Thesis and Dissertation Writing Process

Tennessee State University requires a dissertation for all doctoral candidates and a thesis for all thesis option master's candidates. The thesis or dissertation is a scholarly academic writing based on the student's origin research under the supervision of the dissertation committee. The thesis or dissertation should be well-organized, appropriately referenced, and formatted according to writing style requirements by the discipline. The information below is intended to assist students in navigating the thesis/dissertation writing process. Information will be provided on the thesis/dissertation writing process, deadlines, IRB submission, formatting EDT submission, and completion of appropriate forms.

The screenshot shows the ProQuest ETD Administrator interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for Home, Training and Support, Resources & Guidelines, Submitting Your Dissertation/Thesis, About ETD Administrator, Help, and Contact Support. The main heading reads "Make your thesis or dissertation available to the research community with ProQuest ETD Administrator". Below this, it specifies "At Tennessee State University". A section titled "Here's why:" lists four benefits: it's easy, submissions and approvals are online, work is deposited into the university repository, and it's part of the ProQuest Dissertations & Theses Global collection. A "Here's the workflow:" section follows, showing five steps: 1. Submit (You), 2. Review (Your institutional administrator), 3. Revise & Approve (You and your administrator), 4. Deliver (Your administrator, to ProQuest), and 5. Done (Your work is now on ProQuest!). A prominent orange button at the bottom says "Sign up and get started today!".

 - Institutional Review Board
- CITI Certificate
 - Collaborative Institutional Training Initiative

*Copy of Instrument/Survey

The screenshot shows the CITI Certificate page. At the top, it says "CITI Certificate" and features the CITI logo (Collaborative Institutional Training Initiative). Below the logo, there is a section titled "Basic Learner Instructions" which provides a list of steps for users to register for CITI online training. The instructions include: 1. User should be instructed to go to www.citiprogram.org to register for CITI online training. 2. Once there, they simply click on "New Users Register Here". 3. Under "Select your institution or organization" page they should select your institution in the "Participating Institutions" drop down box. 4. Next they should proceed to create their own username and password and select the Learner group. 5. After going through registration process they should be ready and setup as CITI Learners under your Institution setup requirements. Below the instructions, there is a note that a file (Steps to registering with CITI.ppt) will also help users and their institutions to register with CITI for the first time. Additionally, a link to the knowledgebase is provided as an excellent source of information. Finally, a contact email address (citisupport@med.miami.edu) is given for any questions.

The screenshot shows a page from a "GRADUATE SCHOOL PUBLICATION FORMATTING" guide, page 41. The section is titled "IRB Approval". It contains three main steps: Step 1: You MUST complete the on-line CITI Training. There is no cost to TSU students and faculty. Here is the link: <https://www.citiprogram.org>. Make sure you save your certificate on your computer. Step 2: You'll need to determine whether to submit an EXEMPT or a non-EXEMPT application. See the checklist below to help you determine the type of review for your Application Packet. You'll need to have a clear understanding of the research activities and population involved before making this decision. If you're still not sure after completing the checklists, please contact IRB Administration at irb@tnstate.edu. Below Step 2, there are three bullet points: Checklist - Determination of Exemption from IRB Review, Checklist - Determination of Expedited IRB Review, and Informed Consent Document. Step 3: Complete the IRB Application and Assemble the Application Packet. Start your IRB Application by completing the survey located at the following address: https://tnstateu.az1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_3ga0a2dKuFrRGHX. This will provide basic information regarding your protocol. An Application Packet must be assembled and must be submitted electronically for review (irb@tnstate.edu). All instruments used to collect data, including list of interview questions and the actual surveys, should be included in the IRB Application Packet along with your training certificate. Letters of Cooperation and Letters of Permission should be typed on institutional letterhead and scanned to your computer. If your research involves collecting data at another institution or in partnership with another institution, you should include documentation. Below Step 3, there is one bullet point: IRB Application. At the bottom of the page, it says "Your IRB Application Packet, when finished, should include one copy of each of the following:" followed by a list of items, including "Human Subjects Form (2016) - Standard or IRB Form - Exempt (Non-Human Only)".
