Profile

Aspiring physical therapist with a strong foundation in kinesiology and human physiology, seeking to leverage academic knowledge and hands-on experience in a dynamic clinical or research setting. As a former Division I collegiate track athlete, I bring a unique understanding of athletic performance, injury prevention, and rehabilitation. Committed to enhancing patient care through evidence-based practice, innovative therapeutic techniques, and a holistic approach to health and wellness. Eager to contribute to a multidisciplinary team and support individuals in achieving their rehabilitation and fitness goals.
