects, shall not be eligible for tenure unless continuing support for such members can be clearly identified in the regular budget of the University prior to initiating the tenure process.
3. No faculty member is eligible for tenure in an administrative position; provided that where a faculty member with tenure is appointed to an administrative position, he or she will retain tenure in a former faculty position only and provided further that a faculty member otherwise is eligible for tenure who also holds an administrative position and may be awarded tenure in the faculty position only, subject to the requirements of this policy.

D. Types of Appointment

There are three types of faculty appointments◆

1. Temponuy appointments are for a specific purpose and for a time appropriate to that purpose or for an unspecified period, which appointments may be terminated according to the terms of the appointments. Temporary appointments are ordinarily used for lecturers, adjunct or part-time faculty, faculty to replace regular faculty on leave of absence, and faculty employed pursuant to grants or for projects funded in whole or in part by non-appropriated funds. In addition, temporary appointments are used for faculty employed on the basis of state-appropriated funds in academic organizational units where the permanent and continued need for the position has not been established; such appointments normally are not in excess of three academic years. Any request for an extension beyond three years requires the approval of the Chancellor.
2. Tenure-track appointments are for regular full-time faculty with academic rank, and they may be for the academic or fiscal year. Tenure-track appointments are for faculty who are employed in a probationary period of employment preliminary to consideration for tenure. Tenure-track appointments do not include any right to permanent or continuous employment, do not create any manner of legal right, interest or expectancy of renewal or any other type of appointment, and are subject to annual renewal by the University.
3. Tenure appointments are for full-time faculty who have been awarded tenure by the Board pursuant to the provisions of this policy. Tenure appointments include the assurance of continued employment for the academic year for an indefinite period, subject to expiration, relinquishment or termination of tenure as hereinafter provided. Such appointments do not include assurance of continued employment at any specified salary or position during summer sessions or inter-sessions.

E. Probationary Employment

1. Probationary faculty may be employed on annual tenure-track appointments for a maximum probationary period which may not exceed seven years. A recommendation for tenure of a faculty member following a probationary period of not less than five years - may be made by the President of the University, provided exceptions to the minimum probationary period may be made under special circumstances upon recommendation by the President and the Chancellor and approval by the Board.
2. The minimum probationary period of five years may include credit for prior service when agreed to by the President, and subject to the maximum permissible credit for prior service. (See II.G.1.)
3. Employment during summer terms, in part-time positions, or during periods of leaves of absence (except in the circumstance described in member or upon the date the notice is mailed, postage prepaid, to the faculty member at his or her current home address of record at the University.

Dates for notice of non-renewal are in no way affected by any credit for prior service which may be awarded pursuant to section ILG.

2. When a faculty member on a tenure-track appointment completes the sixth year of the probationary period, the faculty member will either be recommended for tenure by the President or be given notice of non-renewal of the appointment following the seventh year of service. Such notice of non-renewal should be given not later than the final day of the sixth academic year. The faculty member's right in an instance where timely notice is not given is described in the introductory paragraph of "I" below.
3. Faculty members on tenure-track appointments shall not be terminated during the annual specified term of the appointment except for reasons which would be sufficient for the termination of tenured faculty.
4. The non-renewal or non-reappointment of any faculty member on a tenure-track appointment does not necessarily carry an implication that his or her work or conduct has been unsatisfactory. A faculty member whose tenure-track appointment is not renewed shall be given an oral statement of the reason or reasons for the non-renewal by the President or his or her designated representative(s).
5. The University provides the opportunity for the non-renewal faculty member to discuss his or her case in an appropriate manner with the dean.

G. Credit for Prior Service

1. Credit toward completion of the probationary period may, at the discretion of the President, be given for a maximum of three years of previous full-time service at other colleges, universities or institutes, provided that the prior service is relevant to the University's own needs and criteria. Any credit for prior service which is recognized and agreed to must be confirmed in writing at the time of the initial appointment.
2. Credit toward completion of the probationary period may, at the discretion of the President, be given for a maximum of three years of previous full-time service in a temporary faculty appointment at the University (see Types of Appointments, Section D.1) or in an earlier tenure-track appointment at the University which has been followed by a break in service. Any credit for prior service in a temporary full-time faculty appointment at the University or in an earlier tenure-track appointment (at the University) which has been followed by a break in service must be recognized and confirmed in writing in the appointment letter to a tenure-track position.

H. Criteria to be Considered in Tenure Recommendation

The University does not award tenure automatically upon completion of the required years in rank. Rather, it is awarded by the University through the positive action of the Tennessee Board of Regents, in recognition of merit, achievement, potential, and the long-term staffing needs of the academic organizational unit or the University. It is awarded only to those members of the faculty who have exhibited professional excellence and outstanding abilities in teaching and either research or service, sufficient to demonstrate that at their future services and performances will justify the degree of permanence afforded by academic tenure. Eligibility for tenure application is based on the faculty member's standing as instructor, assistant professor, associate professor, or professor and upon completion of five years in a tenure-track position.

The role of evaluation in measuring those criteria recognized above (i.e. merit, achievement, potential, and long-term staffing needs) is an important and comprehensive one, assuring that tenure is granted on the basis of quality of performance by involving (1) department head, (2) appropriate deans, (3) professional colleagues, and (4) students. The nature and relative importance of the criteria for recommendations for tenure are based on the fact that Tennessee State University is a comprehensive 1890 land-grant and major urban institution, mandated to provide instruction, research, and public service for the Metropolitan Nashville area, the State of Tennessee, and national and international constituents. Therefore, although all of the general criteria listed below may be considered to some degree in recommendations for tenure, emphasis will be placed on instruction, research, and public service. Exceptional performance should be indicated in the area of instruction and at least one other major area. Listed below are general criteria which may be considered in the evaluation process.

1. Instruction

Since the University's mission is embedded in a philosophy of academic excellence, excellence in teaching is a major basis for consideration for academic tenure. Evaluation of instruction should be based on the examination and evaluation of the following.

- Curriculum and/or program development;
- Published works in the area of teaching;
- Honors and recognition for contributions to teaching;
- Individual's performance in the advisement of students;
- Development of well-structured course outlines;
- Development of new teaching materials and approaches;
- Demonstration of effective classroom instruction and management;
- Continued intellectual development within the person's field of specialization;
- Efficiency in meeting the expectations of the University pertaining to record keeping and reporting, attendance at faculty meetings, and other such duties; and responsibilities related to his or her role as a member of the University professional community.

2. Research (and Creative Activities)

Research, both basic and applied, is conducted to support and enhance the academic programs and other specialized areas related to the University's land-grant and urban roles. Faculty are encouraged to pursue scholarly research, to advance general and applied theOI', and to improve human conditions.

The evaluation of research is based on documentation of the candidate's published research and other evidence of scholarly investigation, such as research papers presented at meetings of professional associations. In the area of fine arts, original and/or creative works may meet this criterion. Evaluation should stress the quality of the written material or the performance.

3. Public Service and Professional Activities

Public service is the third major component of the University's land-grant mission. Evaluation of the public service component should be based on performance in three areas: public service to the community as defined by the role and mission of Tennessee State University; service to the University; and service to the applicant's academic discipline and budgeted assignment. Evaluation should be based on all three areas although it is realized that differences in emphasis may exist

These criteria should include community service programs, public service consultation, committee responsibility, and active contributions to professional associations and should take into consideration the candidate's (a) performance in relation to assigned and budgeted duties; (b) performance for clientele as judged by impact on the individuals, groups, or organizations served; and (c) appraisal of the candidate's local, regional, and national professional involvement

4. Potential for Professional Growth

This includes formal academic study, participation in workshops, seminars and professional meetings, and other activities which indicate interest in continued improvement of one's teaching, research, and service.

5. Staffing Needs

Recommendations for tenure must be made subject to the long-term staffing needs of the academic organizational unit and the University.

6. Other Factors

Factors which may also be considered in tenure review are professional degrees, awards, licensure (certification, professional designation) and achievements, and the ability to achieve the goals of the academic organizational unit and the institution.

I. Tenure Appointments

No faculty member shall be entitled to or acquire any interest in a tenure appointment at the University without a recommendation for tenure by the President of the University and an affirmative award of tenure by the Tennessee Board of Regents. No other person shall have any authority to make any representation concerning tenure to any faculty member, and failure to give timely notice of non-renewal of a contract shall not result in the acquisition of a tenure appointment, but shall result in the right of the faculty member to another year of service at the University.

Recommendations for or against tenure of eligible faculty should originate from the academic organizational unit in which the faculty member is assigned and should include appropriate participation in the recommendation by tenured faculty in the unit. Peer committees shall have privilege of academic confidentiality against disclosure of individual tenure votes unless there is evidence that casts doubt upon the integrity of the peer committee. The recommendation for tenure must be made by the President to the Chancellor and by the Chancellor to the Board. In the event that tenure is awarded by the Board, the President shall furnish to the faculty member written confirmation of the award.

J. Expiration of Tenure

Tenure status shall expire upon retirement of the faculty member, or at the end of the academic year during which a faculty member reaches age seventy (70). Tenure shall also expire upon the event of permanent physical or mental inability of a faculty member, as established by an appropriate medical authority, to continue to perform his or her assigned duties.

K. Relinquishment of Tenure

A faculty member shall relinquish or waive his or her right to tenure upon resignation from the University, or upon failure to report for service at the designated date of the beginning of any academic semester, which shall be deemed to be a resignation unless, in the opinion of the President, the faculty member has shown good cause for such failure to report. Where a tenured faculty member is transferred or reclassified to another academic organizational unit by the University, the transfer or reassignment is with tenure. Tenure is not relinquished during administrative positions at the University.

L. Termination of Tenure for Reasons of Financial Exigency

A tenured faculty member may be terminated as a result of financial exigency at the University subject to Board declaration that such financial conditions exist. Personnel decisions (including those pertaining to tenured faculty) that result from a declaration of financial exigency shall comply with the Board Policy on Financial Exigency.

M. Termination of Tenure for Curricular Reasons

The employment of a tenured faculty member may be terminated (1) because a program is deleted from the curriculum, OR (2) because of substantial and continued reduction of student enrollment in a field. Before declaring that curricular reasons exist, the President will ensure meaningful participation by the University's Faculty Senate in identifying the specific curricular reasons, evaluating the long-term effect on the University's curriculum and its strategic planning goals, and the advisability of initiating further action. Prior to initiating the termination process described below, the President will present in writing to the Faculty Senate a description of curricular reasons that may warrant the termination of tenured faculty member(s). Before any action is taken, the Faculty Senate will have an opportunity to respond in writing to the President's curricular reasons for proposing to terminate tenured faculty.

N. Termination Process

1. Upon determining that termination of one or more tenured faculty members is required for one or more of the two reasons cited above, the President shall furnish each faculty member to be terminated a written statement of the reasons for the termination. Those reasons shall address fully the curricular circumstances that warranted the termination and shall indicate the manner and the information upon which the decision of which faculty members were to be terminated was reached. The President's written statement shall also indicate that the faculty member has the opportunity to respond in writing, stating any objections to the decision.
2. If the faculty member(s) to be terminated indicate(s) objections to the President's written statement(s) and request(s) a review, the President will appoint a faculty committee consisting of a minimum of five tenured faculty members from a slate of ten tenured faculty members proposed by the Faculty Senate; that committee shall conduct a hearing on the proposed termination or terminations. The Committee shall report its findings and recommendations to the President, who shall in a reasonable time inform, in writing, the faculty member(s) proposed for termination either that the decision for termination stands or that it has been altered.
3. The President's decision to terminate a tenured faculty member for curricular reasons is subject to appeal to the Chancellor and the Board as provided in the policy on appeals to the Board.
4. When a tenured faculty member is terminated for curricular reasons, the position will not be filled by a new appointee with the same areas of specialization as the terminated faculty member within a period of three years unless the terminated faculty member has been offered, in writing, re-appointment to the position at his or her previous rank and salary (with the addition of an appropriate increase which, in the opinion of the President, would constitute the raise that would have been awarded during the period that he or she was not employed).

5. Upon determining that termination of one or more tenured faculty members is warranted for curricular reasons, the President shall base his or her decision about which faculty members(s) should be terminated upon his or her assessment of what action would least seriously compromise the educational programs in a department or a division. Termination for curricular reasons presumes a staffing pattern in an academic organizational unit which cannot be warranted either by comparison with general load practices within the University or by comparison with faculty loads in comparable units at similar institutions. In that light, the President shall also, at his or her discretion, base his or her decision on a careful assessment of the impact of the curricular reason on staffing requirements in the academic organizational unit as compared to overall patterns in the University and to comparable units which, in his or her judgement<sup>4</sup> are in institutions similar enough to warrant comparison.

Unless the President demonstrates (preferably by means of past performance evaluations) that an exception should be made to avoid qualitative compromise of an educational program, the following considerations should guide - but not be construed as mandatory - the President in determining the order of faculty reductions in an academic organizational unit where termination of tenured faculty is proposed for curricular reasons:

- a. part-time faculty should not be renewed before tenured faculty are terminated
  - b. temporary faculty or tenure-track faculty in the probationary period should not be renewed before tenured faculty are terminated,
  - c. among tenured faculty, those with higher rank should have priority over those with lower rank,
  - d. among tenured faculty with comparable rank, those with appropriate higher academic degree(s) should have priority, and
  - e. among tenured faculty with comparable rank and comparable degrees, those with greater seniority in rank should normally have priority over those with less seniority.
6. When a tenured faculty member is to be terminated for curricular reasons, the President will make every possible effort to relocate the tenured faculty member in another existing vacant position for which he or she is qualified. In instances where (in the opinion of the President) relocation within the University is a viable alternative, the University has an obligation to make significant effort to relocate the faculty member, including the bearing of reasonable retraining costs. The final decision on relocation is within the discretion of the President.

0. Transfer of Tenure

Where a faculty member is tenured in an academic organizational unit and is subsequently transferred to another unit, the transfer is with tenure. In no instance may the faculty member be compelled to relinquish tenure as a condition for effecting the transfer.

P. Termination for Adequate Cause

A faculty member with tenure or a faculty member on a tenure-track appointment prior to the end of the term appointment may be terminated for adequate cause, which includes the following:

1. Incompetence or dishonesty in teaching or research.
2. Willful failure to perform the duties and responsibilities for which the faculty member was employed, or refusal or continued failure to comply with the policies of the Board, the University, or the academic organizational unit, or refusal or continued failure to carry out specific assignments, when such policies or assignments are reasonable and non-discriminatory.
3. Conviction of a felony or a crime involving moral turpitude.
4. Improper use of narcotics or intoxicants which substantially impairs the faculty member's fulfillment of his or her departmental and University duties and responsibilities.
5. Capricious disregard of accepted standards of professional conduct.
6. Falsification of information on an employment application or other information concerning qualifications for a position.
- i. Failure to maintain the level of professional excellence and ability demonstrated by other members of the faculty in the academic organizational unit of the University.

Q. Procedures for Termination for Adequate Cause

Termination of a faculty member with a tenure appointment, or with a tenure-track or temporary appointment prior to the annual specified term of the appointment, shall be subject to the following procedures:

1. No termination shall be effective until steps 4 through 10 below have been completed.
2. Suspensions pending termination shall be governed by the following procedure.
  - a. A faculty member may not be suspended pending completion of steps 4 through 10 unless it is determined by the University that the faculty member's presence poses a danger to persons or property or a threat of destruction to the academic or operational processes of the University. Reassignment of responsibilities is not considered suspension; however, the faculty member must be reassigned responsibilities for which he or she is qualified.

- b. In any case of suspension, the faculty member shall be given an opportunity at the time of the decision or immediately thereafter to contest the suspension; and, if there are disputed issues of fact or cause and effect, the faculty member shall be provided the opportunity for a hearing on the suspension as soon as possible, at which time the faculty member may cross-examine his or her accuser, present witnesses on his or her behalf, and be represented by an attorney. Thereafter, whether the suspension is upheld or revoked, the matter shall proceed pursuant to these procedures.
3. Except for such simple announcements as may be required concerning the time of proceedings and similar matters, public statements and publicity about these proceedings by either the faculty member or administrative officers will be avoided so far as possible until the proceedings have been completed, including consideration by the Board.
4. Upon a recommendation by the Vice President for Academic Affairs to the President or upon a decision by the President that these procedures should be undertaken in consideration of the termination of a tenured faculty member, one or more appropriate administrators shall meet privately with the faculty member for purposes of attempting to reach a mutually acceptable resolution of the problems giving rise to the proposed termination proceedings.
5. If a mutual resolution is not reached under step 4, the President shall appoint a faculty committee consisting of tenured faculty members, whose appointments should be, but are not required to be, agreed to by the faculty member. The faculty committee shall conduct an informal inquiry of the facts giving rise to the proposed termination and seek a mutually acceptable resolution. Should no such resolution be reached, the committee shall recommend to the President whether in its opinion further proceedings should be taken in pursuit of the termination. The recommendation shall be in writing and shall be accompanied by reasons for the recommendation. The committee's recommendation shall not be binding on the President.
6. If no mutually acceptable resolution is reached through step 5 and/or if after consideration of the faculty committee's recommendation the President determines that further proceedings are warranted to consider termination, the following steps shall be taken.
  - a. The faculty member shall be provided with a written statement of the specific charges alleged by the University which constitute grounds for termination and a notice of hearing specifying the time, date, and place of the hearing. The statement and notice must be provided at least twenty (20) days prior to the date of the hearing. The faculty member shall respond to the charges in writing at least five (5) days prior to the hearing. The faculty member may waive the hearing by execution of a written waiver.
  - b. A committee consisting of a minimum of five members of the faculty or faculty and administration shall be appointed to hear the case and to determine if adequate cause for termination exists according to the procedure hereinafter described. The committee shall be appointed by the President and the Faculty Senate. The committee may not include any member of the faculty committee referred to in S above.

- ◆ Members deeming themselves disqualified for bias or interest shall remove themselves from the case, either at the request of a party or on their own initiative. Members of the committee shall not discuss the case outside committee deliberations and shall report any ex-parte communication pertaining to the hearing to the President, who shall notify all parties of the communication.
7. The hearing committee shall elect a chairperson who shall direct the proceedings and rule on procedural matters, including the granting of reasonable extensions of time at the request of any party and upon the showing of good cause for the extension.
  8. The chairperson of the hearing committee may in his or her discretion require a joint pre-hearing conference with the parties which may be held in person or by a conference telephone call. The purpose of the pre-hearing conference should include but is not limited to one or more of the following:
    - a. Notification as to procedure for conduct of the hearing.
    - b. Exchange of witness lists, documentary evidence, and affidavits.
    - c. Define and clarify issues.
    - d. Effect stipulations of fact.

A written memorandum of the pre-hearing conference should be prepared and provided to each party.

9. A hearing shall be conducted by the hearing committee to determine whether adequate cause for termination of the faculty member exists. The hearing shall be conducted according to the procedures below.
  - a. During the hearing, the faculty member will be permitted to have an academic advisor present and may be represented by legal counsel of his or her choice.
  - b. A verbatim record of the hearing will be taken and a typewritten copy will be made available to the faculty member, upon request, at the faculty member's expense.
  - c. The burden of proof that adequate cause exists rests with the University and shall be satisfied only by clear and convincing evidence in the record considered as a whole.
  - d. The faculty member will be afforded an opportunity to obtain necessary witnesses and documentary or other evidence. The administration will cooperate with the committee in securing witnesses and making available documentary and other evidence.

- e. The faculty member and the administration will have the right to confront and cross-examine all witnesses. Where the witnesses cannot or will not appear, but the committee determines that the interests of justice require admission of their statements, the committee will identify the witnesses, disclose their statements, and if possible, provide for interrogatories.

An affidavit may be submitted in lieu of the personal appearance of a witness if the party offering the affidavit has provided a copy to the opposing party at least ten (10) days prior to the hearing and the opposing party has not objected to the admission of the affidavit in writing within (7) days after delivery of the affidavit or if the committee chairperson determines that the admission of the affidavit is necessary to insure a just and fair decision.

- f. In a hearing on charges of incompetence, the testimony shall include that of qualified faculty members from the institution or other institutions of higher education.
- g. The hearing committee will not be bound by strict rules of legal evidence and may admit any evidence which is of probative value in determining the issues involved. Every possible effort will be made to obtain the most reliable evidence available.
- h. The findings of fact and the report will be based solely on the hearing record.

The President and the faculty member will be provided a copy of the written committee report. The committee's written report shall specify findings of fact and shall state whether the committee has determined that adequate cause for termination exists and, if so, the specific grounds for termination found. In addition, the committee may recommend action less than dismissal. The report shall also specify any applicable policy the committee considered.

- 10. After consideration of the committee's report and the record, the President may in his or her discretion consult with the faculty member prior to reaching a final decision regarding termination. Following his or her review, the President shall notify the faculty member of his or her decision, which, if contrary to the committee's recommendation shall be accompanied by a statement of the reasons.

If the faculty member is terminated or suspended as a result of the President's decision, the faculty member may appeal the President's action to the Chancellor pursuant to TBR Policy No. 1:02:11:00. Review of the appeal shall be based upon the record of hearing. If upon review of the record, the Chancellor notes objections regarding the termination and/or its proceedings, the matter will be returned to the President for reconsideration, taking into account the stated objections, and, in the discretion of the President, the case may be returned to the hearing committee for further proceedings.

R. Tenure Procedures

The Vice President for Academic Affairs will publish the schedule for the tenure process. The faculty member applying for tenure will prepare a dossier which demonstrates his or her achievements in the areas of instruction, research, and service and which clearly illustrates the extent to which he or she meets or exceeds the eligibility requirements and criteria for tenure. The Vice President for Academic Affairs may, but is not required to, issue guidelines for preparation of the dossier.

III. Policy on Promotion

The following policy of Tennessee State University on promotion complies with Tennessee Board of Regents policy. That is, it is consistent with Board policy regarding formal education and experience, teaching effectiveness, professional development, research and service to the University.

Promotion in rank is a recognition of one's past achievement and a recognition of one's future potential. In addition, it is a sign of confidence that the individual is capable of greater accomplishments and of assuming greater responsibilities. The policy of the University is to ensure that promotions are made strictly on merit, tempered by programmatic and fiscal considerations. In maintaining this policy, promotions are made objectively, equitably, impartially, and as recognition of merit in line with the following policies. The policies which follow provide a plan for documenting the evaluation process at the University.

A. Minimum Criteria for Academic Rank

The University does not automatically promote faculty members upon completion of the required years in rank. Rather, promotion is awarded by the University through the positive action of the Tennessee Board of Regents in recognition of merit, achievement, and potential. A tenured or tenure-track faculty member becomes eligible to apply for promotion when he or she meets the defined qualifications for the various faculty ranks. These minimum criteria follow.

1. Instructor

- a. Potential ability in instruction and/or public service, and/or research.
- b. Evidence of good character, mature attitude, and stable personality.
- c. Master's degree in the instructional discipline or related area.

2. Assistant Professor

- a. Potential ability in instruction, public service and research.
- b. Evidence of good character, mature attitude, and stable personality.
- c. Earned doctorate from an accredited institution in the instructional discipline or related area or

- d. Master's degree in the instructional discipline when that Master's degree is the recognized terminal degree in that instructional discipline or

- e. Master's degree in the instructional discipline or related area

plus

30 semester hours (45 quarter hours) beyond the Master's in that instructional discipline or related area earned in the formal pursuit of the doctorate

plus

appropriate professional experience credit in the instructional discipline or related area

3. Associate Professor

- a. Evidence of good character, mature attitude, and stable personality.
- b. Documented (as outlined in institutional policy) ability (as opposed to mere potential) in instruction, public service, and research. Achievement in all three areas is expected. In special situations, given the nature of faculty members' duties and responsibilities, consideration may be given to using two criteria.
- c. Earned doctorate from an accredited institution in the instructional discipline or related area

plus

five (5) years' appropriate professional experience at the rank of Assistant Professor in the instructional discipline or related area.

4. Professor

- a. Evidence of good character, mature attitude, and stable personality and high degree of academic maturity and responsibility.
- b. Documented (as outlined in institutional policy) ability (as opposed to mere potential) in instruction, public service, and research. Substantial achievement in each of the three areas is expected. In special situations, given the nature of faculty members' duties and responsibilities, consideration may be given to using two criteria.
- c. Documented evidence (as outlined in institutional policy) of substantial quality professional productivity, and regional recognition in the academic discipline.
- d. Earned doctorate from an accredited institution in the instructional discipline or related area

plus

ten (10) years' appropriate professional experience, including a minimum of five (5) at the rank of Associate Professor, in the instructional discipline or related area.

5. Exceptions to these minimum rank qualifications can be made by recommendation of the President.

B. Criteria for Evaluation

The role of evaluation in assessing the merit of the candidate is an important and comprehensive one, ensuring that promotion is granted on the basis of quality of performance by involving department head, appropriate deans, professional colleagues, and students. The nature and relative importance of the criteria for recommendations for promotion are based on the fact that Tennessee State University is a comprehensive 1890 land-grant and major urban institution, mandated to providing instruction, research, and public service for the Metropolitan Nashville area, the State of Tennessee, and national and international constituents. Therefore, although all of the general criteria listed below may be considered to some degree in recommendations for promotion, emphasis will be placed on instruction, research, and public service. Listed below are general criteria which may be considered in the evaluation process.

1. Instruction

Since the University's mission is embedded in a philosophy of academic excellence, excellence in teaching is a major basis for consideration for promotion. Evaluation of instruction should be based on the examination and evaluation of the following:

- Curriculum and/or program development;
- Published works in the area of teaching;
- Honors and recognition for contributions to teaching;
- Individual's performance in the advisement of students;
- Development of well-structured course outlines;
- Development of new teaching materials and approaches;
- Demonstration of effective classroom instruction and management;
- Continued intellectual development within the person's field of specialization;
- Efficiency in meeting the expectations of the University pertaining to record keeping and reporting, attendance at faculty meetings, and other such duties and responsibilities related to his or her role as a member of the University professional community.

2. Research (and Creative Activities)

Research, both basic and applied, is conducted to support and enhance the academic programs and other specialized areas related to the University's land-grant and urban roles. Faculty are encouraged to pursue scholarly research, to advance general and applied theory, and to improve human conditions.

The evaluation of research is based on documentation of the candidate's published research, and other evidence of scholarly investigation, such as research papers presented at meetings of professional associations. In the area of fine arts, original and/or creative works may meet this criterion. Evaluation should stress the quality of the written material or the performance.

3. Public Service and Professional Activities

Public service is the third major component of the University's land-grant mission. Evaluation of the public service component should be based on performance in three areas: public service to the community as defined by the role and mission of Tennessee State University; service to the University; and service in the applicant's academic discipline and budgeted assignment. Evaluation should be based on all three areas although it is realized that differences in emphasis may exist.

These criteria should include community service programs, public service consultation, committee responsibility, and active contributions to professional associations and should take into consideration the candidate's (a) performance in relation to assigned and budgeted duties; (b) performance for clientele as judged by impact on the individuals, groups, or organizations served; and (c) appraisal of the candidate's local, regional, and national professional involvement.

4. Potential for Professional Growth

This includes formal academic study, participation in workshops, seminars and professional meetings, and other activities which indicate interest in continued improvement of one's teaching, research, and service.

5. Staffing needs

Recommendations for promotion must take into consideration (a) the fiscal impact of each promotion recommended, i.e. resources allocated to the University and distributed throughout the University for current operations, and (b) the rank distribution in each academic organizational unit to ensure it is commensurate with the mission outlines for the unit, e.g. level of courses being taught as well as student demand for offerings.

6. Other Factors

Factors which may also be considered in promotion review are professional degrees, awards, licensure (certification, professional designation) and achievements, and the ability to achieve the goals of the academic organizational unit and the institution.

C. Promotion Recommendations

Recommendations for or against promotion of eligible faculty should originate from the academic organizational unit in which the faculty member is assigned and should include appropriate participation in the recommendation by tenured faculty in the unit. Peer committees shall have privilege of academic confidentiality against disclosure of individual promotion votes unless there is evidence that casts doubt upon the integrity of the peer committee. The recommendation for promotion must be made by the President to the Chancellor and by the Chancellor to the Board. In the event that promotion is awarded by the Board, the President shall furnish to the faculty member written confirmation of the promotion.

D. Promotion Procedures

The Vice President for Academic Affairs will publish the schedule for the promotion process. The faculty member applying for promotion will prepare a dossier which demonstrates his or her achievements in the areas of instruction, research, and service and which clearly illustrates the extent to which he or she meets or exceeds the criteria for the promotion requested. The Vice President for Academic Affairs may, but is not required to, issue guidelines for preparation of the dossier.

The formal appeal process begins only after the Vice President for Academic Affairs has made his or her recommendation; however, the candidate may withdraw from the promotion review process at any stage without prejudice.

1. The Department Head will:

- a. Receive from all candidates for promotion an application file containing items to be used in review at each committee level.
- b. Add to the file a report on teaching effectiveness.
- c. Convene the Departmental Promotion and Tenure Committee and explain the review process.

- b. Forward all recommendations regarding tenure to the Chancellor of the Tennessee Board of Regents, along with decisions regarding any cases that were appealed.

Faculty Personnel Policies and Procedures

RECRUITMENT AND APPOINTMENT OF FACULTY

The recruitment and appointment of faculty at Tennessee State University proceeds in an orderly manner and in accordance with the policies of the University and the Tennessee Board of Regents (TBR) as well as in accordance with Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) guidelines. The process is completed in four stages:

1.     Position Approval
2.     Recruitment
3.     Screening and Interviewing
4.     Appointment and Orientation

Position Approval

When a position becomes vacant or when a new position is approved, the department head completes a University Personnel Request form, seeking approval to fill the position. The completed form is submitted to the dean for approval; subsequently, the form must be approved by the Vice President for Academic Affairs, the Budget Director, and the Personnel Director.

At the same time, the department head, in consultation with the department faculty, completes a Position Announcement form. This form provides detailed information concerning responsibilities and qualifications, as well as information about salary, the application process, application deadline, and other pertinent information. The Position Announcement must accompany the University Personnel Request form.

Recruitment

Once approval to fill a position has been granted (i.e. once the University Personnel Request form has been approved), the recruitment process begins. Faculty positions are normally advertised for a minimum of thirty (30) calendar days. Positions are generally advertised in the following ways:

1.     advertisements in local or regional newspapers;
2.     advertisements in national publications in higher education (e.g. the Chronicle of Higher Education);
3.     advertisements in specialized professional publications, if appropriate and if budgetary allocations allow;
4.     distribution of the Position Announcement to other State institutions of higher education; and/or
5.     posting of the Position Announcement in strategic campus locations.

In addition, the department head, the dean, and the department faculty may forward copies of the Position Announcement to individuals, institutions, agencies, or organizations in order to generate interest in the position. Furthermore, announcements for positions at the level of department head and above are submitted to the Chancellor of the Tennessee Board of Regents.

Screening and Interviewing

All applications are received by the Personnel Office, which screens applicants for minimum qualifications. The affirmative action officer will review the applicant pool for EEO compliance prior to scheduling of interviews. The applications of those candidates who meet the minimum qualifications are forwarded to the department head. All applicants meeting the minimum requirements may be interviewed provided that the number of applicants is not too large and provided that expenses associated with the interview process are within the recruitment budget. In most cases, however, the credentials of applicants meeting the minimum criteria are screened by the department head and, usually, by the department faculty or by a committee of the department faculty. The top candidates are interviewed by the department head and the department faculty or a committee of the faculty, and by the dean. In some cases, candidates may be invited to present a mini-lecture for students and faculty.

Appointment and Orientation

The department head recommends appointment of the selected candidate by forwarding the following materials to the dean:

1. an executed EEO/AA Job Applicant Flow Record form, which lists each applicant in rank order and which, based upon the announced criteria, provides a well documented and objective reason for selection or non-selection of each applicant;
2. the application, resume, letter of application, letters of reference, transcripts, and other credentials for each applicant;
3. a copy of the Position Announcement; a Notice of Appointment (contract) for the selected candidate.

The dean reviews the materials; if he or she does not approve the appointment, materials are returned to the department head along with an explanation. If the dean approves the appointment, he or she signs the Applicant Flow Record and the Notice of Appointment and forwards all materials to the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

If the Vice President does not approve the appointment, the materials are returned to the dean along with an explanation. If the Vice President approves the appointment, he or she signs the Applicant Flow Record and the Notice of Appointment and forwards all materials to the Personnel Office. The Personnel Office reviews materials for completeness and accuracy and forwards materials to the EEO officer, who reviews the materials to assure compliance with EEO guidelines. If everything is in order, the EEO officer signs the Applicant Flow Record and forwards materials to the Budget Office. The Budget Office verifies salary information and forwards materials to the President.

Hiring authority rests solely with the President. If the President approves the appointment, he or she signs the Notice of Appointment and returns materials to the Personnel Office. (Appointments at the level of department head or above or with a salary of $35,000 or above must also be approved by the Tennessee Board of Regents as specified in TBR Guideline POI0). Once the Personnel Office receives the signed Notice of Appointment, a formal offer of employment is made. and the candidate signifies acceptance by signing the Notice of Appointment.

Orientation for the new employee is provided both by the Penonnel Office and by the deparnment head. The Personnel Office explains employee benefits and general University policies and secures the new employee's signature on all appropriate forms for withholding, payroll deduction, and employee benefits. The department head provides orientation regarding all academic policies and procedures, including those of the University, the school or college, and the departmenL

- (a) An ability to speak English clearly;
- (b) An ability to understand spoken English; and
- (c) An ability to communicate effectively in an academic environment (for example, previous successful employment in an academic institution).

Through the interview process, should reasonable doubt exist relative to the abilities of an individual to communicate effectively who in every other respect is deemed to be a viable candidate, the individual shall be provided the opportunity to deliver an extended oral presentation to a committee of University faculty and students appointed by the Vice President for Academic Affairs. This presentation will allow for a question and answer period or other method of dialogue.

The committee then shall provide the Vice President with an evaluation of the candidate's proficiency in oral English.

If, in the judgment of the committee and the Vice President, the candidate is proficient in oral English, the Vice President shall certify in writing to the President that the individual can communicate effectively in the English language. If the individual is employed by the University, the certification shall be included in his/her permanent personnel file.

If, in the judgment of the committee and the Vice President, the candidate is not proficient in oral English, the individual may not be considered for appointment and shall be so advised. The individual may apply for a position in the future without prejudice, subject to these procedures.

2. Review and evaluation of English competency of candidates for tenure or promotion

A principal criterion considered in tenure and promotion recommendations is teaching effectiveness (ref. TBR Policy No. 5:02:03:00). Proficiency in oral English, as determined by the abilities cited above, shall be considered as a measure of teaching effectiveness.

Should reasonable doubt exist relative to the abilities of a candidate for tenure or promotion, the candidate shall be provided the opportunity to deliver an extended oral presentation to a committee of University faculty and students appointed by the Vice President for Academic Affairs. This presentation will allow for a question and answer period or other method of dialogue.

The committee then shall provide the Vice President with an evaluation of the candidate's proficiency in oral English.

If, in the judgment of the committee and the Vice President, the candidate is proficient in oral English, the Vice President shall certify in writing that the candidate can communicate effectively in the English language. The certification shall be included in the candidate's tenure or promotion application file.

The candidate also shall be apprised of the following procedures.

3. Assistance for currently employed teaching personnel

Should reasonable doubt exist relative to the proficiency in oral English of a member of the University faculty, the matter will be discussed with the faculty member by his/her Department Head and/or Dean. Regardless of tenure status, teaching effectiveness including proficiency in oral English, is a consideration in the annual evaluation of a faculty member's performance.

Faculty members who have been identified as needing to improve their competency in spoken English shall be provided the opportunity to become proficient within a designated period of time. The Vice President may determine that assistance is mandatory and/or that improved competency is a condition of continued employment by the University.

COMMUNICATION THROUGH CHANNELS

In addition, there must have been no time for gaining the author's permission, and there should be no more than nine instances of such copying per term. One should use only one item per author. Workbooks and standardix.cd tests may not be copied (Holley 1977; 249). The materials should be for one cause only (Steinbach, Karp, Hoffman: 10).

Copying software for classroom use is similarly regulated For a class of 30 students, the school must buy 30 copies of the software (for two classes, one after the other, of 30 students each, the school still needs only 30 copies). But, the teacher or school may not legally buy one copy and copy it for each' of the 30 students (Helm).

Educational use of videotaped materials is also legally circumscribed. Off-the-air videotapes may be used in the classroom if done on behalf of a non-profit educational institution from free-to-the-public programming. The program may be used once only for educational pwposes within ten consecutive school days after the taping. The tape must be used for education (not for entertainment) in a classroom, and it should be erased within 45 days. The program may only be recorded once, the recording must include the copyright notice, and it must be done at the request of the teacher using it (Tennessee Board of Regents Pamphlet).

PART-TIME FACULTY

Each pan-time faculty member must be recommended by the department personnel committee ancVor the department head and approved by the Dean and the Vice President for Academic Affairs. A part-time faculty member normally teaches not more than one course per semester. The personnel file for each instructor must be completed at the beginning of the semester to permit adequate administrative and payroll processing time. Each part-time faculty works directly with the appropriate academic department head or designate in determining course content, textbook selection, time and location of the class, availability for student assistance, and other University policies related to instruction.

COMPENSATION FOR PART-TIME FACULTY

Pan-time contract instructors are paid on a scale determined by number of credit hours taught and by the highest recognized academic level assigned. Exceptions may occur related to length of the instructional session, the location, and other special course characteristics. The compensation schedule for credit courses is outlined below:

| LEVEL | RANK         | COMPENSATION      |
|--------------|---------------------|--------------------------|
| I     | Instructor          | $330.00 per credit hour |
| II    | Assistant Professor | 380.00 per credit hour   |
| m     | Associate Professor | 445.00 per credit hour   |
| N     | Professor           | 495.00 per credit hour   |

OUTSIDE EMPLOYMENT/CONSULTING

Tennessee State University recognizes the value to its students, personnel, the institution, and the citizens of the State arising from the many types of consulting and other external experiences in which members of the faculty and professional staff may engage. Such activities can contribute to the quality of instruction, enhance the professional competency of the individual, and bring credit to the institution. Those activities also provide valuable service to business, industry, professional groups, public and private organizations, local, state and federal governments as well as provide important links between the institution and the community.

As defined herein this policy, which applies to full-time faculty, administrators, and professional staff, does not apply: (a) to normal, short term professional activities such as participation in symposia, accreditation visits, speaking engagements, exhibitions, or recitals, even though honoraria may be received for such participation; (b) when the individual is not within the term of his or her contract period, or is on leave.

Prior to engaging in outside professional employment or continuing business activity, the faculty or professional staff member or administrator shall seek approval by submitting the appropriate form (See p. 90), which provides space to indicate the nature of the employment or business activity, the expected commitment of time, and related information. Outside employment, consulting or business activity must be preceded by approval from the department head and/or other immediate supervisor, the dean or director, and the Vice President for Academic Affairs. If approval is denied by any or all of these administrators, the faculty, staff member, or administrator may have the decision reviewed through the University's grievance procedures. Approval is not considered final until the Vice President for Academic Affairs has signed the required form.

When seeking approval, one should submit a separate form for each type of service or for any project requiring a major commitment of time. However, a similar service for several clients may be shown on a single form if each client requires only a minor commitment of time, as in many instances of professional counseling, private lessons, income tax preparation, etc. In no case, need the identity of the client(s) be revealed.

Supervisors may be required at any time to submit written reports on approved outside employment/consulting for business activity for their area of responsibility.

The University policy also includes the following:

University property and facilities and services may NOT be used for outside employment or consultation activities unless arrangements have been made and approved by the President. This includes equipment, offices, telephones, computer services, personnel services, and all other facilities and services. If such arrangements are approved by the President, compensation to the University may be required at rates established by the University. University offices, titles, addresses, and telephone numbers may not be publicized for the purpose of furthering non-University interests.

The University cannot assume responsibility for private consulting services rendered by members of its faculty/staff, and it must be made clear to any employer or client that the work to be performed has no official connection to the University.

If the consulting services or employment involves other agencies, departments, or institutions of State Government, including State institutions of higher education, such employment is subject to prior approval of the President or his designee and the appropriate representative of the other agency, department or institution.

Outside employment, consulting, or business activity must not constitute a conflict of interest or compete with the education, research or public service programs of the institution."

Outside employment, consulting, or business activity must be scheduled so as not to interfere with teaching, research, public service, or University service assignments. If contemplated outside employment/consulting or business activity conflicts with the faculty member's teaching schedule, specific arrangements for the classes must be made with and approved by the department head and the dean. Teaching, research, or service assignments should not be made for the convenience of faculty members or administrators wishing to engage in outside employment, consultation, or business activity.

Administrative staff, including department heads, shall neither employ through outside consulting or business activities, nor be employed by, a faculty or staff member over whom the administrative officer has direct supervision. Exceptions must be approved by the President.

The above University policy and procedures are inclusive of Tennessee Board of Regents Policy No. 5:01:05:00, and extra compensation if appropriate as established by TBR Policy No. 5:02:04:00.

FACULTY RENUMERATION AND SECURING PAYCHECKS

The fiscal year at TSU runs from July 1 to June 30. Annual salaries for faculty on nine-month appointments are for nine month's work but paid in twelve equal installments on the last working day on each month, September through August inclusive.

Paychecks are normally secured from the designated person of each department or area on the last working day of each month.

Withholding Procedures

Salary payment, according to law, cannot be made until the recipient has submitted tax withholding authorizations for federal taxes. New members of the faculty must file this information with the Business Office. The required amounts are withheld from the monthly salary checks. Federal withholding taxes are computed in accordance with the federal percentage method, which considers the number of exemptions claimed on Form W-4 filed in the Business Office. There is no state income tax in Tennessee applicable to salaries and wages. Forms which reflect both federal and state withholdings are sent to individual faculty members by January 31. Details of regulations, including those relating to changes in the number of exemptions, are given on the back of the withholding certificate.

EXTRA COMPENSATION

Faculty may be involved in public service and continuing education activities sanctioned by the University. Typically these activities will be conducted by the faculty as their regular assignments; however, occasions will arise where these activities may be done as an extra assignment for additional compensation. (See TBR Policy No. 5:02:04:00)

SUMMER SCHOOL

While Tennessee State University does offer classes in the summer, not all full-time faculty who desire them may receive teaching contracts for the summer session. Due to budgetary constraints, the number of sections offered must be limited, and the number of students in each section must be higher than during fall or spring semesters. Final paychecks for teaching summer school courses are distributed after the teacher has submitted the grades for the students in his or her course(s).

COMPENSATION FOR SUMMER SCHOOL

Regular academic year faculty personnel who serve the institution as teaching faculty during summer sessions shall be compensated at the rate of 1/32 (one-thirty second) of their academic year salary per semester hour of teaching load. The maximum summer pay may not exceed 25% of the preceding academic year salary.

GRANT PROPOSALS

Appropriately prepared proposals to be submitted to prospective funding agencies must be officially approved by the President after prior approval by the Department Head, School Dean, Office of Sponsored Research, appropriate Vice President, and the Office of Business Affairs. Contractual agreements must also receive prior approval from the President.

THE COMMITTEE FOR THE PROTECTION OF RIGHTS AND WELFARE OF HUMAN SUBJECTS INVOLVED IN RESEARCH

This Committee is charged with the responsibilities of establishing procedures and serving as the Institutional Review Board (IRB) in compliance with HHS regulations for protection of Human Research Subjects. It is the policy of Tennessee State University that all research involving human subjects must be reviewed for adherence to the guidelines.

Research investigators (including faculty and students) should obtain appropriate documents available in the Office of Sponsored Research and prepare a complete description of the proposed human research; including provision for the adequate protection of rights and welfare of prospective research subjects. Protocols shall be submitted by the Department Head to the Office of Sponsored Research, which will make the determination whether the protocol is exempt or non-exempt. All non-exempt research protocols will be forwarded to the IRB, which has the authority to approve, require modification in, or disapprove all research activities involving human subjects.

RESEARCH

Two important documents are available to faculty who engage in research at the University. They are (1) Policies and Procedures for Conducting Research and Special Projects; and (2) Guidelines for Contractual Services. These documents are available to the Faculty from the Office of Sponsored Research (LRC - 151).

FACULTY RELEASE TIME FOR RESEARCH

Release time for full-time faculty whose research is sponsored by an outside agency is generally limited to 50% of academic year effort. However, the researcher may negotiate a higher percent of release time. During the summer, 100% may be devoted to research provided money is budgeted in the project for such an effort. The University commits to approved release time; however, in no instance shall the normal faculty work load exceed 100%.

GENERAL TRAVEL POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

The following Travel Policies and Procedures of the Tennessee Board of Regents shall be applicable to all employees, including the Tennessee Board of Regents staff and all employees of the institutions and area vocational-technical schools under the governance and control of the Board. Provisions of this policy also may apply to individuals other than employees who are authorized to travel at the University's expense. Authorization for travel will not be granted and expenses will not be reimbursed unless the travel is made and reimbursement claimed in accordance with this policy manual and any approved exceptions hereto.

A. General Provisions

No authorization for travel by any employee or group shall be granted, and no reimbursement for travel expenses shall be made, except in accordance with the provisions of these policies and procedures. Reimbursement for travel expenses shall be limited to expenses incurred upon travel authorized in advance in accordance with Section III (B), below.

Travel which may be authorized, and pursuant to which expenses may be reimbursed, shall be limited to the following:

Travel which is necessary for the proper execution of official University business, or in justifiable pursuit of an institution's educational and research objectives; or,

Travel to meetings and conferences of a professional nature which will increase the attending employee's usefulness to the University, provided that travel to such a meeting or conference shall be limited to one trip per fiscal year, unless the employee is invited to deliver papers at more than one meeting, or unless the employee is an association officer whose attendance is required at more than one meeting.

Individual travel shall not include, and no reimbursement for expenses shall be made for, transposition in connection with an employee's official station of employment. The employee's "official station" is his or her regular area of employment activity, e.g. office headquarters, campus, or designated location of an employee established in the field.

The limitation on individuals for travel expenses contained herein are maximum amounts above which reimbursement shall not be made. Employees are expected to be as conservative as possible in incurring travel expenses, and expenses should normally amount to less than the maximum limitations.

Reimbursement for an individual's travel expenses shall be allowed only for actual expenses incurred, subjected to the maximum limitations contained herein.

B. Authorization of Travel

In-State Travel - All employees must obtain prior authorization for in-state travel by the employee's appropriate approving authority. Written authorization may not be necessary for in-state travel where the expected expenses will not be substantial, or when there is no advance notice of the circumstances necessitating the travel, and such travel is approved orally by the appropriate approving authority. Employees whose employment requires frequent in-state travel may obtain blanket authorization in writing for such travel.

Out-of-State Travel - All employees must obtain prior written authorization for out-of-state travel, which must be approved by the President. The authorization must show the purpose of the trip, destination, date of departure and return, mode of transportation, and estimated expenses.

Overseas Travel - Authorization for travel by an employee outside the limits of the continental United States shall be subject to recommendation by the President of the University and approval by the Chancellor.

Approving Authority - The President or his designee shall have authority to approve travel by employees.

C. Transportation

General - All travel must be by the most direct route possible, and any employee who travels by an indirect route must bear any extra expense occasioned thereby.

Mode of Transportation - Transportation for employees traveling singly should be by common carrier (air, train, or bus) whenever practical. The use of air travel is recommended when time is an important factor or when the trip is so long that other methods of travel would increase the subsistence expenses. Automobile transportation may be used to save time when common carrier transportation cannot be satisfactorily scheduled, or to reduce expenses when two or more employees are making the trip.

Common Carrier Travel - When travel is to be common carrier, the fare must not exceed the regular tourist fare charged the general public, and advantage must be taken of round trip rates when available. The employee's copy of the ticket must be submitted for reimbursement of common carrier expenses.

Automobile Travel - When travel by automobile is appropriate, the employee must use state-owned automobiles whenever available and feasible.

State-Owned Automobiles - When transportation is by a state-owned automobile, all necessary repairs, bills, tolls, parking, gasoline and storage expenses are allowable. When using state motor pool automobiles, employees will be furnished with courtesy cards for purchase of gasoline, oil, and other automobile services, and such expenses will not be claimed by employees as travel expenses.

Personally-Owned Automobiles - When a state-owned automobile is not available, and necessity or economy requires travel by automobile, use of an employee's personal car is authorized, or when use is required in the daily performance of an employee's duties, employee shall be reimbursed at a rate of twenty-one cents (.21) per mile (1989), or any rate subsequently approved by the Tennessee Board of Regents.

The travel claim must indicate the employee's itinerary and must show the official business mileage by odometer reading. Vicinity mileage must be identified separately. If an indirect route is used, business mileage as indicated by the Rand McNally mileage table or the official State Map will be regarded as official.

Necessary charges for hotel and airport parking will be allowed provided that airport parking fees do not exceed normal taxi fares to and from the airport. Receipts must be furnished on airport and hotel parking.

Limousine and Taxi Service - When travel is by common carrier, reasonable limousine and taxi fares will be allowed for necessary transportation or if it is the only practical means of transportation.

Car Rental at Destination - Charges for automobile rental shall be allowed whenever it is more economical than alternative methods of transportation.

D. Lodging

In-State Lodging - Lodging expenses incurred within the state while on authorized travel will be reimbursable to a maximum of thirty-three dollars ($33.00) per day.

Out-Of-State Lodging - Lodging expenses incurred out-of-state while on authorized travel will be reimbursable to a maximum of fifty-five dollars ($55.00) per day; provided that expenses incurred in Chicago, Los Angeles, New York, San Francisco and Washington, D.C. will be allowed up to seventy-five dollars ($75.00) per day. In-route lodging will be allowed for only one day each way on trips of long duration.

Additional Lodging Expenses - Sales taxes on lodging cost will be reimbursable. A check-in expense up to three dollars ($3.00) will be reimbursable on out-of-state travel. When an employee stays at an officially designated hotel and motel for a convention or meeting, any additional expense may be reimbursable provided the employee requests the lowest priced accommodations available, and that written request is made in advance to the appropriate approving authority.

Shared Lodging - When a room is shared with other than a university employee on authorized travel, the total cost of the room will be allowed, subject to the maximum set forth above. The receipt for the entire amount for those named in the authorized travel should be submitted with the claim for reimbursement.

In-State Meals - While on authorized travel within the State, actual expenses not to exceed nineteen dollars ($19.00) per day will be allowed for meals. For fractional portions of a day in travel status, the above limit will be prorated as follows: four dollars ($4.00) for breakfast, six dollars ($6.00) for lunch, and nine dollars ($9.00) for dinner.

Out-Of-State Meals - While on authorized travel out-of-state, authorized expenses not to exceed twenty-eight dollars ($28.00) per day will be allowed for meals. For fractional portions of a day in travel status, the above limit will be prorated as follows: six dollars ($6.00) for breakfast, eight dollars ($8.00) for lunch, and fourteen dollars ($14.00) for dinner.

Official Banquets - When the expenses for an official banquet of a meeting or conference are in excess of the above, the excess will be allowed provided a receipt of proper explanation of the charge is submitted.

Time Schedule - The following time schedule for departure from and return to an employee's official station shall determine eligibility for reimbursement for meals:

|           | Departure Before | Return After |
|-----------|------------------|--------------|
| Breakfast | 7:00 a.m.        | 8:00 a.m.    |
| Lunch     | 11:00 a.m.       | 1:30 p.m.    |
| Dinner    | 5:00 p.m.        | 6:30 p.m.    |

Reimbursement for lunch expenses will not be allowed unless overnight travel is involved.

F. Miscellaneous Expenses

Personal Expenses - Expenses for entertainment, laundry, valet service, tips and gratuities, etc. are personal expenses and will not be allowed for reimbursement purposes.

Telephone and Telegraph Expenses - Charges for long distance telephone calls and/or telegrams on official business will be allowed provided a statement is furnished showing the date, the name and location called, and the nature of the business. Charges for necessary local calls on official business will be allowed.

G. Oaims

The standard form for Claims for Travel Expenses approved by the President shall be used for reimbursement of expenses. The form must show movement and detail of expenses on a daily basis, be signed in ink by the employee, and be approved by the appropriate authority prior to reimbursement. Receipts for appropriate expenses must be attached to the form. Expenses for books, supplies, postage and other items that do not constitute actual traveling expenses should not be included in the claim form. Claim for reimbursement for travel expenses should be submitted no later than seven (7) days after completion of the travel. Claims submitted after the period must provide written explanation for the delay.

FACULTY GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE•

This process is designed to resolve disputes between faculty members and between faculty and the Tennessee State University administration. However, some grievances are covered by specific appeal processes. These include appeals of tenure and promotion decisions, allegations of discrimination on the basis of sex, race, national origin (etc.), contract renewal, and accusations of sexual harassment. (See the policy manuals in the Equal Employment Opportunity Office for the methods for handling discrimination and sexual harassment grievances. See the appropriate sections of this Handbook for tenure/promotion appeals and contract renewal appeals). This grievance procedure was designed to settle other disputes.

A. Step One: Department Head or Immediate Supervisor

Before a faculty member brings a formal grievance, he/she must attempt to resolve the matter informally and must be able to present proof of such an effort. Such proof, ideally, would be a short statement signed by both (all) parties stating that they have met and have failed to resolve the problem. If the faculty member has been unable to resolve the matter informally, he/she may, within six (6) weeks after becoming aware of the grievable event(s), enter a formal grievance with his/her department head or immediate supervisor. Here, the grievant shall state, in writing, the exact nature of the grievance and the remedy sought.

B. Step Two, Dean of the College

If the grievant is not satisfied with the disposition of his/her grievance at step one, or if no decision has been rendered within seven (7) work days after presentation of the grievance, he/she may file the grievance in writing with the Dean of his/her college or school. Again, the grievant should include the exact nature of the grievance and the remedy sought.

C. Step Three: The Mediation Committee

If the grievant is not satisfied with the disposition of his/her grievance at step two, or if no decision has been rendered within seven (7) work days after presentation of the grievance, the grievant may file the grievance in writing with the Faculty Senate Chairperson, and the TSU Academic Vice President, and the TSU President. As above, the grievant must state the exact nature of the grievance and the remedy sought. Upon this notice, the Faculty Senate Chair shall refer the grievance to the Chairperson of the Senate Faculty Welfare and Relations Committee. He/she shall request from the Vice President of Academic Affairs and the President the nomination of five (5) faculty members for positions on the Grievance Mediation Committee. The Faculty Welfare and Relations Chair shall also nominate five (5) faculty individuals who are not normally involved with the grievant or with his/her department. The grievant shall also nominate to the Faculty Welfare and Relations Committee Chair three (3) members for the Mediation Committee. The Welfare and Relations Chair shall allow the grievant and the TSU administration (in the persons of the President and Vice President for Academic Affairs or their designees) to strike three (3) names each. The remaining seven (7) people shall hear and attempt to settle the dispute. In addition, the Chairperson of the Faculty Senate Welfare and Relations Committee shall serve as an ex-officio, non-voting member of the Mediation Committee. If he/she has a conflict of interest, the Chairperson of the Welfare and Relations Committee shall designate a replacement from the members of that committee.

Within seven (7) days of the establishment of the Mediation Committee, it shall meet and elect a chairperson, and it shall set about resolving the dispute. This may include meetings with each party separately, and/or it may involve meetings with the adversaries together. To fully present their cases, the parties may suggest witnesses to the Mediation Committee Chairperson. Both (all) parties to the grievance are allowed to bring one (1) person each with them into Committee meetings. This advisor may be an attorney. However, the advisor may not speak generally to the Mediation Committee unless he/she is invited to do so by its Chairperson. The advisor's function is to guide the grievant and his/her opponent(s).

While a successful mediation may take as long as a year, it may be that the Mediation Committee will decide that it cannot arbitrate the dispute effectively. If a majority of the committee so vote, the grievant may move to step four after receiving written clearance from the Mediation Committee Chairperson.

If the Mediation Committee decides that it cannot handle the grievance, or if it works out an agreement satisfactory to all parties in the grievance, the Mediation Committee shall make a detailed report to the Faculty Senate Chairperson outlining each side's case, the efforts made to solve the dispute, the dispute's resolution, if any, or the reasons agreement could not be reached. Upon receipt of this report, the Faculty Senate Chair shall, within five (5) work days, forward a copy of the report to the grievant, to other parties to the grievance, to the Vice President for Academic Affairs, and to the President.

D. Step Four: Vice President for Academic Affairs

If the grievant is not satisfied with the disposition of his/her grievance in step three, or if the Mediation Committee votes to step out of the process, the grievant may, within seven (7) work days after being so notified by the Faculty Senate Chairperson, demand a meeting with the Vice President for Academic Affairs and the Mediation Committee Chair for the purpose of resolving the grievance. If the Mediation Committee Chair feels it advisable, he/she may request the attendance of the party(s) whose action occasioned the grievance. Each party to this meeting may bring one (1) advisor. This meeting shall occur within fourteen (14) work days after the grievant requests it. The Vice President for Academic Affairs shall render his/her written decision within seven (7) work days after the meeting, and shall provide all parties to the meeting with a copy.

E. Step Five: The University President

If the grievant finds the disposition of his/her grievance unsatisfactory at step four, the grievant may, within seven (7) work days of receipt of the Vice President's decision, demand a meeting with the President of the University and the Chairperson of the Mediation Committee to resolve the grievance. The President may invite the party(s) whose actions occasioned the grievance. This meeting shall occur within fourteen (14) work days after the grievant requests it. The President shall deliver a written decision within seven (7) work days of the meeting and shall provide the parties to the meeting with a copy.

F. Step Six: The Chancellor of the Tennessee Board of Regents

If the grievant is dissatisfied with the President's decision and if the grievance meets TBR Policy 1:02:11:00, the grievant shall send to the Chancellor, within twenty (20) days following the date of the written decision by the President, a written appeal (with supporting documents) stating that the decision is being appealed  the law or policy which is alleged to have been violated, and the redress desired. The Chancellor may request the grievant to appear and present arguments in support of an appeal.

G. Step Seven: The Tennessee Board of Regents

If the grievant is not satisfied by the Chancellor's decision, the grievant may petition the Board of Regents. See TBR Policy 1:02:11:00 for further information about this step.

Faculty Benefits

SUMMARY OF FACULTY BENEFITS

Benefits for faculty at Tennessee State University are established by legislative action and by Tennessee Board of Regents policy. The following Summary of Faculty Benefits does not attempt to present all of the details of the various benefits; rather, it presents a brief description of each benefit and the various options. Specific details are explained to each faculty member at the time of initial employment. Changes in benefits are explained, as they occur, in announcements enclosed with the monthly paycheck. Periodically, the Personnel Office sponsors presentations to review current benefits or to explain forthcoming changes in benefits. For further information concerning any of the benefits described below, the faculty member is encouraged to contact the Personnel Office.

Unless specified otherwise, the benefits described below apply to faculty with academic-year (nine-month) appointments and to faculty with fiscal-year (twelve-month) appointments.

HEALTH INSURANCE

Four health insurance options are available to faculty and may include the faculty member's spouse and eligible dependents. Enrollment takes place within the first 30 days of employment, the faculty member does not have to prove insurability. The four insurance plans are as follows: 1. State Group Plan, administered by Blue Cross/Blue Shield; 2. Alternate Blue Cross/Blue Shield plan; 3. Prucare of Nashville (HMO); and 4. Healthmaster (HMO). The amount of the employee's monthly contribution to the insurance premium is based upon 1) insurance option selected; 2) type of coverage (single or family); and 3) the employee's annual base salary. Employees may transfer from one insurance plan to another during announced designated transfer periods.

LIFE INSURANCE

Tenn life insurance is included in the State Group Insurance Plan and is approximately one and one-half times the employee's annual salary (maximum life is $50,000 under the basic insurance plan). Optional term and/or whole life insurance plans are available at an additional cost to the employee, as well as optional special accident coverage.

DISABILITY INSURANCE

Two Long Term Disability plans are currently available for employees during the first 30 days of employment without proving insurability. The employee may select either TIAA Long Term Disability or Provident Long Tenn Disability.

DENTAL INSURANCE

The State-approved dental program offers two types of dental plans for employees, their spouses and eligible dependent children; Plan-I is the Pre-Paid Plan and Plan-II is the Reimbursement Plan. Upon enrolling in either plan, the employee is required to participate in the program for a twelve (12) month period.

COBRA

The Federal Law, Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act (COBRA), affords employees and dependents whose medical insurance would otherwise terminate the opportunity to continue the same medical coverage for specified periods (18 or 36 months) under certain conditions.

It is the responsibility of the employee to notify the Personnel Office in the event a dependent becomes ineligible to continue under the regular state plan and continued coverage through COBRA is necessary for a specified period.

RETIREMENT

Two retirement plans are available to faculty: The Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System (TCRS) is non-contributory, non-refundable and vesting occurs upon attaining ten (10) years as a member. The optional retirement system, Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association/College Retirement Equities Fund (TIANCREF), may be selected upon waiving the right to participate in TCRS. Faculty members electing TIANCREF may incur monthly contributions in addition to those contributed by the State of Tennessee. TIANCREF provides a fixed annuity, investment privileges, non-refundable contributions, immediate vesting and portability.

Employees may transfer from TCRS to TIAA/CREF during announced designated transfer periods, however they are not permitted to transfer back into TCRS.

ANNUAL LEAVE

Only twelve-month faculty appointments are entitled to accrue annual leave. For details concerning the accrual rate and the use of annual leave, please contact the Personnel Office or the Office of Academic Affairs.

SICK LEAVE

Faculty members accrue sick leave at the rate of 7.5 hours for each month of actual service.

Twelve-month faculty may earn a maximum of 90 hours (12 days) per fiscal year. Nine-month faculty may earn a maximum of 67.5 hours (9 days) for the academic year and an additional 22.5 hours (3 days) for full-time employment during the summer sessions (June through August). Sick leave continues to accumulate, without a ceiling, and may be creditable toward retirement (TCRS only).

Sick leave is generally applicable for absences due to illness or injury, including illness or incapacity to work, due to pregnancy, medical examinations and dental appointments. Absences due to illness in the immediate family may be granted as sick leave by the department head or immediate supervisor. (For the purposes of this provision, "immediate family" includes spouse, children, parents, foster parents, parents-in-law and other members of the family residing within the home of the employee.)

In the case of the death of a spouse, child, step-child, parent, step-parent, foster parent, parent-in-law, or sibling, faculty may be granted a maximum of 22.5 hours (3 days) bereavement leave and 15 hours (2 days) sick leave. A maximum of 22.5 hours (3 days) sick leave may be granted for the death of one of the following relatives: grandparents, grandchildren, sons and daughters-in-law, brothers and sisters-in-law, foster brothers and sisters, and other members of the family who reside in the home.

A faculty member may be required to present evidence in the form of personal affidavits, physician's certificates or other testimonials in support of the reason for sick leave.

Sick leave may not be advanced. For additional information concerning sick leave, the faculty member is advised to refer to appropriate policy manuals of the Tennessee Board of Regents and Tennessee State University (available in the Personnel Office, the Office of Academic Affairs, and the Library).

EDUCATIONAL BENEFITS

Educational assistance, in the form of fee waivers for faculty and/or fee discounts for a spouse and eligible dependents of employees, is available. For more details, faculty members are encouraged to consult the Personnel Office.

GRANT-IN-AID

The University attempts to operate a Grant-in-Aid program to assist faculty in pursuing formal study related to faculty assignments or terminal degrees. Appropriations for such are contingent upon the Legislature and allocation on recommendations from the Tennessee Higher Education Commission and the Tennessee Board of Regents. Grant-in-Aid application announcements are forwarded to faculty through the deans and department heads.

LEAVE-OF-ABSENCE

A leave-of absence may be granted in compliance with policy guidelines as set forth by the Tennessee Board of Regents, University policies, and applicable laws governing State of Tennessee employees. Faculty requesting a leave-of-absence should commence the process by consulting with his/her department head or immediate supervisor and by submitting a written request at least 90 days in advance of the expected date of leave. The faculty member is also advised to consult the appropriate policy manuals of the Tennessee Board of Regents and the University (available in the Office of Academic Affairs, Personnel Office, and Library).

Faculty granted a specified leave-of-absence and who desire an extension of said leave must submit a formal request to his or her department head or immediate supervisor not later than 90 days prior to the initial expected date of return to service.
